USEFUL LINKS FOR NEW FACULTY

The Provost’s website includes information on a range of issues relevant to faculty, including the College’s mission, the curriculum, calendar and schedule information, and policies and guidelines: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/Provost

The Academic Senate, comprised of faculty and students, is responsible for Queens College’s curriculum: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/AcademicSenate

The Office of Research and Sponsored Programs administers research grants, including internal PSC-CUNY research awards, and provides information on available support, regulations, and the application process: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/about/administration/Provost/Research

Writing at Queens is a resource for all faculty and students at Queens College. The goal is to encourage, stimulate, and support a culture of writing on campus: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/WAQ

The Center for Teaching and Learning offers services to promote, sustain, and recognize all aspects of teaching and learning at Queens College: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/CTL

The Educational Technology Laboratory is a resource for faculty wishing to use technology in their teaching. CTL also provides resources for faculty wishing to use Technology in their teaching: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/CTL

The Office of Human Resources is dedicated to the development and implementation of programs, processes and policies that foster an environment of support, professional development and employee recognition: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/HR

The Office of Information Technologies provides administrative, instructional, research communication information, and audio/video services: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/Computing

The Office of Institutional Research provides institutional data for surveys, departments, academic programs, and college and university administration: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/about/research
The Queens College Libraries provide access to electronic databases and full text journals: the CUNY online catalog, and other electronic resources; electronic interlibrary loan; instructions for off-campus access to its materials; and the Electronic Reserve (ERES) System: http://qcpages.qc.cuny.edu/library

Blackboard is CUNY’s course management system. It can be used to post syllabi, handouts, and readings; keep an electronic grade book; deploy surveys, quizzes, or tests; collect and return assignments electronically; host electronic discussion boards or chat sessions; build password-protected blogs and wikis, etc. Blackboard can be accessed directly: http://qcpages.qc.cuny.edu/edtech but to set up a CUNY Portal ID, necessary to login, go to http://www.cuny.edu. Contact Dr. Ken Lord, Assistant to the Provost for Instructional Technology (Kenneth.Lord@qc.cuny.edu) for assistance with Blackboard.

The Registrar’s page has information on the academic calendar, examination schedule, registration guide, and catalogs: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/Registrar To access WebAttendance and Webgrading, please consult the Faculty Center portion of your CUNYfirst account. To register for a CUNYfirst account: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/cunyfirst

Media Services delivers media and equipment, provides technical support in classrooms throughout campus, and offers other services including audio and video duplication and conversion: http://qc.cuny.edu/Computing/MediaServices

Computer Lab information can be accessed at: http://www.qc.cuny.edu/Computing/computer_labs

Faculty and Course Information including the schedule of classes, enrollment, and faculty evaluation results can be accessed at: http://courses.qc.cuny.edu