Anyone—regardless of gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, religious affiliation, citizenship status, race, class or educational level—may experience sexual harassment and sexual violence.

BE IN THE KNOW and make sure you understand your rights as a student, CUNY’s policies, and other issues related to sexual harassment and assault.

Queens College is committed to being a safe campus where there is no sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, or date rape. And no exceptions.

If you suspect you may have been subjected to sexual harassment or assault, stalking, or domestic or intimate partner violence—contact one of the following immediately:

Title IX Coordinator & Chief Diversity Office
Kiely Hall 147; 718-997-5888; cynthia.rountree@qc.cuny.edu

Public Safety Office
Main Gate; 718-997-5912/5911; rufus.massiah@qc.cuny.edu

Dean of Students
Student Union 300; 718-997-3960; john.andrejack@qc.cuny.edu

Bystanders: If you see something, get help immediately!

Starting this fall, all Queens College students will BE IN THE KNOW about sexual harassment and assault once they take the mandatory training, Haven: Understanding Sexual Assault, available after September 5 at www.everfi.com/register (Registration Code/Login ID will be sent to your QC email address).
