Dress Down for a Good Cause!

As many of you know, October is Breast Cancer Awareness month. Almost everyone knows someone who has been affected by this disease. This is our chance to help.

National Denim Day, founded ten years ago, is the largest single-day fundraiser aimed towards the fight against breast cancer. To date, more than $61 million dollars have been raised. To expand upon this idea, The Office of Human Resources will be sponsoring "Denim Fridays" for the month of October. In order to raise funds for this cause, the cost to do this will be $5.00 for each Friday that one participates, with all proceeds going to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. There are five Fridays in October so, knowing how everyone loves a bargain, we are offering a discount of 5 Fridays for $20.00. All responding participants will have a pair of pink denim jeans with their name on it displayed in the hallway outside OHR in Kiely Hall. We will accept both cash and checks, with all checks made payable to the Susan G. Komen Foundation. The first 100 to respond will receive a pink ribbon pin to proudly display their contribution. The final Friday in October is Halloween so, as an added bonus, anyone who visits OHR in costume will be entered in a raffle to win a prize.

Get together as a department and show the rest of the QC Community that you care! If you already wear jeans to work, then make it count! If you don't dress down, here's your chance. As part of the Queens College family, this is our opportunity to be a part of the search for the cure.

Please complete the form below and forward it to the Office of Human Resources with the appropriate check attached. Should you have any questions, please contact Ann Morgado on extension 4493.
