Students are advised to meet with professional and faculty advisors to tailor their degree maps to their individual interests (academic and career goals), as well as other considerations including course offerings and the incorporation of winter and summer sessions. ¥ Math 122 is prerequisite for ECON 249, but you may not have to start with this level. Based on your High School math level, the math department will decide which level of math you must take. If you are placed into Calculus (Math 131, Math 141 or Math 151), you are considered to have fulfilled the Math prerequisite for ECON 249. Not open to students with credit for MATH 241, which will be accepted in lieu of ECON 249.

 If a Literature course is taken with a W, it will count towards Literature and one Writing Intensive Unit.

General Electives: Students may complete general electives by taking courses in (most) department/s or programs they choose; however, depending on the course/program, students may need department permission and/or prerequisite course/s. Electives may be used to supplement the chosen major (an English major may want to take a course in French or Italian literature) or to fulfill interest in a different area (a Music major may be interested in the physics of sound). Students are encouraged to use available electives to complete a dual major, minor, pre-requisites for graduate or professional school, or complete and internship, experiential learning and/or study abroad. Students are encouraged to use their available general electives wisely and focus on coursework that will assist them personally, academically and professionally.

* Writing Intensive course overlaps, if ACCT 362W is taken it will satisfy the 2nd W requirement for College.

 See the Accounting department for list of approved electives for Group A and Group B.
