QUEENS COLLEGE

A MESSAGE FROM President Frank H. Wu

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE STUDENTS WE CELEBRATE THIS EVENING. I am honored to be here in our beautiful Colden Auditorium to recognize your remarkable accomplishments.

Tonight’s honors—whether Latin distinctions, departmental awards, or recognitions from Queens College and the City University of New York—reflect far more than academic ability. They reflect your unwavering dedication to excellence. You represent the very best of Queens College, and your families and supporters share in this achievement as well.

Although you share this moment together, your journeys here were quite different. In attendance tonight are student-athletes balancing practices and exams, parents and caregivers managing responsibilities beyond campus, veterans and active service members, employees working long hours, entrepreneurs launching ventures, volunteers serving their communities, and immigrant students who began their lives elsewhere before continuing their education here. Different paths, different challenges, yet each of you arrived here through commitment and resilience.

I hope that you will take the same resolve into the next chapter of your lives, whether you choose to further your studies, enter the workforce, or explore new opportunities. With all that you achieved, I’m confident you will all go on to do wonderful things and make positive contributions to our society. Whatever path you take, I urge you to always remember the motto of Queens College: “Discimus ut serviamus. We learn so that we may serve.”

On behalf of the faculty and staff at Queens College, please accept my congratulations once again on your superb achievements. You have made us all proud.

Congratulations, and enjoy this well-earned celebration.

QUEENS COLLEGE PRESIDENT’S MEDAL

Suzanne Brenner ’81

A CONSUMMATE PROFESSIONAL, Suzanne Brenner ’81 has had a distinguished career managing investments at the summit of some of New York City’s most iconic organizations.

A person of many talents, Ms. Brenner trained as a classical pianist and graduated summa cum laude from Queens College. Her creative and analytical abilities were on full display as she received departmental honors in both music and accounting as well as the American Society of Women Accountants Outstanding Award and the Frances Dillon Haywood Memorial Prize in Music.

In the heart of the city’s financial networks, she began her ascent as a certified public accountant at Ernst & Young, where her clients included foundations and financial institutions. She moved on to making financial decisions directly when she was recruited by the Rockefeller Foundation to help restructure its portfolio, then became its director of investments and assistant treasurer.

Combining the arts and finance, Ms. Brenner joined the Metropolitan Museum of Art as its deputy CIO, then its chief investment officer and senior vice president. She guided investments at the world-class museum for eighteen years, overseeing management of a $3.2 billion investment portfolio.

Now a partner and former chief investment officer at Brown Brothers Harriman, she has attained an impressive degree of authority and recognition at one of Wall Street’s premier financial-services firms, which has been a symbol of sophisticated investments since 1818 and oversees more than $3 trillion in assets. Ms. Brenner has been head of the firm’s Investment Research Group and a member of its Investment Oversight Committee.

A pioneering woman in finance, Ms. Brenner has also worked to pay her success forward. She benefited from female mentorship at the Rockefeller Foundation, and credits Virginia Woolf’s A Room of One’s Own with helping her to navigate the “double burden” of women’s working life. Now she is a member of the Emerita Council of 100 Women in Finance, which mentors a rising generation of young professionals, fundraises for causes that help women, and seeks more opportunities for women to serve on boards.

An engaged citizen of the city, Ms. Brenner was named to Crain’s Notable Women on Wall Street in 2022—for not only her professional accomplishments, but also her many contributions to the social, cultural, and educational fabric of New York. Among her philanthropic areas, she has served on the boards of the New York Botanical Garden and the Carnegie Institute of Science, and she is an active member of the board of the Queens College Foundation.

In recognition of her exemplary professional and philanthropic leadership, and her generous service to the public good, we are proud to present alumna Suzanne Brenner with the Queens College President’s Medal.
