| 1343 | 1 | M,T,W,TH 4:00–6:40PM | PH 114 (hybrid synchronous) | EMOTO (CHOI) | 4W1: JUNE 3–27 |
|------|---|----------------------|-----------------------------|--------------|----------------|

This course examines customs, manners and ways of life – what anthropologists call culture – in selected groups around the world. By describing and comparing varieties of political and economic systems, family and kinship, personality and sexual behavior, and art and leisure, this course offers insights into human culture, how it works, and what causes differences and similarities in human behavior. If the course is really successful, you should begin to see how anthropologists look at the world around us, what they perceive the human place in nature to be, and from what perspective or point of view they attempt to define and answer questions involving humankind.

ANTHROPOLOGY 103 INTRODUCTION TO ARCHAEOLOGY

| | | | | | |
|------|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|--------|----------------|
| 7285 | 1 | M,T,W,TH 10:00AM-12:40PM | TBA (hybrid synchronous) | FEELEY | 4W1: JUNE 3–27 |
|------|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|--------|----------------|

This course traces major developments in human history and illustrates the methods archeologists use to study the past. It investigates the origins of cultural behavior, the invention of agriculture and its consequences, and the development and collapse of cities, drawing on archaeological sites from around the world. Students will explore how we think about the past in the present, including the ways in which individuals and communities used physical objects (known as material culture) in the past and the ways present-day people use this same material culture to understand, create, and commemorate their histories.

ANTHROPOLOGY 225 MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

| | | | | | |
|------|---|---------------------------|--------------------|-------------|----------------|
| 1284 | 1 | M, T, W, TH 3:00PM-6:00PM | PH 114 (in person) | HALLIBURTON | 4W2: July 1–25 |
|------|---|---------------------------|--------------------|-------------|----------------|

Medical anthropology is the study of concepts about health and illness and forms of medicine of different cultures. This course will analyze various expressions of illness and methods of healing and examine what these reveal about the societies in which they develop. Studies of medical systems of South Asia, China and other regions will be presented along with cultural analyses of western medicine. This course will also take into account socioeconomic differences and examine how issues such as ethnicity and gender relate to access to health care in the U.S. and other societies.

3 hr.; 3 cr. Prerequisite: 6 credits in social science or sophomore standing.

Fulfills elective requirement for Health & Culture and Power & Inequality minors
