MASTER OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION (MUSIC) AND POST-BACCALAUREATE ADVANCED CERTIFICATE MUSIC EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Admission
There are two graduate programs in Music Education.

The first program is a post-baccalaureate Advanced Certificate Program leading to Initial Teacher Certification. Admission is open to applicants with a bachelor’s degree in music with minimum B (3.0 of 4.0) cumulative undergraduate average, or a master’s degree in another area of music. The Graduate Record Exam is required. A personal interview with the Music Education faculty is also required.

The second is the standard Master of Science in Education degree which is a New York State Education Department approved program that leads to Professional Certification for students already holding Initial Certification. Concentrations in instrumental music, choral music, general music, jazz music education, composition pedagogy and conducting are offered.

A minimum B (3.0 of 4.0) cumulative undergraduate average and the Graduate Record Exam are required for admission.

Students must maintain a B average throughout either program for completion/graduation. Students meet with the Graduate Advisor for registration prior to the start of each semester they are enrolled.
Program Requirements—Post Baccalaureate Advanced Certificate Program Preparing for Initial Teacher Certification

The Post-Baccalaureate Advanced Certificate Program is a non-degree program comprised of pedagogical courses mandated by the New York State Education Department for Initial Certification. Students will be guided through the pedagogical coursework and student teaching.

The completion of this program takes two years and is typically 32–37 credits (depending on vocal or instrumental emphasis), but may be lower depending on the courses the individual student may have had at the undergraduate level (or another graduate program).

Students in the Initial Certification track are required to demonstrate a competent understanding of Western Classical Music. A music history qualifying examination will be administered during the student’s first fall semester. Passing the exam meets this requirement.

Failing the exam means that the student must take MUSIC 768, Western Music History Survey (3 hr.; 2 cr.) or the equivalent in order to be recommended for certification.

Students’ programs are rounded out with music and/or education electives based on individual interests and abilities.

MSED students are required to take one music history/literature course. A music history qualifying examination will be administered during the student’s first fall semester. Passing the exam will allow the student to take a music history course of his or her choosing.

Failing the exam means that the student must take MUSIC 768, Western Music History Survey (3 hr.; 2 cr.) or the equivalent, as a prerequisite to taking a required history course.

The completion of this program takes 2 – 3 years and is typically 36–38 credits (depending on whether a remedial history class is required).

a. New Course.

SEYS 577, Clinical Residency I. 3 hrs, plus 300 hours of fieldwork, 3 credits
Co-requisite: SEYS 552—Educational Psychology, SEYS 536—Educational Foundations, and a discipline-specific SEYS methods course SEYS 577, Clinical Residency I, is the first of three intensive clinical residencies. In this first clinical residency, candidates will have multiple, scaffolded opportunities to apply what they are learning in their college course work in real secondary (i.e., grades 7-12) classrooms as they endeavor to create safe and culturally sustaining learning environments that inspire critical engagement. Candidates will reflect on and revise their teaching practice in authentic, diverse, urban teaching situations within their respective content area specializations. Candidates will be provided with significant support from both faculty and mentor teachers so that by the end of the semester, candidates are well on their way to developing and demonstrating knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions in fundamental aspects of pedagogy that are consistent with research-validated, discipline specific, best-practices for promoting student learning and well-being.
b. New Course.

SEYS 578, Clinical Residency II. 3 hrs, plus 300 hours of fieldwork, 3 credits.
Prerequisites: SEYS 577, Clinical Residency I; Co-requisite: Appropriate SEYS discipline-specific advanced methods course.
SEYS 578, Clinical Residency II, is the second of three intensive clinical residencies. During this second semester of clinical residency, candidates continue within their full-time clinical residency placements within New York City Public Schools and continue to have multiple opportunities to apply what they are learning in their college coursework in real secondary classrooms.
Many of the scaffolded supports provided during SEYS 577 are systematically removed and candidates are expected to move towards the independent demonstration of instructional effectiveness. Candidates must successfully and independently be able to demonstrate knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions in: (a) designing and implementing coherent culturally sustaining instruction consistent with research-validated, discipline specific, best-practices, and (b) assessing the impact of their instruction in formative and summative ways in terms of promoting the learning and well-being of all students.

c. New Course.

SEYS 579, Clinical Residency III. 3 hrs, plus 300 hours of fieldwork, 3 credits;
Prerequisites: SEYS 577, Clinical Residency I & SEYS 578 Clinical Residency II; Co-requisite: Appropriate SEYS discipline-specific research course.
SEYS 579, Clinical Residency III, is the final of three intensive clinical residencies and provides multiple structured opportunities for candidates to apply and reflect on strategies, theories, and practices learned in college coursework through daily work with a mentor teacher in a host school within the mentor teacher’s classroom. This course provides induction support to candidates during their final semester in the secondary level Transitional B MAT clinical residency programs as NYCDOE first-year teachers of record within their own classrooms. Specifically, this induction portion of the clinical residency sequence supports candidates’ growth during the first semester of full-time teaching, helping candidates as novice teachers continue to develop knowledge, skills and professional dispositions related to designing, facilitating and implementing coherent instruction consistent with research-validated, discipline specific, best-practices; and assessing the impact of their instruction in formative and summative ways in terms of promoting the
