The meeting will come to order:

Chair Manuel Sanudo called the meeting to order at 3:44 p.m.

1. Approval of Agenda:

i. MOTION: Duly made by Chair Sanudo:

   “To approve the Agenda”

   Hearing no objections to the motion, the agenda was approved as amended.

   ii. MOTION: Duly made Senator Erica Davis, Executive Committee Secretary:

   “To amend the Agenda to add Item 7a” [University Faculty Senate Election]

   Hearing no objections to the motion Senator Davis moved unanimous consent.

   iii. MOTION: Duly made by Chair Sanudo:

   “To accept the Agenda as amended”

   Hearing no objection to the motion the agenda was approved as amended.

2. Approval of Minutes:

i. MOTION: Duly made by Chair Sanudo:

   “To approve the minutes dated November 13, 2014”

   Hearing no objection to the motion, the minutes were approved as distributed.

2. Announcements, Administrative Reports, and Memorials:

   1. Chair Sanudo announced that President Matos asked him to submit up to 8 faculty and 4 student names to be considered for the Provost Search. Through the Executive Committee we voted to nominate 9 faculty and 3 students and I submitted those names to President Matos. Chair Sanudo explained that the Senate has no rules governing the Provost Search and hopes that maybe in the future there will be a procedure in our Charter or Bylaws that involves the entire Senate. Chair Sanudo introduced Glenda G. Grace, Assistant Vice President, Chief of Staff, and Deputy to the President to answer any questions the senators might have about the Provost Search. AVP Grace announced that the committee has been formed and all the names will be officially announced shortly.

Fall, Spring

3. CMAL

Change to a Major: Religious Studies

To Read:

The major in Religious Studies is an interdisciplinary program intended for students with an interest in learning about religious text, experience, practice, theology, and other aspects of religion from a nonpartisan and scholarly standpoint. Students are expected to choose two traditions in each of which they will take at least two courses (Buddhism, Christianity, Classical Religion, Hinduism/Eastern Religion, Islam, Judaism), and to complete coursework in comparative approaches to the study of religion as well as in particular disciplinary treatment of religion as an object of study or area of inquiry. All students are required to take Introduction to the Study of Religion by the end of the sophomore year, and the Advanced Seminar in the senior year.

The Religious Studies program is housed in the department of Classical, Middle Eastern and Asian Languages and Cultures. Religious Studies courses are offered in the home department—under the Arabic, Hebrew, Classics, Chinese, East Asian Studies headings—as well as in other departments in the divisions of Arts & Humanities and Social Sciences, including Anthropology, Art History, Philosophy, Sociology.

b. Change to a Major:

To Read:

Required Courses for the Major:
A. RLGST 201. Introduction to the Study of Religion.
B. Two courses in a single religious tradition:
   Buddhism: EAS 130W, ARTH 227, RLGST 211
   Hinduism/Eastern Religion: EAS 130W, RLGST 101, RLGST 102
   Classical Religion (Ancient Greek, Roman): CLAS 140, CLAS 240
   Christianity: ARTH 211, HIST 211, ANTH 290W, ENGL 381
   Islam: ANTHRO 204, MES 160, MES 260, MES 300
   Judaism: RLGST 103, HEBRW 350W, HEBRW 341, HEBRW 340
D. Two interdisciplinary courses that approach religion with the methodological tools particular to a discipline taught at QC: SOC 221, PHIL 116, ANTH 224, ANTH 306, CMAL 220, ARTH 211, ARTH 271, HIST 229, URBST 214, URBST 221

E. One comparative course. Courses that attend to two or three religious traditions, with some analysis of similarities, differences and/or historical interactions and cultural exchange. CMAL 220, CLAS 240, HIST 311, EAS 130W. This may not be a course that is counted towards requirements B & C (above). Under some circumstances, a course in a third religious tradition may fulfill this requirement. Students should consult with the director.

F. One Advanced Seminar. RLGST 390

G. Three Additional courses.
   All courses listed A-E not already applied to other requirements for the major may count towards this requirement. Additionally, related language courses beyond coursework required of all BA students, may count toward this requirement. These include Latin, Ancient Greek, Biblical Hebrew, Sanskrit, Classical Arabic. Other language courses may be approved by the director of Religious Studies.

No more than 3 courses taken at the 100 level will count toward the major, excluding languages taken for the major in addition to the college requirement.

8. Physics

a. Change to a major: The Physics option–Bachelor of Science Degree (concentration code 083)
To Read:

Core requirements
PHYS 145.1, 145.4, 146.1, 146.4, 222, 233, 234, 235, 237, 243, 260, 310, 311, 365 and 377.

Elective requirements
At least one 3- or 4-credit physics course at the 200 level or above (except PHYS 204 and 207) and one science/mathematics course approved by the department

Math requirements
The calculus sequence through MATH 201.

b. Change to a major: The Physics option–Bachelor of Arts Degree (concentration code 08A)

To Read:

Core requirements
PHYS 145.1, 145.4, 146.1, 146.4, 222, 233, 234, 235, 237, 242 (or 243), 260, 310, 365, and 377.

Elective requirements
One 3- or 4-credit physics course at the 200 level or above (excluding PHYS 204 and 207)

Math requirements
The calculus sequence through MATH 201.

c. Change to a major: The Applied Physics option–Bachelor of Arts Degree (concentration code 08B)

To Read:

Core requirements
PHYS 145.1, 145.4, 146.1, 146.4, 225, 233, 235, 237, 242, 260, 310, and 377.

Elective requirements
Three 3- or 4-credit physics course at the 200 level or above (except PHYS 204 and 207) and one 3- or 4-credit science/mathematics courses approved by the department

Math requirements
The calculus sequence through MATH 201.

9. Asian American Community Studies

a. Change in title and description.

To Read:

AACS107. Immigrant Communities in Queens.
3 hr.; 3 cr.
Introduction to the immigrant neighborhood and community life in Queens. Students learn about the latest demographics for the borough, community activities involving new and established residents, and political and civic life, especially for new residents who are struggling to gain rights and recognition in New York City and beyond. The course emphasizes in particular the various local Asian American communities and takes students to guided field visits of Queens neighborhoods.
10. Urban Studies

a. Change in title and description.

To read:

URBST206. Global Cities.
3 hr.; 3 cr.

As the world becomes more interconnected, it is also becoming more urbanized. This course explores the global flows of ideas, culture, people, goods, and capital, focusing on how these flows have affected cities across the globe, and on the disparities between cities in the Global North and Global South and within each area.

b. Change in title and description.

To Read:

URBST107. Immigrant Communities in Queens.
3 hr.; 3 cr.

Introduction to the immigrant neighborhood and community life in Queens. The course emphasizes in particular the various local Asian American communities and takes students to guided field visits of Queens neighborhoods.

c. New course.

URBST 249. Gimme Shelter: Housing and Homelessness in Metropolitan Areas.
3 hrs., 3 cr.

Explores the situation of renters, owners, and others seeking shelter in urbanizing areas. How does the housing market affect urban, suburban and neighborhoods change? What is government doing to assure that all residents have decent safe housing? What housing options and programs are available in cities, suburbs and in ex-urban areas? What role do public housing, rent regulation, programs for the homeless, mortgage finance, and other public and private programs play in the development of housing?

d. New course.

URBST 327. Globalization and Urban Poverty
3 hrs., 3 cr.

Explores the massive expansion of impoverished, under-served, and extra-legal “slum” areas in the cities of the global South. Examines the emergence of these areas in the context of the broad socio-economic forces of globalization, urbanization, uneven development, and rising inequality. The course considers conflicting views on the nature and significance of these developments and evaluates various proposals for addressing the social injustices and threats to human health and well-being that these trends have produced.

ELEMENTARY AND EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION DEPARTMENT
QUEENS COLLEGE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM REGISTRATION

PROGRAM TITLE: Content Area Literacy Across the Curriculum: A Sabbatical Program for New York City Teachers

DEGREE AWARDED: Certificate of Advanced Study for New York City Sabbatical

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

The Elementary And Early Childhood Education Department’s Sabbatical Program consists of five three credit courses with a one credit of independent study. Completion of the course of study will result in a Certificate of Advanced Study. This program is an addition to the Queens College Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department’s existing 15 Credit Post Masters Certificate Program. The existing program consists of advanced certificates in the fields of Early Childhood Education (Birth to Second Grade), Language Minority Education, Child Developmental Psychology, Science Education, Social Studies Education, Math Education and Children’s Literature.
ACADEMIC SENATE MINUTES, December 11, 2014

The purpose of this program is to create an integrated course of study in the Queens College Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department that is only available to teachers in the New York City schools, who have been awarded a sabbatical for the academic year. This program is designed to address the current challenges faced by elementary school teachers to provide rigorous, standards-based instruction across the content areas of science, math and social studies. Emphasis is placed on aligning content in these subject areas with national standards (Common Core State Standards in ELA and Mathematics, Next Generation Science Standards, The College, Career, and Civic (C3) Framework for Social Studies State Standards) and state and New York City scope and sequence documents. The emphasis is on bringing a disciplinary perspective into the classroom, enabling teachers and students to think like a scientist, mathematician, and historian. Drawing on the Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department’s long-term commitment to literacy instruction and children’s literature, courses also introduce quality fiction and nonfiction literature as well as strategies for using oral and written language to learn. All courses are designed to provide teachers with up-to-date knowledge in elementary education and practical strategies for applying this knowledge.

- JUSTIFICATION FOR THE NEW PROGRAM:

  The Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department Sabbatical Program for New York City Teachers is designed to reflect the New York City Board of Education’s requirements for approval of an application by an eligible teacher for a sabbatical. These requirements specify an integrated program with courses offered during a normal board of education school day.

- The New York City Board of Education’s sabbatical requirements (Personnel Memorandum # 7, February 14, 2013):

  1) All courses for study sabbatical and the project selected for the educational research project must be job-related courses.

  2) The project must be significantly rigorous and must have evident links that translate into improved instructional delivery of content to students.

  3) Elementary school teachers must include courses or complete a project that promotes growth in a range of potential assignments.

  4) Programs and projects devoted exclusively to literacy are acceptable for all elementary school teachers.

  5) The majority of courses in each semester must be taken during normal Department of Education school hours when staff member would otherwise be on duty.

How the Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department Sabbatical Program for New York City Teachers meets the requirements of the New York City Board of Education:

Based on the New York City Board of Education’s requirements for teacher sabbaticals, the new Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department’s sabbatical program meets teacher’s needs in the following ways:

The sabbatical program consists of sixteen credits as required by the New York City Board of Education, rather than the fifteen credits of other Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department post masters programs.

At least two of the courses will be offered in the daytime during the fall and spring semesters. Most of the graduate courses in the Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department are offered in the evening.

The courses in the sabbatical program are rigorous with links to the four major content areas of the elementary curriculum: language arts, math, science, and social studies.

All courses are designed for integrated content and instruction in grades one to six.

STUDENTS:

Eligibility for Sabbatical Leave:

Teachers are eligible to request sabbatical leave after fourteen years of service with the New York City Board of Education.

The sabbatical cap is 5% of the eligible faculty of any school or organizational unit and includes all sabbatical leaves, except special study sabbatical leaves to achieve state certification.

Potential Students for the Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department’s sabbatical program:

Although not limited to the boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens, our largest potential pool of students would come from these two boroughs.

The total number of elementary teachers in Brooklyn and Queens as of school year 2013/2014 equals 18,326.

The total number of elementary teachers in Brooklyn and Queens as of school year 2013/2014, who have over 14 years appointed service, equals 6,688.

The total number of elementary teachers in Brooklyn and Queens who took a sabbatical during school year 2013/2014 equals 60.

Similar Programs at other CUNY campuses and institutions of Higher Education in greater New York:

Only the College of Staten Island offers a program designed for New York City teachers on sabbatical. The program is more general than The Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department’s proposed program and is designed for both elementary school and secondary school teachers. Other CUNY and private universities that would attract elementary school teachers in Brooklyn and Queens do not have sabbatical programs. This group includes Hunter College, Brooklyn College and St John’s University. The proposed sabbatical program will serve needs that are not yet being served by other similar colleges.

Admissions Requirements and Oversight:

To be admitted to the sabbatical program, the student must be a New York City Board of Education appointed teacher in the elementary grades, who is applying for sabbatical leave. The student must have an earned master’s degree and teacher certification. Although no specific GPA is required for admission, once in the program students will be expected to maintain a B average.

One individual within the Elementary and Early Childhood Department will have the responsibility of coordinating the Sabbatical Program in conjunction with the other post masters programs offered by Elementary and Early Childhood Education Department. That individual will chair a committee made up of the directors of each of the programs. The committee chair may be one of the directors. The committee will be responsible for screening applications for admission to the program, monitoring student progress and recommending students for the Certificate of Advanced Study, once the required coursework is completed.

The teachers themselves pay tuition. Tuition is not paid by the New York City Board of Education.
ACADEMIC SENATE MINUTES, December 11, 2014

CURRICULUM:
All courses in the sabbatical program are existing courses. There are no new courses and no new faculty will be hired specifically for this program (See Attached forms). New sections will be created as enrollment increases

BUDGET:
The courses listed for the sabbatical program are presently part of the course requirements for the MSEd and MAT degree programs in Elementary and Early Childhood Education. In courses that are not fully enrolled, available MSEd and MAT students can be added to the course without incurring further expenditures in terms of faculty.

Reading and Writing for Learning in Science: 3 cr.
This course is designed to promote engaged learners who demonstrate curiosity, search for understanding in self-guided ways, communicate with others to share and test their ideas, contribute to the creation of a community of learners, and bring an enthusiastic quality to the classroom. Students learn to create science-learning environments that promote engaged readers and writers, and develop strategies that promote reading and writing in science.

Exploring Mathematical Ideas Through Literature: 3cr
This course explores the idea of literature in an elementary school mathematics program. Students discuss criteria for selecting books and address issues of equity in children’s literature such as gender and multicultural perspectives. Students examine a wide range of mathematical literature and develop effective instructional strategies for using these books to explore important mathematical concepts.

Final Project: 1 cr
In this course, students engage in a project that applies ideas encountered in previous courses to their specific teaching assignment and interests.

ADMISSIONS

List the admission requirements for students in this program, including any special or optional admission requirements for this program. Describe how these requirements are intended to help assure that students are prepared to complete the program. Describe how the admission procedure will encourage enrollment by persons from groups historically underrepresented in the discipline or occupation.

To be admitted to the sabbatical program, the student must be a New York City Board of Education appointed teacher in the elementary grades, who is applying for sabbatical leave. The student must have an earned master’s degree and teacher certification. Although no specific GPA is required for admission, once in the program students will be expected to maintain a B average.

I. Amend the Charter to allow a member of the Adjunct Faculty to run and be elected to one seat in the Academic Senate.

Be it Resolved, that the Queens College Academic Senate requests that the Board of Trustees approve the following amendment to the Queens College Academic Senate Charter Section II A 2 e.
ACADEMIC SENATE MINUTES, December 11, 2014

A. Faculty - 40

1. Each academic department shall elect one (1) Senator.

2. The balance of the 40 faculty Senator seats shall be divided as follows:
   a) One (1) faculty Senator elected at large from the Division of the Arts.
   b) One (1) faculty Senator elected at large from the Division of the Social Sciences.
   c) One (1) faculty Senator elected at large from the Division of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences.
   d) One (1) faculty Senator elected at large from the Division of Education.
   e) The remaining faculty Senators shall be elected at large, College-wide[,] with one seat open for a member of the adjunct faculty of Queens College. If no adjunct faculty member runs for the seat, it will be filled by a member of the full-time faculty.

II. Amend the Bylaws of the Senate to allow adjunct faculty members to run for faculty seats on Senate Committees.

Be it resolved that the following Bylaw amendment to Article VII Section 1 be adopted.

Section 1.

The term "Academic Senate Committee" shall apply to all standing committees, college wide committees, and special committees created by the Academic Senate. Faculty seats on these committees are open to Adjunct faculty who teach at Queens College.

Please note that materials to be added are underlined and materials to be deleted are in [brackets].
