Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 – Earliest Aid Awards Payments Aid remaining after Tuition and Fees are paid

Because of the low cost of tuition and fees at Queens College, many students have aid remaining after paying their bills. Excess funds can be used to cover educational expenses other than tuition and fee charges.

If you file your FAFSA and resolve eligibility issues early, the CUNY financial aid payroll system is expected to release any balance from your aid awards by the dates below.

Students whose awards and eligibility issues are resolved later will be paid on later dates.

See information about signing up for direct deposit as an option for delivery of your remaining aid.

If CUNYfirst does not take your aid as scheduled below for liabilities to the college, payments will be mailed to the address on your financial aid file or deposited to the account you have set up for direct deposit.

After your bill is paid on CUNYfirst, refunds due to you are made by the Bursar's Office by paper check only – and mailed to the address on CUNYfirst as you become eligible for the refund.
