Jerome A. Chazen is Founder and Chairman of Chazen Capital Partners, a private investment firm. Chazen is also Chairman Emeritus of Liz Claiborne, Inc., and is one of the four founding partners who established the Company in 1976. He was largely responsible for the innovative sales, marketing, distribution and licensing programs that were an integral part of Liz Claiborne, Inc.'s success. Prior to joining the venture that would become Liz Claiborne, Inc., Chazen worked as an analyst on Wall Street.

Jerry graduated from the University of Wisconsin and received his MBA from Columbia University. He is a Trustee Emeritus of Columbia University and Chairman Emeritus of the Board of Overseers of the Columbia Business School. Additionally, Jerry serves on the Boards of the 92nd Street Y, the Eugene Lang Entrepreneurial Initiative Fund. He also serves on the Lupus Research Alliance, Newport Jazz Foundation, Louis Armstrong House Museum, and The Partnership Fund for New York City. He is also Chairman Emeritus of the Museum of Arts and Design. He is also a member of the University of Wisconsin Foundation Board.

Jerry is the founder of the Jerome A. Chazen Institute for Global Business at Columbia and serves on the board. Previously, he served on the Board at the Metropolitan Opera and the Fashion Institute of Technology. He and his wife, Simona, a fellow MAD Trustee, are also founders of the Chazen Museum of Art at the University of Wisconsin.

Jerry and Simona have three children and seven grandchildren. They are both avid art collectors, and split their time between Manhattan and their home in Upper Nyack.
