The White Ribbon Campaign aims to raise awareness of the global pandemic of violence against women and girls. As part of UN Women UNiTE to Say NO to Violence, it is petitioning world leaders to make ending such violence a top priority.

On April 5, 2012, the White Ribbon Petition will be presented to President Barack Obama, New York Governor Andrew Cuomo, UN Secretary-General Ban Ki Moon, and UN General Assembly President Joseph Deiss.

WHITE RIBBON PLEDGE

I pledge never to commit, condone, or remain silent about violence against women and girls. From this day forward I promise to be part of the solution to ending all forms of this violence.

PETITION

We, the undersigned people, have taken the White Ribbon Pledge. We call on world leaders and governments to join in taking legal and social action against all forms of violence against women and girls.
