Queens College
Dietetic Internship Program

Would you like opportunities to be an innovator in dietetics? Impact lives in our global New York City communities? If so, the Queens College Dietetic Internship is for you.

You will:

■ Apply evidence-based practice in community, clinical, and food-service management work locations.
■ Experience a Community Nutrition concentration that includes community needs assessment, intervention, counseling, and sustainability.
■ Conduct research projects focusing on “change-drivers” in dietetics,* promoting your ability to innovate in the field.
■ Gain access to a network of professors and preceptors dedicated to helping you start your dietetics career.
■ Earn 12 graduate credits toward your Master’s Degree in Nutrition Specialization through outstanding, affordable coursework.

Why Queens College?

Known as “the crown jewel of the CUNY system,” Queens College is an urban school in a suburban setting, where a large and diverse student body receives personalized attention, making us one of New York’s premier educational institutions.

Why the Queens College Dietetic Internship?

- Interns accepted to our highly competitive program receive strong rotations, full-time September through June, at outstanding practice sites throughout NYC.

- Regular class meetings will develop your skills in advanced medical nutrition therapy, community, counseling, and management.

- You will practice leadership skills, teamwork and professional presentations through outcomes research within the program.

- Extensive computer-based practice testing prepares you for the RD Exam.

Visit our website for program, application, and Open House information. www.qc.cuny.edu/di

Allison Charny, MSEd, RDN, CDE, CDN, Program Director
allison.charny@qc.cuny.edu