Section D. Subrecipient Requirements and Responsibilities

The Research Foundation of CUNY (RF) views the subrecipient organization as a true partner in carrying out a sponsored project. The requirements and responsibilities of a subrecipient are different from that of a contractor. The following chart outlines the differences.

Subrecipients

- The subrecipient must comply with the sponsor requirements of the prime award (e.g., effort reporting on federal awards).
- The subrecipient exercises programmatic control over how the sponsored work is performed. It makes independent decisions
- regarding how to implement the proposed activities, as opposed to providing goods or services to the prime award PI.
- The subrecipient is responsible for substantive programmatic work or for conducting a significant portion of the project.
- A principal investigator has been identified at the subrecipient who functions as a Co-PI. Publications may be created or co-authored.

Contractors

- A contractor is not subject to compliance requirements of the Federal program (e.g. effort reporting on Federal awards).
- A contractor provides goods or services developed according to the specifications of the CUNY Principal Investigator.
- A contractor provides similar goods or services within its normal business operations and normally operates in a competitive environment.
- A contractor provides goods or services that are ancillary to the operation of the Federal program.

Is my organization properly categorized as a subrecipient as described above? Yes No

If "No", please contact the CUNY PI about procuring your organization's products and/or services as a contractor.
