

What is Transitions to Teaching?

- Transitions to Teaching is a community dedicated to students who are considering becoming elementary school teachers.
- TtT, connects students with other students who share similar interests and questions about becoming a teacher, and also with faculty, advisors and other professionals who can help find answers.
- TtT is a hybrid community, offering ways to be involved both face-to-face* and online. (*TtT has been entirely online since March 2020).
- TtT does not involve extra course work or assignments, instead it offers presentations, online chats and activities that address questions and concerns about becoming teachers.
