The meeting will come to order:

Chair Manuel Sanudo called the meeting to order at 3:49p.m.

1. Approval of Agenda:

   i. MOTION: Duly made by Chair Sanudo:

   “To approve the Agenda”

   Hearing no objection, the Chair moved unanimous consent.

2. Approval of Minutes:

   MOTION: Duly made by Chair Sanudo:

   “To approve the minutes dated October 8, 2015”

   Hearing no objection to the motion, the minutes were approved as distributed.

3. Announcements, Administrative Reports, and Memorials:

   a. Guest Speaker- Richard P. Alvarez, Vice President of Enrollment and Retention

   Chair Sanudo introduced Richard P. Alvarez. Mr. Alvarez has had 13 years of experience with CUNY Central Office and worked closely with enrollment teams on all the CUNY campuses. He graduated with a BA from Hunter College and a MS in Higher Education from Baruch College. Mr. Alvarez thanked the Academic Senate for inviting him. Although he has only been on campus for four months he mentioned some of the departments he will be working with: Enrollment, Student Retention, and Enrollment Marketing. Together they will focus on how to do a better job of assisting both our current students and perspective students. He asked the senators for their thoughts (views) and comments.

B. Curriculum Changes

1. Political Science.

   a. Change to the major

   Changes to Requirements for the Major in Political Science

   To Read:

   Requirements For The Major In Political Science (Major Code 086)

   Required
   31 credits in political science, including three of the following courses: PSCI 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105; and PSCI 200; and a seminar plus 15 elective credits in political science courses. No more than four 100-level courses may be counted toward the requirements of the major. The introductory course in each category is, on principle, a prerequisite for the intermediate courses and seminars in each category. By the upper sophomore year, majors should have worked out a comprehensive course of study in political science with their faculty advisor before registering for more courses. Transfer students who plan to major in political science must take a minimum of 12 credits in the department regardless of the number of political science credits earned at other institutions, including the seminar and PSCI 200. A maximum of 12 internship credits can count toward the major. A maximum of 12 transfer credits can be accepted towards the major.

3 hrs, 3 credits; Prerequisites: ECPSE 722, 725, 728, 729, 747; Co-requisite: ECPSE 748
This practicum course is designed to provide candidates in the BCBA track with the field experience and supervision required by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board (BACB) to qualify for the board exam. It is the second of a two course practicum sequence and it builds on the basic implementation skills learned in ECPSE 747. This course will focus on advanced implementation skills needed to be an effective behavior analyst. This intensive practicum requires candidates complete 375 hours of behavior analytic training at an approved applied or clinical practicum site. Candidates are required to complete 25 hours per week that are counted towards the 375 total hours per semester. Additionally, candidates are required to attend weekly seminar classes that are aligned with the 4th edition BCBA task list. Candidates will receive individual and group supervision totaling 37.5 hours during this practicum. Candidates will register for this practicum in the spring semester of the third year of course work in the Special Education BCBA track.

c. New Course.

ECPCE 810. College and Career Readiness in K-12 Schools
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction and overview to college and career readiness from a holistic and developmental perspective for students in the K-12 setting. Working within a developmental and social justice framework participants will: learn about developmentally appropriate academic and personal needs of students as they transition from elementary through high school; learn about strategies and interventions to facilitate students’ college career readiness at the elementary, middle and secondary school level; learn about and utilize informational resources needed to assist students with secondary transition planning (included but not limited to identifying postsecondary options, the college application and admissions process, sources of financial assistance); and learn about strategies for working collaboratively with teachers, administrators, parents and other key stakeholders in facilitating student college and career readiness and postsecondary transition. This course will include information and strategies for working with special populations (e.g., undocumented students, ELLs, LGBT, and students with disabilities) on the postsecondary transition planning process.

2. Art.

a. New Course.

ARTS 777. History and Theory of Social Art Practice
3 hr., 3 cr.
The aim of this seminar is to survey, critique and historicize the theory and practice of activist, interventionist, public, participatory and community based art that operates within and across fields such as performance, urban studies, environmental science and other socially engaged disciplines. The class will focus on such questions as: Why is it useful, even necessary, to understand the history and theory of social practice art? Where should we look to find the historical roots of social practice art? Are these within the history of art, or external to it, in the broader social sphere? In an increasingly privatized society how do we define and operate within a concept of the public sphere? And how are both mainstream and alternative type cultural institutions responding to the increasing interest in socially engaged art by emerging artists? Through lectures, readings, discussions, student presentations, group activities, guest speakers and off-site visits to galleries and museums we will seek to position socially engaged visual culture and the shifting role of the artist within an historical, ideological, and critical framework.

b. New Course.

ARTS 778. Seminar in Project Management
3 hr., 3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of instructor.
The primary goal of this course is to offer students a step-by-step investigation into how to develop and successfully carry out a socially engaged, public art project. Its secondary aim is to critically compare and contrast traditional forms of organizing with experimental institutional forms. The class will cover such things as NGOs and 501(c)3 not-for-profit corporations, as well as cooperative alternative spaces, participatory public projects and informal inter-disciplinary art collectives and coalitions. This pragmatic and critical approach to contemporary administrative practices will be approached using a combination of select readings and class discussions, guest lectures presenting tutorials, and a practicum that draws together all phases of the seminar including concept development, budget preparation, grant writing, and networking focused on a specific, social practice project initiated by either individual students working alone or students collaborating in small groups.
