Whereas,
The Queens College community is deeply concerned about the problem of violence against women and girls; and

Whereas,
The many cultures represented in our community are all affected; and

Whereas,
The men and women of our community wish to make a positive contribution toward ending this violence by taking tangible steps to raise awareness among its students, faculty, staff, and the broader community;

Be It Resolved:
That Queens College will work toward promoting awareness through the WHITE RIBBON CAMPAIGN;

That all members of the community, particularly men, are encouraged to wear the “white ribbon” as a sign of their commitment to work toward promoting change;

And that the White Ribbon Pledge will be displayed in a prominent location so that it can be seen by members of the community and visitors alike.

On this day, April 6, 2011, I proclaim Queens College of the City University of New York a Community Working to Promote Awareness about Violence against Women and Girls and home to the White Ribbon Campaign.

Sue Henderson, Vice President for Institutional Advancement