The meeting will come to order:

Chair Roberta Brody called the meeting to order at 3:39 p.m.

1. Approval of Agenda:
   i. MOTION: Duly made:
      “To approve the Agenda”
   ii. MOTION: Duly made by Alternate Delegate Michael Bento:
        “To amend the Agenda to add under New Business Item #7a.”
        Motion passed.
   iii. MOTION: Duly made:
        “To amend the Agenda to move item 4a. and make it 3a.”
        Motion passed.
   iv. MOTION: Duly made by Chair Brody:
        “To approve the Agenda as amended”
        Hearing no objection to the motion, the Agenda was approved as amended.

2. Approval of Minutes:
   i. MOTION: Duly made and seconded:
      “To approve the minutes dated February 7, 2013”
      Hearing no objection to the motion, the minutes were approved as distributed.

3. Announcements, Administrative Reports, and Memorials:
   3a. Election to fill Nominating Committee Seats:
       Chair Brody asked the Senate for nominees; there were no nominees.
   1. Senator Kevin Ferguson announced the English Department is hosting a writing workshop “Writing at QC” on March 20, during free hour in BRL President’s Conference Room.
   2. Megan, Special Events manager for the American Cancer Society, announced there will be an event, “Relay for Life” which is a 12 hour overnight fund raiser on April 25 –April 26, from 7pm-7am in Fitzgerald Gym.
   3. Chair Brody, read a brief statement regarding the ethical dilemma relating to Undergraduate Curriculum decision-making; which involves opposing views on how we should move forward and the issue of joint governance as well as conflicting faculty concerns on what curricular decisions are best for incoming students. Chair Brody introduced President Muyskens who then addressed the Senate.

4. President Muyskens explained that one of the reasons that higher education is so strong is the history and tradition of shared governance. In the packet today that you will be voting on will be General Education curriculum for Spring 2014 and beyond. All the courses that are submitted for approval today are a product of all the hard work by faculty across all departments and all the committees of the senate that have been working on them for months. As in the past, Queens College has always had high standards in General Education and will continue to do so in the future by offering a complete and compelling Queens College General Education program. He asked all the senators to think about their vote and focus on the incoming students. President Muyskens introduced Professor Chris Vickery to explain the Proposal Approval Process.

5. Professor Vickery started with a power point demonstration of the Proposal Approval Process for all courses submitted to the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee. He outlined the process by which courses are reviewed; showing the number of courses that have been submitted to the UCC and the percentage of courses which have been approved by the Senate and on to the CUNY committees. He also showed a projection of what the demand will be for incoming students and transfer students along with the number of seats available.

4. Special Motions: (none)

c. Abstract and Quantitative Reasoning Committee. Courses approved for Pathways MQR:

481 MATH 110. Mathematical Literacy - An Introduction to College Mathematics.

d. STEM Waiver courses. See attachment.

e. Change to the Composition Requirement.

To Read:
ENGL 110, English Composition 2 and two W courses

f. New courses proposed for Pathways.

1. 12-359
Approved as LPS via proposal 360:
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.

2.0 lec.; 1.0 lab.; 3.0 cr.
A lecture and lab course focusing on the exploration of scientific principles, their applications, and critical analysis of the results of selected subjects that focus on their impact on society. Various current topics of interest will be explored in the context of their scientific basis and their ethical and economic impacts on social systems. Readings, written assignments and discussions are designed to encourage students to develop interpretative and analytical skills as they explore biological advances and their impact on society. Laboratories will present opportunities for the observation of biological fundamentals, observation and data gathering, statistical analyses and hypothesis testing, computer simulations and explorations of various topics, such as population growth, ecological footprints, food consumption and production, genetic fundamentals and analysis and evolutionary processes.

2. 12-354
Approved as WC via proposal 353
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.

CMLIT 206. Literature and Conflict.
3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.; Prereq: ENGL 110.
The diverse literature (poetry, drama, essays, memoirs, novels) emerging from armed conflicts of all types and intensities (revolutions, civil wars, colonial wars, wars of conquest, global wars beyond established borders), from a global comparative perspective. Particular emphasis will be placed on modern conflicts, but works such as the “Iliad” and “The Song of Roland” may also be included. Strategies of conflict resolution will form an important component of class discussion and investigation.

3. 12-387

The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.

3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.; Prereq: ENGL 110.
Focusing on a comparison of early modern texts representing the encounter between Europeans and native Americans from a variety of perspectives (Spanish, Nahuatl, French, English) and a variety of genres (letters, history, ethnography, poetry, drama), we will examine the convergence of hitherto separated cultures in a key region of the emerging global world: the Atlantic. Such world shaping movements as European exploration, colonization, religious conversion, and criticism of these movements, as well as the destruction, resistance, preservation, and cultural change of indigenous inhabitants and their cultures will be examined. All texts will be read in translation.

6. 12-273
Approved as SW via proposal 274 and LPS via proposal 275
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.

1.0 lec.; 2.0 lab.; 3.0 cr.
A guide for evaluating the consequences of every-day choices about interactions with our environment, and environmental issues, on local to global scales including air and water quality, food safety and energy resources.

7. 12-208
Approved as SW via proposal 210
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.

2.0 lec.; 1.0 lab.; 3.0 cr.
A Pathways physics course (satisfying both Life & Physical Science and Scientific World requirements) for liberal arts students who have an interest in music and sound. Physical phenomena that relate to music and sound will be presented. Topics include origins, nature and transmission of sound waves, sound reception and perception, musical scales and temperament, the physics of different musical instruments, and selected special topics. Demonstration devices are available for illustration of concepts. Laboratory exercises are designed to let students investigate how the laws apply to physical objects. (Not open to students who have received credit for PHYS 7.)

8. 12-257
Approved as SW via proposal 258
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on September 5, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on September 13, 2012.

Approved as LPS via proposal 297
The General Education Advisory Committee Approved the proposal on October 10, 2012.
The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee Approved the proposal on October 18, 2012.
PSYCH 252. Application of Behavior Analysis in Animal Training.
1.5 lec.; 1.5 lab.; 3.0 cr.
Students are provided with a working knowledge of principles of operant and Pavlovian conditioning and their application in effecting behavior change. This course provides students with a unique opportunity to bridge the gap between behavioral theory and application by combining basic principles and hands-on implementation of teaching procedures. Using systematic observation, data collection and behavior analysis, students learn to use the behavioral data provided by their rat to direct when and how they alter their teaching strategies. Although students will be training behavior with rats, and direct contact with the rat is required, the goal of the course is to teach students skills necessary to become effective and efficient teacher: careful observation, quick analysis of changing behavior, and the flexibility to alter teaching procedures.

9. (12-503)
EDUCN 105. Education in Global Times: Radical to Conservative Agendas. 3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.; Students' educational experiences are linked with global debates about schooling. These debates include, but are not limited to, education for social justice and social reconstruction; human rights education; cultural and linguistic issues in global school policies; alternative visions of the future of education; the role of human capital economics in global schooling; and the role of global education businesses in shaping school policies. The major project in the course will be for students to design their ideal global school.

2. UCC motion.

a. Change in the guidelines for College Option “Language” Courses.

To Read:

A “Language” course must meet the following criteria:

Language courses must meet the following two criteria common to all Queens College General Education Courses. Courses previously approved for any Perspectives “Area of Knowledge” designation (AP, CV, NS, NS+L, RL, SS) fill these criteria automatically.

- Address how, in the discipline (or disciplines) of the course, data and evidence are construed and knowledge is acquired; that is, how questions are asked and answered.
- Position the discipline(s) in the liberal arts curriculum and the larger society.

In addition, Language courses must meet at least two of the following additional learning outcomes. Students will be able to:

- Differentiate types of languages and appreciate their structures.
- Identify what is lost or gained in translation among languages.
- Understand the concepts of language, thought, and culture and how they are inter-related.
- Compare natural languages, formal languages, and logic.
- Understand the processes involved in learning languages.

B. Curriculum Changes

1. SEES (12-331, revised)
   a. New Course

   GEOL 99. Planet Earth: Resources and Hazards in the 21st Century
   1.0 lec.; 2.0 lab.; 3.0 cr.
   An introduction to how understanding Earth’s composition and processes enables geologists to find the energy and mineral resources on which modern civilization is based, and why those processes can lead to natural disasters if not fully understood.

2. SEES (12-293, revised)
   a. New course

   GEOL 77. Weather, Climate, and Climate Change.
   3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.;
   A basic introduction to the causes of Earth’s weather and climate systems and the reasons for long-term climate change. Geologic evidence for climate change over the last 50 million years is applied to understanding what future weather and climate might become. (Not open to students who have taken GEOL 11.)

3. Jewish Studies/CMAL (12-619)
   a. New course

   BUKH111. Elementary Bukharian Jewish Language.
   4.0 lec.; 4.0 cr.;
   A basic orientation in the Bukharian Jewish language designed to teach the writing system and elements of grammar, establish correct pronunciation, basic conversation, and help students deal with simple social situations. The course also serves as an introduction to the culture of the Bukhori-speaking world.

4. Psychology (12-36, approved by Senate 11/8/2012, revised)

a. Change in number.

To Read:

Psych 337. Evolutionary Psychology.
3 hours, 3 credits. Prerequisite: One of the following courses, PSYCH 221, 243, 214, or 232.

Examination of the mechanisms of the human mind through the lens of evolutionary psychology beginning with a brief historical review of key theories in psychology and evolutionary biology. Topics include problems of survival, long-term and short-term mating, sexuality, parenting, kinship, cooperation, aggression and warfare, conflict between the sexes, status, prestige, and dominance hierarchies. The course concludes by proposing a unified field that integrates the different branches of psychology.

5. Accounting (13-01)

a. Clarification of Prerequisite Requirements

To Read:

Courses
All courses for the accounting major must be complete with a minimum grade of C(C- for ACCT 101). The C minimum grade requirement does not apply to economics, business, or any other approved elective outside the Accounting Department. In addition, all students must earn a C average (2.0) for all courses applied to the major (i.e., accounting, economics, business, and other electives that qualify for the major). For any accounting course, all prerequisite courses must be complete with a grade of C or better (except for ACCT 102 for which the prerequisite course must be completed with a minimum grade of C-).

Students earning a grade of C- or less must retake the course in which the C- or less was earned (D+ or less for ACCT 101). Students who repeat a course are reminded that credit can be received only once unless specifically stated. Students may repeat a course only two times. A student who did not receive a grade of C or better (C- or better for ACCT 101) after two such repeat attempts will be dropped from the major.

6. FNES (13-02)

a. Change to a specialization.

Family and Consumer Sciences (major code 058) – Family and Consumer Studies Specialization (code 04A)
ACADEMIC SENATE Minutes – March 7, 2013

To:
    Human Development and Family Studies Specialization

b. Change to a Major: Family and Consumer Studies Specialization.

To Read:
    Requirements for the Major in Human Development and Family Studies Specialization
    [contingent upon approval of change in name above]
    Family and Consumer Studies: FNES 140, 153, either 163 or both 263 and 264, 248, 249, 250, 347, 348, 349, 350, 356, and 376.

c. New course.

    3 hours, 3 credits. Prerequisite: FNES 147.
    An overview of quantitative and qualitative research methods. Examination of the research process stages (e.g., literature review, development of research questions, data collection and analysis, writing and presenting the results).

7. Sociology (12-613)

a. New course.

    SOC 206 Introduction to Social Statistics.
    3 hr.; 3 cr. Introduction to descriptive, inferential, bi-variate, and multivariate statistical techniques.
    Students learn how to calculate and interpret statistics, state hypotheses, and communicate quantitative findings. Not open to students with credit for SOC 205, ECON 249 or PSYCH 107. SOC 206 in combination with SOC 207 is equivalent to SOC 205.

8. Sociology (12-628)

a. New course.

    SOC 207 Applied Statistical Analysis.
    3 hr.; 1 cr. Pre- or co-req: SOC 206 or ECON 249 or PSYCH 107.
    Application of descriptive, inferential, bi-variate, and multivariate statistical techniques to analyze social science data. Using a standard statistical program, students select appropriate procedures, interpret statistical output, and communicate quantitative findings. Not open to students with credit for SOC 205. SOC 206 in combination with SOC 207 is equivalent to SOC 205.

9. English (12-263)

a. New Course.
ENGL 157. Great Works of Global Literatures in English. 3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.;
An introduction to the diversity of modern and contemporary Anglophone literatures and related literatures translated into English. Students will explore representative selections of works encompassing the complex transnational and postcolonial nature of much writing in English from the pre-modern to the post-modern.

10. ELL (12-545) WITHDRAWN

11. CMAL (12-624)

a. New course.

MES 270. Religion, Society, and Empire in the Middle East.
3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.;
An overview of the development of the Ottoman, Safavid, and Mughal Empires in the Islamic world during the period 1450-1700. The rise of these empires represented the end of the political fragmentation in the Islamic world that came about after the collapse of the Mongol system in the second half of the fourteenth century. Although these empires ruled over different geographical areas and different peoples, they responded to similar problems and were moved by similar motivations during the early modern period.

12. Physics (12-302)

a. Change in hours, credits and description.

To Read:

3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.;
Fundamental physical ideas and ways of thinking that will enable them to understand and make informed judgments regarding technical issues upon which the wellbeing of our society increasingly depends. Key physical ideas will be discussed in their historical context to highlight the challenges confronted and the innovations involved.
The course will treat global warming and climate change, alternative energy sources, resource depletion and management and efforts to control CO₂ emissions.

13. HLL: Spanish (12-615)

a. Change in description (repetition of course).

To Read:

SPAN 390. Hispanic Literature Seminar.
3.0 lec.; 3.0 cr.; Prereq.: 240, 260 and three courses in Hispanic Literature and senior standing.
Intensive reading and discussion of literary, cultural, theoretical, and critical texts and student research and writing centered around a specific topic in Hispanic literature.
May be repeated for credit when topic varies

14. Courses taken off Reserve and returned to Active Status (information only)

15. Courses Withdrawn

5b. Graduate Curriculum Committee

   i. MOTION: Duly made by Professor Richard Bodnar, Dean of Research and Graduate Studies:

   “To accept the Graduate Curriculum Minutes dated- February 13, 2013”

   Hearing no objection to the motion, Professor Richard Bodnar moved unanimous consent.

1. Studio Art (HEGIS 1002)

   a. Change to Program.

   To Read:

   1. Completion of 54 credits consisting of the following:
      a. Two courses in the history of art. (See graduate level art history electives.)
      b. ARTS 724, Contemporary Issues in the Visual Arts.
      c. Two seminar courses (a total of 6 credits), each with a different topic, must be taken under ARTS 730 and/or 731.
      d. Two elective courses to be selected with departmental approval from ARTS 727.1, 727.2, 728.
      e. MFA Graduate Seminar (12 credits).
      f. MFA Writing Seminar (3 credits).
      g. Individual Studio Practice (12 credits).
      h. 6 credits may be a continuation of individual studio work or additional electives or seminars.

   2. Each candidate for the MFA is required to submit a written component along with his or her Thesis Project that elaborates upon and/or documents the student's research, additionally serving the graduate as an artistic statement of purpose.

   3. Students may declare a concentration in the areas of Painting, Sculpture, Installation, Photography, Ceramics, Media, Social Practice Art. This designation will be registered in the Art Office.

   4. Student work in the specialized area shall be reviewed and graded by the MFA Committee each semester. The committee shall be authorized to approve or reject a student for continuation in the program, to place a student on probation, and to approve a student for the MFA degree.

   5. A grade-point average of 3.0 shall be maintained.

   6. Participation in the program is usually full time, and the degree is normally completed within two years (exceptions may be granted by the committee).
7. Students will do all of their creative work on campus except by permission of the committee.
