Proposal for BA/MA in History

The History Department proposes to offer an accelerated BA/MA in History.

Rationale: Employers and experts increasingly agree that a Master’s degree is needed for success in today’s competitive job market. Many undergraduates, too, already recognize that they need to go beyond the Bachelor’s degree if they are to succeed. Our Master’s Program in History has long been successfully providing enhanced credentials to City employees and others who need that marker of advanced skills and knowledge, particularly secondary school teachers who are required by state law to earn a Master’s degree to maintain their certification. Our undergraduates already constitute a major source of students for our MA program, and we would like to retain talented students by offering them the ability to continue seamlessly in a program they already know and enjoy, as well as giving them the chance to complete an MA degree in a more streamlined fashion. The program we are proposing will enable them to do this, while also enhancing, to some extent, the enrollment in our graduate program.
Description: The BA/MA program will operate as follows:

1. The program will be available to History majors (and, on a case by case basis, majors in other social science programs) with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 and a GPA of 3.0 or greater (3.3 is strongly recommended) in History courses, or courses in their major if they are not History majors. They must maintain a 3.0 GPA in their graduate courses in order to receive the MA degree.

2. Students must apply to the BA/MA program in their upper sophomore or junior year. They will apply through the Office of the Dean of Graduate Studies with the normal letters of recommendation and personal statement.

3. After acceptance to the BA/MA program, students may take up to three 3-credit graduate-level History elective courses while they are still undergraduates (with the exception of HIST 791 and HIST 796; see point #5 below). They must achieve an overall minimum GPA in these three courses of 3.0 if they are to continue into the remainder of the program. The required courses for the MA in History are:
   - HIST 791 Introduction to Historical Research
   - HIST 796 Seminar in History
   - Eight other 700-level courses (24 cr.) in History

4. Prior to reaching 120 credits and completing their undergraduate requirements, graduate courses will be billed at the undergraduate rate and will count toward both the BA and MA degrees. Graduate courses taken after completing 120 credits will be billed at the graduate rate.

5. Students may not take HIST 791 or 796 until they have completed all requirements for the BA degree. These two smaller, writing intensive seminars are intended for students preparing to do research at an advanced level in preparation for the Master’s Thesis.

6. The typical student in the BA/MA program will take three elective graduate courses during their senior year. During the fifth year, he or she would take HIST 791 during the first semester and HIST 796 during the second semester, along with five graduate electives, for a total of 21 credits.

7. Students in the BA/MA program will prepare a Master’s Thesis based on a research prospectus approved by two full-time faculty members, just as traditional MA students currently do. The Thesis is generally undertaken after completion of all coursework, though students are encouraged to begin planning it and consulting with the appropriate faculty before that time.

8. It is generally expected that BA/MA students will fully complete their graduate studies, including the thesis, within three to four terms after completing their undergraduate requirements. If students take advantage of summer sessions for either coursework or thesis research, for example, one who completed the BA in May could conceivably complete the MA by September of the following year.

REQUEST FOR NEW COURSE

729 Cultures and Peoples of Eastern Europe
hours and credits: 2 hours plus conference, 3.0 credits
prerequisites or corequisites: none
description (as it should read in the Graduate Bulletin): Explores the history of the peoples, states and societies in Eastern Europe from early modern period to World War Two. Particular focus will be paid to lands comprising modern-day Poland, Ukraine, Lithuania and Belarus, including the Jewish minority. Topics include: national identity formation and ethnic conflict; religious and literary movements; nation-state building; and dynamics between Marxism, nationalism, communism and fascism.

Rationale (Please include an explicit statement regarding how you expect this new course to fit into your graduate program.): This course complements our other offerings in European, Russian and Jewish history. Students have expressed interest in this region both in terms of coursework and as a thesis topic. Building up our offerings in European history would allow the department to be better positioned to eventually create defined concentrations within students’ MA coursework.

730 The Idea of Eastern Europe
hours and credits: 2 hours plus conference, 3.0 credits
prerequisites or corequisites: none
description (as it should read in the Graduate Bulletin): Inquires into the idea of “Eastern Europe” – its origins, the purposes it serves, how people have used and understood it. Engages with questions such as: imagine Europe to be divided into East and West? What does this way of thinking clarify or obscure and what are its political consequences?

Rationale (Please include an explicit statement regarding how you expect this new course to fit into your graduate program.): This course complements our other offerings in European history as well as Russian/Soviet history and Jewish history. It also contributes to a revival of intellectual history within the History program. It has the potential to appeal to students who have not been able to take many courses in Eastern European or intellectual history.
