

New Service Learning Course!

Interested in culturally sensitive early intervention for young children with developmental disabilities and families?

Join Psych 374:

Culturally Responsive Family Support Practicum

Click here to see what students have to say about this new course

In Psych 374 you will

- Learn about culturally sensitive intervention
- learn about best practices in early intervention for children with developmental disabilities and their families
- Participate in Horizons to gain experience that is critical for a variety of careers and graduate education - psychology, applied behavior analysis, special education, school psychology and more

Mission

– At Horizons we are dedicated to serving the local diverse community of Queens by creating collaborative partnerships with families and fostering culturally sensitive mindsets in our students to improve outcomes for children with developmental disabilities.

Spring 2023: Class (hybrid) meets Mondays 10am-12pm
Intervention experience at Horizons scheduled throughout the week.

To learn more and register contact us at horizons@qc.cuny.edu