Covid-19 Inspired Media Student Competition
Our Voices: Black, Latinx, and Caribbean Student Day
Submission Deadline: March 1, 2022

The Latin American and Latino Studies (LALS) program at Queens College announces its Covid-19 Inspired Media Competition. First, second, and third prizes are chosen by a panel of faculty judges. The LALS Media Competition fosters a space for Queens College undergraduate students to share their creative art inspired by Covid-19.

Our Voices: Black, Latinx and Caribbean Students Day celebrates our communities and reflects on how Covid-19 has affected our own communities and all communities in NYC, the U.S., Latin America, the Caribbean and the world.

Contest submissions may come from any enrolled Queens College undergraduate student. First Prize: $500; Second Prize: $150; Third Prize $100; Honorary Mention for up to 10 entries.

Competition submission deadline: March 1, 2022
Winners will be announced at the end of March and will be invited to share their work on Wednesday March 30th, 2022 during Our Voices: Black, Latinx, and Caribbean Student Day.

Instructions for Submission of Entries
A maximum of one entry per student is allowed. Students wishing to compete in the LALS Media Contest must submit the following to lalsprogram@qc.cuny.edu with the subject “LALS Media Contest”: Entrant’s name, CUNY ID, email address, telephone number, title of the entry, type of media, length of work, month and year completed, and 2-3 sentence description of project. Entries should include a link to the media being submitted. (Do not attach audio or video media files to the email.)

• Entries must be submitted as a shared link of the video/audio. For example, provide Vimeo, or YouTube link (with password), Dropbox, OneDrive or Google Drive link. Make sure links remain active through April 1, 2022.
• Examples of submissions include, but are not limited to:
  - Podcast, Creative audio production, any category (10 minutes maximum, those exceeding the maximum will be disqualified)
  - Video or Short Film (10 minutes maximum, those exceeding the maximum will be disqualified) any genre (fiction, non-fiction, documentary, animated, experimental, etc.)
  - Multimedia Installation
  A 10-minute or less excerpt of a longer media work is also acceptable if the student feels the excerpted piece can stand on its own. Please include explanation and description of the longer work in your email if this applies to your project.
• All media work must be completed entirely by the student or students (group) submitting the work.
• All media work must be original; no copyrighted videos or sounds allowed.
