Study Italian language and culture in Perugia, one of the most beautiful medieval cities in Italy. Perugia is the capital of Umbria and is located halfway between Rome and Florence. It is also near Siena, Assisi, Cortona, and other hill towns in Umbria and Tuscany.

John D. Calandra Italian American Institute, in collaboration with the European Languages and Literatures Department at Queens College and the University for Foreigners of Perugia (Università per Stranieri di Perugia), is offering a summer study abroad program for students interested in Italian language and culture, which will be held at one of Italy’s oldest and most prestigious centers of Italian language education.

COURSE INFORMATION

The primary goal of each six-credit program is the study of Italian language. Student language ability will be evaluated with an examination upon arrival. After each student’s language ability is measured, they will be placed in the appropriate Italian language courses. Levels I, II, and III courses have 20 to 22 hours of lessons per week and consist of theoretical and practical teaching of grammar, conversation, and laboratory practice. Level IV and Level V have 27 hours of lessons per week. All courses are taught in Italian by university professors who are experts in their fields.
