

From Queens to the Newsroom: A Conversation with Jennifer Bisram

MONDAY, MAY 5, 2025 • 12:15–1:30 PM

Kiely Hall Room 315

JENNIFER BISRAM is an award-winning reporter and anchor who joined CBS News New York in 2022. She covers aging and caregiving, as well as crime and community stories. Bisram has covered New York news for nearly two decades—covering the city’s biggest stories: the courts, federal law enforcement, and the state of Rikers Island. She previously worked at PIX11 News and News 12 in the NYC metro area and reported and anchored in other cities including Orlando, Miami, and Detroit.

A graduate of Queens College who was born in Brooklyn, raised in Queens, and is part of the Indo-Caribbean community in New York, Bisram is an accomplished author of children’s books and has previously written for NY Newsday, The Amsterdam News, and The Queens Chronicle. When she’s not covering stories in your neighborhood, she’s traveling and spending time with family.
