NEW COURSE NUMBERS FOR
PSYCHOLOGY 107 (Statistical Methods)

Students must enroll in Psych 1073 Lecture AND Psych 1071 Lab.

These are listed as separate courses in CUNYFirst. Be sure to enroll in both.

Psych Majors are required to earn a minimum grade of C in both.

Frequently Asked Questions and Answers:

For Students who already took Psych 107:

- If you already have a C or better grade in Psych 107:
  - Do not take Psych 1073 & 1071. This would be considered a “repeat” because you already have credit for the lecture and laboratory course.

- If you did not earn the minimum grade of C:
  - Psychology Majors are required to earn a C or better in Statistical Methods before taking Psych 213W Experimental
  - Because of the course number change, you must repeat Psych 107 by taking both Psych 1073 AND Psych 1071.

How do I enroll in Psych 1073 and Psych 1071?

Search for the new course numbers on CUNYfirst and add both lecture and lab sections to your “shopping cart”. The classes are co-requisites (must be taken together), so you need to enroll in both simultaneously. CUNYFirst will not permit registration unless both courses are in the cart.
