Extension of GRE Requirement for Spring 2021 Admission into Graduate Programs
MEMO from INTERIM DEAN FUSCO (10/29/2020)

Due to the ongoing impact of COVID-19 on testing centers, the School of Education has agreed to issue a temporary extension of the GRE requirements for 2020-2021 admission into Graduate programs. This includes all graduate programs in the Departments of:

- Educational and Community Programs
- Elementary and Early Childhood Education
- Secondary Education and Youth Services; as well as,
- Graduate admission into the following Affiliate programs in:
 - Family and Consumer Science
 - Music Education
 - Physical Education
 - TESOL

Students who apply for graduate admissions for Spring 2021 entry and who do not have GRE scores available will be automatically admitted on a conditional basis assuming all other criteria for admissions to the program has been met. Students must complete the GRE and submit their scores before the start of the Fall 2021 semester. Registration for Fall 2021 courses will be blocked if scores are not submitted by this time and students will be dismissed from the program. Students who were already conditionally admitted in Fall 2020 should submit their GRE scores before the start of the Spring semester and/or by March 1, 2021.

Best Wishes,

Dr. Dana Fusco
Interim Dean
