THEMISSION

The mission of Queens College is to prepare students to become leading citizens of an increasingly global society. The College seeks to do this by offering its exceptionally diverse student body a rigorous education in the liberal arts and sciences under the guidance of a faculty that is dedicated to the pursuit of excellence and the expansion of the frontiers of knowledge. Its goal is that students learn to think critically, address complex problems, explore various cultures, and use effectively the full array of available technologies and information resources.

Within a structured curriculum and in an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect, the College fosters an environment in which students learn the underlying principles of the humanities, the arts, and the mathematical, natural, and social sciences. The College also prepares students in a variety of professional and pre-professional programs that build upon and complement the liberal arts and sciences foundation.

Recognizing the special needs of a commuting student population, the College strives to create a broad range of intellectual and social communities. The C ollege offers a spectrum of curricular and co-curricular programs that serves individuals and distinctive student constituencies.

In support of the need for advanced study in the liberal arts and professions, the College offers a variety of master's degree and certificate programs. In particular, the College recognizes and accepts its historic responsibility for providing high quality programs for the preservice and in-service education of teachers.

As a partner with the University's Graduate School, the College provides faculty and resources in support of the University's mission in doctoral education and research. The College employs U niversity graduate students and prepares them for careers in higher education and research, and it supports faculty who serve as mentors for doctoral students and engage in related scholarly activities.

For its faculty, the College seeks productive scholars, scientists, and artists deeply committed to teaching. It endeavors to enhance the teaching effectiveness of faculty and to encourage their research and creative work. The College recognizes the importance of having a diverse faculty responsive to the needs and aspira tions of students of all ages and backgrounds.

As a public institution, Queens College provides affordable access to higher education and embraces its special obligation to serve the larger community. It is a source of information in the public interest; it is a venue for cultural and educational activities serving the general public. Through its graduates' contributions to an educated workforce and through the leading roles they assume in their local communities, the C ollege is vested in the economic future and vitality of New York.

As one of the most culturally diverse campuses in the country, Queens College faces special challenges and opportunities. By balancing tradition and innovation in the service of this diversity, it represents the future of the nation.

From the 1995 Q ueens C ollege Self-Study presented to the M iddle States Association's Commission on Higher Education.

The College of the Future

Since 1937, Queens College has dedicated itself to excellence in the liberal arts and sciences. This dedication has been recognized by the T he Princeton Review, which calls Q ueens "one of the best colleges in the nation," and the The FiskeG uide to Colleges 2000, which awarded us four stars for the quality of our academics. The City U niversity of $N$ ew York itself has honored ten members of our faculty with the title of D istinguished Professor.

O ur student body of close to 17,000 undergraduate and graduate students reflects the social and cultural diversity of the community we serve. 0 ver 120 countries and 67 languages are represented on campus, a rich mix of ideas and perspectives that led NBC-TV to call us "the C ollege of the Future."

Located on a beautiful 78 -acre campus, close to the vibrant cultural life of $M$ anhattan, $Q$ ueens C ollege offers over fifty undergraduate majors and minors. O ur innovative programs include a Journalism and a Business and Liberal Arts program, both of which integrate liberal arts study with the world of work. O ur new BA/MD and BA/DDS T rack Programs are rigorous courses of study that are offered in conjunction with the M D program at SUN YH ealth Science C enter at Brooklyn and the DD S program at the Columbia U niversity School of Dental and O ral Surgery. O ur award-winning Freshman Year Initiative helps students make the academic and social adjustments from high school to the demands of college life.

As President of Q ueens C ollege, I am proud of our achievements in teaching, research, and public service. I beli eve a great education should be accessible to talented people of all backgrounds, and that Q ueens C ollege succeeds in this goal by serving its students with distinction and commitment. I invite you to join this exciting and challenging community.

Q U E E N S C OLLEGE TO DAY

QUEENS COLLEGE, which N ew York Governor George Pataki has hailed as "the J ewel of the City U niversity," is dedicated to the idea that a great education should be accessible to talented people of all backgrounds - ethnic and financial. The C ollege's colorful kaleidoscope of tongues, talents, and cultures 67 different native languages are spoken here - provides an extraordinary educational environment.

Q ueens C ollege's strong liberal arts curriculum assures students education for a full career and a full life. O pportunities abound with special programs developed for honors students; students in prelaw, pre-med, and business; adults; "fresh start" students; foreign language speakers. In all their diversity, students come first.

Q ueens C ollege consistently receives high ratings from such publications as $\mathbf{U}$.
S. News and World Report and Barron's Profiles of American Colleges. The College is also listed in The Best 331 Colleges as well as in Barron's Best Buys.

Funded by the State of New York, Q ueens C ollege serves all the people of the state. M ost students live in N ew York City's five boroughs, or in N assau, Suffolk, and W estchester counties. Like all other City U niversity colleges, it is a commuter school.

The campus is located off Exit 24 of the Long Island Expressway (I-495) on Kissena Boulevard in Flushing, close to public transportation (the Long Island Railroad and Queens and N ew York City bus and subway lines).

Enrollment

The student population is diverse and achievement oriented. Close to 17,000 students are enrolled in all divisions, including over 4,000 graduate students.

Student Achievement

Recent graduates have won fellowships, scholarships, and assistantships for study at many of the country's leading graduate schools, including H arvard, Yale, N orthwestern, Emory, and M IT. A number of Q ueens C ollege students received special awards for graduate study, most notably several recent Salk Fellowships, two M arshall Scholarships, a G oldwater Scholarship, a Clark Foundation Fellowship, and a Fulbright Grant.

Faculty

The faculty is a roll call of excellence-world-class scholars who care deeply about teaching. The C ity U niversity has recognized this excellence by honoring 10 faculty members with the title of D istinguished Professor. For day and evening, including adjuncts, the faculty numbers over 1,000; of the nearly 550 full-time faculty, morethan 85 percent hold the doctoral degree.

Research

Recent awards to support faculty research have included grants from New York State agencies to promote ethnic studies projects and day-care training services, as well as the establishment of a Reference Resource Center for the N ew York State D epartment of Social Services. Federal grants facilitate the conduct of many basic research projects in the sciences, some with important implications for the causes and treatment of disease.

U ndergraduates are often deeply involved in Q ueens C ollege projects, working in laboratories, classrooms, or in the field. Because of the diversity of ongoing research and training efforts, students are able to participate in and gain important insights into potential career paths and to prepare for graduate training.

Academic Structure

Q ueens C ollege offers day and evening classes in its undergraduate College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and its Graduate School. In addition, there is a Summer Session that serves all branches of the College and a W eekend College.

Q ueens C ollege has four academic divisions: Arts and Humanities, Education, M athematics and the N atural Sciences, and Social Sciences.

The Division of the Arts and

 Humanities includes the following departments: Art; Classical, M iddle Eastern, and Asian Languages and Cultures; C omparative Literature; D rama, Theatre, and D ance; English; European Languages and Literatures; H ispanic Languages and Literatures; Library; Linguistics and Communication Disorders; M edia Studies; and the A aron Copland School of M usic.The Division of Education includes the following departments: Elementary and Early Childhood Education; Secondary Education and Youth Services; and Educational and Community Programs.

The Division of Mathematics and the Natural Sciences includes the following departments: Biology; Chemistry and Biochemistry; Computer Science; Family, N utrition, and Exercise Sciences; M athematics; Physics; Psychology; and the School of Earth and Environmental Sciences.

The Division of the Social Sciences

includes the following departments: Accounting and Information Systems; Anthropology; Economics; H istory; Philosophy; Political Science; Sociology; Student Personnel; U rban Studies; and the Graduate School of Library and Information Studies.

Honor Societies

Phi Beta K appa, a nationwide organization and the oldest college society still active, honors good character, intellectual enthusiasm, and outstanding scholarship in the liberal arts and sciences. The Sigma C hapter of N ew York was authorized at the College in Fall 1949 and installed on January 9, 1950. Each year it elects as members a limited number of students whose records in the liberal arts are superior in breadth and depth of study. Election to membership in a student's senior (or, exceptionally, junior) year is a unique distinction. No one may apply to join Phi Beta K appa, but the nominating committee takes care to find those whose programs live up to the society's ideals. M ore information may be obtained from members who serve as liaison officers in each academic department.

Golden K ey N ational H onor Society is a national, interdisciplinary, undergraduate, academic honors organization. The purposes of the Society are to recognize and encourage scholastic achievement and excellence in all undergraduate fields of study, to unite with collegiate faculties and administrators in developing and maintaining high standards of education, and to promote scholastic achievement and altruistic conduct through voluntary service. Invitations are extended to junior and senior students, full or part time, who rank in the top 15 percent of their class.

Sigma Xi, the Scientific Research Society, is a national scientific honorary society whose purpose is to encourage original investigation in pure and applied science. Q ueens C ollege became a member in 1968. M embership is granted for interest in and contribution to creative work in science as well as for high scholastic achievement.

Kappa Delta Pi is the N ational H onor Society in Education, founded in 1911. The K appa Gamma C hapter was installed at Q ueensC ollege on D ecember 16, 1963. It encourages excellence in scholarship, high personal standards, improvement in teacher preparation, distinction in achievement, and contributions to education. Invitations are extended to students in education on the basis of their cumulative and education indices and promise in the field of teaching.

Alpha Sigma Lambda, U psilon C hapter, is the N ational Evening Col lege H onor Society. Initial eligibility is established by completing 30 course credits with a minimum cumulative average of 3.2 through four semesters as a matriculant in evening classes. At least 15 credits must be completed outside the field of specialization. T en percent of those eligible are selected annually for induction as new members.

The following honor societies have chapters at the College:
Beta D elta Chi (Chemistry and Biochemistry)
Omicron Delta Epsilon (Economics) Pi Delta Phi (French)
D elta Phi Alpha (G erman)
Phi Alpha Theta (H istory)
Phi U psilon O micron (H ome

Sigma D elta Pi (Spanish)

Accreditation

Queens C ollege is registered by the N ew York State Education Department ( O ffice of H igher Education and the Professions, Cultural Education Center, Room 5B28, Albany, NY 12230; 518-474-5851). It is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education: M iddle States Association of Colleges and Schools, 3624 M arket Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104-2680; (215) 662-5606; fax (215) 662-5501. The C ollege is also approved by the M iddle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education includes Q ueens in its list of member colleges.

Facilities

The College's campus, lined with trees surrounding grassy open spaces, consists of 35 buildings on 78 acres. Some of the original stucco-and-tile buildings from the early 1900s still stand, contributing to the pleasantly eclectic style of the campus.

A major building program is continuing and includes greatly expanded classroom and research facilities, as well as spaces for varied campus activities. Projects scheduled to begin in the near future include a $$ 30$ million Center for M olecular and Cellular Biology; the complete renovation of Powdermaker H all; refurbishing of the performance spaces in Rathaus and King H alls; and construction of an all-weather structure over six tennis courts.

Facing M elbourne Avenue is the Science Building, which houses laboratories and offices for five science departments. At the western edge of the Q uadrangle is the Benjamin Rosenthal Library. W est of the Library is an expanded parking facility as well as various rebuilt athletic fields. Adjacent to C olden Center and facing Reeves Avenue is the M usic Building. Klapper H all is home to the Art and English D epartments as well as the God-win-T ernbach M useum. O $n$ the southern end of the Quad is Delany H all.

The Benjamin S. Rosenthal Library

 includes innovations in space configuration and information retrieval. The distinctive C haney-G oodman-Schwerner Clock Tower, which is dedicated to the memory of three civil rights workers who were murdered in Mississippi during the Freedom Summer of 1964 (one of whom, Andrew Goodman, was a Q ueens C ollege student), is a landmark for the community. The tower also houses the Q ueens C ollege Bells, five beautifully crafted instruments that chime each quarter hour.The Library maintains a carefully selected collection of print and nonprint material, including approximately 743,000 books, 3,300 current print and electronic periodicals, and pamphlet files. There also is an extensive collection of microform material. In addition, the Library is a selective depository for many U nited States government publications. A reference area contains materials for research on a wide range of social science, humanities, education, and science topics, and includes CD-ROM s for data on various subjects in a local area network with multiple workstations. Internet access is available at workstations on several floors of the Library.

Special Collections

The Library houses significant collections of specialized materials:

Art Library. Resources include art slides, exhibition catalogs, and a picture collection.

Education $M$ aterials. Special holdings include juvenile books, school textbooks, curriculum materials, filmstrips, records, cassettes, pictures, teaching aids, and pamphlets. Theeducation collection also includes college catal ogs, a career file, the complete ERIC documents, and a large number of standardized tests.

M usic Library. Located in the M usic Building, the M usic Library is a major resource for students and faculty. It offers an extensive collection of books and periodicals, the complete works of over 150 composers in scholarly editions, a collection of recorded music, and extensive microform holdings; the performance library includes scores, orchestral and other instrumental parts, and a large collection of choral music. On two levels, the library includes listening facilities and ample provision for study.

Rosenthal Library Services

Reference. Professional librarians are always available to assist students in the use of the Library's resources and to answer research questions. Circulation. Books are charged out with a current Q ueens C ollege ID card. In order to validate the ID card for Library use, a student should bring his or her validated ID card to the Circulation D esk in the Library, where a unique zebra label will be affixed to it. An open-access program enables $Q$ ueens faculty and students to borrow from most other CUNY libraries.

ReserveLibrary. The Reserve Library contains books and pamphlets assigned as required readings by an instructor.

Interlibrary Loan. Through Interlibrary Loan, patrons can borrow books, theses, and periodical articles that are unavailable at the College. For further information, contact the Interlibrary Loan office at 997-3704.

Instructional Services O rientation tours are available on a regular schedule as are workshops on selected online databases. C ourse-related bibliographic instruction in a variety of subject areas is available on request for class groups, day or evening. A formal credit course in basic library research is usually offered each semester.

Disabled Students. In cooperation with the $O$ ffice of Disabled Students, the Library offers special orientation sessions and services for handicapped students on campus. The CUN Y Assistive Technology Satellite C enter at Q ueens C ollege, located in Rosenthal 313, provides tech-nology-based support to students with disabilities. C all 997-3775 for more information.

Photocopying. C ard-operated photocopying machines are available throughout the Library. The cost to photocopy print or Internet materials is 10 cents a page (20 cents for microform). Photocopying services are also available in the basement of the Student U nion Building.

Office of Information Technology

The O ffice of Information Technology
(OIT) provides a full range of academic and administrative computing facilities, including the operation of the College's computer laboratories and classrooms. OIT also operates an interactive video classroom affiliated with CUN Y'sD istance Learning/M edia Distribution Project. OIT offices are located in I Building and Kiely H all, with user facilities in I Building, the Dining H all Building, the Science Building, and Kiely H all.

Microcomputer Facilities

OIT provides morethan 450 IBM, IBM -compatible, and Apple M acintosh computers for classroom and open lab use. All labs are equipped with laser printers, and a wide range of software is available. Information on lab locations and current lab hours can be found at: www.qc.edu/0IT/labs.htmI

Located in Kiely H all 226, the Learning Center has interactive audio facilities and advanced computer classrooms, where students meet in class groups for instruction in a wide variety of academic areas. The Learning C enter also provides playback services for students who wish to review audiotaped lecture materials.

Registered students, faculty, and staff are entitled to an e-mail account. Information on how to apply can be found at: www.qc.edu/OIT/index.html.

Web Site

OIT operates the College W eb Server at: www.qc.edu that has current information on admissions, registration requirements, class schedules, alumni, scholarships, study abroad, and student services, as well as graduate and undergraduate academic programs and the W eekend College. Information is also included on computing and library facilities, the academic calendar, and special events and entertainment at the College and at the Colden Center for the Performing Arts.

Other Services

The College's H elp D esk provides a variety of services to personal computer users, including pre-purchase consulting, installation assistance, and troubleshooting. The City U niversity and Q ueens C ollege have negotiated site licenses or volume purchasing agreements for a variety of software packages.

Laboratories

The C ollege's laboratory facilities house up-to-date scientific instruments for research in biology, chemistry and biochemistry, family, nutrition, and exercise sciences, earth and environmental studies, physics, and psychology.

For the location of department and administrative offices and other points of interest, consult the directory and map in the back of this Bulletin. See page $\mathbf{2 4 0}$ for upcoming relocations.

Governance

Academic Senate
The A cademic Senate is the chief legislative body of the College, responsible, subject to the Board of T rustees, for the formulation of policy relating to the admission and retention of students, curriculum, granting of degrees, campus life, and the nomination of academic (full) deans. It also establishes rules governing the use of the College name by organizations and clubs, and conducts all educational affairs customarily cared for by a college faculty.

The Academic Senate meets on the second Thursday of each month from September through May. M eetings are held in Kiely Hall 170 and are open to all members of the C ollege community faculty, staff, and students - and all have the right to participate in discussions. A complete description of the Academic Senate, including the apportionment of representatives and the duties and composition of Senate committees, is available in the office of the Academic Senate in Kiely H all 810 (997-5880; fax 9975884).

The Curriculum:

To Develop the Whole Person

The College's original curriculum was planned by its first president, Dr. Paul K lapper, after the liberal arts model of the U niversity of Chicago: developing the whole person through a required sampling of the humanities, social sciences, sciences, language, and the arts; a more intensive preparation in one subject; and freedom of choice in a third group of courses.

D uring the 1960s and 1970s the College experimented with different requirements. U nder President Saul B. C ohen in 1980, the Academic Senate voted to institute new Collegewide academic requirements, which provide for a reinvigoration of the tradition of a wellrounded liberal arts education.

The College and the Community

A municipal college funded by the State of $N$ ew York, $Q$ ueens C ollege is particularly aware of its mission in the broader community. College-community services include C ontinuing Education courses and lectures; Student U nion facilities and programs; exhibits in the Art Center, the Godwin-T ernbach M useum, and the gallery in K iely H all; and plays, concerts, dance recitals, lectures, and other cultural and educational programs presented in Colden Auditorium, the Goldstein Theatre, and the LeFrak C oncert H all. A number of specialized programs that serve the community and in which the community can participate are described in this section.

Colden Center for the Performing

Arts, which opened in September 1960, contains the 2,143-seat C olden Auditorium and the 476-seat G oldstein Theatre. Both venues have facilities for presentation and instruction in the performing arts. The complex also houses the $G$ ertz Speech and $H$ earing $C$ enter and two academic wings: Karol Rathaus H all and Rufus K ing H all.

The Queens College Choral

Society is open to members of the community and to students and staff of the College. The Society makes accessible the cultural benefits of participating in the performance of great works of choral music. There are two concerts annually: W inter and Spring. In these performances the C horal Society is assisted by the $Q$ ueens C ollege O rchestra. Rehearsals are held every W ednesday evening when the C ollege is in session. For information call 997-3822.

The Godwin-Ternbach Museum in

 K lapper H all is a teaching museum with a permanent collection of 2,500 works of art in all media from antiquity to the present. The M useum presents three to five exhibitions a year and holds lectures, workshops, and tours that are open to students and the public. For information call 997-4747.
The Queens College Speech-

 Language-Hearing Center, operated by the D epartment of Linguistics and Communication Disorders, is located in the Gertz Building between Rathaus and King H alls. The C enter services the community by providing diagnostic evalua tions and therapy for children and adults with communication disorders. Its facilities are used for research and to provide supervised clinical practicum for students.The Center includes an augmentative communication unit that provides innovative services to persons with severe communication impairments using alternate means of communication and technology. It also houses a pre-school language program that explores the special language needs of young children whose speech and language development is delayed. The Center offers scholarship funds for persons who may have financial difficulty paying the established fees. For information call 997-2930; fax 9972935.

Campus Ministry: Hillel, Protestant, Catholic, and Greek Orthodox

The $Q$ ueens C ollege C ampus M inisters is an association of the H illel Center for Jewish Life, Protestant, C atholic, and Greek Orthodox ministries on campus. Its purpose is to foster harmony among religious traditions and to join in campus efforts to promote spiritual and ethical growth. The ministers serve as a resource for religious and ethical information and insight for the academic and the wider Queens community. All unaffiliated students, faculty, and staff are welcome to participate in the activities of the various centers.

Hille: The Center for Jewish Life (Student Union 206; 793-2222; e-mail: qchillel@aol.com; fax 793-2252) provides religious, cultural, and social programming, counseling, and outreach for Jewish students, faculty, staff, and the community at large.

The Protestant Center (Student Union 203; 261-1550, 997-3979) welcomes students, faculty, and staff from the various Protestant denominations for worship and Bible study, counseling, and a variety of programs.

The C atholic N ew man Center (Student Union 207, 208; 997-3969, 7933130/fax same number) is the C atholic parish on campus. The Center celebrates the sacraments, sponsors spiritual, cultural, and social programs, and offers pastoral counseling to all students, faculty, and staff.

The Greak Orthodox Center (Student Union 209) provides religious, cultural, and social programming, counseling, and outreach for Greek O rthodox students, faculty, and staff. It also provides information on worship and Bible study. For information on religious matters, call Fr. Dimitrios Antokas, 4585251. For other matters, call the Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies Office, Jefferson H all 301, 997-4520; fax 997-4529.

The Bernard and Gloria Salick Center for Molecular and Cellular Biology is dedicated to finding a vaccine for H IV/AIDS, as well as developing therapeutics for H IV infection and other chronic infectious diseases. W orldrenowned virologist Dr. Luc M ontagnier, the first scientist to isolate the AID S virus, heads the C enter. H e is the Salick Professor of M olecular and Cellular Biology, which is the first endowed chair in the College's history.The Center currently occupies 5,000 square feet of laboratory space in Remsen H all. Plans are under way to open a new 25,000-square-foot facility in the next few years. W hen completed, the Center will have several dozen researchers working in six laboratories on vaccines, drug development, and other projects.

The Center for the Biology of Natural Systems conducts research on energy, pollution, and resource problems of urban ecosystems. Its staff collaborates with faculty, students, and local community groups to investigate problems such as the environmental impact of alternative municipal trash disposal systems, alternative solutions to the problem of dependence on non-renewable fuels, the health effects of dioxin, and the eutrophication of water supplies from agricultural sources. Professor Steven M arkowitz, M D, is the director of the C enter, located at 163-03 H orace $H$ arding Expressway. For information, call 670-4180; fax 670-4189.

The Center for Environmental

 Teaching and Research offers facilities such as classrooms, laboratories, and dormitories. ## Definitions

Applicants may be admitted as matriculated students or as non-degree students.

A matriculated student is one who has been admitted into an academic program and is recognized by the College as pursuing a degree. M atriculated students may attend Q ueens C ollege on a full- or part-time basis. Freshmen and transfers, as well as those admitted to the SEEK and ACE programs, are considered matriculated students.

A non-degree student is one who is registered for credit-bearing courses but is not pursuing a degree at the C ollege.

Weekend College

The Q ueens W eekend C ollege, instituted in 1997, is designed to provide the standard Q ueens College bachelor's degree entirely on Saturdays and Sundays. All graduation requirements and basic C ollege policies are the same for W eekend College.

Classes are scheduled in morning and afternoon modules on Saturdays and Sundays. Students can attend part and full time. The Rosenthal Library and dining hall are open on weekends.

C urrent majors offered are accounting, psychology, and sociology; interdisciplinary studies, in which majors can be mixed, is also available. Participants who desire other majors are encouraged to complete entry-level liberal arts require ments in W eekend College and then move to the weekday/evening session for the C ollege's full offerings of majors. D ozens of elective courses, many of which satisfy the Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements (LASAR), physical education, and language courses are also provided. In addition, W eekend College offers some graduate courses and certifications, especially in education.

W eekend C ollege students are permitted to register for courses offered during weekdays and evenings as well.

Applicants should apply at the W eekend College O ffice in Kiely H all 137; phone: 997-4848; fax: 997-4849.

The Adult C ollegiate Education Program (ACE) is available in a W eekend/ACE format for students over age 25 who are beginning the bachelor's degree.

Evening Degrees

Students who attend classes at night may earn a degree in the following areas: Accounting; Biology; Computer Science; Economics; English; History; M athematics; Philosophy; Political Science; Psychology; Secondary Education*; Sociology; and Urban Studies.

In addition, many courses offered in other disciplines allow students to pursue a balanced and complete liberal arts education.

Freshmen

Admission to Q ueens C ollege is based on a variety of factors, including high school grades, academic program, and SAT scores. Successful candidates will have chosen a well-rounded program of study with a B+ average that includes academic course work in mathematics ( 3 years), English ( 3 years), lab science ( 2 years), social studies (4 years), and foreign Ianguage (3 years).

N ew York State GED recipients may be considered with a minimum score of 350 on the equivalency exam.

In addition to any other admissions criteria, all students must demonstrate readiness for college-level work in reading, writing, and mathematics prior to enrollment.

Freshman applicants should submit the application for admission on or before J anuary 1 , along with a high school transcript and an SAT score report (the ACT is also acceptable). Applicants whose native language is other than English are encouraged to submit TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) scores.

High Jump

Through the High Jump program, selected high school seniors can take one college course in their senior year. Eligibility is selective and determined by the high school academic record, maturity, and CU N Y Assessment T est scores. Applications and information are available in the Q C Admissions O ffice (9975604). D eadlines are June 1 for Fall and D ecember 1 for Spring admission.

Freshman Scholarships

Freshman applicants with excellent grades, SAT scores of 1250, and a rank in or near the top $10 \%$ of their class are encouraged to apply. An essay and teacher recommendations are required, and two SAT II subject tests are strongly recommended. In addition to completing the CUN Y Freshman application with Q ueens C ollege listed as the first choice, scholarship applicants must file the QC Scholarship application available in the high school guidance office or the Q C Admissions O ffice. Application deadline is early February. C all for de tails.

Q ueens C ollege Scholars offers a variety of scholarships to Fall semester freshmen and transfers. For 1999, over 80 merit-based scholarships were awarded to new freshmen and transfers, ranging from $$ 5,000$ to $$ 2,000$ per year. Selection is competitive and most awards are renewable contingent upon continued high academic achievement. Scholarship recipients must be full-time students.

The Freshman Year Initiative

The Freshman Year Initiative (FYI) provides incoming freshmen with a coherent first year, beginning with the first semester, in an academic community. The typical FYI community is comprised of 40 students who are enrolled in three courses in common. Of the more than 60 faculty members from 30 departments teaching in FYI, nearly 40 are fulltime faculty, including full professors, chairs of departments, and academic deans. All are scholars, writers, composers, and/or researchers in their fields who share in the common enterprise of teaching new college students. The courses include College English and two other courses selected from the C ollege's standard liberal arts requirements (nine credits total). Students add one or two courses to complete their schedule. FYI communities are tailor-made for honors programs such as Business and Liberal Arts, QC Scholars, BA/M D, BA/D DS, and TIME 2000.

For more information, contact the FYI O ffice in Delany 301; (718) 9975567; e-mail FYI@qc.edu

SEEK

The Search for Education, Elevation, and K nowledge (SEEK) program serves academically underprepared and economically disadvantaged students who would not otherwise qualify for admission. SEEK helps students achieve academic success by providing financial support, academic instruction, tutorial assistance, and counseling services. Applicants are admitted for the Fall semester only, and a Pre-Freshman Summer Program may be required for some students. For further information, contact the SEEK Office (997-3150) or the Admissions O ffice (997-5600).

SEEK Academic Presidential Scholarships

Four scholarships are awarded each year to the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior student in the program having the highest academic average in his/her class. Finalists are chosen by the SEEK Scholarship Committee.

Transfer Students

T ransfers are those students who have continued their education beyond high school/secondary school. Q ueens C ollege admits students who have earned credits from other accredited colleges and universities. Admission is based on the previous college record, and in cases where few credits have been completed, the high school record will also be used. In addition to any other admissions criteria, all students must demonstrate readiness for collegelevel work in reading, writing, and mathematics prior to enrollment.

Transfer Scholarships

The Transfer Scholarship is in the amount of $$ 2,000$ per year and is renewable for a second year. C ommunity college graduates who have completed the A. A. or A. S. with a GPA of 3.5 are encouraged to apply. An essay and teacher recommendations are also required. In addition to completing the CUN Y T ransfer application with Q ueens College listed as the first choice, scholarship applicants must file the QC T ransfer Scholarship application, available in the QC Admissions O ffice and local community college transfer offices. Application deadline is June 1.

Transfer of Credit

C ourse work completed at other institutions will be evaluated after the student is offered admission to Queens College. T ransfer of credit will be considered for liberal arts courses completed at an accredited, degreegranting U. S. institution with a minimum grade of C - (or any passing grade from a CUN Y college). Students must complete at least 45 credits at $Q$ ueens C ollege in order to receive a degree. C onsequently, a maximum of 75 transfer credits may be counted toward the 120 required for graduation. C ontact the $O$ ffice of Admissions (9975604) for further information.

Fresh Start

Each year a small number of selected students return to college via the Fresh Start program. T ransfer and reentry applicants who do not satisfy regular admissions criteria, who have been out of college for at least three years, and who demonstrate a high level of motivation may beeligible for admission through Fresh Start. In addition to any other admissions criteria, all students must demonstrate readiness for college-level work in reading, writing, and mathematics prior to enrollment. Contact the QC O ffice of Admissions for information and applications.

Reentering Students

Students who attended Q ueens C ollege as matriculants, left while meeting retention standards, and have not attended other schools are encouraged to reenter the C ollege to complete their degree. D eadline dates for reenter applications are July 1 for Fall and December 1 for Spring admission.

M atriculants who attended Q ueens and did not meet retention standards may also apply to reenter, but readmission will be decided by a faculty committee. Reenter applications must be submitted by April 15 for Fall and November 1 for Spring consideration.

Students wishing to matriculate at Queens after having attended as a visiting or permit student from another college may do so by filing the CUNY T ransfer Application. (See transfer section on page 15.)

Readmission to the C ollege is not automatic. Reenter applications are available in the Admissions 0 ffice.

DEGREE PROGRAMS FOR STUDENTS OVER 25

Adult Collegiate Education (ACE)

Adult Collegiate Education is an accelerated baccalaureate curriculum for highly motivated adults 25 years and older who have a high school education or its equivalent. In day, evening, and weekend classes, ACE offers a personally rewarding education that also provides a secure foundation for career advancement and for graduate and professional study.

The four major components of an ACE student's curriculum are: 1) Basic ACE Seminars: a special series of interdisciplinary seminars in the arts, sciences, and social sciences, which fulfill most of the C ollege's entry-level distribution requirements; 2) evaluation of prior learning for Life Achievement credits; 3) the academic major; and 4) elective courses.

Students are also encouraged to participate in tutorials, off-campus weekend seminars, and travel seminars.

To apply for ACE, you must be at least age 25 and have a high school diploma or a GED. T ransfer students need room for entry-level liberal arts ACE courses. A committee reviews the application and selects students for admission.

For more information see page 51, or call ACE at 997-5717; fax 997-5746.

Worker Education: LEAP and the Worker Education Extension Center

The O ffice of W orker Education offers educational services to working adults and the labor community. It was established in cooperation with a number of N ew York City unions to provide union members with an opportunity to: 1) gain a better understanding of the world of work, the economy, and society in general; and 2) develop the skills and background necessary for career advancement.

The Labor Education and Advancement Project (LEAP) serves working adult students on campus. The Extension C enter serves students attending classes in M anhattan. Highly motivated adults who are 25 years or older, have a high school education, and are recommended by their unions are eligible to apply.

M atriculated LEAP students are eligible to enroll in a special W orker Education curriculum. The four major components of this curriculum are: 1) basic courses that include a special series of interdisciplinary seminars in the arts, sciences, and social sciences (some courses are shared with the ACE program and some are courses offered specifically by LEAP); 2) the academic major; 3) elective courses; and 4) life experience.

Students enrolled at the Extension Center may pursue a bachelor of science degree in applied social science. The de gree program is designed to prepare them for advocacy work in one of three areas: government, labor unions, and community organizations.

For more information, call the campus office at 997-3060, fax 997-3069; or the W orker Extension Center at 212-827-0200, fax 212-827-5955.

International Applicants

All students educated abroad - including U. S. permanent residents and foreign nationals - file the appropriate CUN Y Freshman or Transfer application for admission. A cademic transcripts as well as official translations are required to complete the application. The results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and a financial statement demonstrating the family's ability to meet all financial obligations may bere quired. In addition to any other admissions criteria, all students must demonstrate readiness for college-level work in reading, writing, and mathematics prior to enrollment. ## Financial Aid

$O$ ver half of $Q$ ueens C ollege students receive some form of financial aid. Possibilities include state and federal loans, grants and scholarships, and work-study programs. You may obtain further information from the Financial Aid $O$ ffice (997-5100).

College Preparatory Initiative (CPI)

The City U niversity expects students who graduated from high school to have taken a full complement of academic courses. These courses prepare the student for college-level work. Students should take as many academic courses in high school as possible.

The academic courses expected of entering students are in the following areas: English, math (such as Sequential I, II, III, algebra, geometry), lab science, social sciences, foreign language, and visual and performing arts. Students who have not taken these academic courses may still be eligible for admission to City U niversity, but will have to make up the work in college. These requirements are in addition to others noted in this Bulletin.

All students who will be affected by this regulation will be given a "CPI Transcript," which will indicate those requirements not met by work taken in high school or by college work taken elsewhere. Students graduating from N ew York City high schools may obtain information about CPI from their school or from the C ollege's O ffice of Academic Advising in Kiely H all 104 (997-5599).

Upward Bound Project

J Building; 997-3165
Academic Year Hours: Monday closed; Tuesday-Thursday, 11:00 am to 7:00 pm; Friday, 10:00 am to 6:00 pm; Saturday, 9:30 am to 5:30 pm Summer Hours: Monday-Thursday, 8:00 am to 6:00 pm
U pward Bound is a federally funded college preparatory program for Q ueens high school students from low-income families whose parents have not graduated from a four-year college or university.

The project is divided into two parts: a nonresidential Summer Program followed by a ten-month academic year component that serves as a supplement to instruction at the home school. This structured, professionally supervised program is intense, personal, and exciting, offering young students an opportunity to maximize their success in high school, while at the same time preparing themselves for college.

U pward Bound offers:

- Academic high school classes in a positive and nurturing environment - Individual and group tutorial sessions (with emphasis on reading, mathematics, and science)
- Personal, educational, and career counseling
- In-state and out-of-state college visits
- Involvement in cultural, athletic, and recreational activities.

Q ueens College graduate and undergraduate education majors may apply for open one-on-one instructional and/or tutor/counselor positions.

CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

at Q ueens play an important part in your education. Because there are so many different activities going on each semester, you are sure to find a club, concert, film, or speaker that interests you. Announcements of activities can be found in the student press and posted around the campus.

CLIQ Program

The C ollege Life Introduction at Q ueens (CLIQ ) program is an innovative program that introduces freshmen to life outside the classroom. CLIQ fosters intellectual, social, and personal growth by having students participate in various campus events.

Because involvement in activities is an indispensable aspect of college life, freshmen are expected to attend several out-of-classroom activities, such as the Introduction to C ollege Life Program, career/major forums, health/wellness programs, library tours, etc. Certified CLIQ events are worth a predetermined number of points. Students must obtain a minimum of 6 points by the time they have 24 credits. C ampus publications will list day, evening, and weekend activities that qualify as CLIQ events. For more information or event listings, call 997-5420.

The Student Union is the hub of campus life. Containing major social, cultural, recreational, and educational facilities and services, the Student U nion adds greatly to student development, enrichment, and pleasure. 0 ver 45 student organizations have office space here and another 90 use the U nion for meetings, events, and seminars.
$V$ arious food service options are available at the Student Union. The Agora, a self-serve buffet-style restaurant, is open for lunch. The Servery, featuring hot and cold entrees, grill items, Chinese cuisine, and a Taco Bell Express, is open for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. The Cellar Entertainment Lounge is open for lunch and remains open through the early evening offering pizza, snacks, soda, and excellent entertainment. A Subway Sandwich Shop is on the lower level.

Other services offered at the Student U nion include a copy/fax center, game room, an underground parking garage, and a 24 -hour AT M. C atering facilities, meeting rooms, and the fourth floor Ballroom are available for lectures, movies, music performances, conferences, and dinner or dance events.

The Student Union is financed through Student Union fees and revenue producing enterprises. The Student U nion is committed to meeting the needs of the entire Q ueens College and greater New York communities.

The Queens College Association administers that portion of the Student Activity Fee intended for use by student organizations. Its administrative func-tions are handled by the Student Union through the Student Life 0 ffice. $O$ ver 90 student organizations receive funding from the QCA.

The Queens College Auxiliary Enterprise Association is a nonprofit organization responsible for the operation of the C ampus Bookstore, the food services, and the video games located in the Dining H all building.

There are three main dining rooms located in the Dining $H$ all building:

The Cafe is the largest of the dining rooms. Complete breakfast, lunch, and dinner are served here. Also in this room are the latest video games, pinball machines, and an ATM machine.

The Food Court has three serving areas and is open for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. It is home to Panda House, a Chinese restaurant that serves a variety of takeout food. Just a Nosh is a special area that serves only K osher food under G latt K osher supervision. Broadway Cafe is a bagel/sandwich shop that serves fresh bagels, muffins, sandwiches, and flavored coffees.
The Patio Room is home to Friendly's Ice Cream Shoppe, Caliente M exican Express, W raps of Q ueens, and a soup bar. The Bring Your O wn Lunch Club (BYOL) for faculty and staff is located here

The Campus Bookstore sells all course books, reference books, bestsellers, sale books, stationery and art supplies, College apparel, emblematic gifts, and other related items. A pproximately $$ 350$ a semester is a reasonable estimate for the cost of books and supplies.

If financial assistance is needed to buy books, students should consult the Financial Aid O ffice on the second floor of J fferson H all.

Bookstore hours are posted outside of the store.

The Student Association is the day-session student government. All day-session students are entitled to vote for representatives in the Spring elections. There are 17 senators, a president, a vice-president, and $N$ ational Student Association delegates. The Student Association is in the Student U nion, Room 319 (969-7100).

The Evening Student Association promotes the welfare and furthers the interests of evening students. The officers of the Association are elected in the general election. Its office is in the Student Union, Room 319 (263-0181).

Student Activities and Student Life

All student clubs must register each semester with the Office of Student Life (Student Union, Room 320). Information is available in this office about elections for positions in the Academic Senate and Day, Evening, Graduate, ACE, and SEEK student governments.

The Academic Senate governs the College and determines many of its policies. There are 30 student representatives and 60 faculty. The student representatives are elected every Spring by the student body. In addition, there are 14 active Academic Senate standing committees, all of which have student members. These committees deal with issues ranging from curriculum and academic standards to campus beautification. Interested students can contact the Academic Senate office and apply for any committee opening (K iely 810, 9975880; fax 997-5884).

The Information Center maintains a calendar of all College events in Kiely H all 101 (by thefirst floor entrance facing K issena Blvd.; 997-5411).

Identification Cards. The C ollege supplies each student with an identification card. Students must carry these cards on campus and present them to a member of the faculty or staff if requested to do so. The ID card not only protects the C ollege from persons not authorized to be on campus or to use College facilities, but also extends to registered students all the privileges of membership in the Col lege community.

N ew students must have their ID photographs taken at the $M$ ain $G$ ate after they have completed their registration. Students must show proof of school registration and a picture ID, such as a driver'slicense. ID validation stickers will be mailed to the student's home along with acknowledgment of tuition payment.

You must show a validated ID card at the time of collecting any checks from the Bursar's $O$ ffice and when using the Library.

Replacement of lost or stolen ID cards takes 5 days from date of notification to Security at the $M$ ain $G$ ate. A fee of $$ 5$ is charged to duplicate a lost ID.

A $5 fee is also charged if the ID is not obtained during the first semester at Q ueens College.

Note: To obtain a College ID (new or replacement), all students must show two pieces of identification:

1. Proof of school registration.
2. Birth certificate, driver's license, or passport.

Health Immunization

Since Spring 1993 Q ueens C ollege has required that all students comply with the N YS Public H ealth Law 2165. The law states that college students born on or after January 1, 1957 present proof of immunity against measles, mumps, and rubella. Acceptable proof must indicate one of the following:

Two doses of measles vaccine administered on or after J anuary 1, 1968 and 12 months of age. Second dose to be administered at least 28 days after the first dose.

O ne dose of live mumps vaccine administered after 12 months of age and on or after J anuary 1, 1969.
$O$ ne dose of live rubella vaccine administered after 12 months of age and on or after January 1, 1969.

Blood test (titer) showing immunity to all three diseases; including lab report with range of positive immunity and actual laboratory results.
If you have not yet filed a Q C Immunization Form or submitted a physician verification at the H ealth Service C enter (FitzG erald Gym, Room 204), do so immediately.

Disability or Pregnancy. A student who becomes disabled or pregnant should consider discussing with a staff counselor from the D ean of Students' O ffice the various alternatives regarding current and future academic plans. Some of these alternatives are continuation of attendance, a leave of absence, or a program adjustment.

Insurance. The C ollege offers options for health and accident insurance to students on a voluntary basis. For further information, contact the $H$ ealth Service Center.

Academic Advising

The 0 ffice of A cademic Advising in Kiely 104 (997-5599) provides advising services to new students and to continuing students who have not declared a major.

Division of the Dean of Students

B Building, First Floor
997-5500; fax 997-5508
The Division of the D ean of Students provides a variety of services designed to assist students outside of the classroom. The division's professional staff is committed to facilitating emotional, psychological, social, and intellectual growth and development within the student population. The various offices of the division are noted below.

Counseling and Advisement Center  B Building, 1st Floor  Hours: Monday-Friday, 9:00 am-4:00

 pmStudents have to deal with a variety of personal, emotional, and interpersonal issues that can affect their general college adjustment. M any students have found it helpful to discuss their current life situations and plans with a staff member of the Counseling and Advisement Center.

Students will be seen on an individual basis. There is no fee for services. Students can make appointments on their own or may be referred by an adviser, an instructor, or an administrative office. The staff is also ready to consult with faculty members and de partments concerned with student needs or problems.

The staff, which includes certified psychologists, sees students for personal and academic counseling for as few as one or two sessions to as long as one or two semesters. The contact may involve referral to other College services such as C areer D evelopment, the $O$ ffice of Special Services, the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee, and Scholarship 0 pportunities, or to various community resources including longerterm counseling centers and practitioners. The staff also sees students who are on academic probation or are having other academic difficulties.

All counseling services are strictly confidential.

In addition, individual advisement sessions with peer advisers can be arranged on a walk-in basis. Peer advisers are undergraduate students who have achieved at least lower sophomore status and are trained in general C ollege information, regulations, resources, and communication skills. They are available to discuss an individual's concerns about college adjustment, program planning, selecting a major, or exploring career choices. Peer advisers also participate in registration assistance and Advisement D ays for freshmen and advanced standing students. D escriptions of the Peer Advisement Program and credit-bearing courses are available in the Counseling and Advisement Center.

The 0 ffice of Special Services provides a full range of services to enhance educa tional and vocational opportunities for students with disabilities. These services include orientation, alternative registration, counseling, academic advisement, vocational testing, peer counseling, and career development activities.

In addition to serving students on campus, the O ffice of Special Services offers a program for homebound students via a two-way telephone conference system.

Office of Student Retention

 Programs
B Building, First Floor

Hours: 9:00 am to 4:00 pm
The 0 ffice of Student Retention Programs works in collaboration with campus advisement, new student orientation, and other campus programs to help students connect with the C ollege and successfully complete their studies here. Special attention is given to first-semester students to help smooth their transition to college life.

TheO ffice serves as a referral resource for students experiencing college adjustment or personal problems that may be affecting them academically.

Parking

Parking space on campus is extremely limited, and only a few students can be accommodated. D uring the day, the College provides parking for faculty, staff, and students with severe physical handicaps. D uring the evening, limited space is available for students in courses beginning after 2:00 pm. Students should plan their programs without assuming that parking will be available; program changes cannot be made due to lack of parking. Applications, which are accepted only during the regular registration period and the first week of classes, are available at the Security 0 ffice, Jefferson H all, Room 201.

Athletics

In the belief that an integrated curriculum should foster students' physical as well as cognitive abilities, the Athletics O ffice presents students with an opportunity to participate in and enjoy varsity as well as intramural and recreational athletics.

The intercollegiate athletic program provides students an opportunity to participate in sports on a high level of competition. Students also assist in organizing and conducting these events.

The intercollegiate program competes on the varsity level for both men and women. The following teams are open to all students who have matriculated and have satisfied the necessary academic requirements as specified by the C ollege and the NCAA: Men: baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, swimming, tennis, track (indoor and outdoor), volleyball, water polo. Women: basketball, cross country, fencing, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (indoor and outdoor), volleyball, water polo.

The recreation program is made up of two components: organized intramural activities and informal open recreation. Students who wish to participate in either program should contact the Recreation Director. O pen recreation consists of basketball, swimming, weight lifting, running, volleyball, softball, tennis, and many other activities. The hours when the facilities for these activities are available are posted in the Recreation $O$ ffice at the start of each semester. The intramural program is composed of many of the same activities listed above, plus special events such as three-on-three basketball, volleyball tournaments, and a Turkey Run. Students may enter as a team or ask to be placed on an existing team. Announcements about specific activities and the appropriate forms may be obtained in the Recreation 0 ffice in FitzG erald Gym, Room 216.

Students interested in any of these areas may contact the Athletics or Recreation $O$ ffice in FitzG erald Gym.

In compliance with the Equity in Athletics D isclosure Act, the Athletics 0 ffice has prepared a report detailing the participation rates, financial support, and other information related to our men's and women's athletic programs. T his report will be available in FitzG erald 218 by 0 c tober 1 of each calendar year.

T U I T I O N & F E E S

ALL TUITION and other fees listed in this Bulletin and in any registration material issued by the College are subject to change without prior notice. In the event of an increase in fees, payments already made to the College will be treated as a partial payment, and notification will be given of the additional amount due and the time and method of payment.

Class schedules, issued prior to registration, should be checked for any fee changes.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

In planning to register for courses, students must be prepared to pay all fees associated with registration. These include tuition, the activity fee, consolidated service fee, material and transportation charges, and other fees.

Students registering during the early registration period will receive a bill in the mail. This must be paid in full by the "payment due date" printed on the bill. If payment is not received by this date, the student's entire registration will be canceled by the College.

A student who issues a bad check will be liable for tuition and fees in addition to a reprocessing fee. A "stop payment" on a check does not cancel registration. The student must withdraw officially.

For billing and payment information, refer to the Telephone Registration Guide and Schedule of Classes.

Note:

1. To qualify for N ew York State resident fees, a student must have been a resident of the State of New York for a consecutive period of one year immediately preceding the first day of classes of the session in consideration.
2. There is no maximum tuition for undergraduate non-degree students who register for graduate courses.

Guidelines for New Tuition Schedule

To implement the new tuition rates established by the April 27, 1992 Board Resolution and effective June 1, 1992, the following definitions and guidelines are provided:

First-time freshmen, who are degree students at Q ueens C ollege, registering on or after June 1, 1992, pay the higher rate of undergraduate tuition and are eligible for free tuition in their last semester.

Students at Q ueens C ollege who enrolled at CUN Y prior to June 1, 1992, as either a degree or non-degree student and meet the definition of continuing student, pay the lower rate of undergraduate tuition. Students not meeting the definition of continuing student or nonCUN Y advanced standing transfer student pay the higher rate of undergraduate tuition.

N on-degree students as of June 1, 1992, pay a higher rate than degree students. In the case of the CU N Y Baccalaureate Program (CUN Y B.A./B.S.), students should contact the program's office to determine academic status.

A full-time undergraduate degree student is one who is enrolled for 12 or more credits or billable equivalent credits. A part-time undergraduate degree student is one who is enrolled for less than 12 credits or billable equivalent credits.

Part-time students are billed on a per credit basis up to but not including 12 credits.

The tuition for part-time degree students should not exceed the full-time degree rate in a regular semester.

There is no full-time tuition rate for Summer Session students. Similarly, there is no full-time rate for non-degree students. Therefore, both Summer and non-degree students are to be billed on a per credit basis regardless of the number of credits for which they register.

Last Semester Free Policy

For full-time students, the last semester is any semester of full-time attendance (12 or more credits) that will result in a student receiving a baccal aureate degree. If, for whatever reason, the student does not actually fulfill the degre requirements during the semester in which the last semester free benefit is conferred, the student will be required to pay the rates in effect at the time for all subsequent study.

For part-time students, the last semester begins at the point at which a student is 15 credits away from degree completion and ends after the next 15 credits for which a student registers; that is, once a part-time student is within 15 credits of the total number required for a baccal aureate degree, the next 15 credits are free.

For more information contact the Bursar's $O$ ffice (997-4517).

Refund of Tuition Fees

O nce students have obtained a bill, they must pay it by the "payment due date" printed on the bill. Students may change their registration via the telephone registration system. To receive a $100 \%$ refund of tuition, a student must have dropped all courses before the official opening day of the semester. All written requests to drop classes must be postmarked before the official opening day of the semester.

The last date of attendance in class is not an official withdrawal date unless some other action has been taken. Refunds shall be made in accordance with the schedule in the table on page 26.

Pro Rata Refund for Federal Grant Recipients

In accordance with Federal regulations, the College makes pro-rata tuition refunds to students in receipt of Title IV assistance (Pell, FSEO G , FW S, Perkins, and Stafford/Ford Loans) who withdraw from all their classes during the first part of the semester. First-time atten dees who withdraw during the first $60 \%$ of the se mester receive a refund equal to the percent of the semester remaining when they withdraw. C ontinuing students in receipt of Title IV assistance who withdraw during the first $50 \%$ of the semester receive a tuition refund according to the following chart:

| Weeks of | Refund  Attendance  Percentage |
| $1-2$ | $90 \%$ |
| $3-4$ | $50 \%$ |
| $5-8$ | $25 \%$ |

Fee for Accelerated Study

Thenon-instructional fee for accelerated study will be applied uniformly to resident and non-resident students. The following schedule applies to this fee:

| Credits in Excess of $\mathbf{1 8}$ | Fee |
| :--- | ---: |
| $19-20$ | $$ 100$ |
| $21-22$ | 230 |
| $23-24$ | 460 |
| 25 or more | 690 |

This fee applies to regular semesters only. Study during Summer Session or modules under nontraditional calendars other than Spring and Fall are not subject to this fee. Inasmuch as this is a fee and not tuition, TAP financial aid does not apply. This fee, however, may be included in the cost of education to determine a student's Pell A ward.

Students who are charged thisfee will be entitled to a refund according to the schedule on page 26.

Activity Fees

This fee covers Student Activities, Public Interest Research Group (PIRG), Sports Fee, Child Care Fee, and Student U nion. It does not cover service fees that a student may incur individually, such as fees for program changes, late registration, transcripts, special examinations, or parking. Unless changed after printing of this Bulletin, the fees are as noted on page 27.

Material/ Film and Transportation/ Field Charges

Some courses charge a fee to cover the costs of special materials, film rental charges, transportation, field trip expenses, or other costs. These fees and charges cannot be refunded if paid or canceled if billed. The courses that charge these fees change from semester to semester. The following courses are among those that recently required a M aterial/ Film or T ransportation/Field Charge.

Special Fees

1. Application fee of $$ 40$ for new students seeking admission to Q ueens C ollege (except senior citizens), or filing application for a master's degree program. The fee for transfer students is $50.
2. Readmission fee of $$ 10$ payable by students who withdraw from the Col lege and later want to be readmitted (except senior citizens).
3. Nonpayment service fee of $$ 15$. Students who are delinquent in paying tuition and fees will be required to pay this fee in addition to all outstanding bills to regain the privileges of good fiscal standing with the College, which include right to attend classes and access to student records. If the student is required to pay a readmission fee, the "nonpayment service fee" shall be in addition if appropriate.
4. A charge of $$ 15$ for late registration and for reinstatement.
5. A charge of $$ 10$ for students who change their schedule of courses after it has been approved and they have registered, i.e., adding a course or courses, or changing from one section to another of a course.
6. Reprocessing fee of $$ 15$. W hen a check tendered to the C ollege by a student is not honored by the bank upon which the check is drawn, the student shall be charged a reprocessing fee. A separate fee will be charged for each check that requires reprocessing.

Note: If your check is returned by the bank as not presentable for collection, you will be liable for all tuition and fees in addition to a reprocessing fee. Your future registration will be so noted and you will be required to pay your registration by cash, credit card, certified check, or bank money order.

If your check is returned by the bank

Students who have outstanding debts (accounts receivable) for any tuition, fees, parking violations, breakage, emergency loans, etc., that are past due will have holds placed on registration, transcripts, grades, and diplomas.

Transcripts

There is a fee of $4 to order an official or student transcript of your Q ueens College record. The fee covers transcripts for all divisions attended, unless otherwise specified.
(Note: There is no fee for transcripts to be sent to other branches of CUN Y.) W hen ordering a transcript and paying with a check, go directly to the Registrar's O ffice, Jefferson 100. If you are paying with cash or a credit card, go to the Bursar's payment windows at J efferson 200 . If you wish to request a transcript by mail, send the request to Q ueens C ollege, 65-30 Kissena Blvd., J efferson H all 100, Attn.: Transcripts, Flushing, N Y 11367-1597.

If a financial hold has been placed on your record, you will be notified. Re quests for transcripts will not be honored until the hold has been cleared.

PAYINGHORCOLLEGE

STUDENTS who feel they will need help in meeting college expenses should contact the Financial Aid $O$ ffice, which is located on the second floor of J efferson H all. The office is open from 9:30 am to $4: 00 \mathrm{pm}, \mathrm{M}$ onday through Thursday, 9:30 am to 2:00 pm, Friday, and from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm, T uesday and $W$ ednesday when classes are in session. C ounselors are available to advise and assist you with applications. The phone number is 997-5100.

The Cost of Education

The cost of education is an important consideration when deciding upon attending college. In general, a student budget consists of the direct educational costs of tuition, fees, books, and supplies, and those costs incurred by virtue of attendance, such as transportation and lunch. In addition, you will have recre ational and personal expenses. If you are a self-supporting (independent) student, you will also have the day-to-day expenses of housing, food, clothing, and medical care.

Student Resources

In reviewing your student budget, you should consider the resources you will have from earnings and savings, the amount your parents can contribute, and any benefits you receive such as Social Security, V eterans' Benefits, unemployment, or welfare.

Summer employment can help meet the first costs of enrollment and you should plan to save money from your Summer earnings. C ash will be needed right away for books, supplies, and transportation.

Financial Aid Programs

If available resources are not sufficient to cover the cost of your attendance, you should look into the possible financial aid available. Financial assistance, provided through the C ollege, is intended for eligible students who need assistance in meeting costs. The C ollege does not provide financial assistance for students who attend on less than a half-time basis.

Packaging

R ather than using one source to finance your education, a combination of monies from all of the programs for which you are eligible may be used. This system for allocating aid is called packaging. Funds will be allocated first to meet the basic costs of attendance (tuition, books, transportation), and if funding permits, other living expenses will then be addressed. Your need for aid is determined by an analysis of the information contained in your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

What follows is a brief description of the financial aid programs available to eligible undergraduate students at $Q$ ueens College. The descriptions are based on current statutes and regulations and are subject to change.

For additional information about application procedures and award and loan schedules, please contact the Financial Aid O ffice.

New York State Programs

TUITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (TAP)

 Application ProceduresApplicants must apply annually. Students may apply on the CUN Y Financial Aid Supplemental Information Request (FASIR) or on a New York H igher Education Services C orporation Student Payment Application. The deadline for the 2000-01 academic year is M ay 1, 2001.

The H igher Education Services C orporation determines your eligibility and mails an award certificate to you indicating the amount of your grant. The College will deduct the amount of your grant from the tuition bill, if you receive your award before you register for classes.

Selection of Recipients

TAP is an entitlement program. There is neither a qualifying examination nor a limited number of awards. You must:

For more information regarding eligibility criteria for these programs and other assistance to veterans and their dependents, contact the V eterans Administration.

Queens College Programs

EMERGENCY STUDENT LOAN FUNDS

Students may borrow small amounts to cover emergencies for a short time and pay no interest. In general, loans are limited to $$ 50$ to $$ 100$ and are to be repaid within 30 days. Apply in person at the Financial Aid Office. Approved Ioans usually may be obtained in two days.

ADELE FOX BOOK LOAN FUND

Students may borrow up to $$ 250$ per semester to purchase books at the Q ueens C ollege Bookstore and repay from their financial aid award.

C U R R I C U L U M

A LIBERAL ARTS AND

SCIENCES COLLEGE, QueensCollege offers students the preparation for enriching their lives, enhancing their understanding of the world, thinking constructively and independently, and making creative contributions to their local community and to society.

The Divisions

Q ueens C ollege has four curricular divisions: the Arts and H umanities, Education, M athematics and the N atural Sciences, and the Social Sciences; and two professional schools: the School of Earth and Environmental Sciences and the Aaron Copland School of M usic. They are described on page 8.

W ithin the divisions, the College is divided into academic departments, each with its own Chair and the faculty members who teach within it. The student's major is usually taken in a specific department, although it may be interdisciplinary (see The Major, page 35). M ost department offices and faculty members' offices are located close together (see the Directory, page 237).

Degrees

Queens College offers the Bachelor of Arts (a four-year, 120-credit degree, unless otherwise noted in a department's listing) in many disciplines; Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, Geology, N utrition and Exercise Science, and Physical Education; Bachelor of FineArts; Bachelor of M usic; Bachelor of Science in Applied Social Science; M aster of Arts; M aster of Arts in Liberal Studies; M aster of Arts in the Social Sciences; M aster of Fine Arts; $M$ aster of Science in Education; and $M$ aster of Library Science; as well as combined B.A.-M .A. degrees in chemistry and biochemistry, computer science, music, philosophy, physics, and political science; a BA/M D offered jointly with the SU NY H ealth Sciences Center at Brooklyn; and a BA/D D S offered jointly with the Columbia University School of D ental and O ral Surgery.

Requirements for the B.A. and

 B.S. Degrees1. The completion of at least 120 credits of collegelevel work approved by the C ollege.

Please note: Effective September 1, 1996, all bachelor's degree programs re quire a maximum of 120 credits for graduation. The CU NY O ffice of Academic Affairs may grant waivers for undergraduate degree programs that require additional credits for certification or accreditation from outside professional organizations or for other compelling educational reasons.
2. Completion of Basic and Advanced Learning Skills, Foreign Language, Physical Education, and Liberal Arts and Sciences Area R equirements (LASAR; see pages 41-43).
3. A minimum of 45 credits in residence at Q ueens C ollege during the student's undergraduate career.
4. At least 30 of the last 64 credits credited toward the degree taken at Q ueens or the CU N Y G raduate C enter.
5. A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or better based only on work done at Q ueens.
6. The satisfactory completion of the requirements in the major area of concentration, as determined by the appropriate Q ueens College department or program. At least one-third of the credits in the concentration must be taken in residence at Queens C ollege, except when a departmental waiver is given.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts

For specifics, see the Art D epartment section in this Bulletin and consult a department adviser.

The Bachelor of Music

For specifics, see the M usic D epartment section in this Bulletin and consult a department adviser.

Requirements for the Second Baccalaureate Degree

Q ueens C ollege may award a baccalaureate degree to students who have already earned one.

1. The student must have completed a baccalaureate degree from an accredited U. S. college or university, or from a foreign institution of equivalent level, with a cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.0.
2. The second baccalaureate degree will be in a field of study different from the major of the student's first degree.
3. The student must be accepted by the academic department or program of the second major, subject to the recommendation of the $D$ ean of the division or school in which the new major is offered.
4. The student will complete at least 45 credits of course work at Queens beyond that applied to the first degree.
5. The student must complete all requirements in the second major area of concentration as defined by the appropriate QC department or program. At least 20 credits of the major requirements must be taken at Queens. D epartments may define more stringent residency requirements.
6. The student must achieve a gradepoint average of at least 2.0 at the end of the first semester (or first 10 credits) to remain in the program; thereafter, the student must maintain a 2.0 average. De partments may define a more stringent grade-point average requirement.
7. The student who holds a baccalaureate degree from an institution other than Q ueens must satisfy the C ollege's basic and advanced skills requirements and Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements (LASAR) in effect at the time of admission by:
a) passing the CUN $Y$ Assessment Tests and having prior course work evaluated as being the equivalent of courses used to satisfy QC skills requirements and LASAR; or
b) completing successfully at $Q$ ueens all courses necessary to satisfy QC skills requirements and LASAR; or
c) a combination of a) and b) above.

Courses taken by such students to satisfy skills deficiencies may not be applied to the 45-credit residency requirement. Courses taken to satisfy requirements in English composition, foreign language, physical education, and LASAR may be applied to the residency requirement.
8. The student who already holds a baccal aureate degree from Q ueens has satisfied basic skills and general education requirements of the College, but is bound by the other requirements.

Basic and Advanced Learning Skills Requirements

Basic Skills Requirements Prior to Admission

Pursuant to a 1999 CUNY Board of T rustees resolution, effective January 2000, Q ueens College discontinued offering remedial courses and required students to pass all parts of the CUN Y Freshman Skills Assessment T ests (al so known as the CUN Y Assessment Tests) in Reading, $W$ riting, and $M$ athematics as a condition of enrolling and/or transferring into its baccal aureate degree programs. The following exemptions from this requirement exist:

Students who have received a score of 480 or above on the verbal section of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), or an English Regents grade of 75 or above are exempt from the CUN Y Reading and W riting Assessment T ests;

Students who have received a score of 480 or above on the mathematics section of the Scholastic Aptitude T est (SAT) or a M athematics Regents grade of 75 or more in Sequential Math 2 or 3 or $M$ ath A are exempt from the CUNYM athematics Assessment T est certification requirement, i.e, they have satisfied the mathematics admissions requirement. H owever, they may still be required to take the $M$ athematics A ssessment Test for placement purposes.
The 1999 CUNY Board of Trustees resolution on remediation does not apply to English as a second language (ESL) students who have been educated abroad and have satisfied the $M$ athematics certification requirement.

Requirements to Advance to the Upper Division (Beyond 60 Credits)

Effective Fall 1999 all new first-time freshmen admitted to a degree program are required to pass the U niversity Proficiency Examination. Passage of this exam is required of all students in order to advance from the lower division to the upper division of a senior college.

Support Services Prior to and After Admission

The Academic Skills C enter offers "immersion" programs throughout the year to help students who have not passed one or more of the CUNY Assessment T ests. Free courses in Reading, W riting, and $M$ athematics are offered. Courses are offered in the Summer and in January, and on a more limited basis during the Fall and Spring semesters. Students are retested at the end of the courses.

Testing

The Academic Skills C enter's O ffice of Assessment T esting is responsible for administering the CU NY Assessment T ests to all students who have applied for admission and are required to take the tests. In addition, the Testing 0 ffice administers re-tests to students in various courses and programs who need to pass these tests. It is also responsible for administering the U niversity Proficiency Exam, which students need to pass to advance to the upper division.

Students with physical or learning dis abilities that require special accommoda tion are served through the following procedure:

1. Students make a request for special test conditions to the Office of Special Services (K iely 171). M edical and/or psychoeducational documentation is required.
2. O ffice of Special Services staff review the documentation and determine the appropriate accommodations. All such accommodations - extended time, oral presentation of exam materials, use of visual enlargers or cal culators, etc. are offered to students whose disabilities handicap them during standard test administration.
3. Students are then referred to the Office of Assessment T esting (K iely 231) for an appointment.
4. The $O$ ffices of Assessment T esting and Special Services work together to assure appropriate time, space, and personnel considerations.

Queens College Requirements

ENGLISH COMPOSITION

A condition for registration at the Col lege for all undergraduate students is placement with respect to proficiency in the use of the English language.

The basic sequence of writing courses, required of all students graduating from Queens C ollege, is English 110 and three additional courses which have been designated as "writing intensive" (W). Students should consult the Class Schedule and Registration Guide each semester for a list of courses that have the "W" designation. See the box below for a list of courses currently designated as writing intensive.

For transfer students, the D irector of Composition shall have sole responsibility to authorize writing-intensive units for transferred courses other than English 120. At most, one writing-intensive unit will be granted for any student, but only if the institution at which the course was taken has a writing-intensive program similar to that at Q ueens C ollege, and the course is specified in the institution's bulletin as writing intensive. At least one writing-intensive unit must be taken in residence at Q ueens College.

English 120 carries two writing-intensive (W) units, and may be recommended by the instructor of English 110 for selected students. It is important that students pass English 110 in their first year at $Q$ ueens and before they begin taking advanced courses in any department of the College. Courses taken to fulfill the composition requirement may not be taken P/ NC. A student may not drop a required English course more than once without permission from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee, and will face dismissal if continued registration is not maintained.

English 110 should be completed before entrance to the upper division of the College. Students entering as freshmen should complete the requirement within the first 60 credits. Students who have completed 60 credits but have not yet passed English 110 will not be allowed to register for any other courses until they have completed the basic English requirement.

Similarly, students who are admitted with more than 60 credits and who have not completed the equivalent of English 110 , must do so within their first two semesters at Q ueens. Exceptions to these restrictions may be granted only by the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee.

T ownsend H arris H igh School graduates may be granted credit or exemption from English 110 and 120, as long as the writing component of their program is judged by the English Department to equal or exceed that of English 110 and 120.

N on-degree undergraduate students on a temporary visa may be evaluated on the basis of the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) or other examinations. If their scores warrant admission to Q ueens C ollege (a minimum of 500 on the TOEFL and at least 50 on each part), they will be tested and placed into CESL or other English courses based on their performance on the Reading and Writing portions of the Assessment T est.

Writing-Intensive Courses

These courses are "writing intensive" (W) and carry one W unit. Some courses are always writing intensive, while others may have sections that are writing intensive. Since new W courses are being added all the time, check the Class Schedule for the most up-to-date listing. D epartments may also offer add-on courses, numbered 134 (T utorial) or 135 (W orkshop), that earn oneW unit.

The following courses are W-designated whenever they are offered

American Studies 300W

Sociology 381
W omen's Studies 101

Please Note: Beginning with the Fall 1999 semester, all new first-time freshmen admitted to a degree program must pass a U niversity Proficiency Examination before they will be allowed to advance into the upper division of the C ollege. (Students are considered to be in the upper division once they have completed 60 credits.) Students who plan to transfer into the upper division of Q ueens College beginning in the Fall 2000 semester must pass this test before they will be admitted.

For more information, call the 0 ffice of Academic Advising at 997-5599.

MATHEMATICS

Entering students are expected to demonstrate competence in arithmetic and algebra. C ompetence in these areas is proven by passing the CUNY M ath Assessment T est and satisfying the $Q$ ueens C ollege Basic Skills Requirement in $M$ athematics. The Basic Skills Requirement is satisfied by either:
i) a placement of Precalculus or higher on the Q C M ath Placement T est, or
ii) a passing grade on the N ew Y ork State Sequential III M ath Regents or theN ew York State Intermediate AIgebra and Trigonometry Regents, or
iii) a passing grade in (Q ueens C ollege)
$M$ ath 6 or $M$ ath 8 (no longer offered) or $M$ ath 110, or
iv) a passing grade in precalculus or calculus.
M athematics 110 is an acceptable substitution for $M$ ath 6 for students who are required to take $M$ ath 6 .

Courses taken to fulfill the mathematics requirement may not be taken P/ NC.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

All baccalaureate students must attain a knowledge of a foreign language equiva lent to three semesters of study at the college level. Bachelor of M usic students should see the M usic School section in this Bulletin for their foreign language re quirement. The following regulations apply:

1. Students who successfully complete the third level of foreign language instruction at the high school level or who achieve a passing grade on the New York State Regents C omprehensive Language Examination, Level 3, are exempt from this requirement.
2. Students who have studied a foreign language or whose native language is not English may be exempted from part or all of this requirement by passing one of the competency examinations administered by the foreign language departments. They may also be exempted from part or all of this requirement on the basis of scores obtained on other externally administered examinations approved by the foreign language departments, or, in the case of American Sign Language, by the Office of Special Services.
3. Students should enroll in the most advanced course in a sequence of courses in a given language for which they are qualified by either placement or previous study. N ormally, one year of study of a foreign language at the high school level is the equivalent of one semester of study at the college level. Students not certain of the appropriate course level should take the department placement examination and consult with an adviser in the language department in question.
a) It is the responsibility of students to find out from the appropriate department what level of language they should register for and to obtain permission from the $D$ epartment Chair if there is any doubt. Students may not receive credit for taking courses below the level of their competency as determined by the instructor or by the placement examination. If the instructor finds that a student is already competent at the level of instruction, this will be reported to the Department C hair, who will notify the Registrar to cancel credit for the course.
b) $N$ either blanket nor equivalent credit shall be granted for introductory courses in a foreign language from which a student has been exempted by examination.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

All baccalaureate students at Q ueens C ollege shall complete satisfactorily one course in physical education selected from FN ES 11 through 30, or, for ACE studentsonly, FNES 32. Students with physical and medical problems, whose physician has stated in writing that it would bemedically inadvisable to complete a physical activity course, may select FN ES 30, a 3-credit academic (classroom) course (Fitness T hrough Diet, Exercise, and W eight Control) that does not require a physical component.

Please note: At the time this Bulletin went to press, no courses in the Department of Drama, Theatre, and Dance fulfill the physical education requirement.

See LASAR course listings pp. 41-43.

THE MAJOR

Planning a Course of Study

A major is a concentration of study in a department or allied departments. It enables students to concentrate part of their energies on a particular field of learning so they can prepare for the kind of work they are interested in and also prepare for any graduate training that may be necessary for further specialization. A concentration form should be filed in the student's major department/program, generally by the end of the sophomore year. By doing so, the student is assigned an adviser and is eligible for departmental services such as pre-egistration. Further details on departmental and area studies majors can befound in this Bulletin and in handbooks available in department and program offices.

An interdisciplinary major (described under Interdisciplinary and Special Studies, page 140) cuts across academic disciplines and enables students to design a program of study for the major that is specially suited to their needs and interests.

Graduation Procedure

C andidates for degrees must declare their candidacy by filing a diploma card with the $O$ ffice of the Registrar in accordance with the following schedule. For February graduation, file on or before N ovember 1; for June graduation, file on or before M arch 1; for September graduation, file on or before July 1. (There is, however, only one graduation ceremony, which isheld in June.)

Diploma cards may be obtained at the O ffice of the Registrar (J efferson 100). C andidates are encouraged to file these when they register for their last semester. A diploma card should be filed as long as there is a reasonable certainty that all degree requirements will be satisfied by the end of the semester preceding the graduation date. D iploma cards received after theabove deadlines may not be processed. A commencement ceremony is held each J une. The Special Events De partment mails full particulars to each candidate in mid-April.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Academic advising is a valuabletool, enhancing a student's undergraduate experience. The $O$ ffice of Academic Advising, in K iely H all 104, helps students to chart their own course through the C ollege's degree requirements, campus services, and educational opportunities. W orking with an adviser, students may tailor their educational experience to makethe most of theopportunities available to them at Q ueens.

U ndergraduates may take advantage of any of the following throughout their College careers:
exploration of academic goals and the strategies to achieve them; explanation and check of overall degree requirements, including Basic and Advanced Skills and Liberal Arts and Sciences A rea Requirements (LASAR); discussion of major and minor opportunities; information on academic policies and deadlines; workshops on registration and program planning; and referral to academic departments and student services offices that may be of additional assistance. The O ffice of A cademic Advising also has an e-mail service for quick answers to quick questions.

The $O$ ffice coordinates advising services to new freshmen and transfer students. All freshmen must attend an Academic Information and Registration Session (AIRS), where they learn general information about the College, have the opportunity to interact with faculty, staff, and other students, and develop an appropriate academic program with guidance from trained AIRS advisers. T ransfer students have the opportunity to attend a transfer student information workshop, offered in January, July, and August, which orients them to the transfer process and the C ollege's policies, procedures, and requirements.

Call the 0 ffice of Academic Advising at 997-5599 for hours of service and to schedule appointments. The 0 ffice's website is at www.qc.edu/Advising.

The Freshman Year Initiative is an academic program open to incoming freshmen who qualify for English Composition I. Freshmen choose a block of three courses: English 110 and two other general College requirements. To complete their first-semester schedule, students also elect one or two other courses of their own choice. FYI is housed in D elany G-18 (997-5567).

The Interdisciplinary and Special

 Studies Office (Kiely 1107) works directly with individual students in planning interdi sciplinary programs. (See Interdisciplinary and Special Studies, page 140.)Pre-Professional Advisement. The Office of H ealth Professions Advisory Services offers assistance to students planning careers in medicine, dentistry, chiropractic, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, or other health professions (9974582 or 997-3470). The Law Advisement C ommittee advises students who plan to study law (997-3624 or 997-5082). Information on pre-engineering programs is available in the Physics D epartment (SB B334, 997-3350). (See also graduate Scholastic Standards Committee of the Academic Senate and staff are available to discuss questions involving registration for additional credits, current and retroactive course withdrawals, academic and remedial course dismissal, extensions of time to complete courses, and other questions regarding academic policies and standards. A student may appeal to the Executive $O$ fficer of the USSC for adjustments in scholastic requirements that may be appropriate to both the student and the standards of the College.

The Committee Office, located in B Building, Room 203, is open M onday through Thursday between 10:00 am and 2:00 pm, Friday between 10:00 am and 1:00 pm, and $W$ ednesday evenings, when classes are in session, from 5:00 to 7:00 pm. The telephone number is 9974488.

The U SSC 's Handbook of Grades, Degree Requirements, and General Scholastic Standards is available in its office.

CUNY B.A.

The City University and the College offer a variety of individualized routes to the baccalaureate that include field experience and individualized study under intensive supervision. The CU N Y B.A. is open to all students. Those interested should see the Assistant to the Provost, Robert W eller (Kiely 1111, 997-5780), as early as possiblein ther college careers.

B.A.-M.A. Degrees

Several departments offer qualified undergraduate students the opportunity to receive combined Bachelor's and $M$ aster's degrees. Application to the B.A.M .A. program should be made in the upper sophomore or lower junior semester through the O ffice of G raduate Studies, Powdermaker H all 100K. (M oving to Jefferson H all in Fall 2000.) Admission is granted only in the junior year. Full details and application forms are obtainable from the C hair or graduate adviser of the department in question or from the $O$ ffice of $G$ raduate Studies.

The B.A.-M .A. degree programs are officially registered with the New York State D epartment of Education under the following H EGIS codes:

| Program | Degree | HEGIS  Code |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Chemistry | B.A.-M.A. | 1905 |
| Computer Sci. | B.A.-M A. | 0701 |
| M usic | B.A.-M.A. | 1004 |
| Philosophy | B.A.-M.A. | 1509 |
| Physics | B.A.-M.A. | 1902 |
| Political Science | B.A.-M.A. | 2207 |

Important Note: The B.A.-M .A. program is an accelerated program. In accordance with the CUNY Fee Manual, students are billed at the undergraduate rate for the first 128 credits of the program, regardless of whether courses taken are graduate or undergraduate. Beyond 128 credits, all courses - including undergraduate courses - are billed at the graduate rate. Students who anticipate that their course of study will require credits far in excess of the normal B.A.$M$.A. program in their discipline should consider carefully the financial implications of B.A.-M .A. status. Students who have questions should see $D$ ean Robert Engel, O ffice of G raduate Studies, Powdermaker H all 100K (997-5191). (M oving to Jefferson H all in Fall 2000.)

Changes in Degree Requirements

$M$ atriculated students are responsible for meeting degree requirements in force at the time of their matriculation. Changes to the structure of a major must be applied in such a way as to avoid increasing the number of credits required of students who have started taking courses required for the major. If general degree requirements are changed following matriculation, the student is given the option of satisfying the original requirements or new requirements. The above policy includes those undergraduate students who were matriculated, took a leave of absence (while in good standing), and then returned to the C ollege.

Students who are dismissed for academic reasons may be subject to the new regulations, depending on how long after dismissal the student returns and such other factors as may be taken into account by the appropriate Scholastic Standards C ommittee.

The six-year graduation rate for students who entered Queens C ollege as first-time full-time freshmen is 35 percent. Students should be aware that the graduation rate varies significantly based on individual preparedness.

The Minor

Some departments offer a minor: a program of 15 or more credits students can take to supplement their major or to pursue an area of interest. A minor concentration form must be filed with the department, and the minor will appear on the student's transcript.

Electives

Students may complete the remaining credits needed for their degree by taking courses in any department they choose. These courses are called electives and do not require faculty approval; however, depending on the course, students may need to have department permission or certain prerequisite courses. Electives may be used to supplement the major (an English major may want to take a course in French or Italian literature) or to fulfill interest in a totally different area (an English major may be fascinated by mathematics and choose electives in the $M$ ath D epartment). If professional re quirements also must be met, as for secondary school teaching or medical school candidates, electives will provide the additional credits necessary.

Honors in the Humanities

This is a carefully constructed series of courses whose subject is the masterpieces of the W estern heritage and whose methods are reading, writing, and discussion in small sections of select students. The sequence fulfills most of the Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements of the College. A student who completes this area of study must complete a major as well. For a list of the courses and further details, see page 138.

SEEK Program

The SEEK Program (Search for Educa tion, Elevation, and Knowledge) is an admissions alternative and educational opportunity program. Its mission is to serve with distinction students with academic aspirations who are educationally underprepared and low income.

The SEEK Program helps students achieve academic success by providing support and assistance in four major areas: instructional, financial, counseling, and tutorial. The program's offices are located in Delany H all 128 (997-3100).

Instructional

Based upon performance on the CUN Y Assessment T est, students will register for the required reading, writing, and mathematics courses. These courses, with specialized instruction designed to master learning skills, meet the College's basic skills requirements. Satisfactory completion of basic skills and LASAR requirements will enable students to pursue majors of their choice.

Financial Aid

To receive financial assistance from the SEEK Program, each student must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid and the FASIR. These forms are used to apply for the following types of financial aid: 1) Pell; 2) SEEK stipend, books, and fees; 3) C ollege W ork-Study Program; 4) Perkins Loans; and 5) Supplemental Educational O pportunity Grants.

For incoming SEEK students, the documentation presented with the Free Application for Federal Student Aid determines economic eligibility for the SEEK Program. A student is not officially accepted until economic eligibility has been verified.

It is mandated by the state that all SEEK students must apply for TAP and Pell before receiving financial assistance from theSEEK Program.

Financial aid counselors are located on the second floor of Jefferson H all (997-5100).

Counseling

C ounseling services for each student are an integral part of the program. All students are assigned a counselor when they enter SEEK, and remain with a counselor throughout their college studies. SEEK counselors provide academic, career, and personal counseling services for upper classmen through individual, group workshop, and classroom sessions.

Each incoming freshman is required to register for a Student Life W orkshop, which is taught by members of the counseling staff.

SEEK counseling offices are located in D elany H all 232 (997-3150).

Tutoring

Tutorial services are offered to SEEK students in all courses. Individual tutoring, group tutoring, and workshops are available. The Learning Skills C enter is in D elany H all 112.

Pre-Professional and Professional Programs

Education. The Division of Education offers undergraduate programs preparing students for teaching in nursery school, elementary school, middle school, junior high school, and senior high school. Because T eacher Education programs qual ify students to meet the N ew York State Certification standards set forth for prospective teachers, students who plan to teach should visit theD epartment of Elementary and Early Childhood Education (9975302), or Secondary Education and Youth Services (997-5150) for further information.

Accounting. The D epartment of Accounting and Information Systems (997-5070) offers courses in accounting, business law, and taxation required by the N ew York State Board for Public Accountancy for admission to the CPA examination (see page 49). These must be supplemented by other specified courses, the remainder of the credits needed for graduation, and appropriate experience. A graduate of this program who then passes the Public Accountancy Board's examinations and meets the experience requirements will be granted a certificate as a Certified Public Accountant. Accounting majors earn the B. A. degree.

Pre-Law. Preparation for the study of law should be as wide as the whole field of human relations, including the social sciences, the humanities, and the technological aspects of contemporary life. There is no particular pre-law curriculum that must be followed. M astery of both written and spoken English and communication skills will increase the lawyer's effectiveness. Study of the social sciences, with special emphasis on government and economic and social institutions, offers an indispen sable background for an understanding of the law.

All entering freshmen and other students contemplating careers in law should register with the Law Advisement Committee (997-3624 or 997-5082). The Committee, which is an interdepartmental undertaking, offers many services to students planning to go to law school. Committee members also serve as department law advisers in the political science, economics, English, media studies, accounting, history, and sociology departments. All prelaw students will be advised regardless of major concentrations.

The C ommittee holds several general law conferences each year in addition to individual advisement interviews. Guest speakers are frequently sponsored, drawn from the fields of law school admissions officers, practicing attorneys, and persons in the legal support field. There is also the opportunity to participate in a unique undergraduate program that includes M oot C ourt competitions and publication of a law journal, sponsored by the Bench and Bar Association and the Law Club.

Prospective law students will be advised regarding law school admissions. The Law School Admission Test (LSAT) is given several times a year and is required by virtually all law schools. The LSAT should be taken, if possible, the June preceding senior year. Applications for the test can be obtained in the PreLaw Offices.

BA/ MD and BA/DDS Programs. In collaboration with the SU N Y H ealth Sciences C enter at Brooklyn (D ownstate), Q ueens College offers a BA/M D Track Program. U pon successful completion of all the requirements of the rigorous $B A / M D$ track at $Q$ ueens, students will be eligible for consideration for Early D ecision Admission to the M D program at SUN Y D ownstate (subject to availability of space).

Students interested in dentistry should consider the C ollege's BA/D DS T rack. Successful completion of the BA/D DS T rack at Queens qualifies students to be considered for Early Decision Admission to the DDS Program at Columbia U niversity School of D ental and O ral Surgery (subject to availability of space).

To find out more about these programs, contact the office at 997-4582 or 997-3470.

Doctoral Health Professions: Chiropractic, Dentistry, Medicine, Optometry, Podiatry, and Veterinary Medicine. Students considering a career in these health professions should consult with the $H$ ealth Professions Advisory Office (Science Building B338, 997-3470) as early as possible, preferably in their freshman year. TheH ealth Professions Advisory Committee is a source of continuing guidance concerning the pre-professional curriculum; provides practical support when students apply to professional schools; and writes the letter of evaluation that is required by these schools.

Prehealth professions students must meet at least once each academic year with a member of the H PA Committee. These meetings not only ensure ongoing academic and personal guidance, but will also help Committee members when they write personalized and comprehensive evaluation letters.

Schools for the doctoral health professions generally require a bachelor's degree and two semesters of each of the following: college-level English, biology, chemistry, organic chemistry, and physics. The requisite science courses must all be at the major level and have a laboratory component. At least two semesters of college-level mathematics are also usually required. We recommend additional science courses and one or more years of calculus. No particular major is required. Students should consult this Bulletin and an adviser in their major department for the requirements for that major.

Application for admission to doctoral health profession schools is made in the Summer or very early Fall, one full academic year before the student intends to enter the school, and usually occurs shortly after the student sits for a nationally administered exam.

Non-Doctoral Health Professions: Occupational Therapy, Pharmacy, Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Nursing. Students considering a career in these health professions should consult with the H ealth Professions Advisory Office (Science Building B338, 997-3470) as early as possible, preferably in their freshman year.

Post-Baccalaureate Pre-Health Concentration. The concentration is available to students who have completed a baccalaureate and wish to complete the admissions requirements for the various health-profession schools. Typically, these require ments are general chemistry, organic chemistry, general biology, general physics, and some mathematics. M any students continue and take some electives in biology or biochemistry.

All students interested in the concentration should consult the health professions adviser (Science Building B338, 997-3470), who will suggest, on an individual basis, the structuring of a suitable curriculum.

Engineering Combined Plans/ Pre-En-

 gineering. Although Q ueens C ollege does not offer an engineering degree, a student can transfer for the junior and senior years to one of several engineering schools upon satisfactory completion of a prescribed plan of courses. Plans have been developed cooperatively with two schools of engineering. They are known as the City College (2-2) Plan and the Columbia U niversity (3-2) Plan. In each case, the first figure in the parentheses represents the number of years spent at Q ueens on the pre-engineering part of the program. The second figure represents the number of years to be spent at the engineering school. D egrees are awarded by the engineering school, and students must satisfy the requirements of that institution. Detailed requirements and a semester-by-semester schedule of courses in each of these curricula are available from the Physics D epartment (Science Building B334, 997-3350).Students who begin the pre-engineering course sequence may transfer to the Q ueens C ollege B.A. program if they de cide not to pursue an engineering career. The later a student makes the transfer, the likelier it becomes that more than four years will be necessary to complete all degree requirements.

Students who want to attend engineering schools other than those mentioned above should study the catal ogs of these schools to determine their requirements. For more information, contact the pre-engineering adviser, Prof. Lawrence Ferrari (Science Building B320, 997-3388).

Academic Skills and Resource Center

The Academic Skills and Resource Center administers programs in basic academic skills, provides tutoring services, and operates the $O$ ffice of Assessment T esting.

The Office of Assessment T esting (Kiely 231, 997-5680) administers the CUN Y Assessment T est in reading, writing, and mathematics, and reports test scores to students. All students are re quired to take these tests prior to their first registration in the College, unless they have been certified in basic skills by appropriate SAT or Regents' scores.

The A cademic Skills and Resource C enter coordinates the C ollege Reading course as well as the W riting Skills W orkshop (Kidy 232, 997-5676) and the Reading Lab (Kiely 131, 997-5677), which providetutoring and other support services in writing and reading. The Department of $M$ athematics coordinates the M ath Lab (Kiely 331, 997-5859), which provides tutoring and other support services in mathematics.

These services are available to all students at the C ollege. The Skills Center is located in Kiely 227 (997-5670), and its director is D r. H oward H. Kleinmann.

College Reading and Study Skills Program

The College Reading and Study Skills Program, also coordinated by the Academic Skills and Resource C enter, is designed to help students develop skills that will enable them to prepare, read, comprehend, and complete their college assignments effectively.

College English as a Second Language (CESL)

The CESL Program offers credit-bearing courses designed to meet the English-language needs of students with limited proficiency in English. Placement into CESL courses is based on performance on the CUN Y Assessment Test in reading and writing. Students must see the CESL director in Kiely 227 (997-5670) beforeregistering for any courses.

Graduate Programs

Q ueens C ollege offers the $M$ aster of Arts degree in applied linguistics, art history, audiology,* biology, chemistry and biochemistry, computer science, economics,* English, French, geology, history, Italian, Latin American area studies,* mathematics, media studies, music, physics, political science and government,* psychology and psychology: clinical behavioral applications in mental health settings, sociology, Spanish, speech pathology, and urban studies. The degrees of $M$ aster of Arts in Liberal Studies and the M aster of Arts in the Social Sciences are also offered.

The M aster of Science degree is offered in Nutrition and Exercise Sciences and in Accounting.

The M aster of Science degree in Education is offered in Elementary Education ( N through 6), Elementary Education: Specialization in Bilingual Education, Secondary School Education (art, English, French, home economics, Italian, mathematics, music, physical education, science, social studies, and Spanish), Counselor Education, Reading, School Psychology, Special Education, and T eaching English to Speakers of Other Languages.

There are Advanced C ertificate (postmaster's) programs in M arriage and Family C ounseling,* School Administration and Supervision, School Psychology, and Latin American area studies.*

For students who wish to pursue provisional certification as elementary or secondary school teachers, but whose undergraduate degrees did not include the necessary work in education, the C ollege offers an Advanced C ertificate (post- baccalaureate) program in Elementary Education and an Advanced Certificate (post-baccalaureate) program in Secondary Education (English, French, Italian, mathematics, music, science, social studies, and Spanish).

The degree of $M$ aster of Fine Arts is offered in Studio Art.

A program in Library Studies, leading to the degree of $M$ aster of Library Science, is offered with a specialization in school or public, academic, and special librarianship. A post-master's certificate program is also offered.

Doctoral Programs

$M$ any $Q$ ueens College faculty are members of the doctoral faculty of the City University. Thefollowing Ph.D. degrees are offered through the G raduate C enter at 33 W est 42 Street, N ew Y ork, N Y 10036: anthropology, art history, biochemistry, biology, biomedical sciences, business, chemistry, classics, comparative literature, computer science, criminal jus tice, earth and environmental sciences, economics, educational psychology, engineering, English, French, Germanic languages and literatures, H ispanic and Luso-Brazilian literatures, history, linguis tics, mathematics, music, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, social welfare, sociology, speech and hearing sciences, and theatre. ThePh.D. and M.D./Ph.D. degrees are offered in biomedical sciences, and the D.S.W . is offered in social welfare. The D.M.A. is offered in music performance and composition. For further information, contact the appropriate departments at $Q$ ueens. Information can also be obtained from the G raduate C enter.

Continuing Education Programs

The C ontinuing Education Programs at Q ueens College consist of three areas of study: C ontinuing Education, English as a Second Language, and the English Language Institute.

Continuing Education

The Continuing Education program addresses the educational needs and interests of the adult community. Lectures, workshops, and seminars are offered in the arts and humanities, career and professional studies, and learning skills development. Faculty are drawn from a broad range of artistic, academic, and business professionals who understand and relate to the unique qualities of adult learners. Although no college credit is given, the offerings build upon, interpret, and apply the disciplines generally associated with the liberal arts, business, and the sciences. A Continuing Education Bulletin may be obtained in Kiely H all 111 or by calling 997-5700.

English as a Second Language

English as a Second Language is a parttime program that provides instruction in the English language during days, evenings, and Saturdays. Studentstake three or six hours of instruction taught by a professional faculty member using state-of-the-art techniques. Information about the program can be obtained in Kiely 111 or by calling 997-5712.

English Language Institute

The Q ueens C ollege English Language Institute provides full-time instruction in the English language for those people for whom English is a foreign language. The program is considered by the $U$ nited States Immigration and $N$ aturalization Service to be equivalent to full-time study for maintaining student visa status. Information about the program can be obtained in Kiely 111 or 413, or by calling 997-5720.
*N ew admissions have been suspended.

L A S A R (LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES AREA REQUIREMENTS)

All students who entered Queens College in September 1981 or later as candidates for a baccalaureate degree must satisfactorily complete courses in seven areas as listed below. Note: Bachelor of Music students should consult the School of Music section of this Bulletin for their area requirements.

HUMANITIES I:

2 courses (min. 6 credits) in the area of literature and literary criticism.

HUMANITIES II:

1 course (min. 3 credits) that stresses appreciation and/ or participation in the areas of art, music, and/ or theatre.

HUMANITIES III:

1 course (min. 3 credits) involving the study of language, culture, and/ or aesthetics.

PHYSICAL & BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES:

2 courses (min. 7 credits), one with a participatory laboratory component, stressing the scientific method.

SCIENTIFIC METHODOLOGY & QUANTITATIVE REASONING:

1 course (min. 3 credits) in college-level mathematics, computer science, data analysis, statistics, scientific methodology, or logic.

SOCIAL SCIENCES:

2 courses (min. 6 credits), from different departments, dealing with historical change, the economy, government, de-cision-making, community structure, and organization.

PRE-INDUSTRIAL NON-WESTERN CIVILIZATION:

1 course (min. 3 credits) devoted to the study of Pre-Industrial and/ or NonWestern Civilization.

The listing of courses that may be used to satisfy each of the seven areas follows. In the departmental listings, a course that satisfies a LASAR requirement will have one of the following symbols at the end of its description: Humanities I, Tier 1-H1T1 Humanities I, Tier 2-H1T2
Humanities II - H2
Humanities III- H3
Physical & Biological Sciences Group A - PBGA
Physical & Biological Sciences Group B - PBGB
Scientific Methodology & Quantitative Reasoning - SQ
Social Sciences - SS
Pre-Industrial/ Non-Western Civilization - PN.

Note: Some of the courses listed under the Humanities I, II, III, and Social Sciences areas will also fulfill the PreIndustrial and/ or Non-Western Civilization requirement. Such courses are identified by + .

SPECIAL NOTES

1. Courses used to satisfy the basic and advanced learning skills requirements may not be used to fulfill these area requirements.
2. Any courses that are used to fulfill the requirements of a major may usually be used to fulfill the appropriate area requirements.
3. Transfer students who place in English 95 or above will be granted equivalent credits by the Undergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee unless, after consultation with the appropriate department(s), the transferred courses are found not to meet the spirit of the area requirements.
4. Students should use the worksheet on page 45 to keep track of the courses they have already taken and the requirements they still need to fulfill.

ALTERNATIVES TO LASAR

1. Completion of Honors in the Humanities satisfies some of the above Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements. See page138.
2. Satisfactory completion of a specific group of courses by students enrolled in ACE will fulfill the Queens College Basic and Advanced Learning Skills and LASAR. See page 52.

Humanities I
You may not begin the Humanities I requirement until you have successfully completed the appropriate English composition requirements. Two courses (minimum 6 credits) in the area of literature and literary criticism are required. To satisfy this requirement you must select one course from the Humanities I, Tier 1, list below and a second course from Tier 2.

Physical & Biological Sciences*

Two courses (minimum 7 credits), one with a participatory laboratory component, stressing the scientific method. You may take either two courses from Group A or one course from Group A and one course from Group B. Unless specific prerequisites are noted, you may take Group A and $B$ courses in any order or concurrently.

If you intend to major in physics or psychology, then at least one of the two courses used to complete this requirement must be in a department other than the department in which you major. Students completing majors in biology, chemistry and biochemistry, computer science, or geology are considered to have fulfilled these two area requirements.

Degree and Certificate Programs

The following are officially registered undergraduate degree programs at Queens College, together with their HEGIS and New York State Education Department registration codes. Students are advised that enrollment in other than registered or otherwise approved programs may jeopardize their eligibility for certain student aid awards.

Most Queens College undergraduate programs are designed to be completed in 120 credits for students who are fully prepared to begin college study. Programs are listed with the range in the number of credits required for fully prepared students and for those students requiring additional course work to complete their degrees. Students who change their major during their undergraduate career may also need more than 120 credits in their program in order to graduate.

COURSE INFORMATION in this

Bulletin is correct as of February 2000. For information about new courses that may not be included here, and for further details concerning course descriptions, consult the department office. For possible changes and for details on courses designated "uncertain" ( $\dagger$ or $\dagger \dagger$ ), consult the current semester's Telephone Registration Guide and Schedule of Classes, available at the Registrar's Of fice and Information Center just before registration periods.

Q ueens College's numbering system classifies courses according to level as follows:

0-99. These are courses unclassified with regard to level, and may or may not have prerequisites. They are offered by a department as a service to the C ollege community or to other departments. $M$ any satisfy LASAR. They are not part of a student's major in the department offering the course, but may be part of majors in other departments.

100-199. Freshman-level courses not having prerequisites, although they do assume that the student has the reading, writing, and mathematical skills required for entrance to the C ollege.

200-299. Intermediate-level courses normally taken after the freshman year. They may have prerequisites, but in general assume that the student has some appropriate background knowledge and familiarity with college-level work.

300-399. Advanced or upper-level courses not usually taken before the junior year. They may have prerequisites or corequisites at the intermediate level or above, but in general students are expected to have or to provide themselves with the background information implied by the course title and description. These courses al so require more responsibility, initiative, and independence than lower-level courses, and students must use the scholarly skills they have been introduced to in earlier courses. A student should take several courses at this level as part of the major.

400-499 (Aaron Copland School of M usic only). The most advanced courses of a long sequence of courses begun in the freshman year and completed in the senior year.

500-599. G raduatelevel courses offered by the various disciplines for teachers. T hese may be used in partial fulfillment of a master's degree program in education or for continuing education credit. N ormally they do not require that the student has followed an undergraduate concentration in the discipline. A 500 -level course may be taken by wellqualified undergraduates with the permission of the department offering the course.

600-699. First-level courses in master's degree programs. A 600-level course may be taken by exceptional undergraduates with permission of the department offering the course.

700-799. U pper-level courses in master's degree programs. A 700 -level course may be taken by outstanding undergraduates only with the permission of the department and the $O$ ffice of $G$ raduate Studies; or the department and the $D$ ean of the Division of Education in the case of graduate courses in Education.

In certain circumstances, it is possible for an undergraduatestudent to apply course credits taken during the undergraduate course of study toward the master's degree instead of toward the undergraduate degree. In such circumstances, the graduate course credits must be in excess of the 120 credits required for the undergraduate degree. In addition, thegraduate courses cannot be counted as undergraduate major requirements. For additional information, students should consult with the $D$ epartment $C$ hair or graduate adviser.

Please note: Effective September 1, 1996, all bachelor's degree programs require a maximum of 120 credits for graduation. The CUN Y O ffice of Academic Affairs may grant waivers for undergraduate degree programs that require additional credits for certification or accreditation from outside professional organizations or for other compelling educational reasons.

THE MAJORS

Accounting Major

The department offers courses in accounting, information systems, business law, and taxation for accounting majors and other students. Accounting majors may prepare themselves for a career in public, private, or governmental accounting, or for the teaching of accountancy in secondary schools.

M ajors study a complex discipline concerned with and responsive to the changing economic, social, and legal institutional arrangements necessary to the functioning of modern societies. The functions of accountants encompass ever-broadening spheres of activity. Transactions occurring between an economic entity - be it a family unit, small business firm, complex corporate organization, government organization, nonprofit organization, or national economy - and its environment constitute the raw materials of accounting. These must be converted by processes of classification and analysis to meaningful data so that their effects on the entity being subjected to the accounting process may be measured, interpreted, and communicated.

C omputerized systems are being used extensively in accounting applications, transaction processing, data analysis, and auditing. C omputer applications are integrated into course work. C ourses in Information Systems, Analysis, Design, and Implementation have been available since 1982.

The informational outputs of this process must meet the needs of various user groups in society. Among the users of accounting information may be internal decision makers, owners, creditors, investors, workers, managers, economists, and representatives of government agencies.

The decision process, organization theory, communication and information systems and theories are areas of interest and concern to students and researchers in accounting. Sophisticated mathematical models (especially with the development of computer science) are being used by accountants. Economic the ory and anal ysis constitute basic tools for accountants. An understanding of the laws governing economic and financial relationships is essential. A knowledge of tax laws and procedures must be added to the accountant's store of information.

The D epartment of Accounting and Information Systems has a formal advisement program. All majors are assigned an adviser whom they must see as part of registration.

Accounting majors must file a concentration form with the department no later than the lower junior semester. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major.

Adult Collegiate Education

D irector: Robert C. W eller
Associate D irector: Colette Golinski
0 ffice: Kiely 134A, 997-5717
Professors: Alteras, H allmark, O renstein, Pine; Adjunct Associate Professors: Jacobowitz, M ohan; Adjunct Assistant Professors: Bergman, Brown, Sirlin; Adjunct Lecturers: Abramson, Chustek, Einsohn, G oodman, K rest, M iceli, M oskowitz, Percival, W eller; Department Secretaries: W inman, W hite
The Adult Collegiate Education (ACE) curriculum provides an opportunity for adults 25 years or over to obtain the baccalaureate degree. The foundation of ACE is a special series of seminars, both conventional and interdisciplinary, in the arts, sciences, and social sciences, which satisfies a good portion of the C ollege's Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements (LASAR). Successful completion of this series of seminars will constitute about a third of the work for the degree. The remaining credits required for graduation will be distributed between the student's chosen field of concentration, the balance of LASAR courses, and elective offerings. Students may also qualify for a maximum of 36 life achievement credits.

The seminars are conducted by panels of faculty members from different departments, and draw upon the maturity and experience of the adult student, while at the same time encouraging the student to engage in independent study.

The courses described below are open only to students formally admitted to ACE. These courses may not be taken with the P/N C (Pass/N o C redit) option.
ACE 001. English Composition
ACE 003. Studies in Literature
ACE 004. Studies in Visual Arts & M usic
ACE 009. The Physical Sciences
ACE 015. Social Science Seminar I
ACE 016. Social Science Seminar II
Biology 008. Fundamentals of Biology Chemistry 011. Chemistry for Today Psychology 101. General Psychology
For details of admission requirements and procedures, write to the $D$ irector of $A C E$.

COURSES

ACE 001. English Composition. 4 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Passing grade on the CUN Y Assessment T est or its equivalent as approved by the department. Emphasis will be on clear, correct, and effective writing. Students will be introduced to methods of research and documentation.

ACE 003W. Studies in Literature. 3 hr . plus conf.; 6 cr.; provides two W riting Intensive units. Prereq.: ACE 001. Close reading and critical analysis of American and British fiction and poetry of various periods. This seminar combines a study of literature with continued training in clear and effective written expression. Conferences with the instructor will be scheduled.
ACE 004. Studies in Visual Arts and Music. 3 hr . plus attendance at selected concerts and museums; 6 cr . The many convergences between music and the visual arts will be studied as they reflect aesthetic concerns common to both arts.

ACE 009. The Physical Sciences. 4 hr.; 4 cr. A course designed to give students a qualitative and quantitative view of the physical world. Topics chosen, primarily from physics (and, to a lesser extent, astronomy), include force, motion, gravitation, planetary motion, work and energy, heat, light, and electricity. D uring the study of each topic, selected numerical problems are solved. These problems, in addition to illuminating the subject matter, develop the student's skills in algebra, geometry (both plane and analytic), and trigonometry.
ACE 015. Social Science Seminar I. 3 hr.; 6 cr. A study of the history of ideas in W estern civilization from classical antiquity to the Reformation, from the perspective of the disciplines of history, philosophy, and related social sciences.

Through an analysis of sources, both original and secondary, emphasis will be placed on political developments, philosophical trends, religious movements, and social institutions. Extensive independent reading under faculty supervision; oral and written presentations, research papers, and final examination.

ACE 016. Social Science Seminar II. 3 hr.; 6 cr . Prereq.: ACE 015. A continuation of the study of the historical development of W estern civilization from the R eformation to modern times, through an analysis of sources, both original and secondary. In addition to the perspectives of the older, well-established disciplines of history and philosophy, the course will draw upon the insights of the newer social sciences: economics, sociology, and political science.
Biology 008. Fundamentals of Biology. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr . (ACE students are required to take either Biology 008 or Chemistry 011.) A survey course in biology designed for students in ACE. The areas of cell biology, heredity, development, physiology, ecology, and evolution are covered. Emphasis will be placed on human-related topics such as health, the environment, and current developments in biology. No previous knowledge of biology or chemistry is assumed. N ot open to students who have taken Biology 11. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
Chemistry 011. Chemistry for Today. (formerly C hemistry 15) 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr. (ACE students are required to take either Biology 008 or Chemistry 011.) A nonmathematical introduction to chemistry to provide some understanding of the chemical aspects of issues that confront today's citizen. The laboratory class will provide firsthand experience in various chemical techniques. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
Psychology 101. General Psychology. 4 hr.; 4 cr . An introduction to the chief facts, principles, methods, and theories of psychology. Topics discussed include the history of psychology, sensory and perceptual processes, motivation and emotion, behavior development, learning and cognition, psychometrics, personality, psychopathology, and social behavior.

Health and Physical Education

Physical Education 32. Adult Fitness

Through Diet and Exercise. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A specialized lecture/laboratory course that satisfies the physical education requirement for ACE students. T opics include body image, healthful food intake, and physical fitness.

Through an individualized nutritional survey, an in-depth activity profile, and a thorough assessment of body constitution and physical fitness status, an exercise program will be planned to meet individual needs.

LASAR and Basic Skills Requirements

Satisfactory completion of the Basic ACE Seminars by students enrolled in ACE will fulfill the Q ueens C ollege Basic and Advanced Learning Skills and most of the LASAR. These requirements became effective for students enrolling in ACE in September 1983 and thereafter. Transfer students, as a rule, may not apply courses taken at other institutions as substitutes for ACE seminars.

U pon completion of the Basic ACE Seminars, ACE students must also take one course from the current list in each of the following LASAR categories:

H umanities I, Tier 2
H umanities III
Scientific M ethodology and $Q$ uantitative Reasoning
Some courses in these categories are offered by ACE during Summer Session.

Foreign Language Requirement

Queens College requires that all baccalaureate students attain a knowledge of a foreign language at a level equival ent to three semesters of study. ACE subscribes to the view that the satisfactory completion of the foreign language requirement is an essential element of a liberal education. The ACE administration is also confident that adult students are fully capable of acquiring competence in a foreign language and encourages students to meet the College requirement by completing three semesters of a foreign language.

Students may be exempted from this requirement by having successfully completed thethird level (three years) of foreign language instruction at the high school level, or by prior completion of three semesters of a foreign language at an accredited college, or by having achieved a passing grade on the N ew York StateRegents ComprehensiveL anguage Examination (Level 3). In addition, students who have studied a foreign language or whose native language is not English may be exempted from part or all of this requirement by passing competency exams given or approved by the foreign language departments at the Col lege.

ACE students may satisfy the foreign language requirement in one of the following ways:

1) Successfully complete three semesters of a foreign language. This is the normal $Q$ ueens College requirement; see page 35 .
2) ACE students who matriculated in Fall 1983 or thereafter and do not satisfy the language requirement by taking three semesters of foreign language may exercise the following option:
A) They must complete the first-level course of a foreign language of their choice (e. g., French, Spanish, Italian, H ebrew).
B) They must also successfully complete Linguistics 101, Introduction to Language.
C) They may then choose three other courses distributed in literature in English translation or in the culture and history relating to their chosen foreign language. Lists of authorized courses are regularly updated.

C ourses used to satisfy the language requirement may not be used to satisfy any other requirement toward a major or LASAR.

C ourses taken to satisfy the language requirement may betaken P/NC (Pass/No Credit). The ACE language option is available only to students who are formally registered for and complete ACE.

Departmental Awards

ACE students may apply in the ACE Office for the following scholarships (unless stated otherwise, all students must maintain a minimum course load of 6 credits): The D oris and Joseph Eisen Scholarship is awarded each Spring to a full- or part-time student with a minimum GPA of 3.2. Applicants must be lower sophomores (at least 28 credits) and demonstrate academic potential. The Martin Pine/Solomon Resnik Scholarship for Single Parents is awarded each Spring to a part- or full-time student who is a single parent (male or female) and demonstrates academic potential and financial need. The Samuel Roane Memorial Scholarship for Minority Students is awarded each Fall to a part- or full-time minority student (i.e., African-American or H ispanic). Applicants must demonstrate financial need and prior community service. The H elen Rudolph Memorial Scholarship is offered each Fall to a part- or full-time junior (at least 61 credits) majoring in Jewish Studies. The D ean Ernest and Marta Schwarcz Scholarship is awarded each Fall to a full-time student with a minimum GPA of 3.0. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and academic potential. The M ay and Samuel Usadi Scholarship is awarded each Fall to a part- or full-time student. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and academic potential. The M olly Weinstein Memorial Scholarship is awarded each semester to a part- or full-time student. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and academic potential.

The ACE program acknowledgestop graduating seniors during the ACE graduation ceremonies each Spring with the following monetary awards: The Richard H.
H ogan Award for Academic Excellence (to the ACE V aledictorian); the Sybil Leigh Memorial Award for Academic Excellence; the Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis Award for Academic Excellence; the $\mathbf{H}$ aleem Rasheed Memorial Award for Community Service; the S. Gary Schiller Award for Excellence in Political Science; the M icheline W eisbroat Award to a Foreign-born student; the Aaron Weiss H umanitarian Award; and the Kathleen Englert ACE Award.
The Evelyn Nagdimon Scholarship ($200$$ 500$ ) is awarded each semester to an ACE student who is at least a sophomore ( 36 credits minimum). Applicants must carry 6-11 credits and demonstrate academic potential and financial need. Applications are available in the ACE Office (Kiely 134A).

Funds are provided by various memorials and endowments established for this purpose. G raduating seniors are asked to submit biographical and academic data, which is used by ACE faculty/administration selection committees for making these awards.

Africana Studies

D irector: June Bobb

Advisory C ommittee: Agbeyegbe, Ahmed, H abtu, M arkovitz, M itchell, O fuateyKodjoe
Office: Delany H all 125, 997-2845
M ajor Offered: Africana Studies (State Education Code 92251)

The program offers a structured body of courses leading to a major or a minor in Africana Studies. It is designed to provide knowledge of the civilization, history, literature, culture, and institutions of the peoples of Africa, as well as the peoples of African descent in the $C$ aribbean and $N$ orth America. O fferings consist of courses generic to Africana Studies as a whole as well as the following concentrations: Africa, the C aribbean, and the African-American experience.

Africana Studies should be of special interest to students who have either a cultural or professional interest in the African, AfricanC aribbean, or African- American experience. It should also be of interest to students who seek to understand a culture or civilization other than their own.

It provides the background for graduate work in African, C aribbean, or African-American Studies, and may lead to careers in education, community organization and development, social work, business, media, and international service. Because the program draws from several disciplines, it is an excellent choice for a second major or a minor.

THE MAJOR

Students who major in Africana Studies must take a minimum of 36 credits from the offerings listed in the program. At least 18 of these credits must be in the required core curriculum. At least 3 credits must be in a seminar offered by Africana Studies or an approved departmental seminar. At least 9 credits must be in the area of concentration.

Students who intend to major in Africana Studies must consult the D irector and file a concentration form before enrolling in AFST 102 or 201.

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major and minor.

COURSES

101. Survey of African Civilization I. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An interdisciplinary survey of African civilization from the earliest times to the sixteenth century. The course will focus on the origins and development of civilization in Africa (Egyptian, Sudanic, Ethiopic, M alian, Ghanaian, Songhai, Zimbabwean, etc.). (SS, PN )

Requirements for the Major in Africana Studies

Students who major in Africana Studies must take a total of 36 credits as follows:
Required C ore C ourses ( 21 credits): AFST 101, 102 or 201, 232 or 234, 300; H istory 277 or 278; Political Science 277 or 278; Sociology 271, 272, or 2730.
Electives (9 credits): Three courses in one of the following concentrations, provided they have not been taken to fulfill the required core:

1) Africa: AFST 102, 201, and 234; H istory 111; Anthropology 211; Art 245; Economics 209; Political Science 237 and 256; Sociology 273.
2) The C aribbean: AFST 232; H istory 118, 119, and 243; Puerto Rican Studies 203, 204, 208, 242; Sociology 261 and 274; Special Studies 94.
3) African-American: AFST 102, 201, 202, 203, 234; D rama 206, 248; Economics 219; English 354 and 355 ; History 277 and 278; Sociology 211, 271, and 272.
Two courses ( 6 credits) must be selected from those above that have not been already selected, or from Anthropology 233, Ethnic Studies 310, or M usic 5, 239, 240. Consult the D irector for other courses that may satisfy elective credit for the major.

In addition, students must take three semesters of Arabic, French, Italian, Portuguese, or Spanish or pass a proficiency examination in an African language equivalent to the intermediate level. Students who have satisfied the College's foreign language requirement in any of these languages do not have to take another language.

Requirements for the Minor in Africana Studies

Students who minor in Africana Studies must take a minimum of 21 credits from the offerings listed in the program. At least 12 of these credits must be in the required core curriculum noted above.
102. Survey of African Civilization II. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An interdisciplinary survey of African civilization from the sixteenth century to the pre sent. The course will focus on the impact upon African civilization, culture, politics, and society of European expansion and colonialism in Africa. (SS, PN )
201, 201W. Introduction to Black Cultures. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The course will focus on the concept of culture as it relates to specific cultures in W est Africa, the C aribbean, and the U nited States.
202. The Black Urban Experience. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: AFST 101 and 102 or permission of instructor. Special attention will be given to the effect of economic, political, and social factors on the black community and its institutions.
203. The Black Church in America. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: AFST 101 and 102 or permission of instructor. The course examines and analyzes the social and historical development of the black church in America. It attempts to show the role of the church in the struggles of black A mericans. The formation of independent black denominations, sects, and cults will also be evaluated.
232, 232W. Caribbean Literature. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Sophomore standing or permission of instructor. This course will examine how major writers of the C aribbean address questions of cultural and national identity in their poetry, fiction, essays, and drama. (H 3)
234, 234W. Black Women Writers. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Sophomore standing or permission of instructor. This comparative study of women writers from Africa, the C aribbean and the U nited States will examine the ways in which these writers re-envision history and challenge traditional conceptions of gender, race, and class. (H 1T2)
300, 300W. Seminar in Africana Studies. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Junior standing and permission of instructor. Topics to be announced.

Joint Offerings

Students may also plan a joint program in Africana Studies and either anthropology, economics, education, history, linguistics, political science, sociology, or urban studies. Students must take 24 credits of required courses in Africana

Note: English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pp. 34, 109).
$\dagger$ O ffered either Fall or Spring; see Class Schedule. $\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered; see Class Schedule.

Studies and 24 credits in the other department. Six of the 24 credits in the other department must be related to Africana Studies. See the appropriate department listing for credit information, description, and course scheduling.

Community Service Program

Africana Studies involves its students in a program of meaningful service to the black community of Q ueens in the context of a fieldwork course.

American  Studies

D irector: Bette W eidman
Advisory Committee: Allen, Bowen, Buell, Clark, Gambino, Kelly, Lyons, Schechter, Tucker, W arren, W reszin
O ffice: K lapper H all 345, 997-4633
M ajor Offered: American Studies (State Education Code 02695)
The past decades have seen the growth of a variety of heated controversies about culture, history, and social structure in the U nited States. A number of factors have contributed to this development: the awareness that $U$. S. history is a creation of many different peoples and interests; the perception that social forms are the product of contest as well as consensus; the elaboration in different disciplines of new methods and perspectives for the study of U. S. society, culture, and history; and the realization that a changing global setting has a great deal to do with the changing characters and characteristics of different nations.

The aim of this major is to develop a multifaceted understanding of the societies of the United States and its hemispheric neighbors: their origins, their histories, their economic, social, and political institutions; their philosophies; their distinctive cultures; their global settings and connections; and their artistic and intellectual achievements. American Studies is an interdisciplinary major, offering students the opportunity to design an individualized course of study in a number of subject areas, thereby enabling them to obtain a broad knowledge of the cultures, histories, and societies of the W estern hemisphere.

THE MAJOR

Students who plan to major in American Studies must have a minimum grade of $\mathbf{B}$ in American Studies 110.

Interested students should meet with the Director to plan their course of study as early as possible in their college careers. They should file their concentration form with the Director by their lower junior semester. American Studies 110 should betaken by majors as soon as possible and normally precedes courses taken in each of the thre Perspectives on American Experience. Students must maintain a cumulative 2.0 grade-point average in courses applicable to the major.

H onors in American Studies will be granted to majors who maintain a cumulative 3.5 grade-point average in American Studies and write an honors essay approved by the Advisory C ommittee.

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major and the minor.

Perspectives on American Experience

As an interdisciplinary program, American Studies draws on the resources of other departments and programs in the C ollege. The following list offers students a wide range of choices within which to satisfy the require ments for a major or minor in American Studies.

Requirements for the Major in American Studies

American Studies majors are required to complete a minimum of 36 credits on the American experience:
Required ( $\mathbf{1 2}$ credits): American Studies 110 (with a minimum grade of $\mathbf{B}$ ) and 9 additional credits in American Studies courses, including one 300-level course
Electives ( $\mathbf{2 4}$ credits): 12 credits from the list of courses in one of the three Perspectives on American Experience (Artistic, Historical, and Social); and 6 credits from the list of courses in each of the other two Perspectives.

Requirements for the Minor in American Studies

The minor consists of 18 credits, of which 9 must be in American Studies courses and 9 in courses drawn from one of the Perspectives on American Experience. A cumulative 2.0 grade-point average must be maintained in these courses.

COURSES

110, 110W. Introduction to American Society and Culture. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Lower sophomore standing. An interdisciplinary study of the creation of the cultures of the U nited States. The course will explore a range of cultural activities and experiences in America from the seventeenth century to the present, including: the production of art and literature; the construction of national ideologies; the structuring of economic, political, and social life; and the changing significance of the environment. (H3)
134W. Writing Tutorial. 1 hr .; 1 cr. A onecredit add-on course to a regular subject matter course on a co-registration basis. This course works on writing that is relevant to the subject matter of the main course. Co-registration means that all students in the regular course will not necessarily be in the writing tutorial. The combination of a regular course and a W riting T utorial satisfies one of the College's writing intensive course requirements. M ay be repeated for credit.
135W. Writing Workshop. 1 hr.; 1 cr. A onecredit add-on course to a regular subject matter course on a co-requisite basis. This course works on writing that is integral to the subject matter of the main course. Co-requisite means that all students in the regular course will be in the writing workshop. The combination of a regular course and a W riting W orkshop satisfies one of the C ollege's writing intensive course requirements. $M$ ay be repeated for credit.
210. American Lives. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. A study of how different Americans describe their own lives in autobiographies and other kinds of personal documents. The course will explore how "the American character" expressed itself at different times in different places and how various writers - both famous and obscure - tried to present themselves as unique individuals and as representative Americans.
212. The Popular Arts in America. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Upper sophomore standing and English 120. The growth and development of the popular arts in America, with particular emphasis on such forms as popular literature, photography, film, and advertising. The course will consider how popular art affects large audiences, how it succeeds as art, and how it yields a broad range of insights into our national life. The emphasis of the course will vary from semester to semester, but it may not be repeated for credit.
214. An American Decade. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. A study of the significant political, social, and cultural currents through one decade of American life. This interdisciplinary course leads to a richer understanding of the manners, morals, tastes, and general ideas of a particular period in American life. This course may be repeated once for credit provided the decade is different.

216. Myths and Ideologies in the United States. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. This course will focus on one or more components of $U$. S. national mythology, such as the U nited States as the land of opportunity and success, the U nited States as the nation of nations, the United States as a new land free of history, and the U nited States as a light to all nations. The course will consider the origin and development of such myths, their deployment in a number of different areas ofU. S. culture and social life, and their truth or falsity.

218. Native American History and Culture.

3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. A study of the history and cultures of N ative American peoples, hemispheric in scope and interdisciplinary in method. The particular focus of the course will vary from semester to semester, but may include such topics as language, literature, art, religion, and social organization. The course may be repeated for credit if the subject matter is different.
220. Gender, Race, Ethnicity, and Class in the United States. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. An interdisciplinary study of gender, race, ethnicity, and class in U. S. society and cultures. The particular focus of the course will vary widely from semester to semester, emphasizing different issues (i.e., gender, race, ethnicity, immigration, and class), different periods, different disciplines and texts, and different aspects of U. S. society (for example, its social structures, histories, cultures). The course may be repeated for credit if the subject matter is different.

222. The United States in Its Global Setting. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U pper sophomore standing and English 120. An interdisciplinary study of U. S. society and cultures in an international perspective. The particular focus of the course will vary considerably from semester to semester, emphasizing cross-cultural analysis and/or theoretical work on U . S. society and culture in one or more of the following contexts: the Americas; colonialism and national ism; contemporary globalization; and global diasporas and population flows. The course may be repeated for credit if the subject matter is different.

300W. Selected Topics in American Stud-

 ies. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Upper sophomore standing and American Studies 110. D esigned to provide advanced study of a selected topic in American Studies. Thetopic will vary from semester to semester and will be announced in advance. This course may be repeated for credit provided thetopic is different.
Anthropology

Chair: James A. M oore
Assistant Chair for Evening Studies: Roger Sanjek
D ept. Office: Powdermaker H all 234 (M oving to Razran H all), 997-5510
Professors: D eB oer, G regersen, Rassam, Sanjek; Associate Professors: Birth, M oore, Stinson, W elch; Assistant Professors: Gursky, M akihara, Snyder; Adjunct Assistant Professor: Steffy; Higher Education Assistant: Steffy; D epartment Secretaries: Belferman, K otler; Professor Emerita: Slater; Professors Emeriti: M eggitt, Owen
M ajor Offered: Anthropology (State Education Code 14865)

The department aims to give students a knowledge of human origins and development, the varieties of human cultures, and cultural and social complexities of our species in both primitive and multicultural settings.

A major in anthropology provides the necessary preparation for graduate work in the field, as well as valuable background for careers in education, international studies, medicine and allied professions, sociology, and social work, and for participation in community organizations.

THE MAJORS

Students wishing to major in anthropology may choose between two tracks: general anthropology and pre-professional anthropology.

Students must declare their intention to major in anthropology by requesting a department adviser and by completing a concentration form in consultation with the adviser. Preprofessional majors are especially encouraged to work closely with a faculty adviser. Although course requirements are designed to prevent premature undergraduate overspecialization, there is sufficient flexi bility to permit a student to emphasize cultural, biological, or archaeological anthropology. The selection of elective courses in the field of interest (both from within and outside the department) should be done in consultation with a faculty adviser from the respective subdiscipline. In special cases, some requirements listed above may be waived with the approval of the Chair.

Anthropology is an excellent complement to majors such as Latin American Area Studies. Interdisciplinary majors also may be arranged (see page 140).

Sethebox on page 56 for the specific requirements for the major and the minor.

Department Honors and Awards

D epartment honors at commencement are awarded to majors and minors on thebasis of academic average and other indicators of excellence. Students with grade-point averages of 3.5 or better who would liketo receive H igh H onors in Anthropology, should apply to the department before the start of their senior year for permission to write an honors thesis on a subject chosen by them in consultation with a member of thefaculty. The department gives nine awards:

H ortense Powdermaker Award: Given to the most promising graduating major specializing in cultural/linguistic anthropology.

[^4]Faculty Award: Given to the student graduating with the highest grade-point average in anthropology.
Paul M ahler M emorial Award: Given to the most promising graduating major specializing in physical (biological) anthropology.
Lynn C eci Archaeology Award: Given to the most promising graduating major specializing in archaeology.

Frank Spencer M emorial Scholarship

Award: Given to the most promising junior concentrating in biological anthropology.

Service Award: Given to a graduating student in recognition of service to the department.

H onors: Given to graduating students with a grade-point average greater than 3.5.

Requirements for the Majors in Anthropology
All courses applied to the major in Anthropology must be completed with a grade of C - or better.

The General Anthropology Major requires 33 credits distributed as follows:
Required (12 credits): Anthropology 101, 102, 103, and 200.
Electives: (21 credits): O ne course from Anthropology 201, 240, 260; one course from Anthropology 201 (if not already taken), 205-219; 241-249; two 300-level courses; three additional courses, two of which must be 200 or above.

The Pre-Professional M ajor requires 39 credits distributed as follows:
Electives: (24 credits): O ne course from Anthropology 201, 240, and 260; one course from Anthropology 201 (if not al ready taken), 205-219, 241-249; one course from Anthropology 320, 340, 360; two additional 300-level courses; three additional courses, two of which must be 200 or above.

Requirements for the Minor in Anthropology

The minor in anthropology requires 18 credits. All courses must be completed with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better.

Required (9 credits): Three courses from Anthropology 101, 102, 103, 104.
Electives (9 credits): 0 ne course from Anthropology 201, 235, 240, 260; any two additional courses from Anthropology 200 or above.

High H onors: G iven to graduating majors upon successful completion of a Senior H onors Thesis(Anthropology 390).
M ost Promising Student Award: Given to the most promising student (major/ minor) currently enrolled in the anthropology program.

Sequence of Courses

Anthropology courses are numbered as follows:

101-104: Introductory-level courses with no prerequisites.

301-397: Advanced courses (usually for majors) requiring junior standing and often having special requirements. (See entries under these numbers.)
Note: Anthropology 219, 239, 249, 259, and 279 are "selected topics" courses to be offered from time to time. These are for special interest and/or experimental offerings in the various subdisciplines of anthropology. Information about selected topics courses to be offered each semester will be distributed in the D epartment Announcement of Course Offerings, which is available in the department office prior to the registration period.

COURSES

101. Introduction to Cultural Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course introduces students to the range of human cultural diversity through an exploration of the variety of societies and cultures of the world. The course also familiarizes students with the methods and theories that anthropologists use to describe, analyze and explain cultural systems. (SS, PN ) Fall, Spring

102. Introduction to Human Evolution.

3 hr .; 3 cr . A survey of the basic principles of: evolution and genetics, biological variation in living human populations, a comparison of humans and other primates, and the fossil evidence of human evolution. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
103. Introduction to Archaeology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. This lecture course traces the major developments in human history and illustrates the methods archaeologists use to study the past. The origins of cultural behavior, the invention of agriculture and its consequences, and the development of civilization are examined. (SS, PN ) Fall, Spring
104. Language, Culture, and Society. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The role of language as a significant aspect of culture as well as language and culture diversity around the world are considered in this survey of anthropological linguistics. (H3) Fall, Spring
Note: Either Anthropology 101, 102, 103, or 104 may be taken alone, and if all are taken there is no necessary sequence. H owever, the three courses together are designed to give a meaningful survey of anthropology and are a recommended sequence.
134W. Writing Tutorial. 1 hr .; 1 cr. A onecredit add-on course to a regular subject matter course on a co-registration basis. This course works on writing that is relevant to the subject matter of the main course. Co-registration means that all students in the regular course will not necessarily be in the writing tutorial. The combination of a regular course and a W riting T utorial satisfies one of the C ollege's writing intensi ve course requirements. M ay be repeated for credit.
135W. Writing Workshop. 1 hr.; 1 cr. A onecredit add-on course to a regular subject matter course on a co-requisite basis. This course works on writing that is integral to the subject matter of the main course. Co-requisite means that all students in the regular course will be in the writing workshop. The combination of a regular course and a W riting W orkshop satisfies one of the C ollege's writing intensive course requirements. M ay be repeated for credit.
200. History of Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr .

Prereq.: 6 credits in anthropology or permission of instructor. A survey of anthropological theories, methodologies, and practitioners from anthropology's inception to the present. Fall, Spring
201. Essentials of Cultural Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Ethnography the descriptive study of peoples - is the cornerstone of anthropological endeavor. This course explores the relationship between intensive examinations of small populations and broad interpretations of the human condition. Emphasis is placed on close analyses of ethnographies representing differing theoretical positions. Fall, Spring
203. Human Sexuality. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Sexuality is examined from the perspective of both physical and cultural anthropology. T opics covered include: an examination of W estern approaches to sexuality; thehistory of sexology with particular reference to the contributions of anthropologists; the evolution of sexual reproduction (with special referenceto distinctively human aspects); sexual practices and ideology considered crossculturally. Fall, Spring

Cultural Area Courses

Note: The department publishes specific descriptions of its "Regional Peoples" courses each semester they are offered that are appropriate for the specific faculty member or adjunct offering the course.
205. Peoples of Mexico and Guatemala. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) $\dagger$
206. Peoples of South America. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) $\dagger$
207. Native North Americans. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) Fall, Spring
208. Peoples of South Asia. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
209. Peoples of Europe. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
210. Peoples of East Asia. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) $\dagger \dagger$
211. Peoples of Africa. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) $\dagger \dagger$
212. Peoples of the Middle East. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. (PN ) $\dagger \dagger$
213. Peoples of the Contemporary United States. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
214. Peoples of New York City. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
215, 215W. Peoples of the Caribbean. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
219. Topics in Cultural Area Studies. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. T opics will be announced. Course may be repeated provided the topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
222. Sex, Gender, and Culture. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. This course will examine the social construction of gender in a wide range of cultures. Beginning with thequestion of the degree to which gender roles are biologically determined, we will focus our attention on the divergence of gender roles and the nature of gender inequality throughout the world.

W e will analyze power dynamics between men and women at the household level, the community level, and in the larger context of the state for a variety of societies ranging from hunter gatherers in Africa, to peasants in China, to professionals in the United States. We will discuss the ways in which women in different cultures obtain degres of autonomy and power within their cultural contexts. The course will draw on theoretical and ethnographic readings dealing primarily with nonwestern societies. $\dagger$
223. Family, Kin, and Friends. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. The goal of this course is to understand the changes occurring in contemporary family, kin, and friend relationships by an evolutionary and comparative examination of such structures from other times and other cultures. $\dagger \dagger$
224. Religion: Belief and Ritual. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. $\dagger \dagger$
225. Medical Anthropology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. This course focuses on the interaction of cultural, biological, and ecological factors that may influence human health. Specific areas to be covered will include the transmission of infectious diseases, nutritional deficiencies, and inherited diseases. $\dagger$
227. Educational Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Anthropological approaches to the study of education and culture transmission in this and other societies. A consideration of education as a cultural institution from the cross-cultural perspective. $\dagger \dagger$
229. Practicing Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: N ine credits in anthropology or instructor's permission. This course offers a brief overview of the field of Practicing (Applied) Anthropology. Beginning with a history of the field and through selected case studies, it examines the reciprocal relationship between general theory and practice, looks at the ethical and intellectual problems confronted by anthropologists when they make or enable government policy, and describes the various areas - health, education, intercultural communication, business, social services, government, law - which currently employ anthropologists to solve problems. $\dagger \dagger$
232. Ethnographic Photography. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. T his course will develop perceptual and technical skills to enable students to document field research by successfully depicting some aspect of the human condition in the medium of black and white photogra phy.
233. Race, Class, and Ethnicity. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomorestanding. Physical differences among human populations are complex, continuous, and include many more invisible than visible traits. After brief consideration of human genetic variation around the world, we examine cultural schemes that segment and compress this diversity into a small number of "races." Racial systems emerge in particular historical and cultural settings, always involve differences in power, and vary from society to society. Readings and lectures focus on inequality and its relationship to concepts of race, ethnicity, and class in different parts of the world. $\dagger \dagger$
234. Food and Culture. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. This course introduces students to anthropological concepts and research that bear on the subjects of food, eating, nutrition, and disease. T opics covered include origins of human food-related behaviors; changing dietary patterns as revealed by archæology and physical anthropology; cultural aspects of diet, di sease, and malnutrition; the relationship between diet and social organization, as well as symbolic aspects of human food taboos and preferences. $\dagger$
235. Essentials of Practical Culture Study. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Anthropology 101, 102, and 104. Through dassroom instruction and practical exercises, both in Anthropology's Cultural D iversity Laboratory and in the field, students will develop the practical skills, specific abilities, and anthropological perspectives essential for successfully conducting and reporting the ethnographic field experience. $\dagger$
238. Research Design and Method. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in anthropology. This course shows students how anthropologists go about answering the questions they ask. We look at how research is designed, how data are collected and analyzed, and how empirical results are presented. Students will learn the fundamentals of sampling, descriptive and inferential statistics, and techniques for displaying relationships graphically. (SQ ) Fall

Note: English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pp. 34, 109).
$\dagger 0$ ffered either Fall or Spring; see Class Schedule. $\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered; see C lass Schedule.

239, 239W. Topics in Cultural Anthropology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Topics will be announced. Course may be repeated provided the topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
240. Essentials of Archaeology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. An examination of archaeological techniques and methods of interpretation that provide the basis for reconstruction of the lifeways of past cultures. Fall, Spring
241. Archaeology of Mesoamerica. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Examines the development of $M$ esoamerican cultures. $\dagger \dagger$
242, 242W. Archaeology of Europe. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. This lecture course traces the major themes in the cultural development of Europe. From the florescence of Paleolithic art through the spread of the IndoEuropean language to the impact of the Roman Empire on the Celtic world, this course tracks the changing forms of social integration. $\dagger \dagger$
243. Archaeology of North America. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Examines the development of N orth American cultures from the arrival of humans on the continent through the impact of European colonization. $\dagger \dagger$
245. Archaeology of South America. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. Examines the development of cultures from the first peopling of South America to the arrival of the Europeans. $\dagger \dagger$
246. Anthropology of Ancient Egypt. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing. U sing data from archaeology, hieroglyphs, and cultural anthropology, this course provides a dynamic portrait of the way of life of ancient Egypt. It also sheds light on changing attitudes towards Egypt and explains our fascination with this ancient culture through the centuries. Illustrated with slides and films, this course requires field trips to museum collections. $\dagger \dagger$

249. Topics in Archaeological Area

Studies. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Six credits in social science or sophomore standing or permission of instructor. Topics will be announced. C ourse may be repeated provided the topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
250. Field Methods in Archaeology. 250.1250.6, 1-6 hr.; 1-6 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 103 or 240 . Field training in archaeological survey and excavation in actual selected field sites. Basic archaeological field techniques will be taught and students will develop skills in scientific data-recording procedures. Prehistoric sites will be located, mapped, and described, and cultural materials will be recovered in the field for subsequent laboratory analysis. $\dagger \dagger$
251. Archaeological Analysis of Pottery. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 103 or 240. This course provides students with hands-on experience in lab analysis of archaeological pottery. Enrollment is limited to $12 . \dagger \dagger$

253. Archaeological Analysis of Stone

Tools. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 103 or 240 . W ith a combination of lectures, labs, and field trips, this course shows how archaeologists analyze stone tools. Trips to prehistoric quarries, experiments with stone tool production and use, and lab analysis of excavated stone tools provide hands-on experience. Enrollment is limited to $12 . \dagger$
259. Topics in Archaeology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 103 or 240. Topics will be announced. Course may be repeated provided the topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
260. Essentials of Biological Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Anthropology 102 or any college biology course. Focuses on the process of human biological evolution. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
262. Introduction to Primates. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Anthropology 102 or permission of department. A comprehensive overview of the O rder Primates from both a biological and a behavioral/ ecological focus, this course examines the similarities and differences between human and primate behavior and biology and their implications for human evolution. $\dagger$
270. Human Disease. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Anthropology 102 or any college biology course. This course is an introduction to the principles and methods used by epidemiologists to determine the causes and study the distribution of diseases in human populations. Cultural aspects of disease are integrated with archaeology and physical anthropology in a broad historical survey to illustrate the impact of disease on historic populations. $\dagger$
272. The Human Skeleton. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Anthropology 102 or any college biology course. Using an anthropological and evolutionary perspective, this course combines an anatomical and functional approach in order to acquaint students with the human skeleton and identification of skeletal remains.

Also introduces students to metric studies and to the use of osteometric and anthropometric instruments. $\dagger \dagger$
275. Disease in Prehistory. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 102 or any college biology course. H ealth and biocultural adaptations in prehistoric populations will be explored by examining the effects that stressors such as infectious disease, poor nutrition, traumatic injury, and occupational hazards have on the skeletal system.
279. Topics in Biological Anthropology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Anthropology 102 or 260 or any college biology course T opics will be announced. C ourse may be repeated provided the topic is not the same $\dagger \dagger$
290W. Topics in Anthropology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: English 110. This course will have exams that include essay questions and 10-15 pages of writing (either several short papers or one longer paper done in stages). O pportunity will be provided for students to receive feedback on their writing and for explanation of the necessary ingredients of a good paper and good writing. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is different.
302. Ecology and Culture. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: N ine credits in anthropology and junior standing. This seminar focuses on thequestion, $W$ hy do cultures change? T aking ethnographic and archaeol ogical examples of foragers, herders, and farmers, the class will examine the relationship between environmental change, human population growth, technological change, the organization of the economy, and the exercise of power. $\dagger \dagger$
304. Anthropology of Development. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: T welve credits in anthropology including 200 and 201 as prerequisites or corequisites or permission of instructor. Third world and indigenous peoples are being incorporated more fully into the modern world system by means of processes generally labeled as "development." Through an examination of several cases, this course will analyze the economic, political, cultural, demographic, and ecological impacts of this process. $\dagger \dagger$
305. Symbolic Anthropology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: T welve credits in anthropology including 200 and 201 as prerequisites or corequisites or permission of instructor. This course focuses on an analysis of the systems of meaning that humans create that allow them to place themselves in relationships with each other and with the world. The emphasis is on the public nature of meaning and the symbols used to communicate status, power, gender, group memberships, etc. $\dagger \dagger$
306. Anthropology of Religion. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: T welve credits in anthropology including 200 and 201 as prerequisites or corequisites or permission of instructor. This course explores theoretical debates in anthropology concerning religion. In doing so it addresses both the issue of general theories of religion and their applicability in specific cultural contexts. $\dagger$

Please note: C hanges have been made in the Studio Art curriculum that affect the B.A. degree and the total number of required credits for the major (subject to approval). Students are advised to check with the Studio Art section of the department prior to registering for classes.
The department offers major programs in two areas: Art H istory and Studio Art. Both programs provide training in these disciplines within the framework of a liberal arts curriculum. It is assumed that further professional and scholarly developments will take place after the Bachelor of Arts degree, according to the needs and objectives of the individual student.

A Bachelor of Fine Arts program in Studio Art is now being offered in addition to the Bachelor of Arts program. Interested students should consult the B.F.A. adviser. See requirements under Studio Art in the box on this page.

Students majoring in art must fulfill department requirements as outlined below, as well as particular prerequisites as indicated in the course descriptions. They may apply to be exempted from taking a course required for the major by passing the examination in the course (in Art H istory), or by obtaining the Examining Committee's approval of a portfolio of work (in the Studio Art area). Exempted students will take a more advanced course instead.

Students majoring in other fields may have the prerequisites waived for any art courses. H owever, they should consult with a department adviser to ascertain the nature of course demands, and receive advice on courses best suited to their interests.

Requirements for the Majors in Art

Art History

Required ( 36 credits): 30 credits in Art H istory, including 101, 102, and 300 (Art H istory 1 may be substituted for 101 or 102 if taken before the student has elected to major in Art H istory. No more than six credits from 1, 101, and 102 may be applied to the degree.); 21 credits must be selected from Art History 110-115, 200-299, and 300-349, including one course from at least three of the general areas of art history: Ancient, M edieval, Renaissance-Baroque, M odern, and N on-W estern. M ajors with suitable preparation may take graduate courses for major credit, with the permission of the instructor. To take more than three art history courses in a semester, students must have written permission from the art history adviser. Students must also take 6 credits in history, chosen in consultation with the adviser.
Foreign Language Requirement: This may be satisfied by one of the following options: 1) Four semesters of French, German, Italian, or Chinese, or a Regents diploma in one of these languages; 2) Three semesters of one of the above languages, plus an introductory course (or a course for reading) in a second of these languages; 3) Two semesters of ancient Greek or Latin, plus an introductory course or a course for reading in French, German, or Italian. Students who have satisfied the C ollege foreign language requirement in a language other than one of those listed above will normally be expected to complete the departmental requirement as well. Students who have attained competency in any of the required languages by other means may, at the discretion of the department, demonstrate their proficiency by passing the department's language examination. They may also petition for acceptance of one other language specifically related to their fields of interest. C onsult the art history office for further information.

Studio Art

For either the B.A. or the B.F.A. in Studio Art, or the B.A. in Art Education, a student must complete the following basic sequence:
Prescribed Basic Courses (Group A, 18 credits): Studio Art 151, 153, 161, 162, 181, 182. Students must complete these courses before registering for intermediate and advanced studio courses. They may take no more than two upper-level courses before finishing the Group A sequence.
Art History ( $\mathbf{1 2}$ credits): M ust include Art History 101 and 102. (Art 1, if taken before the student elects to major, may be substituted for one of these.)
The courses listed above should be taken by the end of the third semester of residence. The student's achievement is then evaluated by the department's Junior Conference Committee, composed of Studio Art faculty. This committee, along with the student, then plans a sequence of courses for the upper two years of residence, which conforms to the student's needs, abilities, and interests. A concentration form listing these courses is filed with the department office. A student wishing to apply for the B.F.A. program should do so at this time by petition to the Junior Conference Committee.
The B.A. program is completed with a total of 42 credits in Art, to include 10 credits of Studio Art electives and Art 391, to be completed in the seventh or eighth semester. Students may not register for morethan 42 credits in art without permission of the department. At least one semester of recommended studio work must intervene between the completion of basic G roup A courses and registration for Art 391.
The B.F.A. program is completed with a total of 72 credits, including 35 credits in Studio Art electives and Studio Art 350, 391, and 392.

Art Education

Students planning to teach art in junior or senior high schools are required, for certification in the State of New York and for licensing in N ew York City, to complete 42 credits in art plus prescribed courses in secondary education. The requirements are similar to those of the B.A. in Studio Art, except that Art History 246, 247, or 254 should be included in the 12-credit Art H istory requirement. Required secondary education courses are SEYS 201, 221, 222, 333, 365, and 375.

Requirements for the Minors in Art

Art History- Required (18 credits): The minor must include Art History 101 and 102 (Art H istory 1, if already taken, may substitute for either); four elective courses, which must include one course from at least three of the general areas of art history - Ancient, M edieval, Renaissance-Baroque, M odern, and N on-W estern - to be selected from Art H istory 110-115, 200-299, and 300-349.
Studio Art- Required ( $\mathbf{2 1}$ credits): M ust include five courses from the six basic courses in drawing, painting, design, and sculpture (Studio Art 151, 153, 161, 162, 181, 182), one introductory course in art history (Art History 101, 102, or 1), and 3 credits of studio electives.

THE MAJORS

All students majoring in art are required to take Art H istory 101 and 102, except that students who elect to become art majors after having taken Art 1 should take either Art 101 or 102 in addition. No more than six credits from these three courses may be applied to the baccal aureate degree requirements.

Art History

The major in Art H istory requires 36 credits, plus a foreign language requirement. See the box on page 60 for the specific requirements for the major.

Transfer students who want credit toward the major in Art H istory must have taken courses equivalent to those required at Q ueens C ollege. Requests for transfer credit will be evaluated by the department.

Studio Art

The department offers a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Studio Art. Both prepare a student for creative or professional work in various media. TheB.A. also provides part of the necessary background for the teacher of art in secondary schools. Students interested in the teaching of Studio Art in college should apply for the B.F.A. program and plan to attend graduate school in an approved $M$ aster of FineArts curriculum. See the box on page 60 for the specific requirements for the majors.

Transfer Students

Transfer students who want to major in Studio Art, Art Education, or D rama & Theatre and Art must present a transcript and portfolio to the Transfer Credit Evaluation Committee of the Art D epartment. They may be credited with up to 6 credits in Studio Art on the basis of transcript only, or up to 15 credits on the basis of transcript and portfolio. In addition, a transfer student may receive as many blanket credits in studio work as the committee considers justified. Except as the committee may exempt them, transfer students will take all of the prescribed basic courses and senior project at Queens C ollege. T ransfer students should defer the taking of Art 391 or 392 to their final semester in residence at Queens College.

THE MINORS

See the box on page 60 for the specific requirements for the minors.

Asian Studies

D irector: G opal Sukhu
Office: King 203, 997-5585
Major Offered: East Asian Studies (State Education Code 02691)

The major in Asian Studies is a flexible program designed for students wishing to gain familiarity with the languages, history, and cultures, as well as the social, religious, and political institutions, of the countries of Asia. This knowledge can be applied to a wide range of fields including law, foreign affairs, international business, secondary education, comparative literature, art history, and a variety of other professions and academic disciplines. Presently, the major focuses on China and Japan, and the languages offered are Chinese, Japanese, and K orean. H owever, attention is also given to India and Southeast Asia to gain a wider perspective.

Students will be expected to fulfill general requirements for the major and also to choose an area of concentration. In each area of concentration, the student will also be expected to take a course that does not necessarily cover Asian topics but provides exposure to the methodology of the particular field. These areas of concentration might include anthropology, art history, Asian American topics, comparative literature, economics, history, linguistics, music, philosophy, political science, religious studies, sociology, or women's studies. Examples of this are given below.

Each student plans an individual course of interdisciplinary study in consultation with the Director of Asian Studies. Students are admitted to the major after their plan of study is approved by the $D$ irector.

Requirements for the Major in Asian Studies

Language ( $\mathbf{3}$ to $\mathbf{1 4}$ credits): The language requirement is a fundamental element of the Asian Studies major; it can be fulfilled by completing the elementary and intermediate sequence of four semesters in Chinese, Japanese, or K orean (101, 102, 203, 204). Students who place at a more advanced level, or who have native or near-native proficiency in one of these languages, must take one course at their appropriate level.
Introductory courses (9 credits): In accordance with their area of concentration, all students must take the introductory sequence in literature: Comparative Literature 220 and 221, East Asian Literature I and II; or civilization: Oriental Studies 220 and 221, East Asian Civilization I and II; or history: History 112, Introduction to East Asian History; and one of H istory 140, China to 1500, or History 141, C hina after 1500, or H istory 142, H istory of Japan.

Electives ( $\mathbf{1 8}$ credits): An additional 5 courses ( 15 cr .) to be chosen from introductory and specialized topics in Asian Studies, and one course (3 cr.) in the discipline of the concentration which emphasizes either another culture or theory.

M ajor Offered: Biology (State Education Code 02696)

The Biology D epartment offers the Biology major, the Biology-Education major, and a minor in Biology. Students who choose one of these must consult with an appropriate program adviser early in their course of studies.

Students following the Biology major are provided with a foundation for a variety of professional options. U pon graduation, they may find employment as technicians in health-related, industrial, or university labora tories. Those desiring a research career in the governmental, private, or academic sector should plan to continue their education at the graduate level. Such a career may be focused toward work in the field and/or in the labora tory. This track is valuable to those interested in consumer protection services, environmental law, forestry, conservation, and scientific and medical illustration or writing. G overnment opportunities exist in the D epartments of Agriculture, State, Interior, C ommerce, $H$ ealth and H uman Services, and T reasury.

This track is also the traditional route to professional schools leading to careers in medicine, dentistry, optometry, and other healthrelated vocations.

The Biology-Education major, a program of study coordinated with the D ivision of Education, is designed for students who want to meet the requirements for teaching biology in elementary or middle, junior high, and senior high schools. Q uestions concerning this major should be referred to the BiologyEducation Adviser of this department. Students should also consult with either the D epartment of Elementary and Early Childhood Education or the D epartment of Secondary Education and Youth Services (SEYS) to determine the education requirements for N ew York State certification.

Nonmajor Courses

The department offers survey and topic-oriented courses (designated as the 1-99 series) that have been designed for nonmajors and have no prerequisites. M ost of these courses have recitation/demonstration sections rather than formal laboratories.

Departmental Awards

The Biology D epartment offers the D onald E. Lancefield Award for excellence in biology, to be awarded to the biology major with the highest grade point average; the $\mathbf{D}$ arwin Prize, to be awarded to the biology major with the next highest grade-point average who has demonstrated an interest in research; and the Laura H. and Arthur L. Colwin Prize for excellence in undergraduate research, to be awarded to a biology major who is not a preprofessional student.

THE MAJORS AND MINOR

Students who choose the Biology major must consult with an appropriate program adviser (the programs are listed below) early in their course of studies. M ajors interested in the health professions should consult with the C ollege preprofessional career adviser. Students choosing the Biology-Education major must consult with the Biology-Education Adviser. Students who choose to minor in Biology must consult with either the Undergraduate Adviser or the Evening Studies Adviser.

All students must prepare a concentration plan with an adviser and file this with the department before registering for any advanced Biology courses, typically by the beginning of the sophomore year. This plan is solely a description of a proposed course of study; it may be changed at any time in consultation with an adviser.

All students must also be listed with the Registrar as a Biology major, Biology-Education major, or a Biology minor. Both the concentration plan and notification of the Registrar are required before a student can take advantage of departmental preregistration for advanced courses in Biology or be graduated with a major or minor in Biology.

Students may not have a Biology course with a grade below $\mathbf{C}$ - , or have a research course (390, 391, 395, 396) credited toward their department requirements.

No course may be taken more than twice, and credit will be given only once for the same course.

The Biology Major

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major.

N ote: Students wishing to attend health professions schools or to undertake further graduate training must take some or all of the following cognate courses: C hemistry 113, 114, and 251, 252; Physics 121 and 122, or equivalents.

The Biology-Education Major

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major.

Biology Majors Who Want to Enter the Health Professions

Adviser: H.R. K oepfer; Secretary: C. Farley; O ffice: SB B338
It is recommended that pre-health professions students take several laboratory courses in biology and biochemistry. These courses should be completed before the beginning of the senior year.

Biology Majors Who Wish to Teach Biology in Secondary Schools

Adviser: D.W. Alsop
Students who want to meet requirements for a certificate to teach biology in middle, junior, or senior high schools should follow the major in Biology-Education and consult with the D epartment of Secondary Education and Youth Services to determine the education requirements for N ew York State certification.

Requirements for the Major in Biology

Required: At least 36 credits in Biology, including the required courses, with the remainder being in 200- and 300 -level courses of which at least 3 of the advanced courses, not including 381, must be 300 -level, and at least 5 must be laboratory courses. At least 20 of the Biology credits above Biology 107 and 108 must betaken at Q ueens College. Course selection must be made in consultation with a departmental adviser.
T ransfers: A maximum of 16 Biology credits are accepted as transfer credits in the major.
30 credits are required in major-level courses in the following cognate departments: Chemistry and Biochemistry; Computer Science; Earth and Environmental Sciences; Family, Nutrition & Exercise Sciences; M athematics; Physics. These courses are to be chosen in consultation with a departmental adviser.

Requirements for the Major in Biology-Education

Required: At least 30 credits in Biology, including Biology 107, 108, 285, and 286; the remainder must be in 200-and 300-level courses, of which at least 2 must be 300 -level courses and at least 3 must belaboratory courses. A minimum of 1 year of Chemistry (normally Chemistry 19 and 159 , or equiva lent); and M athematics 100 or 101 or 111, or equivalent. At least 16 of the credits above Biology 107 and 108 must betaken at Q ueens C ollege. C ourse selection must be madein consultation with the Biology-Education adviser.
16 credits are required in major-level courses in the following cognate departments: C hemistry and Biochemistry; C omputer Science; Earth and Environmental Sciences; Family, Nutrition & Exercise Sciences; M athematics; Physics. These courses are to be chosen in consultation with the adviser.
Also required is a co-major in Elementary and Early Childhood Education or a minor in Secondary Education and Youth Services, as prescribed by a subject matter adviser of the pertinent EECE or SEYS D epartment.

Requirements for the Minor in Biology

Students who minor in Biology must complete Biology 107 and 108 and at least 9 credits of advanced Biology courses, not including the research courses (390, 391, 395, 396). All of the advanced courses must be taken at Q ueens C ollege.
portunity to acquire a liberal arts education on a part-time or full-time basis.

Students who wish to major in Biology but can only attend during evening hours: the Biology D epartment will offer in the evening session, on a rotating basis, a sufficient number of advanced courses to permit completion of a major in Biology within a six-year period.

If permission of the C hair is listed as a prerequisite, evening students should interpret this to mean permission of the Assistant Chair for Evening Studies.

The Biology Minor

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the minor.

N o Biology course with a grade below Cwill be credited toward the minor requirements. Research courses (390, 391, 395, 396) may not be applied for fulfillment of the minor. No course may be taken more than twice, and credit will be given only once for the same course.

Note: All 200-level and above Biology courses have a prerequisite of one year of college chemistry, and must be taken at Q ueens College.

COURSES

Course Numbering

All courses offered by the Biology D epartment are numbered according to the following system:

1-99. Courses open to students in all disciplines, but not creditable to the major or minor in biology.

100-199. Introductory courses for majors and minors (freshman level).

200-299. Second-level courses for which the prerequisites are Biology 106 and Chemistry 114 (sophomore level).

300-399. Third-level courses having either a 200-level biology or advanced-level chemistry prerequisite (upper-class leved).
In addition, the middle digit of all 200- and 300 -level course numbers is used to denote the area of study of the course, as follows:

0-M icrobiology
1-Botany
2-Zoology
3-M athematical Biology
4-Community and Ecosystem Biology
5-G enetics and Evolution
6-Cell and Developmental Biology
7-Physiology
8-V ariableC ontent, Seminars, Colloquia
9-U ndergraduate Research

NONMAJOR COURSES

8. Fundamentals of Biology. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr . A survey course in biology designed for students in Adult Collegiate Education (ACE) and the LEAP project. The areas of cell biology, heredity, development, physiology, ecology, and evolution are covered. Emphasis will be placed on human-related topics such as health, the environment, and current developments in biology. No previous knowledge of biology or chemistry is assumed. N ot open to students who have taken Biology 11. M AT charge, $$ 25$. Fall, Spring
9. Introductory Biology. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. A general introduction to biology in the areas of cell biology, genetics, development, vertebrate physiology, ecology, and evolution. No previous knowledge of biology or chemistry assumed. N ot open to students who have taken Biology 8, 11, Chemistry 113, 114, or the equival ent, except with the permission of the C hair. (PBGB)
10. Introduction to College Biology. 3 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. A general introduction to biology in the areas of cell biology, genetics, development, vertebrate physiology, ecology, and evolution. No previous knowledge of biology or chemistry assumed. For students in all areas, including physical education majors and prospective biology majors who have not had previous high school biology or chemistry courses. N ot open to students who have taken Biology 8,9 , Chemistry 113,114 , or the equivalent, except with permission of the Chair. M AT charge, $25. (PBGA)
11. Field Ecology of New York. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. A course stressing field study, with emphasis on the identification and ecology of the life forms of New York State. Part of the outdoor study may be done at the Q C Center for Environmental T eaching and Research at Caumsett. O ne overnight trip may be scheduled. For non-science majors. $N$ ot open to students who have taken Biology 101 or 102 or the equivalent. M AT charge, $50. (PBGA)
12. Introduction to the Human Embryo. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . Study of the development of the human embryo from conception to birth, with reference to human reproductive physiology and human genetics. $M$ ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor require ments. (PBG B)
13. Introduction to Human Genetics. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . H eredity, with special emphasis on human genetics. For non-science majors. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. (PBGB)
14. Introduction to Human Physiology. 3
lec. hr.; 3 cr . H ow the human body works: support and movement, coordination and communication, digestion, excretion, and reproduction. For non-science majors. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. (PBGB)
15. Human Biological Origins. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Biology in the fourth dimension. A tour through time to examine our successively more remote ancestors and their relationships to other important groups such as birds and dinosaurs. Includes some trips to museums. For non-science majors. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major requirements.
16. Biology and Society. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: $N$ one, although Biology 11 is recommended. Biology and Society is a non-major lecture course (supplemented with video) focusing on selected biological principles in genetics, development, evolution, physiology, and ecology which are discussed in the context of their impact on the human population. The approach throughout is to initially provide a scientific background of principles and processes and then relate them to human society in the most global sense. The ethical considerations of many situations, such as genetic testing, pollution influences on developmental disabilities, and humanitarian aid in overpopulation crises, are considered. (PBGB)
17. Biological Evolution. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Biology 11 or high school biology. A survey of the evidences for biological evolution, including the origin and history of life, the forces driving change, and human evolution, past, present and future. This course is designed for non-science majors and may not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. (PBGB)
18. Ecology and Mankind. 3 lec., 1 rec./ demon., 4 hr .; 4 cr . The natural world and its response to the human influence. Field trips around campus, to local parks, and other areas. For non-science majors. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor require ments. M AT charge, $$ 25$.(PBGB)
19. The Plant World. 3 lec., 1 rec./ demon., 4 hr .; 4 cr . The relationship of plants to the environment and humanity. Topics considered will be: the nature of plants, plants and humans, plant life through the ages, classification of plants, plant communities, plant geography, and basic plant structure and function. Students will take trips to study plants in local natural areas, and two weekend trips to a museum and a botanical garden. $M$ ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. M AT charge, $25. (PBGB)
20. Anatomy and Physiology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 11 or 107; C hemistry 10 or 59 or the equivalent. Functional and descriptive anatomy and physiology of the human and other mammals, emphasizing practical aspects. $N$ ot open to students who have completed Biology 108, except by permission of the Chair. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
21. Food and Human Microbiology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 11 or 107; C hemistry 59 or the equivalent. The student will be introduced to general microbiology. Emphasis will be placed on the microbiology of food and human disease and immunology. The laboratory will deal with the characteristics of microorganisms and their role in the preparation of food. $M$ ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
22. Issues in Biomedical Ethics. 2 lec., 1 rec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: $O$ pen to both science and non-science students, open to juniors and seniors only; a course in college biology, or written permission of the instructor. A student seminar with exploration of such issues as death and dying, genetic engineering, human experimentation, behavior control, health-care delivery, patients' rights, and biomedical research and war. Concepts from biology, philosophy, history, law, political science, and sociology will be evaluated as a means of broadening perceptions of bioethics in our complex society. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements.
23. Sociobiology. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: 0 pen only to juniors and seniors. An evolutionary and ecological analysis of social behavior and communication in humans and animals. $N$ ature and nurture from a modern scientific perspective. Examines the biological and social basis of behaviors such as altruism, male and female reproductive strategies, parenting, generation gaps, cultural patterns, and language. M ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. (PBGB)

[^6]52. The Biology of Cancer. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Biology 11 or permission of instructor. H ow normal cell function and division is controlled as compared to the metabolism and growth of cancer cells. Includes consideration of the factors causing or contributing to cancer formation (chemicals, viruses, radiation, diet, genetics), the classification of cancers, the rationale for and description of the different types of cancer therapy, and future directions for cancer research. $M$ ay not be used to fulfill biology major or minor requirements. (PBG B)

INTRODUCTORY COURSES FOR THE MAJOR

107. General Biology: Life Forms, Evolution, and Ecosystems. 3 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: High school biology and/or chemistry assumed. Students are advised to have taken one semester of C ollege chemistry or to co-register for it. The first semester of a twosemester sequence for biology and science majors and minors, pre-health professionals, and those majoring in related areas. The topics include a survey of the kingdoms and an introduction to genetics, evolution, and ecology. M AT charge, $25. (PBGA)
108. General Biology: Physiology and Cell Biology. 3 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 107. Students are advised to have completed one semester of college chemistry prior to taking this course. The second semester of a two-semester sequence for biology and science majors and minors, pre-health professionals, and those majoring in related areas. Topics include principles of cell biology, physiology, development, and molecular genetics. M AT charge, $25. (PBGA)

200-LEVEL MAJOR COURSES

Microbiology

201. General Microbiology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equival ent. Significance, structure, metabolism, and functions of microorganisms; the basic bacteriological techniques of culture, isolation, and identification. M AT charge, $25.

Botany

210. Lower Plants. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; C hemistry 114 or the equival ent. Introduction to the biology of the algae, fungi, and bryophytes of the northeastern U nited States. Laboratory includes several field trips. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
211. Fungi. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Pre req.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Survey of the major taxa of fungi, including the slime molds, with emphasis on their morphology, physiology, and taxonomy. The importance of fungi as causal agents in diseases of humans, other animals, and plants, and as experimental tools in genetic, biochemical, and physiological research will be considered. Basic techniques of culturing fungi are used in the execution of individual projects. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
212. Higher Plants. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Survey of the vascular plants with emphasis on the flowering plants and taxonomic characteristics useful in identification of major plant groups. Laboratories will be devoted to techniques of identification. Students will submit a plant collection. Field trips comprise a large part of the laboratory component; they will occupy half or whole days. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
213. Field Botany. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equival ent. Introduction to local flora and vegetation. Lectures will emphasize the structure and composition of local vegetation. Laboratories will consist mainly of field trips to parks, preserves, and botanical gardens. Students will submit a field trip report and a plant collection. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

Zoology

220. Invertebrate Zoology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Evolution, classification, anatomy, and physiology of the invertebrates. Laboratory includes dissection of representative forms and a weekday or weekend field trip. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
221. Vertebrate Natural History. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. The natural history, classification, and autecology of the vertebrates. Field studies of the local fauna. U sually offered in the Spring or Summer. 0 vernight field trips in Spring and a 6-day field trip in Summer. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

226. Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy. 2

 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Functional and phylogenetic morphology of the vertebrates. Laboratory includes dissection of representative forms. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
Mathematical Biology

230. Introductory Biometrics. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. $N$ ot open to students who have successfully completed any one of the following courses (or their equivalents): Economics 249; M athematics 14, 241; Psychology 107; Sociology 205, 306. Probability models, statistical inference, design of experiments, and critical analysis of statistical applications in biology. (SQ )

Community and Ecosystem Biology

241. Techniques of Field Biology. 1 lec., 4 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Biol. 108; Chem. 114. An introduction to collection and analyses of data in the field. T opics shall include design of experiments and controls, methodologies of different types of field collections, use of keys, and statistical analyses. One evening and several all day weekend field trips to different study sites may be included. A collection may be required. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

Genetics and Evolution

251. Genetics Laboratory. 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: Biology 285. Laboratory exploration of the fundamental concepts of genetic analysis utilizing different model organisms. M AT charge, $$ 25$.

Cell and Developmental Biology

262. Laboratory Techniques in Molecular

Biology. 2 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Biology 285 is strongly recommended as a prerequisite or corequisite. Introduction to the basic laboratory techniques of molecular biology. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

263. Laboratory Techniques in Cellular

 Biology. 2 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. Biology 286 is strongly recommended as a prerequisite or corequisite. Introduction to the basic laboratory techniques of cellular biology. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
Principles Courses

285. Principles of Genetics. 2 lec., 1 rec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114 or the equivalent. The inheritance, structure, and mode of genetic material.
286. Principles of Cell Biology. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 114. Structure, function, and regulation of cells, including cell cycle, subcellular compartmentalization, signal transduction, and cell-cell interactions.

Botany

312. Morphology and Evolution of Plants. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 210 , or 212 , or 213 . Comparisons of plant form and function. Lectures will emphasize the structure and origin of plant organs, and the use of this information in classifying major plant groups. Information from paleobotany will be integrated with comparative morphology of living plants. Laboratory includes several field trips. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
also see 343 (Plant E cology), 371 (Plant Physiology), and 380 (Field Biology)

Zoology

320. Parasitology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 220. Ecology, distribution, pathology, and control of the parasites of humans and other selected animals. Particular emphasis on the evolution of host-parasite relationships, and on the approaches to solving the basic problems of animal parasitism. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
321. Entomology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 220. Anatomy, physiology, classification, and ecology of the terrestrial mandibulate arthropods, with special emphasis on the insects. Laboratory includes field trips and may require an insect collection. Students should expect to reside at a field study site in the greater metropolitan N ew York area for at least one week of the course (dormitory fees will be announced and collected at time of registration). Summer Session only. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

Mathematical Biology

330. Design of Experiments. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 230 or an equivalent introductory course in statistics (Economics 249; M athematics 14, 241; Psychology 107; Sociology 205, 306); or permission of instructor. The design and analysis of biological experiments. Formulation of biological problems in terms of statistical analysis, planning experiments, and anticipating appropriate analyses. U se of computer statistical packages.

Community and Ecosystem Biology

340. General Ecology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 220 and 212 or 213. Theory and analysis of structure, growth, regulation, and dynamic interactions within and between populations. Composition of biological communities in terms of their structure, species abundance and diversity, interspecific interactions, and integration with the physical environment. M AT charge, $50.
341. Plant Ecology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: Biology 212 or 213; Earth and Environmental Sciences 101 and/or 102 strongly recommended. Classification, distribution, structure, dynamics, and climatology of plant communities. Emphasis on the vegetal assemblages of N orth America. Laboratory includes weekday and some weekend field trips to natural areas, botanical gardens, and museums. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
342. Animal Behavior. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 285. Study of animal behavior. T opics include the description, evolution, development, physiological basis, and ecological significance of behavior. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
343. Limnology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 210 and/or 220. Survey of the physical, chemical, and biological properties and features of streams, rivers, and lakes. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
344. Marine Biology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 210 and/or 220. Study of marine organisms and biological oceanography. Short trips scheduled on oceanographic research vessels. U sually offered in Summer. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
345. Chemical Ecology. 2 lec. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: Biology 108; Chemistry 251 or equivalent. The chemical mediation of ecological interactions, including chemical basis of food selection, plant antiherbivore and antifungal defenses, chemistry of mutual istic associations, animal pheromones and defensesubstances, allelopathy, and chemicals in the environment.
346. Chemical Ecology Laboratory. 4 lab. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: Biology 348. The use of modern instrumental techniques in chemical ecology: analysis of foods, measurement of nutrient and electrolyte levels of biological materials, isolation and quantification of plant and animal defense compounds.
also see 380 (Field Biology)

Genetics and Evolution

350. Molecular Genetics. 3 lec., 1 rec. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 285 and 286; Chemistry 251 or the equivalent. Chemistry majors may substitute Chemistry 375 in lieu of Biology 286. M olecular basis of heredity. Topics include the structure of DN A and RN A, transcription, translation, mechanisms of recombination and mutation, regulation, and transmission genetics of viruses, prokaryotes, and eukaryotes.
351. Evolution. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Any of Biology 212, 220, 226, or 251. Study of the mechanisms and processes by which groups of organisms change through time. M AT charge, $$ 25$.

Cell and Developmental Biology

360. Vertebrate Histology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 286. M icroscopic structure and ultrastructure of vertebrate tissue and organ systems. Laboratory emphasizes identification and analysis of commercially prepared slides of vertebrate tissue. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
361. Theory and Biological Application of Electron Microscopy. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 263 and 360. Principles and practice of electron microscope operation and preparation of tissues for fine structure studies. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
362. Developmental Biology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 286. Gametogenesis, fertilization, and embryonic development through organogenesis. M echanisms of cell differentiation and morphogenesis as revealed by techniques of experimental embryology. M AT charge, $$ 50$.

Physiology

371. Plant Physiology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 286; Chemistry 252 or the equivalent. Anatomy, physiology, molecular biology, and development of plants. M AT charge, $$ 25$.
372. Vertebrate Physiology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 286; C hemistry 252 or the equivalent. Functioning of the major organ systems of animals, with special emphasis on the vertebrates. M AT charge, $25.

Variable Content, Seminars, Colloquia

380. Field Biology Studies. 380.3, 9 hr.; 3 cr., $380.4,12$ hr.; 4 cr., $380.5,15$ hr.; 5 cr., $380.6,18 \mathrm{hr}$.; 6 cr . Prereq.: V ariable prerequisites and requires permission of the instruc$\operatorname{tor}(\mathrm{s})$.
[^7]A variable content course encompassing field studies in the areas of botany, ecology, entomology, invertebrate and vertebrate zoology, and limnology. U sually offered Summers only, with the 3-6 credits depending on the subjects included and the time involved. The focus of the course is the comparative study of habitats and their components. Format and destinations are variable and costs reflect the modes of travel, destination, and type of accommodations. Courses in the 380 series may be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
381. Colloquium in Biology. 1 hr.; 1 cr. Pre req.: Senior standing and permission of the instructor. Course may be repeated once for credit.
385. Special Topics in Physiology, Cell, and Developmental Biology. 385.1-385.4, 1-4 hr.; 1-4 cr. Prereq.: Biology 285 and 286; upper junior or senior standing and permission of the instructor. O ne area of current interest will be studied in depth each semester. C ourse may be repeated for credit when the subject changes.
386. Special Topics in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. 386.1-386.4, 1-4 hr.; 1-4 cr. Prereq.: U pper junior or senior standing and permission of the instructor. $O$ ne area of current interest will be studied in depth each semester. Course may be repeated for credit when subject changes.

Undergraduate Research

390, 391. Research in Biology.
390.1, 3 hr. a week; 1 cr. each semester; 390.2, 6 hr. a week; 2 cr. each semester; 390.3, 9 hr. a week; 3 cr. each semester; 391.1, 3 hr . a week; 1 cr . each semester; 391.2, 6 hr. a week; 2 cr. each semester; 391.3, 9 hr. a week; 3 cr. each semester. Pre req.: T wo or more courses in Biology numbered 200 or above and written permission of a faculty sponsor. Biology majors of exceptional ability may arrange to do research under supervision of a member of the staff. Each semester, a report of the research undertaken must be submitted and approved by the faculty sponsor. This, together with the sponsor's written evaluation must be submitted to the department.
395, 396. Honors Research in Biology. 395.1, 3 hr. a week; 1 cr. each semester; 395.2, 6 hr. a week; 2 cr. each semester; 395.3, 9 hr. a week; 3 cr. each semester; 396.1, 3 hr . a week; 1 cr. each semester; 396.2, 6 hr. a week; 2 cr . each semester; 396.3, 9 hr. a week; 3 cr . each semester.

Prereq.: Biology 390 and senior standing, and written permission of a faculty sponsor. Biology majors of exceptional ability may arrange to do honors research under the supervision of a member of the staff. Each semester, a the sis must be submitted and approved by the faculty sponsor. This, together with the sponsor's written evaluation must be submitted to the department.

The following graduate courses are open to qualified undergraduates with written permission of the department Chair.

501. Recent Advances in Biology. 2 lec., 2 lab./demo. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: O ne year of general biology. 0 pen only to M aster of Science in Education candidates who are concentrating in science education. Selected topics in the life sciences. $N$ ot open to candidates for the $M$ aster of Arts degree in Biology. $\dagger \dagger$
502. Selected Topics. 2-4 hr.; 2-4 cr. Prereq.: O ne year of general biology. 0 pen only to $M$ aster of Science in Education candidates who are concentrating in science education. Lectures in a selected area of biology, concentrating on current concepts. M ay betaken for credit more than once provided topic changes. N ot open to candidates for the M .A. degree in Biology.
503. Lower Plants. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr . A survey of algae, bryophytes, and fungi of the northeastern U nited States, with an emphasis on identification, morphology, physiology, and ecology. A library or field research paper is required. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
504. Field Botany. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: A course in plant biology or its equivalent. The biology and ecology of the local flora. Summer Session only. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
505. Mycology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: O ne semester of genetics and permission of instructor. A survey of the major taxa of fungi, including slime molds, with emphasis on their morphology and taxonomy. The importance of fungi as causal agents in diseases of man, other animals, and plants, as experimental tools of genetic, biochemical, and physiological research will be considered. Basic techniques of culturing fungi will be utilized in the execution of individual projects. M AT charge, $$ 25 . \dagger$
506. Entomology. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: C ourse in invertebrate zoology. Anatomy, physiology, and ecology of insects. Identified insect collection required of each student. Students should expect to reside at the Q C Center for Environmental T eaching and Research, C aumsett State Park, Lloyd Neck, Long Island, for at least one week of the course (dormitory fees will be announced and collected at time of registration). Summer Session only. M AT charge, $$ 50$.
507. Vertebrate Phylogeny. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: A course in comparative anatomy. Phylogeny and interrelationships of the important major groups of the phylum C hordata, emphasizing the origins of higher categories and their adaptive radiation into sub-groups. Laboratory on representatives of fishes, amphibians, reptiles, birds, and mammals, emphasizing differences in locomotion, feeding mechanisms, and sense organs found within the same subclasses, infra-classes, super-orders, and orders, with practice in the identification of typical specimens likely to be found in the field. $\dagger \dagger$
508. Biometrics. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: C ourse in genetics and calculus. Probabilistic models in biology, field, and laboratory sampling; tests of hypotheses; uses of statistics for estimation. Topics selected will include growth processes of organisms and populations, discriminant functions, and genetic descriptions of evolving populations. Laboratory includes computational procedures in evaluating biological data. $\dagger \dagger$
509. Field Biology Studies. 680.3, 9 hr.; 3 cr., 680.4, 12 hr.; 4 cr., $680.5,15 \mathrm{hr}$.; 5 cr ., $680.6,18$ hr.; 6 cr. Prereq.: V ariable prerequisites and permission of the instructor(s). A variable content course encompassing field studies in the areas of botany, ecology, entomology, invertebrate and vertebrate zoology, and limnology. U sually offered Summer only, with the 3-6 credits depending on the subjects included and the timeinvolved. The focus of the course is the comparative study of habitats and their components. Format and destinations are variable and costs reflect the mode of travel, destination, and type of accommodations. A term paper is required. M AT charge, $\$ 50$.

682. Environmental Biology and the Law.

 3 lec., 1 proj. prep. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Experience in environmental field studies and permission of the instructor. An analysis of federal and state statutes and regulations in relation to environmental biology. Cases of major import are studied and analyzed. Students are expected to develop an understanding of applicable law, both statutory and common law, as it affects such areas as landuse control, protection of wetlands, endangered species, water and air pollution. Students are required to do a project paper evaluating environmental impact statements in terms of the various statutes and regulations. $\dagger \dagger$685. Special Topics. 685.2-685.4, 2-6 hr.; 24 cr . Special topics in various areas of cellular, developmental, environmental, or evolutionary biology to be taken by arrangement with the instructor and graduate adviser. This course is designed primarily for students entering the M .A. program, particularly from other institutions, and must be taken during the first year of graduate study. $\dagger \dagger$

Business and Liberal Arts (BALA)

Academic D irector: Stuart Prall
Administrative D irector: Barbara Sandler
Advisory Committee: Edelstein, Erickson, H anlon, H ill
Secretary: Evelyn H urr
Office: Kissena H all 315, 997-2860, Fax 520-7659

Business and Liberal Arts is a rigorous, interdisciplinary minor for the liberal arts major. Conceived and planned in response to the results of a corporate survey undertaken by the Q ueens C ollege C orporate Advisory Board in 1986, BALA is designed to help students build bridges between the liberal arts and business. Study of the liberal arts and performance in the corporate world both depend on the ability to communicate in person and on paper, to analyze and solve problems, and to share ideas with colleagues. BALA makes explicit those capacities long associated implicitly with a liberal arts education. Consistent with the tradition of the liberal arts, BALA marries the study of the arts and sciences with carefully selected exposure to basic business disciplines.

THE MINOR

The BALA minor consists of eight required three credit courses totalling 24 credits, which may betaken in conjunction with any major. See the box below for specific requirements for the minor.

Eligibility Requirements

$O$ nly a limited number of students can be admitted to the program each semester, since we must work within existing faculty resources while maintaining our commitment to small class size. Entrance is competitive and selective. Students will be selected for the program based on grade-point average, an essay, and an interview with the D irector. In conjunction with the Faculty Advisory Committee, the D irector shall make the decision on whether a student is admitted.

Requirements for the Minor in Business and Liberal Arts

Required ( $\mathbf{2 4}$ credits): BALA 100, 103W, 302W , and 303; Accounting 100, Financial and M anagerial Accounting; Computer Science 18, Computers with Business Applications; English 201W, Essay W riting for Special Fields: Writing for Business; and M edia Studies 165, O ral C ommunication in the W orkplace.

Retention Requirement

Retention in the BALA minor requires maintenance of a 3.0 overall GPA, and a 3.3 GPA in the required BALA courses.

Curriculum

Of the eight required courses, four provide an interdisciplinary, conceptual context for linking business and the liberal arts (Introductory Seminar, Law and Ethics of Business, Analytical Problem Solving and Decision M aking, Critical Thinking in Business); four make explicit how fundamental skills within the liberal arts are applicable to business (O ral Communication in the W orkplace, Computers with Business Applications, Financial and $M$ anagerial Accounting, Essay W riting for Special Fields).

100. Introductory Seminar in Business

 and Liberal Arts. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of D irector. Topics will vary from seminar to seminar according to the interests of the instructor. Assignments will include short papers and oral presentations related to the seminar topic. (This course is limited to students enrolled in the BALA minor.)103W. Critical Thinking in Business. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Limited to students enrolled in BALA minor. Introduces students to effective reasoning as used in business. Students will learn how to define issues, ask key questions, clarify assumptions, evaluate evidence, avoid stereotypes, assess risk and opportunity, and resolve conflicts. Examples are selected from domestic and international business contexts.
302W. Law and Ethics of Business. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: BALA 100 and junior or senior standing. An examination of legal issues concerning rights, liabilities, and obligations in corporate life, as well as the ethical obligations of businesses. Included will be analyses of selected law cases illustrative of the ethical as well as legal problems arising for both domestic and transnational corporations. (This course is limited to students enrolled in the BALA minor.)
303. Analytical Problem Solving and Decision Making in Business. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: C omputer Science 18, Accounting 100, and BALA 103. An introduction to problem solving in business utilizing selected case histories.

Emphasis will be placed on the importance of using a broad base of general knowledge and a wide variety of approaches and techniques to decision making. (This course is limited to students enrolled in the BALA minor.)
391. Business Internship. 391.1: 45 hr . work experience plus 3 hr . conference; 1 cr . 391.2: 80 hr . work experience plus 5 hr . of conference; 2 cr . 391.3: 120 hr . work experience plus 8 hr . of conference; 3 cr . Prereq.: Satisfactory completion of five BALA courses and permission of BALA D irector. Participation required in workshops in resume prepa ration and job interview skills. Participation in the internship may be contingent upon a successful interview at the sponsoring organization. Interns are expected to perform managerial tasks with emphasis on writing, speaking, computing, and critical thinking. Students will be supervised by a faculty adviser. The 391 courses may be taken in any combination up to a maximum of 6 credits.
BALA is not a business administration minor, but rather a liberal arts program dedicated to building a bridge between business and the university. All guidelines regarding Q ueens College requirements and LASAR apply to the BALA minor. BALA 103W, BALA 302W and English 201W fulfill one unit of the W riting Intensive requirement. No BALA courses, including C omputer Science 18, fulfills any LASAR requirement.

Departmental Awards

M itsui U SA Scholarships are two $5,000 scholarships that are awarded annually to students enrolled in their last two years of study in the Business and Liberal Arts (BALA) minor. Applicants should show interest in international business and its cultural environment, as demonstrated by their chosen course of study, special research projects or papers, and participation in organizations or events related to international commerce. O ther criteria include strong academic performance, financial circumstances, and community activities. Applicants must be U. S. citizens or permanent residents (student visa status not eligible). These scholarships are funded by the M itsui USA Foundation on behalf of the trading company M itsui & C 0 . (USA), Inc.

Byzantine & Modern Greek Studies

D irector: H arry J. PsomiadesProgram Coordinator: Effie Lekas

Advisory C ommittee: Bird, Frangakis-Syrett, Lewine, M anicas, Picken, Schneider
O ffice: Jefferson H all 301, 997-4520
M ajor Offered: Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies (State Education C ode 84212)

The program offers a structured body of courses, drawn from theD ivision of the Arts and the Division of the Social Sciences, leading to a major in Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies. It is designed to provide a detailed knowledge of the history, language and literature, institutions, customs, and culture of the $G$ reek people from Byzantinetimes to the present. Program offerings are divided into the following categories: A) Byzantine Studies, B) M odern Greek Studies, C) M odern G reek Literatureand Culture, D) Greek-American Studies.

Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies should be of special interest to those students who have either a cultural or profes sional interest in the $G$ reek experience, and to those seeking to understand a culture and civilization other than their own. Because the program draws from several disciplines, it provides insights into the unity of knowledge and is an excellent choice as a second major. It provides the background for graduate work in Byzantine and/or M odern G reek Studies and may lead to careers in education, community organization and development, social work, business, journalism, and international affairs.

Departmental Award

Byzantine and M odern G reek Studies offers the C onstantinos Paparrigopoulos Prize of $$ 750$ annually to a graduating senior for excellence in this subject.

THE MAJOR

See the box on page 73 for the specific requirements for the major.

T ransfer students must take a minimum of 18 credits in the program regardless of the number of credits earned at another institution in Byzantine and M odern G reek Studies. Students with two majors, including Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies, may not cross-list more than 12 credits toward the 36credit requirement. $M$ ajors are encouraged to confer with the D irector of the program at all stages of their studies. A concentration form should be filed with the program during the junior year. Students are advised to consult the program's Student H andbook for a detailed description of courses offered each semester.

THE MINOR

See the box on page 73 for the specific requirements for the minor.

Elementary and Early Childhood Education majors may use Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies to meet the department's requirement for a major ( 36 credits) in another field.

COURSE SEQUENCE

Introductory

The courses below are introductions to the major categories of Byzantine and M odern G reek Studies. Students are advised to complete these courses by the end of their sophomore year.

COURSES

100．Modern Greek Culture and Civiliza－

tion． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．From the fall of Constan－ tinople（1453）to the present，a survey of the political，intellectual，and social currents of Greak life．

101．Byzantine Culture and Civilization． 3

 hr．； 3 cr ．A survey of the political，religious， intellectual，and social currents of Byzantine life．
102．The Greek－American Community． 3

hr．； 3 cr ．An interdisciplinary study of the Greek experience in America，drawing upon works of history，sociology，and literature． The internal structures of Greek communi－ ties；the family，religion，culture，education， and the economic order；their participation in the decision－making process and their relation to the ideology of the＂melting pot＂and the rise of＂neoethnicity．＂
200．Greek Cinema． 4 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．： GRST 100 or permission of the instructor． This course examines a major aspect of the development of the Greek cinema as an expression of the formation of $G$ reek culture in the twentieth century．The films screened change annually．In addition to the $G$ reek

Requirements for the Major in Byzantine \＆Modern Greek Studies

M inimum of 36 credits in Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies，including GRST 100；GRST 101 or 102；two courses each from three of the four categories listed under intermediate courses；and a seminar，for a total of 27 credits．（If category $D$ is chosen，one of the courses must be a general course on ethnicity．）The introductory courses in each category are a prerequisite for the intermedi－ ate courses，tutorials，and seminars in each category．Exemptions from this rule may be given by the Director with concurrence of the instructor．Tutorials，colloquia，and seminars not listed in the pro－ gram but in which the student demonstrates a significant research effort on a Byzantine or Greck theme may，with the Director＇s approval，fulfill the research requirement or be offered as an elective．
$M$ ajors must also take four semesters of $M$ odern $G$ reek or pass a proficiency examination in M odern Greek equivalent to the intermediate level．Students who plan to concentrate in Byzantine Studies may offer four semesters of Ancient Greek or its equivalent．Up to 3 credits of Ancient or M odern Greek through the intermediate level may be used toward the 36 －credit requirement for the major．

Requirements for the Minor in Byzantine \＆Modern Greek Studies

M inimum of 18 credits in Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies，including GRST 100；GRST 101 or 102；out of the four categories listed，two courses from one and one course from another，for a total of 15 credits．
Students also must take four semesters of M odern Greek or pass a proficiency examination in M od－ ern Greek，equivalent to the intermediate level．Students who plan to concentrate in Byzantine Studies may offer four semesters of Ancient Greek or its equivalent．Up to 3 credits of Ancient or M odern Greek through the intermediate level may be used toward the 18 －credit requirement for the minor． cinema，the course will discuss the varying foreign aesthetic schools and directors that have influenced filmmakers in G reece．
201．Colloquium on the Greek－American Community． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．Prereq．：G RST 102 or permission of instructor．The topic studied will vary from semester to semester and will be announced in advance．$M$ ay be repeated once for credit provided the topic is not the same．A student may not use GRST 201 twice to satisfy the requirement for two cours－ es in category D．See program office for details．

202．Selected Topics in Byzantine and

Modern Greek Studies． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．The sub－ ject to be studied will vary from semester to semester and will be announced in advance． $M$ ay be repeated for credit provided the sub－ ject is not the same．

300．Seminar on the Greek－American

 Community． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．Prereq．：G RST 102， one course from category D，sophomores and above only．Supervised research on the G reek－ American community．The seminar is designed to assist students in the analysis and interpretation of selected survey areas pertain－ ing to the $G$ reek－American community，and will entail contacts with community organiza tions．See program office for details．
301．Seminar in Byzantine and Modern

 Greek Studies． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：Permis－ sion of program D irector．An intensive study in a selected field of Byzantine and $M$ odern Greek Studies．The subject to be studied will vary and will be announced in advance．This course may be repeated for credit provided the subject is not the same．390．Tutorials． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：Upper junior or senior standing and permission of the program D irector．Students undertake and complete an individual research problem in their field of special interest under the direction of an instructor in the program．

M ajor Offered: Chemistry (State Education Code 02794)

The faculty members of the department have a strong commitment to both teaching and research, and undergraduate students are strongly encouraged to become involved in our research programs.

The major in chemistry or chemistry-biochemistry track prepares students for graduate study in these fields, professional schools of medicine, dentistry, and other health-related professions, careers in the chemical and biotechnology industries, and for secondary school teaching.

Several courses offered by the department fulfill LASAR requirements. Requirements for a major in several other departments within the Division of $M$ athematics and and $N$ atural Sciences include chemistry courses.

Thedepartment is accredited by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society as qualified to offer professional training to chemists.

Departmental Awards

The Chemistry and Biochemistry Department awards the following prizes: the Stanley G. Konkol Memorial Award in Chemistry is provided by the parents and friends of Stanley G. K onkol, Q ueens C ollege C lass of 1954; approximately $$ 500$ is awarded to a graduating chemistry major planning to do graduate work in either chemistry or biochemistry. The H erman Schulz Memorial Award in Chemistry $($ 1,000)$ is funded by an endowment established by M rs. Rose Baron Schulz in memory of her husband. The recipient is to be a graduating departmental major, selected on the basis of excellence in scholarship and leadership, and one who is planning a career in chemistry or biochemistry. The
M axwell L. Eidinoff Scholarship was established by the Eidinoff family, friends, students, and colleagues on the occasion of his retirement after 44 years of teaching at the College; an award of $$ 250$ is offered annually to a graduating senior who has maintained an outstanding academic record, has contributed to the best interests of the department, and is planning to do graduate work. The Ira M.
Goldin Memorial Award of $$ 500$, in memory of a student who died in September 1966, is presented to a graduating major who has been accepted into medical school. The Trudy Rothman Chemistry Award is provided by M rs. G. P. Rothman and family to encourage academic excellence. The award is to be presented to a graduating chemistry major who demonstrated continued improvement and maintained a very good academic record. The Chemistry and Biochemistry Department Service Award may be given annually to a graduating senior for outstanding service to the department. The American Institute of Chemists Award is a medal awarded on the basis of excellence in scholarship and leadership to students planning careers in chemistry or chemical engineering. The Merck Index Award is given to a graduating chemistry major whose qualifications are determined by the faculty of the department. The Lenore F. M eadows M emorial Award, in memory of a faculty member who died in April 1967, consisting of books selected by the recipient, is provided by the family, faculty, students, and friends.

THE MAJOR

See the box on page 75 for the specific requirements for the major.

Students must have a grade of C- or higher in the courses specified as prerequisites. To graduate as a chemistry major, a student must earn at least a C average (2.0) for all courses that make up the concentration in chemistry.

Students who repeat a course in chemistry are reminded that credit can be received only once.

Evening students should consult with the Evening Session Coordinator.

Biochemistry Track

The biochemistry track is designed to train chemistry majors with an interest in chemical approaches to living systems and health-related problems. Seethe box on page 75 for the specific requirements for this track.

Students interested in obtaining information about the biochemistry track as well as other information related to a major in chemistry are urged to obtain a copy of the C hemistry D epartment Undergraduate Student H andbook and consult with the concentration adviser and the department faculty for more details about the various opportunities available.

B.A.-M.A. Program

The four-year B.A.-M .A. program in biochemistry and chemistry is described in the C hemistry D epartment Undergraduate Student H andbook, available in the department office.

M ajors who want to be certified by the American Chemical Society as having successfully completed an approved undergraduate program in chemistry should consult with a department concentration adviser on the choice of 12 credits beyond Chemistry 366. A similar conference is strongly advised for chemistry majors who plan to do graduate work in chemistry or biochemistry.

THE MINOR

See the box on page 75 for the specific requirements for the minor.

Science Education Minor

Chemistry majors who plan to teach general science and chemistry should consult the science education adviser in the Secondary Education D epartment (Klapper 310, 997-5150) on the selection of the 12 additional credits beyond Chemistry 366.

Transfer Students

All transfer students who plan to take chemistry courses beyond the first course must provide proof of having completed with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better the prerequisite courses. Students are advised to schedule the evaluation prior to their registration. The department will accept an official grade report or a student copy of the transcript. Students must also provide an official bulletin from the college where the work in chemistry was done.

M ajors in chemistry must complete at least half of their chemistry concentration requirements in the department.

COURSES

The department offers a number of courses for the entering student. To fulfill the LASAR requirements, Chem 16, C hemistry in M odern Society (lecture only, 3 hours, 3 credits), taken in combination with Chem 17, Chemistry for the Consumer (lab only, 3 hours, 1 credit), satisfies the Physical & Biological Sciences, Group A requirement. Chem 16 taken alone satisfies the $G$ roup $B$ requirement.

The sequence C hem 19, 159, 179 (Basic Chemistry, Basic O rganic Chemistry, and Basic Biochemistry) consists of courses tailored for FN ES students, but are open to all students, starting with the Chem 19. (N ote: 159 and 179 have prerequisites.) Chem 19 satisfies the Group A LASAR requirement.

For the science major, pre-medical or preengineering student, Chem 113, Introductory C ollege Chemistry I, is the first course in the appropriate chemistry sequence. The department offers a variety of aids for $G$ eneral Chemistry and O rganic C hemistry students, including problem-solving videotapes, computer software, and peer tutoring sessions. C hem 113 satisfies the G roup A LASAR requirement.

If you are uncertain about which chemistry course is appropriate for you, please see a department adviser.
11. Chemistry for Today. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: $O$ pen to ACE and LEAP students only. A nonmathematical introduction to chemistry to provide some understanding of the chemical aspects of issues that confront today's citizen. The laboratory class will provide firsthand experience in various chemical techniques. M AT charge, $$ 18$.
16. Chemistry in Modern Society. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . (N ot open to students who havetaken Chemistry 19, 58, 59, 111, 112, 113, 114.) A survey of chemistry designed to acquaint nonscientists with aspects of the subject of interest and concern to the average citizen. The course provides an introduction to atoms and molecules and to chemical reactions that play a significant role in modern life. Included in this treatment are discussions of important types of molecules found in living systems. T opics such as the genetic code and recombinant DNA techniques ("genetic engineering"); the role of hormones in plants, animals, and insects; the nature of genetic diseases, viruses, the cancer problem, and chemotherapy are among those considered. The course deals with aspects of chemical technology and chemical aspects of our environmental problems. In this connection, energy resources, material resources, and the role of synthetic and analytical procedures are considered. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
17. Chemistry for the Consumer. 3 lab. hr.; 1 cr . Prereq. or coreq.: Chemistry 16. Provides a firsthand laboratory experience of chemistry-based products and processes. The emphasis of the course is to provide a basis of knowledge for the average consumer. Students prepare and/or analyze consumer products such as cold creams, cereals, headache tablets, and cleansers as well as investigate the chemical behavior and manufacture of substances such as plastics, acids, fertilizers, and insecticides. Processes such as photography, dyeing, painting, and printing form the basis of a number of laboratory sessions. Students also learn how chemicals can be used to generate electricity (cells and batteries) and how solar energy can be trapped using chemical principles. M AT charge, $$ 18$. (PBGA) Fall, Spring

Requirements for the Major in Chemistry

Required: Chemistry 113 and 114 (or equivalents), 241, 251, 252, 361, 362, 365, 366, M ath 111, 112, and 201 (or equivalents), and Physics 121 and 122 (or equivalents), and 12 additional credits in the natural sciences and/or mathematics. At least six of the 12 additional credits must be advanced chemistry courses (Chemistry 375 and those with Chemistry 361 as a pre or corequisite) and must include some laboratory work. Any science courses other than chemistry to be included must be more advanced than the first year's work, and any math courses to be included must be advanced courses that have M athematics 201 as a prerequisite.

Biochemistry Track

Required: Chemistry 113 and 114 (or equivalents), 241, 251, 252, 361, and 365, M ath 111 and 112 (or equivalents), and 201, and Physics 121 and 122 (or equivalents); C hemistry 375, 376, 377, 378, 379; Biology 107, 108, and 286.

Requirements for the Minor in Chemistry

Required: Introductory Chemistry (Chemistry 113 and 114, or equivalent, 111, 112, and 114 or 119), O rganic Chemistry (Chemistry 251 and 252), and Analytical Chemistry I (Chemistry 241). Chemistry 241 may be replaced by other courses with approval of the department. (N ote: A prerequisite for Chemistry 113 is M athematics 122 . Such a course is therefore a requirement for a minor in chemistry.)
19. Basic Chemistry. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: $M$ ath 6 or equival ent. An introductory course for students who do not intend to take courses beyond Chemistry 79. Chemistry 19 prepares students for entry into Chemistry 58 or 59. M AT charge, $$ 18$. (PBGA) Fall, Spring
111. Preliminary Chemistry. 1 lec., 3 rec. hr.; 2 cr . Prereq.: M ath 6 or equivalent. Emphasizes problem-solving strategies and techniques in the context of basic chemistry topics such as the mole concept, stoichiometry, solutions, gas laws, and an introduction to atomic structure. Chemistry 111 prepares the student for Chemistry 113. Fall, Spring
113, 114. General Chemistry I, II. 3 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 5 cr . each semester. Prereq.: For Chemistry 114, a grade of C- or better in C hemistry 113 and $M$ athematics 10 . This is the standard introductory sequence for students interested in physical science, biology, pre-engineering, pre-medical, and pre-dental programs. It is designed to provide a thorough knowledge of facts and theory essential for subsequent advanced courses. A previous knowledge of chemistry is not required; however, adequate high school preparation in basic science and mathematics is essential. M AT charge, $18. (113, PBGA; 114, PBGB) Fall, Spring
115, 116. Introductory College Chemistry. C hemistry 115: 3 lec., 1 rec. hr.; 4 cr .; C hemistry 116: 3 lec., 1 rec., 6 lab. hr.; 6 cr. Prereq.: For Chemistry 116, a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better in C hemistry 115 and $M$ athematics 100 , or 101, or 111. The equivalent of Chemistry 113 and 114 , but with all the laboratory work in the second semester. $\dagger \dagger$
159. Basic Organic Chemistry. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Chemistry 19 or equivalent with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better. A one-semester survey of organic chemistry, intended for majors in home economics, nutrition, biology-education, health-education, and other health-related fields, and also for nonscience majors. M AT charge, $\$ 25$. (PBGB) Fall, Spring

Note: English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pp. 34, 109).
†O ffered either Fall or Spring; see Class Schedule. $\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered; see Class Schedule.
179. Basic Biochemistry. 2 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Chemistry 19 and 59 (or equivalents). A study of the structure, properties, and metabolism of the major groups of biological importance, with special emphasis on the role of those compounds required in diet: proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, nucleic acids, and vitamins. In addition to presenting the chemistry of major cellular constituents, the course will also cover enzymology, the metabolism of carbohydrates, proteins, lipids, nucleic acids, and important nutrients. Problems of metabolic regulation in relation to nutrient intake will also be discussed. N ot open to chemistry majors. M AT charge, $18. Fall, Spring
240. Environmental Chemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Chemistry 114, 116, or 119 with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher. Study of environmental quality from a chemical point of view, including the atmosphere, hydrosphere, heavy metals in the environment, problems of solid waste disposal, food additives, and energy production and conservation. Fall
241. Analytical Chemistry I. 3 lec., 4 lab. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: A grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 114,116 , or 119 . The study of the theory and techniques of quantitative determination by gravimetric, volumetric, and instrumental methods. M AT charge, \$18. Fall, Spring
251, 252. Organic Chemistry I, II. 3 lec., 1 rec., 4 lab. hr.; 5 cr . each semester. Prereq.: For Chemistry 251, a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 114, 116, or 119; for Chemistry 252, a grade of C- or higher in C hemistry 251. The structure, preparation, properties, and reactions of the principal classes of organic compounds. M AT charge, $\$ 25$. Fall, Spring
331. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: G rade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 252 and 361 . A survey of the fundamental aspects of inorganic chemistry designed to acquaint the student with the electronic structure of atoms and molecules, bonding, structure, group theory, spectroscopy, and the kinetics and mechanisms of inorganic reactions. Fall
342. Analytical Chemistry II: Instrumental Analysis. 2 lec., 6 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: A grade of C- or higher in Chemistry 241; prereq. or coreq.: C hemistry 361 . Q uantitative determinations using instrumental methods. Laboratory experiments utilizing commercially available instruments are included. M AT charge, $$ 25$. Spring
354. Advanced Organic Chemistry. 2 lec.,

1 rec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: A grade of C- or higher in Chemistry 252 and 365; prereq. or coreq.: Chemistry 362. M echanisms of organic reactions, thermodynamics and chemical equilibrium, stereochemical problems, and polycyclic and heterocyclic compounds. Fall
361, 362. Physical Chemistry I, II. 3 hr.; 3 cr. each semester. Prereq.: For C hemistry 361 , Physics 122 or 146, M athematics 201, C hemistry 114, 116, or 119 with a grade of C - or higher; for C hemistry 362, a grade of C- or higher in Chemistry 361. An introduction to such topics as thermodynamics, equilibrium, electrochemistry, kinetics, quantum theory, spectroscopy, and atomic theory. 361, Fall; 362, Spring

363. Selected Topics in Advanced Physical

 Chemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: A grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 362. Selected topics from quantum chemistry, kinetic theory, statistical thermodynamics, and their applications. $\dagger$365, 366. Physical Chemistry Laboratory I, II. 1 rec., 4 lab. hr.; 2 cr. each semester. Prereq. or coreq.: For C hemistry 365, C hemistry 241 and 361; prereq.: For Chemistry 366, C hemistry 365; prereq. or coreq.: For 366, Chemistry 362. An introduction to experimental techniques. M AT charge, $\$ 25.365$, Fall; 366, Spring
375. Introduction to Biochemistry. 4 lec. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: A grade of C- or higher in Chemistry 252 and in Biology 107 or 108, or permission of instructor. Structure, properties, biosynthesis, and metabolism of major groups of compounds of biological importance: proteins, amino acids, nucleic acids, carbohydrates, lipids, and vitamins. Fall, Spring

376. Introductory Biochemistry Labora-

tory. 1 rec., 4 lab. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: Chemistry 361 and a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 252; coreq.: C hemistry 375. Experimental study of selected biochemical processes; enzyme kinetics; biological oxidations; use of radioactive tracers; chromatographic separation and purification of major types of natural substances. M AT charge, \$25. Fall, Spring
377. Advanced Biochemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: A grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 361,375 , or permission of department. Biosynthesis especially of macromolecules and complex cellular constituents such as membranes. Specialized topics of current interest. Spring
378. Physical Biochemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: A grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher in Chemistry 361; prereq. or coreq.: Chemistry
375. Structure and conformation of proteins, nucleic acids, and other biopolymers; physical techniques for study of macromolecules; behavior and properties of biopolymers. $\dagger$
379. Biophysical Chemistry Laboratory. 1 rec., 4 lab. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: G rade of Cor higher in Chemistry 361 and 365; prereq. or coreq.: C hemistry 378. Application of physical chemical techniques to the study of biomolecular properties, including molecular conformations, kinetic and thermodynamic aspects of ligand binding, redox properties and separation techniques. M AT charge, $$ 25 . \dagger$
380. Selected Topics in Biochemistry. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C hemistry 377 or permission of instructor. In-depth treatment of topics such as recombinant D N A technology, biochemistry of cancer, membrane structure and function, control and regulation in metabolic processes, bioinorganic chemistry. $\dagger$
381. Seminar. 2 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: Permission of the department. Topics for each semester announced in advance. O ffered primarily for seniors. Fall, Spring
386. Physical Methods of Structure Determination. 3 lec. hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: C hemistry 252. A survey of the main methods for determining the structures of compounds from physical measurements. Interpretation of data from infrared and mass spectrometry as well as nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometry, including the use of two dimensional $N$ M R techniques. Discussion of other physical methods such as x-ray diffraction and ultravi-olet-visible spectroscopy. Spring
387. Advanced Integrated Laboratory and Introduction to Research Techniques. 1 rec., 5 lab. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq. or coreq.: Chemistry 331,386 , and either 362 or 378 . The synthesis, separation, and characterization of both inorganic and organic substances using advanced laboratory techniques such as syringe procedures for working in air-free systems, vacuum distillation and sublimation, use of liquid ammonia, chromatographic techniques of separation, and soxhlet extraction. H ands-on use of Fourier transform infrared and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers, and use of circular dichroism and fluorescence spectrometers. M AT charge, $25. Spring
391. Special Problems. 3-9 hr. to be arranged; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. This offering is not of the usual classroom type. It permits a student to undertake a minor research problem under the direction of a faculty member in the department.

The purpose is to effect the transition from experiments for which the outcome is known to designing and doing experiments in order to secure the information necessary to solve a problem.

Admission to Chemistry 391 is by permission of the C hair or a designated adviser on the basis of the student's previous work and the belief of the adviser and at least one instructor that the student can profit from the research experience. O nce permission is secured, the student talks with several faculty members about their research interests and possible research problems. By mutual agreement of the student and faculty member, the student becomes part of an ongoing research group. In this course, the time and duration of the work is arranged with the supervising faculty member. In general there is not the usual correlation of scheduled "laboratory hours" and credits; rather, the student will find that research demands a continued ongoing effort. Reports are written on the work performed and are judged by the faculty.

This work is done in addition to other advanced course work in the department: generally one more appropriate advanced courses in Chemistry and/or Biochemistry should be taken along with undergraduate research. M AT charge, $$ 25$. Fall, Spring

Classical, Middle Eastern & Asian Languages & Cultures

Associate Professors: Lidov, Spectorsky; Assistant Professors: Cook, Kim, Le, M cClure, Shu, Sukhu; Lecturer: Acker; D epartment Secretary: Silverman; Professors Emeriti: Gries, Solomon, Wu
M ajors $\mathbf{O}$ ffered: Ancient G reek (State Education Code 02754), Latin (State Education Code 02753), H ebrew (State Education C ode 02755), and Yiddish (State Education Code 10099)
The department offers courses in five areas:
Arabic, Islamic, and M iddle Eastern Studies
Asian Studies: Chinese (Classical and M odern $M$ andarin), J apanese, and K orean
Classics, Ancient Greek, and Latin
Hebrew: Ancient, Medieval, and M odern; Sephardic and Israeli Culture Yiddish*

Cultural knowledge, along with the ability to use a foreign language, are essential components of a liberal arts education. In addition to language courses, the faculty offer a wide variety of literature and culture courses both in English and in foreign languages. Students who already know the languages are able to take advanced courses to enrich their understanding of the humanities in these traditions; sequences of such courses can become important components of interdisciplinary concentrations, minors, or double-majors that complement a student's primary field of study. "In-translation" courses give students an understanding of the ancient $W$ estern and Asian classics and of various modern Asian, M iddle Eastern, and M editerranean cultures. These courses can serve as valuable supplements to work in other departments such as Art, Comparative Literature, English, H istory, and Philosophy. They can also complement course work in fields where knowledge of Classical, M iddle Eastern, and Asian cultures and languages can be an important component; these include Anthropology, Economics, Linguistics, Political Science, Urban Studies, and W omen's Studies. The department stresses the importance of critical thinking, research and writing skills for all undergraduates; we work with students to develop interdisciplinary concentrations, minors, or double-majors linked to a diverse range of interests, fields of study, and professional orientations. In addition, we work closely with other departments and programs to sponsor visiting international writers and scholars in order to explore and emphasize a broad range of global issues.

M ajor programs are available in C lassics, Ancient G reek, Latin, H ebrew, and Yiddish.* Chinese, Japanese, and K orean are part of the Asian Studies major; H ebrew and Yiddish are part of the Jewish Studies major. Students can minor in any of the areas of the department.

Departmental Awards

The C lassical, M iddle Eastern, and Asian Languages and Cultures Department awards prizes for excellence in language and literature study in the department.

Writing Through Cultures

The D epartment of Classical, M iddle Eastern, and Asian Languages and Cultures offers an alternative, three-course program called $W$ riting T hrough Cultures, which is another way to satisfy four separate requirements: the C ollege writing requirement (equivalent to English 120) and the H umanities I Tier 1, H umanities I Tier 2, and H umanities III LASAR requirements. This program encourages students to study one culture in depth - choosing from ancient and modern cultures from various parts of the world - while learning to perfect their writing abilities.

To enroll in the W riting Through Cultures program, students must apply in advance to a department area adviser or to the department writing program coordinator and agree on a sequence of three courses in one area of the student's interest. These courses are taught in English. Typical sequences might be:
C hinese: 0 riental Studies 140, 220, 221; Comparative Literature 220, 221; Chinese 240
Japanese: O riental Studies 140, 220, 221;
Comparative Literature 220, 221; Japanese 250
Classical Greece & Rome: Classics 120, 130, 140, 150, 240, 250

[^9]Ancient Greek: Classics 120, 140, 250
The M iddle East: Arabic 150, 160; H ebrew 150, 155
The Hebrew Tradition: H ebrew 150, 155, 160
M odern Jewish C ulture: Yiddish 150, 161; H ebrew 150, 155

W e expect to add more courses in the near future, including some to make possible concentrations in K orean, the Islamic Tradition, and M odern Israeli Culture. A student's sequence may include one advanced literature course in the language of the culture studied, but all writing must be done in English.

Cities and Civilizations, an interdisciplinary sequence of courses looking at world cultures through the study of great cities, will be offered as a pilot program and will also be a component of Writing Through Cultures.

Students enrolled in the W riting Program will receive special assignments and writing instruction in each of the courses - short assignments in the first course and a major term paper in the third. Their participation in the program will be noted on their records, and upon completion of the third course, the Registrar will be notified that the LASAR and English skills requirements have been satisfied.

The program is open only to students who have completed or are exempt from English 110. The department may restrict admission to the program, and may limit the sequences offered on the basis of course availability. Students who do not complete the sequence will fulfill only the requirements which are satis fied by the courses they do complete, as listed in the College Bulletin.

No foreign language knowledge required. (H3)

Coordinator and Adviser: Susan A. Spectorsky

A rabic language study stresses the reading and comprehension of M odern Standard Arabic. After completing Arabic 204, advanced students may wish to pursue writing and speaking skills as well. Students are introduced to graded modern reading selections in Arabic 102. In Arabic 203, students read short classical texts in addition to ungraded modern selections. From Arabic 204 on, students' command of syntax and morphology enables them to choose to begin to study either classical or modern literature. Courses in English introduce students to masterpieces of Arabic literature and to the historical and cultural development of the civilization of Islam. See the box on page 79 for the requirements for the minor in Arabic.

Course Placement

Placement in basic language courses is subject to permission of the instructor.

Chinese

The program of instruction in Chinese has three parts. The first two years are intended to introduce the student to the basic sentence patterns of M andarin and to C hinese characters: the first year emphasizes the spoken language, the second year emphasizes the written language as it is used to transcribe the spoken language. The third year is an introduction to the classical language through the study of classical grammar and classical texts. The fourth year provides the student with a selection of reading courses that reinforce the student's experience with both the spoken and classical languages through the reading of dramas, essays, historical texts, and fiction. The reading selections from the second year on are intended to acquaint the student with the civilization of China through the study of secondary and primary materials. See the box on this page for the requirements for the minor in Chinese.

Course Placement

Students with no background in the Chinese language begin with Chinese 101. Students who have learned Chinese characters through their study of Japanese or K orean may enter C hinese 250 with the permission of the instructor. All others, whether native speakers or not, should consult the department for correct placement.

Japanese

TheJ apanese language program focuses on communicativeJ apanese. While students are expected to learn reading and writing, much of the introductory sequence is designed to emphasize the skills of speaking, listening, and interacting with other speakers of J apanese. Elementary J apanese (Japanese 101-102) assumes no background. Students are introduced to the fundamentals of the modern language with particular emphasis on the control of basic grammatical patterns. Students use hiragana and katakana and a limited number of Chinese characters. Intermediate J apanese (Japanese 203-204) continues to develop all language skills with an increasing emphasis on reading and writing. Students are also introduced to literary J apanese. The Japanese language courses are all taught with a combination of lectures in English and conversation sections with native speakers in J apanese.

THE MINOR

See the box on page 81 for the requirements for the minor in Japanese. Students who wish to take the minor should consult with the adviser for Japanese.

Course Placement

Students who have no previous knowledge of the J apanese language must begin with Japanese 101. Students who have had previous training should consult with the instructor for correct placement.

TheJ apanese Program is now coordinating its curriculum with high school Japanese programs in the N ew York City public schools. Students who have passed the N ew York State Comprehensive Examination in Japanese should be able to enter directly into Japanese 203. ## Classics, Ancient Greek, and Latin

Coordinator and Adviser: Joel B. Lidov
The Classics section offers Classics courses in English and beginning and advanced courses in Latin and in Ancient Greek. In the Classics courses students learn about the literature and civilization of the ancient world as it is presented in the original writings of ancient poets, historians, orators, and philosophers. All reading is done in translation. The Greek and Latin courses provide students with a reading knowledge of the ancient languages. The first year is largely devoted to forms, grammar, and short practice passages. Continuous reading is introduced in the second year.

Majors in Ancient Greek and Latin

See the box on page 82 for the specific requirements for the majors in Ancient Greak and Latin and the minor in Classical Studies. To be graduated with a major in Ancient Greek or Latin, students must attain a C average in the courses composing their major.

Course Placement

Students who have had previous training in Latin or Ancient G reek should consult the department. N ote that G reek 251 has no pre requisites and is the beginner's course for all students who have not had any formal instruction in Ancient Greak.

Requirements for the Minor in Japanese

Yiddish

Coordinator and Adviser: Emanuel S. Goldsmith

The department offers courses in Yiddish Ianguage, literature, and culture, including courses in English translation. The courses in Yiddish language aim to develop students' ability to read, write, comprehend, and speak Yiddish.

These courses al so introduce students to the history of the Yiddish language and its literature and to major themes of the J ewish experience. The literature and culture courses, some of which are offered in English, seek to deepen students' knowledge of those significant aspects of Jewish civilization which, during the past thousand years, found expression in the Yiddish language. Advanced courses are intended for students with interest in Yiddish teaching, scholarship, and journalism, as well as for those interested in other Jewish studies, including H ebrew language and literature, Jewish history, Jewish thought, and the sociology of the Jewish community. Students are encouraged to partake of the rich Yiddish cultural life of New York City and to participate in the program of the Yiddish Culture Club at Queens C ollege.

See the box below for the requirements for the major and minor in Yiddish.

Study Abroad

The department encourages and offers credit for Yiddish studies pursued at accredited institutions of learning in Europe and Israel.

Course Placement

Students who al ready have a background in Yiddish should consult the Coordinator for correct placement.

Comparative Literature

C hair: Clare C arroll
D ept. Office: Kiely 310, 997-5690
D istinguished Visiting Professor: G hosh;
Professor: K leinbard; Associate Professors: Ahmed, C arroll, M artin; Assistant Professors: Flores, Rupprecht; D epartment Secretary: Lewis

M ajor O ffered: Comparative Literature (State Education Code 02766)

The comparative literature program includes courses taught by faculty from all the language and literature departments and from anthropology. It offers students the opportunity to study literary texts in their historical, social, and cultural contexts. Courses frequently include works of philosophy, history, psychology, anthropology, and the cinema. They aim to help students learn to read and write critically, with greater pleasure and understanding. M ajors can prepare for graduate study and work in such fields as law, education, publishing, writing, and translation. Because major requirements overlap with those of English and the foreign languages, comparative literature is an excellent choice as one of two majors or as a minor.

Although comparative literature courses involve study of texts from many countries, all are read and taught in English.

Departmental Award

The Comparative Literature D epartment awards the Paul Zweig M emorial Award, which is provided by the parents and friends of Paul Zweig, who taught at Q ueens College from 1971 to 1984. It is given to the most deserving graduate who majors in Comparative Literature.

THE MAJOR

See the box on page 87 for the specific requirements for the major.

M ajors contemplating graduate work in comparative literature must have substantial reading knowledge of one foreign language and at least a beginning knowledge of a second. O ne of these should be French or German.

Comparative literature majors should consider related elective courses in such areas as English, anthropology, philosophy, and history.

THE MINOR

See the box on page 87 for the specific requirements for the minor. There is no language requirement for a comparative literature minor.

Course Offerings

C omparative literature courses fall into three groups: General Literature, Genre and Criticism, and Advanced Seminars.
General Literature: Comparative Literature 101 through 204 are introductory courses that present some of the major works forming a common reference for W estern literary traditions. Priority in registration will be given to freshmen.

Comparative Literature 211 through 231 represent a broad effort to stimulate the crossing of cultural frontiers. Courses are given in English, and all readings are done in English translation, although students who can read foreign literatures in the original are encouraged to do so. These courses provide basic preparatory work for comparative literature majors; broadening for literature and language majors and other majors in the arts; and cross-disciplinary and cross-cultural exploration for students in the social and natural sciences.
Genre and Criticism: Comparative Literature 331 to 341 are intended for more advanced work in comparative literature for all students.
Advanced Seminars: Comparative Literature 381 to 384 . Topics will vary from semester to semester. O pen to qualified students in other areas as well as to comparative literature majors and minors.

Required：Five elective courses in comparative literature，totaling 15 credits．T hese must include at least one chosen from Comp．Lit． 331 through 350，and one seminar（ 381 through 384）．Comp． Lit． 101 and 102，will not count toward the minor．

335．Problems in Drama． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Pre req．：At least one elective course in English or another literature．An intensive study of the works of one or more important dramatic authors．The author（s）and texts vary each semester．Students may take this course twice for credit，if the authors and works studied are different．（H 1T 2）
336．Forms of Fiction． $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$ ．Prereq．：At least one dective course in English or another literature．The novel，novella，short story，and other forms of prosefiction，with special emphasis on questions and problems of genre． The texts studied vary each semester．Students may take this course twice for credit，if the works studied are different．（H 1T 2）
337．Archetypes． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：At least one elective course in English or another liter－ ature．V arious recurrent themes，myths，and forms in literature，such as D on Juan，O rphe us，Faust；the quest，romance，pastoral．The texts studied in this course vary each semester． Students may take this course more than once for credit，if the topic is different．（H3）
tion． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．Prereq．：At least one elective course in English or another literature．Aims to provide a general overview of W estern liter－ atureto students who have al ready studied some of it，and who would liketo have an up－ per－level general course in literature．W orks will range from Gilgamesh to the present．$\dagger \dagger$
340．Literature and History． 3 hr ．； 3 cr ．Pre req．：O ne elective course in C omparative Lit－ erature or another Literature D epartment． The study of literature as history and history as literature．Students will learn how to read literary texts in relation to other forms of dis－ course within a given historical context，how to contextualize a text through historical research，and how to analyze the rhetoric of history．（H3）
341．Life Writing． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：O ne elective course in Comparative Literature or another Literature D epartment．A considera－ tion of various forms of life writing－includ－ ing autobiography，memoirs，diaries，journals， and testimonials－and the people who write them．（H1T2）

Additional courses are currently under consideration．

Note：English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses（see pp．34，109）．
$\dagger 0$ ffered either Fall or Spring；see Class Schedule． $\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered；see Class Schedule．

Advanced Seminars

381,381W, 382, 382W, 383, 383W, 384, 384W. Advanced Seminars. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: T hree elective courses in literature, reading knowledge of one foreign language, junior or senior standing, or permission of department. Exploration of important themes in literature, literary history, and criticism. Subject matter varies from semester to semester according to the interests and needs of students and teaching staff. N onmajors also admitted. (H 1T2) Fall, Spring

M ajors Offered: Computer Science (B.S.: State Education C ode 93111; B.A.: State Education Code 02706; Accelerated BA-M A: State Education Code 19797)
C omputers are used with increasing frequency as important tools for activity and research in engineering, the natural and social sciences, and the arts. Computers are involved in every aspect of life in our society; even people who have no direct need to use a computer have to deal with data produced or processed by computers or to make decisions based on such data.

In the undergraduate division, the department offers courses and facilities for a major in computer science leading to the B.A. or B.S. degree. A major has the necessary preparation for graduate work in the field and for employment in programming, systems analysis, and other computer-related professions. The department has enjoyed continuous and unsolicited requests from industry and government agencies for its majors.

In the graduate division, the department offers the M .A. degree and, in collaboration with other senior CUN Y colleges, the Ph.D. in computer science. (F or further details, see the department handbook.)

The minor in Computer Information Technology provides students with a background to use the computer as a tool for typical modern-day applications.

For those who do not want to major or minor in computer science, C omputer Science 12 provides an understanding of how problems are formulated for solution by a personal computer using popular software packages. C omputer Science 95 teaches introductory programming for students who have never used a computer, and serves as a first course for students considering a major in computer science.

Transfer Students

The normal first course in the major is Computer Science 95 (Prereq.: M athematics 8). Computer Science 100 is an advanced 2-credit alternative to Computer Science 95 intended for transfer students who have completed an introduction to computer sciencecourse, but who need to learn the programming language used in Computer Science 101. Transfer students should consult with a department adviser before registering.

Departmental Awards

The C omputer Science D epartment offers three awards to outstanding students who have been recommended by the department's H onors and Awards C ommittee. The Philip D rummond Memorial Award is given for excellent academic achievement; the Robert Spector M emorial Award is given for high academic skills and service to other students; and the Departmental Service Award is given for outstanding service to the department.

THE MAJORS AND MINORS

The department offers concentrations leading to either the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. The B.S. augments the B.A. with more computer science theory, mathematics, and experimental laboratory courses. Students must complete at least half of the courses for the major and half of the required computer science courses at QueensC ollege.

See the box on page 90 for the specific requirements for the majors and the minor.

Prerequisite Requirements

All courses in the major or minor must be completed with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better. A course may not serve as a prerequisite until it has been passed with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better. You will receive credit for the course only once

N ote: The department requires one grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better for each course, not an average grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - . Thus, receiving a $\mathbf{D}$ in a course and repeating it with a $\mathbf{C}$ - is satisfactory, even though the average of the two grades is less than $\mathbf{C}$-.

The C-minimum rule does not apply to prerequisites required for mathematics or physics courses.

B.A.-M.A. Program

The department offers an accelerated B.A.M .A. program. Interested students should contact the department or consult the web page for complete details.

Departmental Honors

Departmental honors are awarded to majors of outstanding academic performance who also complete at least 3 credits in Computer Science 391, 393, or 399; have a C omputer Science major GPA of 3.67; and overall GPA of 3.2.

COURSES

N ote that the middle digit of course numbers indicates the type of course rather than its level, as follows:

| M iddle D igit | Course T ype |
| :---: | :--- |
| 0 or 1 | Software |
| 2 or 3 | Foundations |
| 4 or 5 | Systems |
| 6 or 7 | M ethodology |

12. Understanding and Using Personal

Computers. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Two and one-half years of high school mathe matics, including intermediate algebra, or $M$ athematics 6 or 8 . H ands-on introduction to computers, computation, and the basics of computer hardware and software. Students will have experience during the instructed microcomputer lab with a number of software environments including an operating system, a word processor, a spreadsheet and a database package. The course will focus on problem solving and programming with the context of these packages. In addition, students will acquire the skills needed to learn other software packages on their own. $N$ ot open for credit to students who have taken Computer Science 18. (SQ)
18. Computers with Business Applications. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Admission to the Business and Liberal Arts minor. Fundamentals of computer hardware and software with emphasis on applications most used in business: spreadsheets, databasemanagement, word processing, communications. An important part of the course is an examination of the problems created for business and its customers by computer usage, including crime and invasion of privacy.
80. Problem Solving with Computers. 2 lec., 2 lab hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: CS 12. An introduction to computer science through problem solving, focusing on the methodology of problem solving rather than specific hardware or software tools. Students will learn how to select and use specific software tools advantageously. Lab exercises will exemplify the problem-solving methodology. (SQ)
81. HTML and WWW Programming. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: CS 80. Introduction to computer networks from a user's perspective and the W orld W ide. The course will provide handson experience with electronic mail, file transfer, Telnet, and web browsers, including the cre ation of web pages using H TM L, J avaScript, and CGI scripts; image preparation and editing; scanning and OCR.
82. Multimedia Fundamentals and Applications. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: CS 80. A comprehensive introduction to the fundamental concepts, techniques, and tools that underlie the use of multimedia in scientific and business applications. M ajor topics include the principles of image, sound, and video synthesis; software and industry standards; and typical applications.
84. Models of Computation. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M ath 10. This course is intended to develop the ability to solve problems using differing models of computation. It will develop reasoning ability by creating a computing environment with very few rules which will then be used to develop algorithms within the scope of the model of computation. These environments will be models of actual computing environments. The nature of what an algorithm is will be developed.

85. Database Application Programming. 3

 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: CS 80. A continuation of CS 80. Students will learn to program databases using SQ L. M icrosoft Access integrated with Visual Basic. In addition, object-oriented database programming such as O racle and Jasmine will becovered.86. Science, Computing Tools, and Instrumentation. 4 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ath 10. Science and society; principles for scientific exploration; scientific visualization and mathe matical analysis: concepts and techniques; computing tools for visualization and computational analysis; Internet tools for science exploration; concept of integrated computing environment for scientific study and collaboration; PC-instrumentation. Applications to social science, biochemistry, psychology, physical, chemical, and earth science. (SQ )

 hr.; 1 cr., 2 hr.; 2 cr., 3 hr.; 3 cr. Topics in computer programming and applications at a level appropriate for students who are not majoring in computer science. Topics and prerequisites will be announced at registration time. The course may be repeated for credit providing the topic is different, and may not be applied toward the major in computer science.95. Introduction to Programming. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 8 . Introduction to programming and problem solving in a high-level language. No prior experience with computers is presumed. T opics include variables and types, statements for decision making and iteration, procedures and functions, and singledimension arrays. Not open to students who have received credit for Computer Science 100. (SQ )
96. Practicum in Programming. $2 \mathrm{hr} . ; 2$ cr . Prereq.: $M$ athematics 6 and permission of the department. This course is intended for students with a strong background in programming, such as transfer students, who need to learn the introductory language used in CS 95 to begin the major. It gives a rapid introduction to and practice in programming equivalent to that of Computer Science 95. Students who are unsure if they should take Computer Science 95 or 100 should consult with an undergraduate adviser. N ot open to students who have received credit for Computer Science 95.

101. Introduction to Computer Science. 2

 lec., 2 rec. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Computer Science 95 or 100 and $M$ athematics 10. An indepth introduction to problem-solving techniques using the advanced features of a high-level language. T opics will include program testing techniques and the use of multidimensional and composite structures to implement stacks, queues, and simple linked lists. Software projects include design, coding, debugging, and documenting of programs. Introduction to theoretical computer science. Intended for majors or minors in computer science. (SQ)141. Computer Organization and Assembly Language. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: CS 95. Computer organization and its interaction with the operating system as viewed through assembly language. T opics includemachine representation of data and instructions, machine and assembly language, macros, system calls and interrupts, peripheral devices and drivers. (SQ)
142. Intensive Introduction to Computing. 4 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 5 cr . Prereq.: A grade of $\mathbf{B}$ or better in $M$ ath 10, or placement into at least M ath 101 or 111 based on the M ath placement test or the AP M ath test, or permission of a departmental adviser. An intensive introduction to programming and computing equivalent to the combination of Computer Science 95 and 101 which is intended for well-prepared undergraduate and graduate students. Students who complete this course will be considered as having completed C omputer Science 101. N ot open to students who have received credit for or who are taking either Computer Science 95 or 101.
143. Programming in C and $\mathbf{C}++.2$ lec. hr.; 2 cr . Prereq.: Computer Science 203. Instruction in and general programming using the C and $\mathrm{C}+$ languages. O bject-oriented design; development tools.

203. Data Structures and Algorithm

Analysis. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 101. D esign and implementation of data structures including linked lists, tables, binary and $\mathbf{n}$-ary trees and graphs, using both static and dynamic storage allocations. Searching and sorting techniques. Introductory analysis of algorithms. (SQ)
220. Discrete Structures. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 101 and $M$ athe matics 120 . Recursion, recurrence relations, and generating functions; graphs and applications; abstract algebraic structures; applied number theory. Applications in computer science.
241. Operating Systems Principles. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Computer Science 101 and 141. Principles of the design and implementation of operating systems. C oncurrent processes, CPU scheduling, interrupt handling, deadlocks, memory management, virtual memory, secondary storage management, file systems. Programming projects to illustrate portions of an operating system.

[^12]280. Self-Study Programming. 3 hr .; 1 cr . Prereq.: C omputer Science 203. Self-study and mastery of a programming language or package through reading and practice. Students should consult the department at the beginning of the semester for reading materials and assignments. M ay be repeated for a maximum of five credits provided the topic is different.
300. Programming Languages. 4 lec. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 141 and 203. Principles of programming language design and implementation of the procedural, functional, and logic programming paradigms including syntax (BN F, expression grammars, and operator associativity); binding of variables; type coercion and equivalence (including weakly- typed languages); scope and extent of variables (activation records, static and dynamic links); parameter passing and environments; formal semantics. Programming projects done in the lab will use programming languages which serve to exemplify in practice the theoretical material presented in lecture.
304. Operating-System Internals. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 241. A study of the internal structures of a particular operating system such as U nix, iRM X, or another chosen by the department. (T he operating system to be studied is announced at registration time.) After introducing a systems imple-

Requirements for the Majors in Computer Science BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

Core Requirements: Computer Science 95 (unless exempt), 101, 141, 203, 220, 241, 300, 320, 323, 341, and 350.
Elective Requirements: T wo additional 3-credit computer science courses numbered 200-699, except $398,603,615$, and 642 . Self-study language courses may not be used to satisfy this requirement. No more than three credits of C omputer Science 390 through 399 may be used as part of the major without the approval of the H onors and Awards Committee. O ne course from the following list may be taken in place of one computer science course for this requirement: $M$ athematics 223, $224,230,245,247,248,317,333,337,609,613,619,621,623,624,625,626,633,634,635$, or 636; Physics 225, 227, or 312.
Math Requirements: M ath 111 and 112 or equivalent; (e.g., 101, 102, 103), 120, 241 or 611 or 621; 130 or 137.
Physics Requirement: Physics 104 (Prereq.: Physics 103, 118, 122, or 146).

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

Core Requirements: Computer Science 95 (unless exempt), 101, 141, 203, 220, 241, 300, 320, 323,341 , and 350.
Elective Requirements: O ne additional 3-credit computer science course numbered 200-699 except 398,603 , and 642 . (See elective requirements for the $B A$ above.)
A course from the following list may be used for this requirement: M athematics 223, 224, 230, $245,247,248,317,337,609,613,619,621,623,624,625,626,633,634,635$, or 636 . Physics 225, 227, or 312.
Math Requirements: M athematics 111 and 112 or equivalent; (e.g., 101, 102, 103), 120; 241 or 611 or 621; 130 or 137; 201 or 626.
Physics Requirement: Physics 104. (Prereq.: Physics 103, 118, 122, or 146.)
One of the following sequences: Physics 145, 146, and 225.* Chemistry 113 and 114. Biology 107 and 108. EES 101 and 102. Psychology 101 (or 102), 107, and 213.

Requirements for the Minor in Computer Science

The minor in computer science consists of the following courses:
C ore Requirements: C omputer Sci. 95 (unless exempt), 101, 141, 203, and 220.
Elective Requirements: O ne additional 3-credit course from the C ore or Elective Requirements listed under the B.A. and B.S. degrees above.
M ath Requirements: M ath 120 and either 100, 101, or 111.

Requirements for the Minor in Computer Information Technology

Computer Science 12, 80, 95, and four additional three-credit courses numbered 81-199.

[^13]mentation language appropriate to the operating system being studied (for example, C in the case of Unix or PL/M in the case of iRM X), projects are assigned which involve system calls, use of the I/O and file systems, memory management, and process communication and scheduling. Projects may also involve developing new or replacement modules for the operating system such as the command interpreter or a device driver. A student may receive credit for this course only once. (SQ )
307. Compilers. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Computer Science 300. Formal definitions of programming languages: introduction to compiler construction including lexical, syntactic, and semantic analysis, code generation, and optimization. Students will implement portions of a compiler for some structured language. (SQ)
309. Software Engineering. 4 hr . plus 1 hr . conf.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 300. Principles of software engineering including the software life cycle, reliability, maintenance, requirements and specifications, design, implementation, and testing; features of languages designed for software engineering. Implementation of a large programming project using currently available software engineering tools.
310. WWW Programming. 1 hr.; 1 cr. Prereq.: Permission of the instructor. Students will learn to do server-side programming for web pages through hands-on assignments. T opics include the C ommon Gateway Interface (CGI), UNIX scripts in PERL, J avascript, image manipulation, and text scanning. $M$ ay not be used as an elective for the computer science major.
311. Database Systems. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Computer Science 203 and 220. Principles of database systems including the physical level, database architecture, the relational, network, and hierarchic approaches, database design, normal forms, query processing, concurrency, recovery, security, and integrity. Programming projects using some major database packages.
315. Artificial Intelligence. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: C omputer Science 300. Principles of artificial intelligence. Topics include logic and deduction; resolution theorem proving; space search and game playing; language parsing; image understanding; machine learning and expert systems. Programming projects in LISP, PROLOG , or related languages. (SQ)
318. Computer Graphics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: C omputer Science 200, 220, and M athematics 130 . Introduction to the hardware and software components of graphics systems, fundamental algorithms for the generation of two-dimensional display (lines, fill areas, curves, characters), transformation and viewing algorithms, methods of organizing picture components into segments, interactive input, Graphical Kernel System (GKS) routine calls, color models, introduction to three-dimensional techniques. Programming projects to demonstrate the implementation of graphic algorithms. (SQ)
320. Foundations of Computer Science. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Computer Science 203 and 220. Finite state machines and regular languages; context-free languages and stack machines; type0 languages and Turing machines; computability (H erbrand-G ödd computability, recursively enumerable sets, halting problem, and diagonalization), feasible and infeasible problems (complexity classes, reductions), RAM sand PRAM s.
323. Analysis of Algorithms. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Computer Science 203 and 220, and M athematics 241. Time-space-computational complexity. Recursion, divide and conquer, balancing and dynamic programming. The complexity of sorting, searching, numerical, set, and graph problems. N P-complete problems. (SQ)
341. Computer Organization. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Computer Science 141 and 220. Combinational and sequential logic design including programmable logic devices. M em ory organization. Arithmetic unit design. Conventional and microprogrammed control unit design. I/O organization. (SQ)
343. Computer Architecture. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: C omputer Science 300 and 341; pre req. or coreq.: C omputer Science 241. Examination of specific microcomputers, minicomputers, and large-scale computers. Special purpose architectures, multiprocessing organizations. (SQ)
348. Data Communications. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Computer Science 341 . Computer communications and networks; carriers, media, interfaces (RS 232, RS 422, CCITT); circuit types, data codes, synchronous and asynchronous transmission; protocols (O SI, TCP/IP); modems, multiplexors, and other network hardware; error correction and encryption; voice and data switching: local area networks, ISD N , packet switching; issues in the architecture, design, and management of networks. (SQ)
350. Parallel and Distributed Systems. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C omputer Science 300, 320, and 341. Issues in the implementation of computer systems using multiple processors linked through a communication network. Communication in distributed systems including layered protocols and the clientserver model; synchronization of distributed processes and process threads, and distributed file systems. An introduction to parallel architectures and parallel algorithms.
361. Numerical Methods. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: Computer Science 101 and $M$ athematics 201. N umerical methods and efficient computation, approximation, and interpolation. C omputer solution of systems of algebraic and ordinary differential equations.

381. Special Topics in Computer Science.

381.1-381.4, 1-4 hr.; 1-4 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. Fall, Spring

No more than 3 credits of CS 391-399, excluding 398, may be used as an elective for the Computer Science major or minor.
391. Honors Problems in Computer Science. 391.1-391.3, 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. O pen to students majoring in computer science who, in the opinion of the department, are capable of carrying out the work of the course. Each student works on a research problem under the supervision of a member of the staff. Fall, Spring
393. Honors Thesis. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Junior or senior standing and approval of the D epartment's H onors and Awards C ommittee. The student will engage in significant research under the supervision of a faculty mentor and a thesis committee consisting of two other faculty members. The thesis proposal and committee must be approved by the D epartmental H onors and Awards C ommittee U pon completion of the research paper, an oral presentation of the results, open to the public, will be given. With the approval of the mentor, thesis committee, and the D epartment's H onors and Awards C ommittee, the course may be repeated once for credit when the level of the student's work warrants a full year of effort.
395. Research Projects. 395.1-395.3, 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. O pen to majors and nonmajors who, in the opinion of the department, are capable of carrying out an independent project of mutual interest under the supervision of a member of the staff.
398. Internship. 398.1, 45 hr .; 1 cr.; 398.2, 90 hr , 2 cr.; 398.3, 135 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: C ompletion of 15 credits in computer science and departmental approval. Computer science students are given an opportunity to work and learn for credit. Students should consult the C ollege $O$ ffice of $C$ areer $D$ evelopment and Internships for listings of available internships and procedures for applying. A proposal must be approved by the department before registration. The student's grade will bebased on both the employer's and faculty sponsor's evaluations of the student's performance, based on midterm and final reports. A limit of 6 credits of internships may be taken. Computer Science 398 may not be applied to the computer science major or minor.
399. Honors Readings in Computer Science. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Junior or senior standing and permission of instructor. Students will study and report on survey and research papers dealing with various current topics in computer science selected by the instructor. Topics for each offering of the course will be announced at registration time.

Graduate Courses for Undergraduates (Sœ G raduate Bulletin for completelisting.)

U ndergraduates may apply to take 700-level graduate courses if they meet the following criteria: completion of at least 78 credits toward the bachelor's degree; computer science major GPA of at least 3.5; and permission of the instructor, undergraduate adviser, department C hair, and the O ffice of $G$ raduate Studies.

Cooperative Education & Internships

D irector: T esfaye A sfaw
Office: B Building 201, 997-2850; W eb site: www.qc.edu/career

Cooperative Education and Internships is an individualized education program that integrates classroom learning with: work experience that is career related, pays wages, and earns college credit (Co-op); or field experience pertinent to a course or topic of study that earns department credit (Internship). In addition, it offers the following courses for credit.

COURSE

201. Orientation to the World of Work.
201.1, 1 hr . lec.; 1 cr ., 201.2, 1 hr . +60 hr . of work experience placement; 2 cr .; 201.3, 1 hr . lec. plus 120 hr . of work experience placement; 3 cr . Prereq.: Sophomore standing and permission of Director. An introductory course that provides students instruction and training for participation in the world of work. Students will be placed in a structured workstudy program and assisted in learning about themselves, their career needs, the dynamics of the employment and selection process. Special emphasis is placed on effective interview techniques and job search strategies. The lecture is required of all Cooperative Education students concurrent with job placement.

Drama, Theatre  & Dance

Chair: H arry Feiner
D ept. O ffice: Rathaus 213, 997-3090
Professors: Einhorn, Feiner, George, M atthews; Associate Professors: Critchell, M alone, M oore, Tanner; Assistant Professors: M cCurley, Repole; Adjunct Associate Professor: Pereira; Adjunct Assistant Professor: Einenkel; Adjunct Lecturers: Boodaghian, Greenberg, Jackson, Stansfield, Vuolo, W anner, W ebb; Senior College Laboratory Technician: Ollquist; Administrative Assistant: Stansfield; Professors Emeriti: Allen, C arlson, Dierlam, G asper, K eene
M ajors Offered: D rama and Theatre (State Education Code 77742) and Theatre and D ance (State Education Code 02734)

The D rama, T heatre, and D ance curriculum offers a study of the subject appropriate to a liberal arts degree. A balanced combination of theory and practice aims at giving an understanding of the arts of drama, theatre, and dance that can serve as a foundation for graduate study. Every effort is made to provide scope for the development of individual talent and skills as a preliminary for those students who intend to concentrate on future conservatory training for a stage career. Students are encouraged to major in Drama, Theatre, and $D$ ance and minor in closely related areas such as Art and English.

Departmental Awards

DANCE 168. Tap I. 3 hr.; 2 cr . A beginner studio course in tap technique with emphasis on rhythm awareness, foot articulation, and style. Includes the history of American tap dance and its relationship to the evolution of jazz music.
DANCE 268. Tap II. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 168. Intermediate studio course in tap technique with emphasis on rhythm awareness, foot articulation, and style. Includes the history of American tap dance and its relationship to the evolution of jazz music.
DANCE 368. Tap III. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 268. Advanced studio course in tap technique with emphasis on rhythm awareness, foot articulation, and style. Includes the history of American tap dance and its relationship to the evolution of jazz music.

DANCE 169. Jazz I. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Beginner/ advanced-beginner studio course in jazz dance technique with emphasis on developing an awareness of style, control, and rhythm.
DANCE 269. Jazz II. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 169. Intermediate/ advanced studio course in jazz dance technique with emphasis on developing an awareness of style, control, and rhythm.
DANCE 369. Jazz III. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 269. Advanced studio course in jazz dance technique with emphasis on developing an awareness of style, control, and rhythm.
DANCE 160. Modern Dance I. 3 hr.; 2 cr. A beginner studio course in modern dance techniques with emphasis on developing fundamental movement skills.
DANCE 260. Modern Dance II. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 2 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: 160. Intermediate studio course in modern dance techniques with emphasis on increased movement range, control, and complexity.
DANCE 360. Modern Dance III. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: Theatre-D ance 260. Advanced studio course in the modern dance idiom with emphasis on performance style and quality.
DANCE 161. Ballet I. 3 hr .; 2 cr . A beginner studio course in classical ballet technique with emphasis on correct placement and alignment.
DANCE 261. Ballet II. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 161. Intermediate studio course in classical ballet techniques with emphasis on proper phrasing, clarity, and musicality.
DANCE 361. Ballet III. 3 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: 261. Advanced studio course in classical ballet technique with emphasis on performance qualities.

Choreography and Performance Courses

DANCE 270. Dance Improvisation and Composition. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A studio course introducing the basic skills, techniques, and methods used in the craft of choreography.
DANCE 271. Choreography I. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: 270. The application of the elements of choreography in creating solo and group dances. W orks created in the class are presented in performance at the end of the semester.

DANCE 371. Choreography II. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: 270, 271. M ore complex compositional problems are explored in the creation of dances which are mounted for performances at the end of the semester.

Dance Production and Workshops

DANCE 290. Theatre Practicum. 1 hr .; 1 cr . A practical hands-on introduction to technical theatre systems and equipment. Participants must serve as running crew for theatre and/or dance production.
DANCE 380. Dance Production. 380.1380.3, 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Audition. A laboratory for creating and preparing for a dance performance, culminating in the public presentation of a dance concert. $M$ ay be repeated for credit if different work is involved.

M ajors Offered: Geology (State Education Code B.S.: 82333; B.A.: 02802); Environmental Sciences Concentration (Geology B.A.: 21974; B.S.: 21975; Chemistry B.A.: 21976; B.S.: 21977; Biology B.A.: 21978; B.S.: 21979); Environmental Studies (B.A.: 21980)

The major tracks in the School of Earth and Environmental Sciences prepare students for graduate and professional work in geology and related environmental sciences; other environ-mentally-related industrial areas; and for teaching secondary school earth science, geology, or general science. C ourses also provide a background in environmental sciences and studies for students of other natural and social sciences, and broaden the general background of students in all disciplines.

Departmental Awards

The School of Earth and Environmental Sciences confers the Lt. George C. Gierak
Memorial Award in memory of a former president of the Geology Club, who gave his life for his country. The Geology Club of Q ueens College awards an annual gift to the undergraduate geology major with the second highest scholastic average in the School. The Queens C ollege Economic Geology Club of the American Institute of Mining Engineers presents an award to the graduating geology major showing achievement both scholastically and in the field of economic geology. The Walter S. Newman Memorial Scholarship, donated by the family and friends of the former professor and chair of the department, is a cash award given annually to a promising student to help defray the cost of field camp.

THE MAJORS AND MINOR

The School offers two majors in the geological sciences-Geology and Geoscience Education - and two interdisciplinary majors- Environmental Sciences and Environmental Studies. B.A. and B.S. degrees are available in all the majors except Environmental Studies (B.A. only). Students planning to major in the School will be assigned an adviser with whom they should consult frequently.

See the box on page 97 for the specific requirements for the majors and minor.

Department Standards

Students may not have a course with a grade below C- credited toward their major requirements. The minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - is required in a prerequisite course before a student may register in the course for which it is a prerequisite. A student may not repeat a course more than twice, and credit toward the degree may be given only once. The minimum average of C is required in courses numbered above 200, and in courses in other departments that are counted toward the major.

GEOLOGY COURSES

Nonmajor Courses

3. The Physical Environment. 3 hr.; 3 cr. The use and misuse of the atmosphere, the oceans, surface and underground water supplies, soils, and mineral deposits. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
4. The Fossil Record. 2 lec., 1 rec. hr., field trips; 3 cr . The study of fossils as they relate to the history and evolution of life on earth; to geological time; to ancient environments and climates. M AT charge, \$9. (PBGB) $\dagger \dagger$
5. Dinosaurs. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. The geological, biological, and evolutionary development of dinosaurs and their close relatives in the M esozoic Era. The environments they lived in; their relationship to other reptiles and birds; their preservation as fossils and their final extinction. M AT charge, $\$ 15$. (PBGB) $\dagger \dagger$
6. Introduction to Oceanography. 2 lec., 1 rec. hr., field trips; 3 cr . A survey of the oceans, including their physical structure, biology, chemistry, and geology. Special emphasis is placed on the interactions of society and sea. Science majors are advised to take Geology 356. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
7. Environmental Issues. 9.2, $2 \mathrm{hr} . ; 2 \mathrm{cr}$., $9.3,3 \mathrm{hr}$.; 3 cr . The scientific background for some major environmental issues is introduced. These issues may include the availability and use of renewable and non-renewable resources; conservation, recycling, waste disposal, and pollution; land use; human impact on the global environmental problems are examined from both scientific and social points of view. (Field trips may be scheduled.) (PBGB)
8. Survey of Atmospheric Science. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An introduction to weather and climate for students competent in high school science. $N$ ot open to students who have taken Geology 342. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
9. Natural Disasters. 12.2, 2 hr.; 2 cr., $12.3,3 \mathrm{hr}$.; 3 cr . A course dealing with natural hazards and the devastation they cause. The hazards include floods, volcanic explosions, earthquakes, landslides, and asteroid impacts. (PBGB)
10. Earthquakes, Volcanoes, and Moving Continents. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . The great changes on the Earth's surface, how they affect us, and how we may predict or attempt to control them. Theinfluence of platetectonics on the environment, natural resources, and human history. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
11. Earthquakes. 3 hr .; 3 cr . H ow, when, and where earthquakes happen. Location and measurement. D aily, weekly, monthly, yearly seismicity of the earth. The relation of earthquakes to lithospheric plate movements; seismic hazard and mitigation; possible earthquake prediction. G reat historic earthquakes and their effect on human activities. (PBGB)
12. Volcanoes. 3 hr .; 3 cr . H ow volcanoes form, where they form, what they erupt. The relation between volcanism and major earth movements. H ow volcanoes change during their lifetimes. Possible prediction of volcanic eruptions. The influence of volcanoes on human activities now and in the past. (PBGB)

25. Natural Resources and the Environment. 3 hr .; 3 cr . W orld distribution, production, and requirements for mineral and energy resources. U se, abuse, conservation, and pollution of resources. (PBGB) Fall, Spring

40. Special Topics in Geology. 40.1, 1 lec. or 3 lab. hr.; 1 cr., 40.2, 1 or 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 2 cr ., 40.3, 2 or 3 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr . T opic varies from semester to semester. D esigned for nonscience students. $\dagger \dagger$

52．Water：The Ultimate Resource． 3 lec． hr．for 5 weeks； 1 cr．A five week course focusing on problems of water supply，water use，and present and potential pollution prob－ lems．Special attention is paid to local prob－ lems．

55．Physical Environment of Long Island． 5 field trips； 1 cr．A field course stressing the physical geography of our local area．Study sites include urban Q ueens，C aumsett State Park（with overnight stay at the Q ueens Col－ lege Center for Environmental Teaching and Research），Fire Island $N$ ational Seashore，and

Requirements for the Majors

Geology

Both the B．A．and B．S．are offered in geology．The B．A．degree requires completion of：Geology $100,201,202,208,213,214,216,239,261$ ，and 270；M athematics 101 or 111，Chemistry 113， Physics 116 （or equivalent）；C omputer Science 12 and a course in statistics．Students planning to attend graduate school in Geology are strongly advised to take a course in O ptical M ineralogy （Geology 721）in their senior year．
For the B．S．in Geology，students must：satisfy the requirements for the B．A．；complete M athemat－ ics 112 （or equivalent），Chemistry 114，Physics 118 （or equivalent）；and have a total of at least 64 credits in courses applicable to the majors in biology，chemistry，computer science，geology，mathe－ matics，and physics．

Geoscience Education＊

（＊O ffered pending approval of the C U N Y Board of T rustees）
The G eoscience Education major is designed as a co－major for students seeking careers in elemen－ tary or secondary education．Consultation with advisers in both the School of Earth \＆Environmen－ tal Sciences and the Division of Education is required when students wish to declare these majors． B．A．and B．S．degrees are offered in G eoscience Education．
The B．A．course requirements include：Geology $100,102,213,214,237,261,339,373$ ；two courses chosen from：Geology 208，216，270，347，349，356，364；Chemistry 113 （or equivalent） and Physics 116 （or equivalent）．Note：M ath 101 is a prerequisite for Physics 116．Students must also satisfy D ivision of Education requirements（SEYS or EECE）．
For the B．S．in the Geoscience Education major，students must satisfy the requirements for the B．A．and also complete at least 64 credits in courses applicable to the majors in biology，chemistry， computer science，geology，mathematics，and physics．

Environmental Science

The interdisciplinary B．A．in Environmental Sciences requires thefollowing courses：EN SCI 111， 112，and 373；completion of one of the following science concentrations：
Biology：Biology 107，108，one course from each of the following three groups［201，210，212］， ［213，220，230］，and［340，343，346，348］；or Chemistry：Chemistry $113,114,159,179 & 240$ ；or Geology：Geology 100 ，and any five courses chosen from 201，202，208，213，214，216，239，261， $270,339,347 & 349$ ；and three courses from the approved $H$ umanities and Social Science courses listed under Environmental Studies．
For the B．S．in Environmental Sciences，the student must satisfy the requirements for the B．A．and complete an additional 24 credits in mathematics and science，including a course in statistics and one year of calculus，and electives chosen from courses used to satisfy the major concentrations．

Environmental Studies

The interdisciplinary B．A．in Environmental Studies requires the following courses：EN SCI 111， 112，and 373；two courses from each of the thematic areas in Social Sciences and H umanities listed below and two additional courses chosen from that list；and 9 to 12 credits from Environmental Sci－ ence concentration courses．
Social Science and H umanities courses approved for the Environmental Studies Program：
Area I：Social and Cultural Aspects of the Environment：Anthropology 270，302；English 303， 395 （when topic is applicable）；Philosophy 125；U rban Studies 250
Area II：Environmental Policy and Economics：Economics 228，242；Political Science 219，221， 226，250；U rban Studies 253

Requirements for the Minor in Geology

Geology 100 and any five Geology courses numbered above 200.
the Pine Barrens of central Long Island and M ontauk Peninsula．Particular emphasis on the origins of land－forms and changing human／land relationships through time．Field trip fee will be required．
64．Planetary Geology． 3 lec． hr ．； 3 cr ．An introduction to the surface features，composi－ tion，geological activity，and probable history of the planets，moons，and comets of the solar system，based on the results of space explo－ ration．（PBGB）

Introductory Courses

100．Introduction to Geology． 3 lec．， 3 lab． hr ．； 4 cr ．Composition of the Earth；interior and surface processes；history of the E arth and evolution of life within the context of plate tectonics；relationships of humans and our environment．Required field trips．M AT charge，\＄35．（PBGA）Fall，Spring
102．Historical Geology． 3 lec．， 3 lab．hr．； 4 cr．Prereq．：Geology 100， 101 （or passing grade in Physical Geology，N YS C ollege Pro－ ficiency Exam）．A history of the origin and development of the universe，with emphasis on the Earth．Required field trip（s）．M AT charge，\＄18．（PBGA）Fall

Major Courses

201．Earth Materials I． 2 lec．， 3 lab．hr．； 3 cr ． Prereq．：G eology 100．The first course in a two－semester study of Earth materials．M iner－ als：structures，chemistry，and classification． I gneous rocks and their metamorphic equiva－ lents．Field trip（s）．M AT charge，$$ 10$ ．
202．Earth Materials II． 2 lec．， 3 lab．hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：Geology 201．The second course in a two－semester study of Earth materials． Sediments and soils；sedimentary rocks and their metamorphic equivalents．Field trip（s）． M AT charge，\＄10．
208．Surficial Processes and Products． 2 lec．， 3 lab．hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：G eology 100．An Earth systems approach to geologic，climatic， and biological factors influencing the develop－ ment of terrestrial and coastal sediments；evo－ lution of landscapes emphasizing interactions between humans and geologic processes．Field trip（s）．M AT charge，$$ 10$.

Note：English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses（see pp．34，109）． $\dagger$ O ffered either Fall or Spring；see Class Schedule． $\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered；see Class Schedule．
213. Sedimentation and Stratigraphy. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: G eology 100. The study of sediments and the stratigraphy of sedimentary rocks utilizing physical, chemical, and biological methods. Field trip(s). M AT charge, $10.
214. Earth's Internal Processes. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Geology 100. Earth processes and structures generated by the earth's internal heat; convection, plate tectonics, folds, and faults. Field trip(s). M AT charge, $$ 10$.

216. Dynamics of the Oceans and Atmos-

 pheres. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: G eology 100. Evolution and dynamics of the oceans and the atmospheres; ocean-atmosphere interactions; global climate and sea-level changes; human impact on the oceans and atmosphere.237. Origins and Uses of Earth Materials. 2 lec., 1 rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Geology 100. Recognition of common rock-forming minerals, rock fabric variation, and the implications with respect to origin of various combinations provides the framework for examining the physical and chemical properties of Earth materials. These properties in turn have been of value and use to society. H ow? W hy? W hen? W here? Changes over time as modified and controlled by availability, accessibility, and aesthetics is a key component with special emphasis on experiments and exercises that illustrate various points.
238. Evolution of Ecosystems. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Geology 100. Paleontological evidence for the development of the biosphere through geologic time; reconstruction of food webs, population dynamics, ecological succession, natural selection, functional morphology, and the response to environmental change. Field trip(s). M AT charge, $$ 10$.
239. Geology in the Field. 9 hr . field work; 3 cr . Prereq.: Geology 100, 101, 102, or permission of the instructor. The application of geologic principles to the study of rocks, geologic structures, and landforms in the N ew York metropolitan area, introduction to geologic mapping. Offered in Summer.
240. Geochemistry of the Global Environment. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Geology 100 (C hemistry 19, 111, or 113 recommended). Geochemical processes affecting Earth's environmental systems; geobiochemical distribution, transport, and fluxes in and between the geosphere, hydrosphere, and atmosphere.
241. Petrography and Petrology. 4 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 5 cr. Prereq.: Geology 232. The description, analysis, and identification of igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic rocks; rock-forming processes are studied in the laboratory using suites of rocks, and in the field. Topics include hand-specimen and microscopic petrography and igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic petrology. M AT charge, $$ 9$.
242. Paleontology. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: G eology 102 or permission of department. The nature and significance of extinct animals and plants; their ecology, morphology, and geologic history.
243. Introduction to Meteorology. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 103 or 112. An introductory study of meteorology for science majors.
244. Principles of Hydrology. 2 lec., 3 lab . hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: G eology 100 or 101, Chemistry 112 or 113 , Physics 121. A survey of surface water and ground water hydrology, including discussion of water quality, pollution, and water resource management.
245. Environmental Geology. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Geology 100 or 101 or permission of instructor. Geological processes affecting the quality of the environment. A nalysis of geologic problems affecting the quality of the environment.
246. Principles of Oceanography. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr., field trips; 3 cr. Physical, chemical, biological, and geological oceanography for science majors. 0 pen to science or mathematics majors of upper-class standing, or by permission of instructor.
247. Field Geology. 360.5, 5 wk.; 5 cr., 360.6, 6 wk.; 6 cr. Prereq.: G eology 359. Geological mapping. Offered in the Summer. Required residence in field camp or dormitories.
248. Comparative Planetary Geology. 2 lec., 3 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Geology 102 or permission of department. A detailed study of the surface features, tectonics, volcanism, petrology, and aeolian, glacial, and sedimentary processes of the planets and moons of the solar system. The laboratory work will use geologic maps and spacecraft imaging of the planetary bodies. (Students who have taken Geology 64 may not take $G$ eology 364 without departmental approval.)
249. Geological Reasoning. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A senior-level course for geologic education majors. V arious topics pertaining to the history and philosophy of geology, and techniques of problem-solving in the earth sciences will be covered through discussions and individual research projects.

381, 382. Seminar. 2 hr.; 2 cr. each seminar. Prereq.: Permission of department. Advanced topics in Geology. Offered primarily for seniors.
383. Special Topics in Geology. 2 lec., 3 lab hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of department. The topic varies from semester to semester. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is not the same.
391, 392, 393. Special Problems. 391, 1 lec. hr.; 1 cr., 392, 2 lec. hr.; 2 cr., 393, 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of department. The student works on a research problem under the supervision of a member of the faculty. Fall, Spring

Environmental Science Courses

ENSCI 111. Introduction to the Environment. 3 lec., 1 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. The ecosystem; humans in the scheme of natural things, the impact of human activities on health and the environment; institutions and the environment; cultural, ethical, literary and artistic responses to the environment. Required field trip(s). M AT charge, $$ 35$. (PBGA)
ENSCI 112. Our Changing Planet. 3 lec. hr., 3 cr . An introduction to E arth system science and global environmental change; the historical and geological processes of change in the lithosphere, atmosphere, hydrosphere, and biosphere; humans as a force for change. (PBGB)
ENSCI 373. Environmental Problem Solving. 3 lec. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: 0 pen to Environmental Science and Environmental Studies seniors or to Environmental Sciences or Environmental Studies majors by permission. A simulation of actual environmental problems and case histories that utilize interactive, selfdirected investigations by student teams; oral and written presentations in mock environmental hearings are required.

M ajor Offered: Economics (State Education Code 02811)

The department aims to give students a thorough comprehension of the economic aspects of human behavior in its social context. By providing knowledge of the basic structure, processes, and problems of the economy and systematic training in the use of analytical procedures in their study, economics, along with other social sciences, constitutes an essential element in the broad understanding of society, its organization, functioning, and trends.

Courses in economics prepare the student for graduate work in economics, statistics, and business administration; for professional schools such as law, journalism, and social work. Training in economics also helps to prepare those who want to teach economics or social studies on a secondary level or who wish to do economic research.

Students who plan to pursue graduate work in economics, statistics, and business administration should also take courses in the M athematics D epartment. M ost graduate schools require as a minimum M athematics 111 and 112. In addition, it is recommended that economics majors al so take Computer Science 101 (Introduction to Computer Science).

Departmental Awards

The Economics D epartment awards the M atthew Simon Memorial Award to a graduating senior who has majored in economics and achieved a record of superior scholarship in the field; preference is given to students who are planning graduate work in economics. The H enry S. Miller Award is presented to a graduating economics major who has contributed the most distinguished service in advancing the department's professional interests. The Arthur D. Gayer Memorial Award is made to a graduating senior who has concentrated in economics and has achieved a record of superior scholarship in the field. The Persia C ampbell Award is offered to a graduating economics major who has presented the best undergraduate research paper in economics. The W all Street Journal Student Achievement Award is given to an economics major with a record of superior scholarship; preference is given to students planning graduate work in management or public administration. The Steve E. Burdman Memorial Award is given by the D elta Chapter of O micron D elta Epsilon to a graduating economics major, who is also an active member of 0 micron Delta Epsilon, for a combination of scholastic achievement and service. The William Withers Award is given to a graduating economics major who has demonstrated outstanding scholarship, creativity, and intellectual curiosity.

THE MAJOR

See the box on page 100 for the specific requirements for the major.

Economics majors who have not completed Economics 205 and 206 by the start of their junior year must take Economics 205 and 206 during their junior year. If neither Economics 205 nor 206 has been taken at the start of the junior year, at least one must be taken during the student's first semester as a junior. If one of the two courses has been completed before the start of the junior year, the second course must be taken during the first semester of the junior year.

All majors must see a department adviser before enrolling in courses beyond Economics 101 and 102. M ajors are required to file a concentration form during their junior year or before.

Joint Major in Economics and Accounting

Students majoring in accounting may also receive a major in economics by completing 30 credits in the latter. All of the economics courses required for the accounting degree may be included for the concentration in economics. Economics 205, 206, and 382 must be part of the 30 credits in economics.

THE MINOR

See the box on page 100 for the specific requirements for the minor. Students should consult with a faculty adviser and complete a concentration form as soon as they have decided to minor in economics.

COURSES

100. Economics and Society. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A course designed for the nonmajor who wishes an introduction to economic reasoning and policy making. The major concepts of modern economics will be discussed along with applications of the theory to important contemporary problems such as inflation, recession, productivity, income distribution, economic concentration, and the U.S. role in the world economy. Accounting majors should take Economics 101. N ot open to students who are enrolled in or who have received credit for Economics 101. (SS) Fall, Spring
101. Introduction to Macroeconomics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics or equivalent. C overs the nature and methods of economics and survey of major economics problems; the determinants of national income and output, the price level, and employment; the role of money and banking in the economy; and the role of the government's fiscal and monetary policies. (SS)

102. Introduction to Microeconomics. 3

hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: M ath 06 or equivalent. H ow decisions are made by the consumer and producer sectors of the economy and the interactions between the two sectors; the process of resource allocation and income distribution within a free enterprise economy as well as alternative market structures such as monopoly, oligopoly, and monopolistic competition; and the effects of various government policies on the allocation of resources and the distribution of income.
203. Development of Economic Thought. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102 or permission of instructor; English 110. T races the evolution of economic doctrines both in their institutional context and with reference to central issues that are of present-day significance.
205. Price Theory. 3 lec., 1 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102 and $M$ athematics 21 or the equivalent. Familiarizes the student with the technical tools of economic analysis. Covers price, input and output decisions of the business firm; the forces behind supply of and demand for the product of the firm and industry; and the factors determining the distribution of income. This course cannot be taken for credit if Economics 225 has been taken (see al so Economics 225). Fall, Spring

Note: English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pp. 34, 109).
206. Macro-Economic Analysis. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Economics 102. N ational income measurement; macro-economic theories of income, employment, prices, and interest rates; public policies for growth and stabilization. This course cannot be taken for credit if Economics 226 has been taken (see also Economics 226). Fall, Spring
207. Comparative Economic Systems. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Includes comparisons with the USSR. $\dagger \dagger$
208. The Process of Economic Development. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: E conomics 102; English 110. The causes of differences in the levels of economic performance among countries; major theories of economic development; policies for economic development. $\dagger \dagger$

210. Transformation of Economic Systems. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. This course is concerned with the breakup and reconstitution of economic systems from antiquity to the present. The empha siswill be on primitive, feudal, and contemporary underdeveloped economies. $\dagger \dagger$

211. Economics of Asia. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102 or permission of department; English 110. $\dagger \dagger$
212. Economic Problems of Latin America. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Economics 102 or permission of department; English 110.
213. Economics of the Labor Force. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3$ cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Theoretical and public policy issues relating to wage determination, labor markets, the labor force, wages, prices, productivity, employment, human resources, and income maintenance.
214. Economics of Organized Labor. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Includes collective bargaining in the public and private sectors and labor problems of minorities. $\dagger \dagger$
215. Money and Banking. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102. Description and analysis of monetary and banking principles and institutions.
217. Public Finance. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 205 or 225; English 110. Such topics as government expenditures, distribution of the tax burden, equity in taxation, tax competition, and the national debt.

218. The Economics of State and Local

Finance. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Such topics as the demand for government services, intergovernmental fiscal relations, the distribution of various public services within and between governmental jurisdictions, governmental budgeting processes, and sources of revenue.
219, 219W. Economics of Class, Race, and Sex. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 101; English 110. This course is concerned with theoretical and historical explanations of stratification by class, race, sex, and ethnicity.

Requirements for the Major in Economics

Required: M athematics 21 or the equival ent and at least 30 credits in economics courses exclusive of courses 151, 253, 254, 258, and 370. Economics 101, 102, 205, 206, and 249 and 382 are required of all majors. T ransfer students must take at least 15 hours of economics at Q ueens Col lege. All students must have at least a C average for economics courses taken at $Q$ ueens College, and, in addition, a C average in the required courses in economics. M athematics 21 or its equivalent must be passed with a letter grade. All courses for the major, plus M ath 21 or equivalent, must be passed with a letter grade (no P/NC option).
Students who are planning to major in economics should take M athematics 21 or its equivalent as early in their economics major as possible because $M$ athematics 21 or its equival ent is a prerequisite for two required courses, Economics 205 and 249. Equivalents for M athematics 21 include M athe matics 100, 101, 111, 117, an AP calculus score which is greater than or equal to 3 for Calculus AB, or an AP calculus score which is greater than or equal to 2 for C alculus BC .

Requirements for the Minor in Economics

Required: M athematics 21 or the equivalent and 18 credits in economics consisting of Economics 101, 102; two of the following courses: Economics 205, 206, and 249; and two electives. At least 12 of these credits must be taken at Quens College.
C average is required for all economics courses applied to the minor and a C average in Economics 101, 102, and the two courses chosen from Economics 205, 206, and 249. All courses for the minor, plus M ath 21 or equivalent, must be passed with a letter grade (no P/NC option).

Specifically, it is concerned with explaining differential rates of progress among ethnic groups; theeconomic position of the black population versus the white one; black/white males vis-à vis black/ white females; and finally, males and females.

220. Consumer Economics and Personal

Finance. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102;
English 110. This course covers personal financial planning, consumer decision making, present value theory, money management, and credit. Specific topics include: income taxes, investing and portfolio management, risk management (insurance), pensions, long-term family and estate planning, and the problems of information and transaction costs. Students learn to use a spreadsheet on the IBM PC to solve various case problems. $\dagger \dagger$
221. The Economy of Greece. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. This course will focus on the postwar structure and performance of the Greek economy. An examination of overall growth as well as growth of the agricultural, industrial, and service sectors will be pursued, taking into account the private-versus-public sector dichotomy. Special consideration will be given to external economic relations of Greece, its membership in the EEC, and balance of payments problems. The structural effects of external relations upon domestic development will be traced, dealing, for example, with migration and income distribution. $\dagger \dagger$
222. European Economic History since
1750. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 101 and 102; English 110. Emphasizes the processes and repercussions of industrialization.

223, 223W. The Development of the American Economy to 1914. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 101 and 102; English 110.

224. American Economic History since
1914. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 101 and 102; English 110.
225. Price Theory (Mathematics Emphasis). (formerly Economics 205M ) 3 lec., 1 lab. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102 and M athematics 22 or 103 or 112. Identical to Economics 205, except taught with a greater use of mathematical tools. Recommended for students planning to do graduate work in economics and business. This course cannot be taken for credit if Economics 205 has been taken. $\dagger \dagger$
226. Macro-Economic Analysis (Mathematics Emphasis). (formerly Economics 206M ) 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102 and $M$ athematics 22 or 103 or 112. Identical to Economics 206 except taught with a greater use of mathematical tools. Recommended for students planning to do graduate work in economics and business. This course cannot be taken for credit if Economics 206 has been taken. $\dagger \dagger$
227. International Finance. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: Economics 102 and 206 or 226; English 110. An analysis of the economics of balance of payments, the foreign exchange market, international liquidity and adjustment problems, exchange rate systems and their influence on internal and external balance, international financial institutions, international capital movements, financial problems of economic integration.
228, 228W. The Economics of the Environment. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102 or permission of instructor; English 110. The economic causes of environmental problems and the problems encountered in estimating the economic cost of environmental damages. Application of economic theory to establish the conditions for the best use of the environment, and to evaluate economic costs and benefits of current regulatory policy. $\dagger \dagger$
230, 230W. Women's Issues in Economics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Includes discussion of participation of women in the labor force; distribution of women among occupations; work outside the marketplace and in the home; wage differentials between men and women; and government policies that affect the economic position of women. $\dagger \dagger$
240. Industrial Organization. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: E conomics 102 and $M$ athematics 21 or equivalent; English 110. The economic functions of business firms; the theory and practice of internal organization of firms; market structure and performance of competitors, oligopolists, etc., and their effects on economic welfare; business as a social and political institution; the large firm in a mixed economy.
241. Corporation Finance. 3 lec., 1 lab. hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102. An analysis of the major funds flows of the firm. D evelopment of the principles for determining specific assets a firm should acquire, as well as the least-cost methods of financing those assets. Topics considered include the management of cash, inventories, receivables, and fixed assets; alternative sources of available funds, including short-, intermediate-, and long-term sources of financing; the cost of capital; optimum capital structure; and corporate dividend policy. Fall, Spring
242. Regulation of American Business. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. The origin, evaluation, and present pattern of government regulation of business; the organization of industry; anti-trust and the promotion of competition and prevention of monopoly and public regulation; public policies in natural resource and environmental conservation. $\dagger \dagger$

243. Economics of Distribution and Mar-

keting. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. Functions, structure, and cost of the system of distribution of goods and services. Emphasizes the dynamic character of marketing and the major problems encountered at every stage of the distribution process. $M$ erchandising and sales promotional activities, price policies, selection of channels of distribution.
246. Urban Economics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 102; English 110. The microeconomics of $U$. S. urban development patterns from the industrial revolution to the present. Decentralization of economic activity and population; the resulting urban problems and possible solutions to these problems.
247. Business Economics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: Economics 102; English 110. The application of economic principles to the problems of business decision making. Topics considered include decisions under risk and uncertainty; economic forecasting; estimation of demand and cost functions; price strategy under monopoly, oligopoly, and competition; diversification and conglomeration; and productivity analysis in worker and executive compensation. $\dagger \dagger$
249. Statistics as Applied to Economics. 3 lec., 1 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 101 and $M$ athematics 21 or equivalent. T he topics covered are descriptive statistics, elementary probability theory, sampling statistical inference, estimation, and simple correlation and regression. ( N ot open to students with credit for $M$ athematics 241 , which will be accepted in lieu of Economics 249.) (SQ ) Fall, Spring
326. International Economics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Economics 205. An introduction to the theory of international trade and to empirical tests of trade theory.
341. Intermediate Finance. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: Economics 241 and 249 or permission of the instructor; English 110. Covers the five most important problems of modern finance at a level beyond Economics 241. These are:
the relationship between risk and returns, as expressed in the C apital Asset Pricing M odel and Arbitrage Pricing Theory; the valuation of debt and equity instruments; the cost of capital and optimal capital structure; capital budgeting; and dividend policy.
350. Investment Analysis. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: Economics 241 or permission of instructor; English 110. An analysis of the types of securities available in the market covering both individual and institutional portfolio analyses and management. Considers the formulation of appropriate portfolio investment objectives, techniques for achieving them, and institutional, legal, and other constraints on portfolio strategies. Impacts of macro- and micro-economic activity on portfolio performance, and measures of performance are discussed.
351. Financial Markets. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 241 or permission of the instructor. Survey of the U nited States and international money and capital markets. Emphasis is on modern institutions and practices. The course also considers the analytics and consequences of recent trading techniques.
382. Introduction to Econometrics. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Economics 249 or equivalent. This course will begin with a review of statistics and hypothesis testing, then introduce simple and multiple regression techniques; the estimation of regression using ordinary least squares; inference; and the use of spreadsheets and statistical software to estimate economic models.

IMPORTANT: Due to action taken by the New York State Board of Regents in September 1999, all requirements for undergraduate programs in Education are subject to change. Students who intend to major or minor in Education should keep in close contact with the relevant Department.

Q ueens C ollege offers undergraduate programs that prepare students for teaching at the early childhood, elementary, middle, and high school levels.

All programs in the Division of Education are approved by the State Education D epartment.

All students must pass a medical examination prior to enrollment in courses that require fieldwork and contact with children and youth. Satisfactory standards in scholarship, health, motivation, and character are expected. D epartments may refuse matriculation or order withdrawal from courses if students do not meet these standards. Special requirements for entrance into and progress through educational sequences are specified below in the description of each department.

M atriculation for the $M$ aster of Science in Education degree is open to recipients of the baccalaureate degree from approved colleges who have completed an approved undergraduate education sequence. Special provisions may be made for those students whose undergraduate preparation lacks the necessary education background. For further information, see the Advanced Certificate Program in the Elementary and Early Childhood Education D epartment and Secondary Education and Youth Services D epartment sections below.

Transfer Students

T ransfer students are urged to seek advice from faculty advisers immediately upon admission to $Q$ ueens C ollege for evaluation of credit.

Jointly Registered Programs

The Division of Education has a joint degree program with Queensborough Community College and LaGuardia C ommunity College for Elementary and Secondary T eacher Education. Students may enroll in these programs during their freshman year at either Community C ollege. Students successfully completing the prescribed degree requirements specified by the Community College for the joint degree program are guaranteed admission to the Q ueens C ollege teacher education program for which they have enrolled. Students are advised to enroll in the joint degree program during their first semester as a freshman. For further information, consult with the designated joint degree program adviser at Q ueensborough Community C ollege or LaG uardia C ommunity College.

Field Placement Offices

Field Placement O ffices for student teaching provide direction and service to the students and faculty in the D ivision of Education. For more information contact Suzanne Abruzzo (SEYS), 997-5546 or Brenda G auvin (EECE), 997-5651.

All education courses, sequences, and programs comply with $N$ ew York State D epartment of Education regulations about certification. Students may obtain information from department offices concerning these requirements. O nce the requirements specified by the departments are completed, students can apply for N ew York State certification through the QC Division of Education. A Certification of Qualification is issued by the N ew York State D epartment of Education for those completing undergraduate programs. To be certified, students must reach criterion scores on the examinations designated by the N ew York State Education D epartment.

Educational Placement Office

The Educational Placement Office provides information about the examinations required by the N ew York State D epartment of Education and about $N$ ew York State certification and N ew York City licensing. While advice and information are provided by faculty and staff of theD ivision of Education, students are responsible for knowing and meeting specific licensure requirements of N ew York City, New York State, and other states.

Certification Office

U pon satisfactory completion of a Q ueens College education program and all requirements for the B.A. degree, the D ivision of Education will forward a student's academic record and all necessary documents to the State Education D epartment as the first step in the certification process.

G raduating seniors are advised to contact their departments or the Educational Placement $O$ ffice for information about the examinations required by the $N$ ew York State D epartment of Education and additional requirements for permanent certification. For information contact C hristine H oward, 9975545.

Placement Service Office

The Office of Educational Placement helps certified teachers and candidates for certification find professional positions. Prospective employers both in and outside the metropolitan area make requests to the College office for candidates. Students are urged to register in Powdermaker 104 prior to graduation. A nominal registration fee is charged. Teachers may update their files at any time. D ates and particulars of $N$ ew York City license examinations as well as notices of job opportunities are posted outsidePowdermaker 143. This office will be moving in Fall 2000. For information, contact C hristine H oward, 997-5545.

Departmental Awards

The Division of Education presents the $\mathbf{M}$ arc Belth Award for studies in cognition. This annual prize of $\$ 700$ is awarded to a graduating undergraduate or graduate student who has submitted an essay or paper in the areas of philosophical, social, or curriculum theory of education. The Clarence Bunch Award in Art Education (also open to graduate students) is offered to an outstanding art education student intending to continue studies in this field who promotes, contributes, and shows strong dedication to the profession of art education. The R obert Edgar Award in Secondary Education is offered to a graduating student with an overall index of 3.0 who promotes, contributes, and shows strong dedication to the teaching of Social Studies. The Herbert Fremont Award in Secondary Education is given to a graduating student with an overall index no lower than 3.6 and who exemplifies brilliance in the teaching of mathematics. The Bertha Friedman Award is granted to a limited number of Elementary Education graduates who show dedication, courage, and integrity in the field of educa tion. The H erbert Schwartzberg Award is granted to an Elementary Education major who exemplifies the positive spirit, enthusiasm, and ability to positively affect young children, for which Professor Emeritus Schwartzberg is remembered.

Education Honor Society

Kappa Delta Pi is the national honor society in education. It was founded M arch 8, 1911, at the U niversity of Illinois, and the K appa Gamma C hapter was installed at Q ueens College on D ecember 16, 1963. It encourages excellence in scholarship, high personal standards, improvement in teacher preparation, distinction in achievement, and contributions to education. Invitations are extended to students in education on the basis of their cumulative and education indices, promise in the field of teaching, and faculty recommendation. C ontact the D ean's O ffice at 997-5219.

Undergraduate Students in Graduate Education Courses

U ndergraduates who wish to take graduate courses must see a graduate adviser in the appropriate education department and obtain permission from the $O$ ffice of $G$ raduate Studies, Powdermaker 100K. (M oving to Jefferson H all Fall 2000.) Credit may be used at the undergraduate or graduate level with the permission of the graduate adviser. For further information, see the G raduate Bulletin.

The Office of Technology in the Division

 of Education has teaching laboratories in D elany $H$ all. The K aplan M acintosh Lab has the latest power-pc M AC s including CD ROM s. TheIBM and IBM -compatible labs provide facilities for telecommunications including e-mail and $N$ etscape. A faculty and staff lab provides access to a state-of-the-art M acintosh computer with multimedia capacity, a scanner, and laser printer.C oncerned with the impact of contemporary technology on the classroom, the O ffice conducts experimental classes for public school students and teachers on and off campus, monitors developments in educationally appropriate technology, and develops curriculum materials associated with microcomputer use, communication systems, and data retrieval. T hrough its research, teaching, and associated activities, the 0 ffice supports the pre-service and in-service training components of the various departments within the D ivision of Education.

Townsend H arris High School at Queens College

The C ollege's O ffice of C ollege Preparatory Programs works in partnership with the N ew York City Board of Education on a number of programs in association with Townsend H arris H igh School at Q ueens C ollege. It is involved in QC/TH H S collaborative projects, including curriculum innovations, staff development, research, and workshops for college and high school teachers. It also coordinates the "Bridge Year" program, which includes a year-long team-taught humanities colloquium at the College for T ownsend H arris seniors and enrollment in College electives. The O ffice welcomes all members of the College community to make inquiries and suggest projects. M arvin Leiner is the director (D elany H all 215, 997-3175; fax 997-3177).

The Training and Resource Center for Economic Education, operated jointly by the D epartment of Secondary Education and Youth Services and the D epartment of Economics, offers a program of seminars, forums, and courses for teachers, administrators, and community leaders in building a better understanding of economics and economic education. Programs are designed on both the theoretical and practical levels to meet economic issues and to aid economic decisionmaking on a daily basis. The Center also conducts studies of economic understanding and serves as a clearinghouse for research in economics that has particular application to schools. See Professor Jack Zevin (997-5164; fax 997-5222) or Professor H ugo Kaufmann (997-5449).The Queens C ollege School for Math, Science, and T echnology has been established in conjunction with the N ew York City Board of Education and Q ueens C ollege. It opened in September 1999, with one PreKindergarten and two Kindergarten classes with the goal of creating a Pre-K indergarten to 8 th grade school. # Elementary  & Early  Childhood Education

Chair: H elen Johnson
C oordinator for Undergraduate Programs and Advisement: Janet Ezair
D ept. Office: Powdermaker 171, 997-5300
(M oving to N ew Temp. Bldg., Fall 2000)
Professors: Abramson, Brovey, D., Schwartz, J., Schwartz, S., Whitin, D., Zarnowski; Associate Professors: Baghban, Ezair, Farenga, Gibson, Johnson, O kongwu, O livares, Salz, Swell, T urkel; Assistant Professors: Bushnell, C raven, D ill, H arris, Loughran, Whitin P.; Instructor: Bisland; Lecturers: Brovey, I., Fraboni, N ess; D epartment Secretaries: Farrell, G arland, Zion
Major Offered: Elementary and Early Childhood Education (State Education Code 02707)

Please note: Undergraduate EEC E programs are under review and may be substantially restructured. Students should contact the department (997-5300) periodically to learn if there have been any changes that might affect them.

Successful completion of the approved undergraduate program leads to recommendation by the D ivision of Education for a N ew York State C ertification of Q ualification for teaching in Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 6. Because requirements for certification in N ew York State and in other states may change and result in program modifications, it is essential that prospective EECE majors be in communication with the advisers of the department to be kept abreast of any changes. Ultimately, it is the student's responsibility to meet requirements established for certification.

Important note: Students who are interested in becoming teachers PreK-6 must seek advice about program planning as early as their freshman year. The department will provide detailed information about the curriculum, the clinical portion of the courses, and entrance and progress standards.

C urrently, the EECE department is revising criteria for admission to the undergraduate program in order to comply with changes in NY State C ertification requirements.

At the present time, to begin study in the department, students must have completed the following with a minimum overall cumulative average of 2.5 , which must be maintained as a minimum:

1. Q ueens C ollege English requirements, with an average grade of $\mathbf{B}$ in English 110 and 120. Completion, with a minimum grade of C + , in an advanced writing course such as English 200, if the average grade in English 110 and 120 is less than B;
2. Q ueens College and CUN Y mathematics entrance requirements, including successful completion of $M$ ath 06 , if required;
3. At least two of the three required semesters of foreign language study;
4. At least five of the seven categories of LASAR or 20 of the 31-credit total.
5. Departmental progress standards include:
a) Evidence of effective written communication. Early in the professional preparation sequence, students will be asked to produce, on demand, a short writing sample to determine proficiency in written composition. If additional work is needed, students will be required to register for an additional college writing course or work in writing skills through an individual plan determined with an adviser;
b) Satisfactory oral communication. If a student is found to have difficulty in this area, as determined by faculty, the student will be required to take an appropriate course;
c) In individual cases of unsatisfactory performance, a faculty committe in Elementary and Early Childhood Education reviews the case and recommends either remedial action or determines that the student pursue other study. This evaluation will be made by the EECE Department Student Review Committee, which will be convened by the D epartment C hairperson. Each student has the right to appeal to the Q ueens College $U$ ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee for review of his/her evaluation.
d) Effective work with children from diverse backgrounds;
e) D emonstrated competence with respect to knowledge of drug and child abuse. The department will advise students on methods for meeting this requirement.

Queens C ollege has a Jointly Registered Program for Elementary/ Early Childhood majors with Queensborough and LaGuardia Community Colleges. U pon transfer to Queens C ollege, students should meet with the Elementary U ndergraduate Adviser during their first semester at Q ueens.

Students may not take education sequence courses by the P/NC option. All Incomplete work must be completed before applying for certification.

The Undergraduate Education Certification Sequence

The current program of study leads to N ew York State C ertification in Elementary and Early Childhood Education (Pre-K through Grade 6). It is a coherent program characterized by the integration of classroom instruction and clinical experience. The program has two phases: Pre-Professional Year courses and the Professional Year, a two-semester sequence with a focus in one semester on PreK through Grade 2 and in the other on Grades 3 through 6.

Students who intend to co-major in Elementary and Early Childhood Education must complete an application obtained in the O ffice of U ndergraduate Advisement (moving to B Building Fall 2000) and attend a program orientation session.

Students accepted into the program typically begin in the first half of the junior year, taking required Pre-Professional Year education courses (Phasel) as they complete comajor, LASAR, and other College requirements.

The two phases of the program that comprisethe courses required for all majors are outlined in thebox on page 105.

C ourses in the D epartment of English are designed to enrich students' understanding of life and the arts through the study of literature in English. Courses are organized in various ways and at a number of different levels. At the 100-level, English D epartment courses teach rhetoric and composition and provide intensive introductions to fiction, drama, poetry, and to the contested issues generally enlivening the study of literature.

O ur 200-level courses include intermediatelevel courses in writing, period surveys of British, American, and other literature written in English, together with introductions to folklore, film study, and English linguistics. The 300-level courses are advanced electives in creative writing, historical studies of the poetry, drama, and fiction of various periods, courses in literary theory, studies of major literary figures such as Chaucer, Shakespeare, and $M$ ilton, courses in minority and ethnic literatures, and other specialized approaches to literature, as well as a senior seminar "T opics in Literature." A detailed English D epartment H andbook can be obtained in the departmental office.

THE MAJOR

After fulfilling the College's writing requirement, all English majors take at least 14 English courses, of which 7 are required. T ransfer students must take a minimum of 18 dective credits in themajor at $Q$ ueens College. A student may meet the requirements for graduation as an English major by maintaining an average of 2.0 in the required and elective work in English and by completing the course sequence noted in the box below.

Advisement

A detailed English D epartment $\mathbf{H}$ andbook can be obtained in the departmental office. Additional guidance in choosing courses within the major and supplementing the major will be provided by faculty advisers who have special ized in aiding students whose vocational interests lie in fields such as medicine, law, journalism, teaching, and drama/theatre.

Courses are listed in this Bulletin in numerical order, but in the English Department H andbook they are organized into subject areas (or "clusters") described in detail. Clusters are intended to guide majors in choosing electives, to provide a visible, comprehensive rationale for the department's offerings, and to explain the specializations and interests of departmental faculty. These subject areas fall into four general categories: 1) national literatures and historical periods; 2) studies in genres and literary forms; 3) studies in literature in its relations to language, culture, and society; and 4) writing. The current clusters are:

Honors in English

The English H onors Program provides an opportunity for students to take a seminar with other dedicated and able English majors and to graduate from the College with departmental honors. O pen by application and upon recommendation of a member of the faculty to students with English and College grade point averages of at least 3.3. Interested students should meet with the honors adviser to discuss the program as early as possible in their college careers.

Requirements: Students in the H onors Program take English 399 (English H onors Seminar), a course chosen by the students themselves, in place of, or in addition to, English 391. H onors students also take an English H onors Examination, generally in the upper senior semester. Performance on that examination, together with their departmental and College grade point average, will qualify students for H onors, High H onors, or H ighest H onors at graduation. Students may also write an H onors $T$ hesis in the senior year, course work for which may be counted toward the 42-credit requirement for the major.

Advisement: Students are encouraged to elect suitable patterns of study with the help and approval of the honors adviser, who is available for consultation and guidance. In addition to English department courses, these should include courses in history, philosophy, art, music, comparative literature, and foreign languages.

Candidates who plan to attend graduate school should be aware that master's programs requirereading knowledge of at least one and doctoral programs at least two foreign languages (of which French, German, Italian, Latin, and Greek are preferred) and experience with literary theory, such as that gained in English 382.

THE MINOR

Scholarships, Prizes and Awards

Several scholarships, as well as a number of writing prizes for English majors and nonmajors, are awarded each year. Information on the criteria for awards and scholarships and application deadlines is available in the English D epartment.

Pre-Journalism

Q ueens College does not offer a major in journalism, but does offer a minor (see page 144). Students interested in post-graduate training or careers in journalism and publishing are urged to major in English, history, political science, communication arts and sciences, or one of the other liberal arts disciplines, and to acquire as broadly based an education outside their major as they can. They can gain some valuable experience while working for the campus press as an extracurricular activity, and in journalism and publishing internships sponsored by the D epartments of English and M edia Studies.

The following courses may be of interest to pre-journalism students:

M ajors Offered: French (State Education C ode 02735), German (State Education Code 02740), Italian (State Education Code 02743) Russian (State Education C ode 02751)
The program of instruction in the $D$ epartment of European Languages and Literatures seeks, through the achievement of an accurate reading knowledge, adequate aural comprehension, and conversational proficiency, to prepare students to understand, appreciate and use professionally the language, literature, and culture of the French-, G erman-, G reek-, Italian-, and Russian-speaking worlds. Upon completion of the basic courses, students are expected to have a thorough, practical command of the language they have studied, including an ability to understand more fully the culture or cultures of which that language is a reflection. Elective courses consist of both linguistic and literary studies of a more advanced and specialized nature.

In all courses, correlation with other departments of the College is encouraged whenever students' use of their language training can be made effective in their field of specialization.

Departmental Awards

The European Languages and Literatures D epartment offers the following A wards to students pursuing their studies in the department: the Sheila Endler-Landau Memorial Prize in French; the Norman H. Paul Award in French; the Literary Society Foundation Prize in German; the German Language Award of the Steuben Society of America; the Italian Prize; as well as prizes in Italian offered by Italian business firms and friends of Italian studies at Q ueens C ollege. Special departmental awards are also offered to students who have excelled in French, German, Italian, M odern Greek, or Russian.

THE MAJORS

$M$ ajors are offered in the day session in French, Italian, German, and Russian.

Up to 36 credits are required for the major. Additional credits may be taken in courses related in content and purpose, and may include political science, geography, economics, history, anthropology, art, music, and other such adjunct courses. All prospective majors must consult a department adviser before filing proper concentration forms.

Students who plan to teach French, German, or Italian in secondary schools should also take at least three courses in a second foreign language. ( $N$ ote: There is no approved program in Russian secondary school teaching.) Approval for student teaching normally requires a 3.0 average in elective courses and the grade of $\mathbf{B}$ in intermediate conversation, phonetics, and grammar.

Students interested in a Byzantine and M odern G reek major, which has a G reek language requirement, should consult with the D irector of the Byzantine and M odern Greek Studies Program (Jefferson H all 301, 9974520).

Requirements for the Major in French

The major in French consists of up to 36 credits taken above the 204 level. Successful completion of 205, 222, and 224 is required of all majors. Students should choose courses for the remaining 25 credits in consultation with the undergraduate adviser. French 205 and 206 are prerequisites for 300 -level literature courses; French 224 is a prerequisite for advanced language courses. The French major offers a choice of two separate tracks: the language track or the literature track.

Requirements for the Minor in French

The minor consists of 18 credits in French beyond the level of French 112, chosen in consultation with a departmental adviser.

THE MINORS

A minor is offered in the day session in French, German, Greek, Italian, and Russian. Eighteen credits above language 112 are required for the minor in a European language. All prospective minors must consult a department adviser to have their programs approved.

The department offers as well courses in the German language, its literature and civilization; a variety of courses taught in English, treating literature and thought in translation; and courses in the Russian language, its litera ture, and culture.

Elective Courses

Students considering a major must consult an adviser in the department before filling out appropriate concentration forms. Either Russian 301 or 302 is required of all majors unless specifically waived by the department because of special competence in these fields. Students may choose a program that emphasizes either language or literature; however, a language concentration requires at least one literature elective in addition to Russian 331.

A literature major must also submit a substantial term paper-the topic to be determined in consultation with the faculty- for a literature course chosen from either the 200 or 300 series. M ajors should consult with their adviser before registering for the next semester.

The Family, N utrition, and Exercise Sciences D epartment (FN ES) offers programs in Family and Consumer Sciences, Exercise Science, and Physical Education with several specializations under those programs.

The Family and Consumer Sciences program is accredited by the C ouncil for Accreditation of the American Association of Family and C onsumer Sciences. Course work regardless of specialization leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree. The professional program offered by this accredited unit includes specializations in 1) Family and Consumer Studies,
2) Food and $N$ utrition, 3) Dietetics,
4) Secondary School Teacher Education, and 5) T extiles and Apparel.

C ourse work synthesizes knowledge from the physical sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities, and applies this knowledge to an interdisciplinary study of various aspects of individual and family life. Courses in the program are designed for men and women who want to enter the profession of Family and C onsumer Sciences, those who want to relate some phase of this program to their major, and those who want to fulfill a general cultural interest in one or more courses within the field.

A B.S. in Nutrition and Exercise Sciences has just been approved. See the box on page 123 for the requirements for this major, as well as the description below under the M ajor Program in Nutrition and Exercise Sciences.

The Physical Education program offers a sequence of courses leading to the Bachelor of Science in physical education and a program of instruction in physical activities.

U nless designated, all activity courses are offered for beginners. Students are not permitted to enroll in activities for which they possess a high level of proficiency. O pportunity to study specific areas in depth is provided through advanced-beginner, intermediate, and advanced courses.

Departmental Awards

The Family, N utrition, and Exercise Sciences D epartment offers the following awards to graduating seniors: C urtice Burns Award (formerly Comstock M ichigan Fruit Award) to a food service graduating senior who had excelled in his or her studies and demonstrated a dedication to pursuing a food service career. (Award includes a $$ 100$ denomination U nited States Savings Bond and a plaque);
Eula Bee Corban Award to an outstanding student of nutrition; Anne W helan D wyer \& Patrick Andrew D wyer Award to a graduating senior in nutrition (minimum C+GPA); Family and C onsumer Science Alumnae/ $\mathbf{i}$ Service Award for service to Family and C onsumer Science student clubs, the department, and the college; Family, Nutrition, and Exercise Sciences D epartment Award for high scholarship and future promise in any area of Family and Consumer Sciences;
M argaret A. Gram Award for scholarship and service in any area of Family and Consumer Sciences; H ester Gray Memorial Award is a monetary award given to a graduating student going on to teach Family and Consumer Sciences, showing significant personal growth in both academic and personal qualities. In case of a tie, two awards will be given. Funds in this account are designated solely for this purpose; Frances P. H offman Memorial Award for Academic Excellence in Physical Education for a student who has demonstrated superior scholarship in physical education; G lenn H oward Award for Academic Excellence in Physical Education for a student who has demonstrated superior scholarship in physical education; M argaret Kiely Award for scholarship in any area of Family and Consumer Sciences, presented in memory of D ean M argaret Kiely; William M adden Service Award for a student from the Physical Education program; Shirley Schecter Memorial Award is a monetary award given to a graduate student for excellence in research in the Family and Consumer Sciences. The student will be selected by the professor teaching the graduate research course in conjunction with other faculty; and the Selma Schwartz Memorial Award for a physical education major who has demonstrated superior scholarship and teaching ability.

College Requirements in Physical Education

All baccalaureate students at $Q$ ueens College shall complete satisfactorily one course in physical education selected from the liberal arts electives (FN ES 11 through 30 or, for ACE students only, FNES 32). Students with physical and medical problems whose physician has stated in writing that it would be medically inadvisable to complete a physical activity course may select FN ES 30, a 3-credit academic course that has no exercise requirement.

The Major Program in Family and Consumer Sciences

Family and C onsumer Scientists are employed in such diverse areas as dietetics and nutrition, food service, teaching, business and industry, consumer and social welfare, extension, merchandising, fashion and textiles, research, and communications. Because each Family and Consumer Scientist is a trained professional who shares certain common understandings with all others in this profession, all students majoring in the Family and Consumer Sciences programs take a common core of basic courses.

These include FN ES 106, 147, 151, and 380; Chemistry 16 and 17 or 19 and 159; and either Biology 11, 20, 22, or 108. In addition to these courses, students must complete one of the following areas of specialization and receive a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better in all prerequisite courses before they take upper level courses.

D ietetics: The department offers a specialization for students who wish to go beyond the required course work in food and nutrition in order to satisfy the professional regis tration requirements of the American D ietetic Association (ADA) and CDN from $N$ ew York State. The certified D idactic Program in D ietetics (ADA DPD) requires numerous courses in the FN ES D epartment and in other departments beyond those outlined below for the general Food and Nutrition area. Students should consult an adviser at the earliest possible point in their academic career to ascertain those specific requirements and to ensure that they have the course work planned in the proper sequence and to learn about the postbaccal aureate internship experience. An overall average of 2.00 is required in the dietetics course work in order to be verified. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this specialization.

Requirements for the Major in Family & Consumer Sciences

Required of All M ajors: FNES 106, 147, 151, and 380; Chemistry 16 and 17 or 19 and 159; and either Biology 11, 20, 22, or 108. In addition to these courses, students must complete one of the following specialization and receive a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better in all prerequisite courses before they take upper level courses.
Didactic Program in Dietetics (D PD ): FNES 101, 104, 153, 203, 263, 264, 275, 307, 337, 365, 366, 368, & 378. Also Chem 19, 159 & 179, Bio 11, 43 & 44, and two of the following three: Psych 101, Soc 101, Anthro 101.
Family and Consumer Studies: FN ES 101, 140, 203, 248, 252, and 350.
Food and Nutrition: FN ES 101, 104, 203, 275, and 307. (Note: In this specialization, students must complete Chemistry 19 and 159 and FN ES 263 and 264, or equivalents.)
Secondary School Teacher Education: Students seeking to qualify for a N ew York State provisional teaching certificate can do so by completing a competency-based program which, in addition to the core, includes FN ES 101, 104, 121, 125, 140, 156, 203, 228, 335, and Secondary Education 201, 221, 222, 366, and 376.
Textiles and Apparel: FNES 121, 126, 157 or 158, 226, 227, 228, 325, and 327; Economics 101.

Requirements for the Major in Nutrition & Exercise Sciences

Required (59 credits): FNES 230, 263, 264, 340, 341, 342, 352, 353, 365, 366, 368, 377; Biology 11, 43; C hemistry 19, 159, 179; and one statistics course: FN ES 165 or Psychology 107 or Sociology 205.

Requirements for the Minor in Family & Consumer Sciences

Food and Nutrition: FN ES 101, 263, 264, and at least six credits selected from among FN ES 104, 203, 275, 307, and 378.

Textiles and Apparel: FN ES 121, 126, 157 or 158, and at least seven credits selected from FN ES $226,227,228,325,327,358$, and 373.

Family and C onsumer Studies: This spe cialization is for students interested in working with individuals, families, and children in such settings as family service agencies, family service departments of hospitals and clinics, financial counseling agencies, consumer agencies, nursing homes for the aged, adolescents' and children's residences, day care centers, departments of social welfare, etc. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this specialization.

Food and Nutrition: See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this specialization.

Secondary School Teacher Education: See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this specialization.

Textiles and Apparel: Students specializing in Textiles and Apparel are encouraged to participate in fieldwork and the FIT option. Early consultation with an adviser is strongly recommended. G raduates from this program find employment in such areas as fashion merchandising and management, product development, and publishing. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this specialization.

Minors in Family and Consumer Sciences

A minor in Family, Nutrition, and Exercise Sciences is avail able in two areas: Food and N utrition, and T extiles and Apparel. Students who want to have the minor noted on their transcript must register with the department. See the box on this page for the specific requirementsfor the minors.

FIT Study Option

Family and C onsumer Sciences students who are specializing in T extiles and Apparel at $Q$ ueens College ( Q C ) may have the opportunity to study a number of related areas at the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) through the Visiting Student Program. Currently FIT offers 0 ne-Year AAS D egree Programs in the following areas:

- Accessories D esign
- Advertising and Communications
- Advertising D esign
- Fashion M erchandising M anagement (most commonly chosen by QC students)
- Fashion D esign (a formal portfolio of artwork is required)
- Jewelry D esign (see FIT bulletin for admis sions criteria)
- M anufacturing M anagement: Apparel Products and Related Industries
- T extile D evelopment and $M$ arketing
- T extile/Surface D esign

A pplication deadline for fall semester is January 15 and for spring semester is $\mathbf{0}$ ctober 15. It is strongly recommended that students begin the planning process as soon as possible, to obtain adequate and timely advising, by contacting the $\mathbf{Q C}$ liaison faculty member, whose approval is needed for students to be accepted into this program by FIT.

The Visiting Student Program is for one complete year. FIT requires a minimum overall g.p.a. of 2.5 from QC to qualify for the program. Those wishing to participate in the O ne-Year AAS D egree Program at FIT must have completed at least 30 transferable credits with 24 equivalent to FIT's liberal arts requirements and one semester of physical education prior to applying. It is generally recommended that students wishing to get both an AAS D egree from FIT and a BA D egree from QC complete all requirements at QC first, and then spend their last year at FIT.

Students pay tuition directly to FIT for the year they are in attendance. If students are eligible for aid, they should apply for it at QC since Visiting Students are not eligible for financial aid from FIT. Q ueens C ollege cannot guarantee that all qualified students will be accepted by FIT.

The Major Program in Nutrition and Exercise Sciences

The BS degree program in Nutrition and Exercise Sciences provides for intensive study in the combined disciplines of nutrition and exercise sciences, and is designed for students specializing in the maintenance of cardiovascular health and wellness through healthy diets and regular physical activity. Students are prepared for positions in corporate and hospital-based programs in health, cardiovascular fitness, wellness, and cardiac rehabilitation; community-based programs in nutrition and fitness for adults and senior citizens; and adult health and fitness programs in health clubs, adult education centers, sports medicine and physical rehabilitation centers, and preventive health agencies.

The curriculum for the major is comprised of 36 credits in nutrition and exercise sciences, as well as a science core of an additional 23 credits in biology, chemistry, and statistics. In addition, students take collegewide English and M athematics skills placement exams which place them in appropriate courses to meet the Q ueens College general education and Liberal Arts and Sciences Area Requirements (LASAR). Required courses in nutrition and exercise sciences include: FN ES 230, 263 (prereq. Chem 19 and 159), 264 (prereq. FN ES 263), 340, 341 (prereq. FN ES 340), 342 (prereq. Bio 43 and Chem 19), 352 (prereq. FN ES 342), 353 (prereq. FN ES 342), 365 (prereq. FN ES 263 and Chem 179), 366 (prereq. FN ES 264 and 365), 368 (prereq. FN ES 264 and Bio 43), and 377 (prereq. FN ES 353 or permission). The science core includes: Bio 11, 43 (prereq. Bio 11), Chem 19, 159 (prereq. Chem 19), 179 (prereq. Chem 159), and Statistics (FN ES 165, or Psy 107, or Soc 205). Students interested in this program should consult with the undergraduate adviser, Dr. Elaine K ris Ludman.
$N$ ote: The BS degree in $N$ utrition and Exercise Sciences does not meet requirements for teacher certification or for verification for membership in the American D ietetic Association. Students interested in Teaching H ome Economics/Family and C onsumer Sciences or Physical Education, or verification in Dietetics should consult with the appropriate advisers for those programs.

Students interested in the M S degree program in $N$ utrition and Exercise Sciences should consult with the graduate adviser, Dr . M ichael T oner.

The Major Program in Physical Education

The academic program in physical education prepares individuals for a Bachelor of Science degree and for service as teachers in physical education. It leads to $N$ ew York State Provisional Certification for teaching physical education in pre-kindergarten through grade 12 with a concentration in human movement, sport, and exercise science. The program prepares individuals to assume the following professional roles: movement specialists in the primary grades; coaches and instructors of sports in the middle and upper grades; and health-related fitness specialists.

Students who are interested in physical education should seek advice about program planning as early as their freshman year. The department will provide detailed information about the curriculum, course schedules, and standards. All students who have met Queens College admissions requirements will be required to file a signed, approved course of study with a department adviser.

Pre-Professional Component

The program includes a preprofessional component (the freshman and sophomore years) and a professional component (the junior and senior years). The pre-professional component consists of required College-wide baccalaureate courses, courses in liberal arts and sciences (LASAR categories), and courses in physical education.

The academic standards and requirements for successful completion of the preprofessional component is as follows:

1. Q ueens College English requirements with an average grade of $\mathbf{B}$ - in English 110 and 120. W ith less than a $\mathbf{B}$ - the student will be required to take additional writing courses;
2. QC and CUNY mathematics entrance requirements;
3. Successful completion of FN ES 11 (Physical Conditioning) with a minimum grade of $\mathbf{B}$ - (course meets the QC Physical Education requirement);
4. At least 26 credits in the LASAR area achieving a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 2.0;
5. A minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$ in all physical education courses with an average grade of $\mathbf{B}$ in the human movement studies area (FN ES $160,340,341,342,343$ ) and an average grade of $\mathbf{B}$ in at least 7 of the 9 credits required in the movement performance area (FN ES 12, 13, 14);
6. A minimum total of 63 credits with an overall grade-point average of 2.5 including the pre-professional component of the program, the Q ueens C ollege baccalaureate requirements, LASAR, and physical education program course requirements.

Se the box on page 125 for the courses students must take for the pre-professional component.

Professional Component

The academic progress standards and requirements for the professional component of the physical education program include:

1. M aintenance of a 3.0 grade-point average in courses included in the professional component.
2. A minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$ in all physical education major courses. A student may not repeat a major course more than twice beyond the initial enrollment in the course. A student must obtain written permission from an adviser prior to registering for a required course at another institution, and a minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$ is required in that course.
3. An average grade of $\mathbf{B}$ or better in SEYS 201, 221, 222; also a grade of $\mathbf{B}$ or better in SEYS 369 is required.
4. Satisfactory completion of professional blocks as scheduled. Because these blocks are structured, a student who has not satisfactorily completed required courses in one block will require written permission to proced to any of the courses in the next block.
5. Satisfactory performance and completion of competencies included in the clinical/field work portion of the program.
6. Satisfactory performance of competencies identified in the pedagogical area of the program (FN ES 161, 266, 370; SEYS 369, 379).

In general, a student's progress will be monitored. A student whose progress as outlined above is not satisfactory will be placed on departmental probation for one or more semesters. A student who seems unable to remove the probationary status in an appropriate time frame will be advised to follow another program if remedial action is not possible. In addition to the above:
7. Students may be asked to produce a writing sampleto exhibit writing proficiency. Students may be required to improve their writing skills through enrollment in additional College writing courses or by some other plan as determined and approved by an adviser.
8. Students who are found to have difficulty in oral communications will be required to take and complete, with a minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$, one or more of the following courses: M edia Studies 165 and 251, D rama/Theatre 100 and 241.
9. Completion of all College requirements not previously specified.
10. Submittal during the student's senior year of valid certificates in First Aid and C ardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

See the box on this page for courses students must take for the professional component.

Requirements for the Major in Physical Education

Pre-Professional Component

D uring the freshman and sophomore years, the following courses are required of majors in the physical education program:
Physical and Biological Sciences & Quantitative Reasoning (15 credits): Biology 11, C hemistry 19, Biology 43, and one course in statistics from the following: FN ES 165, Psychology 107, Sociology 205 (or other approved course).
H uman M ovement Studies (15 credits): FN ES 160, 340, 341, 342, 343.
M ovement Performance Level I, Beginning; Leve II, Intermediate/Advanced (8 credits): FN ES 11, 12 (Basketball, Levels I & II; Volleyball, LevelsI & II), 13,14 (Tennis, LevelsI & II)
To begin study in the professional component of the major program, students must satisfy all requirements and standards of the preprofessional component and submit one letter of recommendation from a professor teaching one or more courses in the physical education program.

Professional Component

D uring the junior and senior years, courses are arranged in professional blocks by semester and coblock experiences. The professiond block courses are taken together and are offered in conjunction with the Secondary Education and Youth Services Department. D uring the junior and senior years, students may also complete their remaining baccalaureate and LASAR requirements.

Professional Block I: Fall Semester, Junior Year (10 credits): FN ES 143, 146.3, 230, 266

Honors Study  C oordinator: John R. M agel

The department offers honors work within the Interdisciplinary and Special Studies Program. The purpose of the program is to identify students of exceptional ability and potential and to provide the kinds of academic experiences that will enable them to pursue, in greater depth, a specific area in which they demonstrate both aptitude and interest. This work may take the form of specific honors courses or research tutorials for 1, 2, or 3 credits. W ithin the framework of thetutorials, guided research may be undertaken in conjunction with a specific major course, or a project may be supervised by a faculty member with an interest in a specialized area. In this manner, students are not limited by the scope of the course work for a particular semester but are freeto work independently with members of the faculty. H onors work in physical educa tion is not limited to majors in this department.

All interested students should see the department honors coordinator.

H istory, usually classified as a social science, also retains strong links with the humanities. Its various approaches- political, economic, social, and intellectual - require a wide range of different methods. C ourses offered by the department acquaint students, both history and non-history majors, with the aims, methods, and results of historical research. The contemporary trend to expand the study of history beyond a national and W estern framework is reflected in the offerings of the de partment.

H istorical studies provide the background needed for graduate work in law, journalism, library science, and history Ph.D. programs. It is the best major for those planning on teaching social studies on the secondary level, as well as being an excellent major for those co-majoring in elementary education. It also is an excellent major for those planning careers in business, in the federal government, or in the civil service.

Departmental Awards

The H istory D epartment offers six memorial awards: the K oppel S. Pinson Prize to the graduating senior with the highest record in history courses; the Gaudens M egaro Prize to a graduating senior for distinguished scholarship in European history; the Solomon Lutnick Prizeto a graduating senior for distinguished scholarship in American history; the Richard W. Emery Prize for distinguished scholarship in pre 1500 European history; the Award for D istinguished Scholarship in W orld H istory; and the H istory D epartment Scholarship (for Juniors).

Scholarship keys for distinguished records in history are awarded by the Q ueens C ollege C hapter of Phi Alpha Theta, N ational H onor Society in History.

THE MAJORS

See the box on page 134 for the specific requirements for the major.

To graduate with a major in history, students must have a cumulative gradepoint average of at least 2.0 in history courses taken at Q ueens College. T ransfer students majoring in history must take a minimum of 18 credits in the History D epartment, regardless of the number of history credits earned at other institutions.

Students majoring in history must consult with the concentration advisers in order to insure that their programs satisfy department re quirements. A concentration form should be filed with the department during the junior year. Introductory surveys (H istory 100 through 116) should be taken by majors as soon as possible and should normally precede more advanced courses in each of the areas covered. Those who plan to do graduate work in any field of history should consult the C hair or department members as early as possible and should pay special attention to the language requirements for advanced study.

H istory majors seeking to qualify for secondary school social studies licenses should study the relationships between history and education requirements when planning their courses. For guidance, consult history and secondary education advisers.

D epartment honors will be granted to majors who have a 3.5 grade point average in history.

The subject to be studied will vary from semester to semester and will be announced in advance. $M$ ay be repeated for credit provided the subject is not the same. Fall, Spring
310. Tutorial. 393.1-393.3, 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. Students undertake and complete an individual research problem in their field of special interest under the direction of an instructor in the $H$ istory D epartment. M ay be repeated up to a total of six credits in the 393.1-393.3 series provided the subject is not the same. Fall, Spring
311. Seminar in History. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An intensive study in a selected field of history. The subject to be studied will vary from semester to semester and will be announced in advance. This seminar may be repeated for credit provided the subject is not the same. Fall, Spring

395W. Research and Writing Tutorial. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Students undertake and complete a full-length individual research paper on a historical topic under the direction of a full-time member of the H istory D epartment faculty. Students will learn research methods, the craft of historical writing, and in-depth knowledge of the subject studied. $M$ ay not be repeated for credit.

Home Economics

The courses previously offered by the H ome Economics D epartment are now offered through the D epartment of Family, N utrition, and Exercise Sciences.

Honors in the Humanities

D irector: Jinyo Kim
Office: D elany 305, 997-3180
Secretary: W ilma H ernandez
H onors in the $H$ umanities ( H TH) is intended for students who wish to gain an understanding of fundamental works of literature, religion, and philosophy. It is particularly meant for students who wish to do so without sacrificing the possibility of majoring in a traditional field. In order to allow sufficient time to study these major works with some care and to see their relationship to each other, H onors in the H umanities offers a planned sequence of courses, listed in the box on this page.

Any student who has been admitted to the C ollege and has passed the CUN Y Assessment T ests in writing and reading may enter HTH. Retention requires maintaining a B (3.0) average in courses. Although most students enter the courses in their freshman year, sophomore entry is permitted.

The sequence satisfies the college wide requirements in English composition and the following Liberal Arts and Sciences A rea Re quirements: H umanities।, Tier 1 and Tier 2, H umanities III, and Pre-Industrial and/or N on-W estern Civilization. In addition, completion of the entire sequence will satisfy one of the social science course requirements. Any social science course on the LASAR list may be used to complete the social science require ment.

THE MINOR

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the minor.

COURSES

N ote: H TH 101 and 102 are open only to Townsend H arris H igh School seniors.

101, 102. Freshman Humanities Colloquium. 3 hr .; 3 cr . each sem. Prereq.: Passing grade on the CUN Y Assessment T est. Selected readings from the classic texts of the W estern T radition, from the Bible and the Greeks to the present. The course will emphasize reading, writing and student discussion.

T ownsend H arris H igh School graduates who elect to matriculate at Q ueens College and who continue in H onors in the H umanities may use H TH 101 and 102 in lieu of English 140 and one of the H TH senior seminars to complete the ten-course sequence in HTH . For Townsend H arris graduates who do not choose to complete the sequence in H onors in the H umanities, HTH 101 and 102 will satisfy the H um. I, Tier 1 and Pre-Industrial and/or N on-W estern C ivilization components of LASAR.

351．Senior Seminar． 3 hr．； 3 cr．Prereq．：By permission only．W orks covered will range from ancient times to the present，and will in－ clude literature，philosophy，history，religion， etc．$M$ ay be repeated for credit provided the subject is not the same．

375，376．Honors Seminar for College

Teaching． 4 hr．； 4 cr．Prereq．：Permission of Director．Students participate in teaching the Freshman H umanities C olloquium with two other instructors：A Q ueens C ollege professor and a T ownsend H arris H igh School teacher． Includes planning and conducting seminar sessions，holding conferences，commenting on students＇papers，and attending a weekly workshop．

Honors in the  Mathematical  \＆Natural  Sciences  （Science Honors）

D irector：G．W．K oeppl
Office：Remsen 120，997－4110，212－817－8136
Committee：K oeppl，G．W．（C hemistry and Biochemistry），Bodnar，R．（Psychology），Brown， T．and Lord，K．（Computer Science），Emerson， W．（M athematics），Finks，R．（Geology）， M undinger，P．C．（Biology），G enack，A． （Physics），Fardy，P．and Kant，A．（Family，Nu－ trition \＆Exercise Sciences）

The objectives of Science H onors are to en－ hance the undergraduate education of stu－ dents who are interested in a career in the mathematical and natural sciences by helping them choose a major，obtain early access to research opportunities，pursue a research pro－ ject to a successful conclusion，and become participating members of the community of scholars at Q ueens C ollege．

W ork in Science H onors begins when stu－ dents take the Science H onors Seminar （H M N S 101）as freshmen or sophomores． The Science H onors Faculty acquaint stu－ dents with the scientific method，library and computer research skills，and the research ac－ tivities of faculty of the Division of $M$ athe matics and $N$ atural Sciences．The Seminar is interdisciplinary；topics and problems which overlap the traditional areas in science are pre－ sented and discussed．The broad exposure to work in science helps students choose a major and mentor（s）for subsequent research courses （H M N S 102，291，and 391）．The experience obtained in research courses helps students compete for research fellowships and other opportunities on and off campus，for exam－ ple，the Summer Program for Undergraduate Research（SPU R）at Q ueens College（sup－ ported by a grant from the H oward H ughes M edical Institute），the Q ueens C ollege Fac－ ulty－mentored U ndergraduate R esearch Pro－ gram，and research programs at medical institutions in the N ew York City area．

Science H onors builds a sense of commu－ nity．Students get to know each other during the Seminar course through roundtable discus－ sions，by working together on＂hands－on＂exer－ cises，taking a geology field trip，and presenting a mini－seminar on their own research project． They learn about each others＇research during seminars presented in H M N S 102 and 398. The students have their own room，a pleasant environment which they can use to＂hang out，＂study，share research experiences，social－ ize，read，and use state－of－theart microcom－ puters．A social gathering of students and faculty is held to celebrate the end of each se－ mester，acknowledge awards and fellowships received by students，and discuss topics which concern the $D$ ivision of $M$ athematics and $N$ at－ ural Sciences．

W ork in Science $H$ onors culminates when students present their research during the Se － nior Science H onors Seminar（H M N S 398）． Although the research accomplishments of students are expected to vary widely，we ex－ pect that some highly motivated students will present their results in refereed publications and at scientific meetings．W ork in Science H onors is acknowledged at two levels of ac－ complishment on a student＇s transcript and by certificates which are presented at the Di－ visional Award Ceremony which follows Commencement．

Eligibility

Students enter the program in one of two ways：as freshmen entering from high school with an outstanding record in mathematics and science，or a semester or two later on the basis of outstanding work at the College． Freshmen apply by submitting an application which includes high school grades，SAT scores，two teacher recommendations，and a personal essay．

Those selected take the Science H onors Semi－ nar their first year，usually in the Fall term． Students who do outstanding work in one or more of the basic courses offered by depart－ ments in the Division of M athematics and $N$ atural Sciences are invited to participate in Science H onors．These students are nomi－ nated by faculty who teach these courses．Self－ nominated students are also considered for admission based on their record at the Col － lege and demonstrated potential for work in mathematics and science．

Requirements

The 12－credit program consists of the follow－ ing courses．Please note：H M N S 101，102， and 398 may only be taken once；H M N S 291 or 391 may be taken multiple times for credit．

COURSES

101．Science Honors Seminar． 2 hr．； 2 cr． Prereq．：Admission to the Science H onors Program．Examination of the scientific method，introduction to library and com－ puter research skills，discussion of modern re－ search problems with emphasis on research done at Q ueens College，and introduction to undergraduate research opportunities in the mathematical and natural sciences at Q ueens College．For freshmen and sophomores．

102．Introduction to Science Honors Re－ search and Seminar． 6 hr．； 2 cr．Prereq．： H M N S 101．Students begin a research pro－ ject mentored by a science department faculty member．Students usually choose a research topic and mentor during 101 based on pre－ sentations by faculty and proposals for pro－ jects submitted by faculty．The equivalent of 6 hours of laboratory work is scheduled in consultation with the mentor．Students de－ scribe their project in a report and present a seminar．For upper freshmen and sopho－ mores．

 search．Three similar courses varying in credit：291．1， 3 hr．； 1 cr．，291．2， 6 hr．； 2 cr．， and 291．3， 9 hr ．； 3 cr ．Prereq．：H M N S 102 and permission of director．Students who take 101 and receive a SPUR Fellowship or com－ plete an approved research project at another institution do not have to take 102．The in－ termediate stage of research with a science di－ vision faculty mentor or a mentor from a N YC－area research institution．In the latter case，the student must work as an unpaid vol－ unteer．Students describe their research in a report．For sophomores and juniors．[^21]391.1-3. Advanced Science Honors Research. Three similar courses varying in credits: 391.1, 3 hr.; 1 cr., $391.2,6 \mathrm{hr} . ; 2 \mathrm{cr}$., and 391.3, 9 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: 3 credits of H M N S 291. The advanced stage of research with a science division faculty mentor. This course is aimed at the completion of a serious research effort. W ork may involve additional data collection and analysis, preparation of results for publication and/or presentation at a scientific meeting. For juniors and lower seniors.
398. Senior Science Honors Seminar. 2 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: H M N S 391 or equivalent (a 3-credit 391-level research course in the student's major department can substitute) and senior standing. Final analysis of experimental data and preparation of a comprehensive research report, presentation of a research seminar, and discussion of career opportunities in the mathematical and natural sciences.

Requirements for recognition of work in Science H onors at two levels of accomplishment: Participation and Concentration.

Participation in Science Honors

This requirement is met by completing 7 credits or more in the H M N S curriculum with an overall grade average of $\mathbf{A}$ - or better. The required courses include H M N S 101, 102 and 291 (for 3 or more credits). The H M NS 102 requirement will be waived for students who receive a SPU R Fellowship or complete a research project at another institution which is approved by the director. Research courses offered by departments in the Division of $M$ athematics and $N$ atural Sciences may substitute for 291 when they are approved by the Science H onors Faculty. Students will receive recognition on their transcript and a certificate at the D ivisional A wards C eremony.

Concentration in Science Honors

This requirement is met by completing 12 credits or more of courses in the H M N S curriculum with an overall grade average of Aor better, that is, H M N S 101, 102, 291 (for 3 or more credits), 391 (for 3 or more credits) and 398. The H M N S 102 requirement will be waived for students who receive a SPUR Fellowship or complete a research project at another institution which is approved by the director. Advanced research courses offered by departments in the D ivision of $M$ athematics and $N$ atural Sciences (usually numbered in the 390s) may substitute for H M N S 391 when they are approved by the Science H onors faculty. Students will receive recognition on their transcript and a certificate at the D ivisional A wards Ceremony.

Articulation with Other Honors Programs

Science H onors students are encouraged to participate in other H onors Programs at the College to the extent that this is possible given the heavy course loads of science majors and the 120-credit limit for all course work.

Interdisciplinary & Special Studies

Assistant to the Provost: Robert W eller
Office: Kiely 1107, 997-5782
M ajor Offered: Interdisciplinary M ajor (State Education C ode 02822)

The Interdisciplinary Major

The interdisciplinary major is designed for students who wish to develop their own concentration area in a subject not covered by any one department or program. Students who are interested in an interdisciplinary major should confer with the 0 ffice of Interdisciplinary Studies, which will provide guidance in developing a proposal for approval. The proposed concentration must have a distinct, coherent interdisciplinary theme and the course work required for it should provide substantial expertise in that theme. Since an interdisciplinary concentration requires competence in more than one discipline, the major involves a minimum of 36 credits and may require the approval of several departments.

Interested students should seek guidance at the Interdisciplinary $O$ ffice, Kiely 1107. ACE students interested in an interdisciplinary major should consult with the ACE Office in Kiely Hall 134.

Courses and Special Programs

The program offers a variety of courses in a wide range of subjects. These are staffed by teachers from the various departments, but offer the advantages of smaller class sections, flexible scheduling, and curricular experimentation. The courses, except when otherwise specified, are open to every student in good standing at the College, freshman through senior.

Tutorials

A tutorial enables a motivated, advanced student to undertake independent study of a topic under the direct supervision of a fulltime faculty member. To take a tutorial, a student must first find a faculty member willing to supervise and grade the work, and must obtain the faculty member's approval of the topic and of the work to be performed.

A tutorial card can be obtained at the Interdisciplinary and Special Studies 0 ffice, Kiely 1107. The card must be completed including a full description of the work to be done, signed by the student, the supervising faculty member, and the Chair of the respective department. The card is then returned to the Interdisciplinary and Special Studies Office for approval. The Special Studies O ffice will register the student in the tutorial.

N ote: In order to receive credit, students must be registered for the tutorial during the scheduled registration period.

No more than 12 credits in tutorials can be applied toward the degree.

The course is open to all students with an interest in the social sciences and is strongly recommended for education majors specializing in bilingual/multicultural education.

Irish Studies

D irector: Clare Carroll
Administrative C ommittee: Bird, Carroll, M cK enna, M oore, W aters
Office: Kiely 310,997-5691
The general aim of I rish Studies is that of any of the humane disciplines - literature, history, philosophy - that constitute the curriculum of a first-rank liberal arts college. In particular, it is aimed at an understanding of the historical and cultural development of the Irish people, their language, literature, social institutions; the significance of their contribution - intellectually, spiritually, artistically - to W estern civilization; their experience as one of the first post-colonial nations; their experience as an emigrant diaspora.

As such, Irish Studies is intended for all students interested in the study of a rich and varied culture, and is of special interest to those students of Irish antecedents for whom it will provide a new or renewed awareness of their place - historical and contemporary - in a pluralistic society.

For students majoring in English, comparative literature, communication arts and sciences, or political science, a wide selection of courses in Irish Studies may provide a logical corollary to their principal interest. Students interested in an interdisciplinary major in I rish Studies (through Interdisciplinary and Special Studies) should consult with the director of Interdisciplinary and Special Studies and the director of Irish Studies.

ItalianAmerican Studies

D irector: Philip V. Cannistraro
Office: Kiely 811, 997-4543
Student Adviser: D ominic C arrieli
Office: Jefferson 307, 997-4527
The requirements for the minor in Italian American Studies are under revision. For the most current information, call Professor Cannistraro at (718) 997-4543.

Italian-American Studies was founded at Q ueens College in 1973 out of a conviction that the ethnic experience in America is a key to a full understanding of American culture and history.

The purpose of Italian-American Studies is to offer courses on all dimensions of Italian participation in American life, both historical and contemporary. The approach is an interdisciplinary one, and draws upon the fields of history, political science, psychology, literature, sociology, art, and music. Within the curriculum, stress is placed not only on developing an understanding of Italian-Americans and their culture, but also on the relations of Italian-Americans to other groups - and, in fact, to all elements and facets of American society.

Requirements for the Minor in Italian-American Studies

The minor consists of 21 credits of coursework plus a foreign language requirement, which consists of Itdian 111, 112, and 113, or the equivalent level of language proficiency in Italian.

Core Curriculum

Group I. 12 credits from the following: IAS 100, 101, 202 and 300 or Ethnic Studies 310, Six Ethnic Groups in N ew York City.

Administrative Committee: Acker, Alcalay, Alteras, Bird, Carlebach, Goldsmith
Office: Jefferson H all 311, 997-4530
M ajors Offered: Jewish Studies (State Education Code 85304)
The aim of Jewish Studies is to provide students with an understanding of the history, philosophy, religion, politics, sociology, anthropology, folklore, languages, and literature of the Jewish people. The program is intensive yet flexible, tailored to a wide range of interests normally included in the broad concept of Jewish studies. Students who wish to discuss particular curriculum problems should confer with the director or any member of the J ewish Studies C ommittee:

H ebrew: J. Acker, A. Alcalay
H istory: I. Alteras, E. C arlebach
Philosophy: E. Leites
Sociology: S. H eilman
Yiddish: T. Bird, E. G oldsmith
Students should also consult the course offerings in H ebrew language and literature and in Yiddish language and literature (see Classical, M iddle Eastern & Asian Languages & Cultures).

Jewish Studies majors or minors must file a concentration form with the program office at their earliest convenience.

M ajor Offered: Labor Studies (State Education Code 85416)

The major in Labor Studies provides students with a curriculum that focuses on the world of work. Thepurpose of the program is to give students a rigorous framework for anal ysis of thelabor force, workers' organizational affiliations, and the dynamics of labor-management relations. D rawing on the various social science disciplines, the Labor Studies major offers an interdisciplinary approach to the study of labor and related subjects. The curriculum also combines a core sequence of courses with an opportunity to develop a specialization within a particular discipline.

A degree in Labor Studies prepares students to pursue careers in labor relations, including employment with labor organizations and private industry, as well as with federal, state, and local government agencies. A Labor Studies major also provides excellent preparation for law school or graduate study.

N onmajors may enroll in Labor Studies courses to supplement their own field of concentration, eg., economics, sociology, political science, urban studies, history.

The Labor Studies major consists of 36 credits: 18 credits in a core sequence, 9 in a specialization, and 9 in approved electives. C ourses in the core sequence provide a foundation for all Labor Studies majors. These courses are aimed at developing an understanding of the following: the history of the labor movement; the impact of technology on labor and industry; changes in the labor process; labor relations and their economic context; shifts in the composition of the labor force; the social and political role of labor unions; the legal framework of labor-management relations; theories of work, the workplace, and the labor movement.

In addition to the required core sequence, students must complete 9 credits within a special ization. Presently there are three specialization tracks to choose from: economics, sociology, and urban studies.

Note: English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pp. 34, 109).
$\dagger$ O ffered either Fall or Spring; see Class Schedule.
$\dagger \dagger$ M ay be offered; see Class Schedule.

Each track provides students with an opportunity to develop their analytical skills from the perspective of the academic discipline selected. The specialization tracks offer an introduction to the discipline, a background in quantitative analysis, and an opportunity to study an aspect of labor within a particular discipline.

Students complete their Labor Studies major by selecting three labor-related courses from a list of approved electives.

The Major and the Minor

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major and the minor.

COURSES

101, 101W. Introduction to Labor Studies.
$3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. The course will introduce students to the field of labor studies. It will cover such topics as: the social organization of work, labor as a factor of production, changes in the composition of the labor force, labor segmentation, and the impact of technology on work and workers.
240. Labor Unions and Industrial Relations. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: LS 101. This course will examine labor-management rela tions in the contemporary U.S., considering both the internal dynamics of management, and the structure, government, and goals of labor unions. Particular emphasis will be given to comparing and contrasting labor relations in unionized and non-unionized workplaces, and in different sectors of the economy (manufacturing, services, and government). Topics to be covered include: the development of management's industrial relations policies, the impact of the changing international economy on labor, the dynamics of collective bargaining, decision-making processes within unions, and problems of union democracy.
265. Special Topics in Labor Studies. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course will discuss selected topics in Labor Studies, usually issues of contemporary importance. Such topics as public sector unionism, labor law reform, or the international labor movement may be discussed. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is different.

310. Labor Law: An Institutional Approach. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: LS 240. The course will examine primary (case) and secondary (commentary) materials on the legislative, administrative, and contextual aspects of labor law, particularly as they pertain to collective bargaining and union organization. The course will be divided into three parts: 1) U.S. Law and Labor Relations (including an examination of institutional and sociological aspects of law, a review of Constitutional and Electives (9 credits): H istory 273, American Labor H istory to W orld W ar I; H istory 275, Business in American Life; Psychology 226, Psychology in Business and Industry; Political Science 225, Politics and Administration of Industrial Regulation; Economics 240, Economics of Business Organization; and one of the following: Sociology 219, Class, Power, and Inequality; Economics 219, Economics of Class, Race, and Sex; Urban Studies 101, Urban Issues: Poverty and Affluence; Political Science 222, Power in America.

Students may also fulfill the elective requirement by completing certain courses in the alternate track of core requirements, i. e., Economics 213, 214, Sociology 224, 228, if not taken to fulfill core requirements.

Requirements for the Minor in Labor Studies

Minors will take a minimum of 18 credits in Labor Studies, including Labor Studies 101, 240, and 320 , and three other courses listed above as either core or elective requirements for the major.
common law basis for labor law, a survey of the history and current status of labor law and labor relations, and a comparative overview of labor law and labor relations); 2) The legislative, judicial, and administrative aspects of labor law, including issues concerning jurisdiction, procedure, and the interpretation of contracts; 3) Current problems in labor law, with an emphasis on practical application.
320. Perspectives on the Labor Movement. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: LS 240. This course will examine theories of industrial relations systems; the philosophy and political perspectives of labor unions; and the current discussion concerning the state and future of the labor movement. I ssues examined will include the meaning of work, its changing nature, and the consequent implications for industrial relations and the trade unions.
370. Fieldwork in Labor Studies. 4-8 hr. fieldwork; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of the program director. This course is designed to give the student practical experience in labor issues and may take a variety of forms, such as development and execution of a research project requiring collection of data in the field, or practical experience in a labor union office or related institution under special supervision. Students will be assigned appropriate required reading. (M ay be repeated once for credit provided the project is different.)
390. Tutorial. H r. to be arranged; 3 cr . per semester. Prereq.: O ne course in Labor Studies at the 200 or 300 level, junior standing, and permission of the program director. Further specialization and advanced work involving directed readings and research on a topic chosen by the student and his or her faculty sponsor. Includes regular conferences with the sponsor and preparation of a paper. (A student may receive credit for no more than six tutorial credits in Labor Studies and may take only one tutorial in a semester.)

Latin American Area Studies

Administrative Committee C hair and Undergraduate Adviser:
George Priestley
Office: Kissena H all 310, 997-2895
M ajor Offered: Latin American Area Studies (State Education Code 02694)

This major is designed to provide a detailed knowledge of the development, institutions, language, and customs of Latin America. It is intended for two categories of students. Those who intend after graduation to go into careers such as inter-American relations, commerce, banking, or journalism will ordinarily takethe Latin American Area Studies concentration. It is strongly recommended that those who intend to go on to do graduate work should choosea minor, combining Latin American Area Studies with economics, H ispanic languages and literatures, history, anthropology, or political science. The Latin American Area Studies major is accepted as an academic major in partial fulfillment for the certificateto teach social studies (G rades 7-12). Prospective majors should consult with the C hair.

The area courses listed below are offered as a means of acquainting the student with the physical environment of the area, its people, their languages and literature, contributions to civilization, educational and scientific institutions, arts and music, economic and political problems, history, and relations with one another and with other states. All courses are conducted in English, except those dealing with languages and literature.

Visiting professors make it possible to offer other courses not listed here. Subjects in Special Problems, offered by the different departments, and courses in Special Studies and tutorials for 1, 2, or 3 credits under the $H$ onors Program, allow additional flexibility in arranging a varied program suitable to the needs and interests of the student.

Requirements for the Major in Latin American Area Studies

Required: 30 credits from the area and language courses listed. The 30 credits must include History 105 and 196, Political Science 239 or 259 , H ispanic Languages 312 or 375 or 376, Economics 212, and Latin American Area Studies 381.

THE MAJOR

See the box on this page for the specific re quirements for the major.

Students majoring in Latin American areas studies, either alone or in combination with another department, are required to take Latin American Area Studies 381 in their senior year or, with permission, in their junior year.

Seminars and Special Courses

 201. Contemporary Society and Film in Latin America. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq. or coreq.: English 120 and sophomore standing. A critical examination of both contemporary Latin American society and film. Organized in five thematic blocks, the course challenges the conventional wisdom about modern Latin America and critically assesses four types of film (commercial, educational, documentary, and propaganda) as texts about society. There are readings, written assignments, and class discussions. Fall, Spring381. Latin American Seminar. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Permission of the Committee C hair. D esigned primarily for seniors majoring in Latin American area studies, but nonmajors with a special interest in such studies may be admitted. Consists of a survey and synthesis of the principal problems of Latin America, stressing the broader aspects and relationships of the materials previously studied. The purpose of the course is to correlate and to bring into final perspective the materials previously studied in the Latin American concentration. It is under the general supervision of the administrative committee. Each student is required to prepare and present a research paper. Fall, Spring
382. Latin American Special Problems. Hr. to be arranged; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of the Committee C hair. M akes provision for intense study in a special field chosen by the student with approval of the Chair of Latin American Area Studies. O pen only to upper juniors and seniors whose previous work indicates special ability to profit from directed, individual work done outside the class. Fall, Spring

The Library

Chief Librarian: Sharon Bonk
Professors: Bonk, K aufmann; Associate Professors: Brady, Chiang, D eLuise, Simor, Swensen, T aler; Assistant Professors: Beth, Gandhi, Li, M acomber, Ponte, Sanudo, W all; Lecturers: Gomez, Ronnermann, Silverman; Substitute Instructor: Yeates; Higher Education 0 fficers: Chitty, Flanzraich; D epartment Secretary: Armao
D ept. O ffice: Rosenthal 328, 997-3760
Formal courses in basic library research methods and information literacy are offered by library faculty. U pon request, course-related instruction in a variety of discipline areas, both graduate and undergraduate, is also available for class groups. These include, where relevant, instruction in online and print access to multiple data bases. O rientation tours are also offered on a regular schedule, day and evening, during the first month of the semester. These are open to all library users. On a regular basis workshops are also offered about "CUN Y +." These present an overview of selected online data bases available on the "CUNY +" system (including the online catalog of the City University of New York libraries) and allow for hands-on practice. M ore specialized orientation is also offered to all new faculty annually.

The Benjamin S. Rosenthal Library, which holds the principal collections, also houses the Art Library and the Art C enter at $Q$ ueens College. The M usic Library is located in the $M$ usic Building. (For additional information, see page 9.)

COURSES

100. Information Literacy. 1 hr .; 1 cr . W ith the information explosion and the advent of new technologies, information access and retrieval have become more complex. This course is designed to develop the student's ability to access and retrieve from a variety of information sources to meet college research needs. Students will receive an introduction to the organization, access and retrieval of information; a foundation for forming research strategies; and a basis for evaluating information sources. In addition, students will gain an understanding and respect for the ethical and legal aspects of information and its technologies. Both print and electronic resources will be considered. N ot open to students who have taken LIB 150.

[^23]150. Library Skills: Fundamentals of Library Research. 2 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq.: Satisfactory completion of English 110. D esigned for undergraduate students who wish to improve their ability to use libraries in general and the Q ueens College library in particular. Emphasis will be on the construction of search strate gies and on the use of the catalog, indexes, abstracts, and other reference sources. Students' individual subject interests will be considered as much as possible so that the maximum benefit can be applied to their college work. O pportunities will be provided for the practical application of what is learned in class.

Library &  Information Studies

Chair and D irector: M arianne A. Cooper
Graduate Adviser: K aren P. Smith
D ept. Office: Rosenthal 254, 997-3790
Professors: Blake, Smith, Surprenant; Associate Professors: Chelton, C ooper, Kibirige; Assistant Professors: Brody, Cool, N g, W arwick; D epartment Secretary: M athios

Library and Information Studies offers a graduate program leading to the degree of $M$ aster of Library Science (M .L.S.), as well as a postmaster's certificate. The purpose of the program is to prepare professionals who will function in various library/information environments. Library/information science consists of a comprehensive, interdisciplinary body of knowledge concerning the creation, communication, location, evaluation, selection, acquisition, analysis, organization, storage, retrieval, preservation, management, dissemination, and use of information (data, concepts, ideas, images) and documents of all types (print and electronic records, sound recordings, video-recordings, films, and pictures) that may be used to store and convey this information. Its purpose is to serve the informational needs and interests (artistic, business, economic, educational, recreational, scientific, and technical) of individuals, groups, and institutions.

No undergraduate degree and/or major in library science is available currently.

For further details consult the G raduate School of Library and Information Studies.

COURSES

The following graduate courses are open to qualified undergraduate students with permis sion of the School and the 0 ffice of Graduate Studies.
700. The Technology of Information. 2 hr . plus supervised lab.; 3 cr . This course will introduce the student to the conceptual and practical elements of visual and computer literacy for the library and information science profession. Particular attention will be paid to their place and role in libraries and informa tion centers. A laboratory session following each class will give students the opportunity to apply some of the concepts learned in class and to learn and strengthen basic skills. Fall, Spring

701. Fundamentals of Library and Information Science. 2 hr . plus conf. or supervised lab.; 3 cr . O verview of the curriculum, historical introduction to librarianship and information science as a profession; professional literature; role and structure of libraries and information agencies in the conservation and dissemination of knowledge to various clientele; nature of research in library and information science. Fall, Spring

702. Information Sources and Service:

General. 2 hr. plus conf. or supervised lab.; 3 cr . Study and application of general reference, bibliographic, and other information sources (print and electronic); techniques and procedures for serving the needs of various clientele; criteria for evaluating these sources and services and for developing appropriate collections. Fall, Spring
703. Introduction to Technical Services. 2 hr. plus supervised lab.; 3 cr . The focus will be on the principles of providing access to items using the current cataloging code and the provision of subject access to items through subject headings' lists and classification systems. Study and practical exercises in all areas of technical services. Fall, Spring

The Department of Linguistics and Communication Disorders (LCD) is a new department, the result of a merger in July of 1997 of the D epartment of Linguistics and the Communication Disorders area of the former Department of Communication Arts and Sciences.

H uman language is the primary and unifying theme of the department. It brings to students an opportunity to explore the richness and diversity of this unique phenomenon. Students are provided with a solid background in linguistics, speech, hearing, and language science- disciplines thoroughly grounded in the liberal arts. They are also able to study first, second, and atypical language acquisition and use, examining similarities and differences in these processes.

The department houses programs in Linguistics and in Communication Sciences and D isorders, which are designed to provide the necessary preparation for students who are interested in careers in Speech-L anguage Pathology, Audiology, and related scholarly and professional disciplines. O ne undergraduate track in Linguistics prepares students to be teachers of English to speakers of other Ianguages (TESOL); the other is in General Linguistics. Through the exploration of human speech and language, we hope to impart to the student a deep appreciation and understanding of human nature.

Departmental Awards

The Linguistics and Communication Disorders D epartment presents annually the Outstanding Scholar Award to an undergraduate major who has made outstanding scholarly contributions to the discipline of communica tion sciences and disorders; the Wilbur E. Gilman Award for outstanding service in the discipline of communication; and the Elaine G oran N ewman and R.M.R. memorial awards for outstanding students in Linguistics.

THE MAJORS

The department offers majors in three areas of speech and language: Communication Sciences and D isorders, General Linguistics, and Applied Linguistics: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESO L). Seethebox below for the specific requirements for the majors.

Communication Sciences and Disorders

This is the study of normal communication and its impairment, and the habilitation, and rehabilitation of children and adults with disorders of speech, hearing, and language. It includes preprofessional coursework for students who wish to undertake graduate programs leading to careers as speech-language pathologists and audiologists. Students have the opportunity to observe clinical practice in the Q ueens C ollege Speech-Language H earing C enter. The program also introduces basic speech and hearing science and its research methods in preparation for graduate study in such areas as acoustic phonetics, psychological and physical acoustics, and psycholinguistics.

General Linguistics

In this program students study the phonological, semantic, syntactic, and morphological aspects of language. They learn the linguistic, psycholinguistic, and sociolinguistic principles underlying language acquisition, especially the acquisition of languages beyond those learned in infancy and early childhood.

Requirements for the Majors in Linguistics & Communication Disorders

Communication Sciences and Disorders

Required: First Level: LCD 105, 106, and 110. (These three courses must be completed with a GPA of 2.7, B-, before the student can enroll in LCD 207, 208, or 216.); Second Level: LCD 207, 208, 216, and 283; Third Level: LCD 309, 316, 322, 323, and 330 (no more than three of these courses can be taken in a semester); Psychology 224.

Electives: One of thefollowing: LCD 205 or 206; Sociology 211; Psychology 221 or 349.

General Linguistics

Required: First Level: 101, 102, 110, and 120; Second Level: 205, 210, and 220; Third Level: 306, 310 or 320 , and 360.
Electives: Three electives, at least one of which is a 300 -level course.
Note: No course will count toward this major with a grade lower than C-

Speech and Language Sciences

Required: *105, *101, *110, 102, 120,207, 210, 216, 220, and 309
Electives: 9 credits selected from the following courses; one must be a 300-level course: 205, 206, 208, 209, 283, 306, 315, 316, and 360.
It is recommended that students take Psych. 224: Child Psychology.
Note: *T hese courses must be passed with a SPA of 2.7 (B-) before students may continue in the 200-level courses.
Applied Linguistics: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
Required: First Level: 101, 102, 110, and 120; Second Level: 205, 206, 210, 220, 240, 241; Third Level: 306 and 340.

Electives: T wo electives, at least one of which is a 300 -level course.
Note: No course will count toward this major with a grade lower than C-.
Requirements for the Minor
Students interested in designing a minor should see the department Chair.

They analyze the complexities in the structure and social use of language both in monolingual and multilingual populations.

Applied Linguistics: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL)

The student who wants to teach English as a second language may prepare as a teacher of English to speakers of other languages either on theelementary school level or on the secondary school and adult level. T hestudent primarily interested in teaching on the elementary school level will be expected to complete the usual major in Elementary Education. The student primarily interested in teaching on the secondary school and adult level will be expected to take 16 credits in Secondary Education and Youth Services. Students in this program must pass the department's English Language Proficiency Test (ELPT). Proficiency is evaluated by the faculty based on a short written narrative and a taped interview with a faculty member.

THE MINOR

M inors are available that are particularly relevant to students who are majoring in English, C omputer Science, Philosophy, Psychology, and the foreign languages. Students interested in designing a minor should see the $D$ epartment Chair.

Advisement

Students who are interested in majoring or minoring in the Department of Linguistics and C ommunication Disorders should see the department secretary. T here are faculty available to give information about the department and its programs; students who major or minor in LCD are assigned permanent faculty advisors to guide them through their undergraduate programs.

Certification

Preparation for professional work in Communication $D$ isorders requires completion of a master's degree. Satisfying the requirements for the American Speech and H earing Association's Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology or Audiology provides the strongest preparation for professional work in this area and the widest flexibility for future employment. Certification by the American Speech, Language, and H earing Associa tion requires a master's degree, a specified number of clock hours of supervised clinical practice, a year of employment experience, and passing of a national examination. Students should consult advisers in order to plan programs of study that will lead toward eventual certification by the national professional association.

M athematics

Chair: N orman J. W eiss
Assistant Chair for Evening Studies and Graduate Adviser: N ick M etas
Assistant to the Chair: Steven K ahan
D ept. Office: Kidy 237, 997-5800
Einstein Professor: Sullivan; Professors:
Braun, Cowen, D odziuk, Emerson, Goldberg, H echler, H ershenov, Itzkowitz, K ahane, K ramer, Kulkarni, Ralescu, Sultan, Swick, W eiss; Associate Professors: Diamond, Jiang, M aller, Roskes, Rothenberg, Sisser; Assistant Professor: M etas; Lecturers: Chen, D on, Eisen, G oodman, H offman, K ahan, Schwartz, Sims; Laboratory Supervisor: End; Administrative Assistant: G reen; D epartment Secretary: Patto
M ajor Offered: M athematics (State Education Code 02781)

The D epartment of $M$ athematics offers a program for those students who have any of the following interests or objectives: the teaching of mathematics in elementary or secondary schools, the study of computer science or the natural sciences, study in the areas of statistics, actuarial work and other applied areas, and college teaching and research in mathematics.

See page 35 for information on basic skills requirements in mathematics.

Departmental Awards

The M athematics D epartment offers each Spring semester the Eva and Jacob Paulson Memorial Award, presented to a graduating senior for outstanding work in mathematics; and the Thomas A. Budne M emorial Award for special talent and creativity in mathematics. The following awards are also presented to graduating seniors for excellence in mathematics: the Claire and Samuel Jacobs Award; the Arthur Sard Memorial Award; and the Banesh H offman Memorial Award. To be eligible for awards, a student must have a high index in mathematics and must have taken courses beyond the minimum requirement for a major.

THE MAJORS

Students majoring in mathematics may choose either the pure mathematics option, the applied mathematics option, the secondary education option, or the elementary education option. All students must have completed M athematics 151 and 152 or the equivalent.

All majors must file an approved concentration form by the end of the upper sophomore semester. The six additional courses required for the major must be part of this concentration form.

The Pure Mathematics Option

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this major.

The Applied Mathematics Option

See the boxes on pages 152-53 for the specific requirements for this major.

Each student taking the applied mathematics option must visit the M athematics D epartment office by the end of the upper sophomore year in order to be assigned a faculty adviser, who will meet with the student at least once a year to coordinate the student's program. With the approval of this faculty adviser, a student may 1) substitute one course from the $M$ athematics D epartment (numbered above 300) for one of the courses in Group I, and 2) replace one of the required courses in Group I with an additional course from Group II (in the same track) or with one of the following additional courses:
Biology track: Biology 250, Physics 213 Economics track: Economics 382

The Secondary Education Option

See the box on page 153 for the specific requirements for this major

Each student taking this option should consult the Secondary Education Department of the Division of Education about requirements for professional education courses leading to teacher certification (997-5150). In addition, the student must visit Professor Alan Sultan of the M athematics D epartment by the end of the upper sophomore year. Professor Sultan will meet with the student at

Requirements for the Majors in Mathematics

All students must have completed Mathematics 151 and 152 or the equivalent.

The Pure Mathematics Option

Required: M athematics 201 and 202 (or 207), 310 (or 208 or 320 ), and either 231 or 237 ; Physics 121 and 122, or Physics 103 and 104, or Physics 145 and 146, or Physics 116, 117, and 118, or Economics 225 and 226. Six courses must be taken from thoselisted in $G$ roups $A$ and $B$, at least four of which must be from Group A and include either $M$ athematics $317,333,613$, or 617.
Group A: M athematics $232,317,320,333,337,338,345,346,395,396$, and all 600 -level mathematics courses, except 601 . M ath 320 may not be counted as a Group A course if it has been used to satisfy the requirement above.
Group B: M athematics 220, 223, 224, 241, 242, 245, 247, 248, 249, 217 (only for evening students who have not taken $M$ ath 223), 328, 518, 524.
With the permission of the Chair or the Assistant Chair for Evening Studies, courses in physics may be substituted for some of the courses in mathematics listed in Group A or B.
For majors centering on a specific career objective, it is recommended, but not required, that elective courses be chosen from those listed below:
High School Teaching: M athematics 317 (or 617) and 618 and 241, plus courses chosen from 310,333 (or 613), 518,524, 619,621, 626, 636. Courses in computer science and physics are strongly recommended.
College Teaching: M athematics $310,320,337,338$ (or 333 or 613 ), $609,612,614,618,619$, 621, 624, 625, 626, 628, 631, 634, 636.
Mathematical Physics: M athematics 220, 223, 224, 328, 333 (or 613), 345, 346, 614, 624, 628, and a number of physics courses beyond Physics 146.
Computer Science: M athematics $220,223,224,232,241,242,245,247,248,249,310,328,333$ (or 613), 614, 621, 623, 624, 625, 626, 628, 633, 634, 636.
Statistics: M athematics $241,242,621,624,633,635$, and 614.
Actuarial Work: M athematics 241, 242, 247, 255, 371, 372, 621, 623, 624, 625, 633; Accounting 101 and 102. These courses will adequately prepare the student for the first three actuarial examinations.

The Applied Mathematics Option

All students electing the applied mathematics option must take 201 and 202 (or 207); either 231 or 237; either 241 or 611 ; and Computer Science 101. They must also take six courses from G roup I, at least two of which must be numbered 300 or higher, and must follow one of the tracks in Group II below:
Group I: M athematics $208,220,223,224,232,242,245,247,248,249,310,328,333,613,614$, $619,621,623,624,625,628,633,634,635,636$. Except for students in the $O$ perations Research track, students cannot use all three of the courses 247, 248, 249 in fulfilling the G roup I requirement. (C ontinued on page 153) least once a year to coordinate the student's program.

The Elementary Education Option

This option is available only to students enrolled in the Elementary and Early Childhood Education program (997-5300). See the box on page 153 for the specific requirements for this major.

Special Requirements

A student who has received two grades of $\mathbf{D}+$ or lower in mathematics courses may not proceed with further courses in mathematics without written permission from the Chair or Assistant Chair for Evening Studies. A course in which a grade of $\mathbf{D}+$ or lower is obtained cannot be used as one of the six elective courses without written permission from the Chair or Assistant Chair for Evening Studies.

It is recommended, but not required, that students who expect to work for a doctoral degree in mathematics secure as early as possible a reading knowledge of at least two of the following languages: French, German, and Russian.

THE MINOR

A minor in mathematics is offered to any student who completes at least 15 credits in a coherent program of mathematics courses. See the box on page 153 for the specific requirements for the minor.

The student's program must be approved by the M athematics D epartment; a concentration form must be filed with and approved by the department by the end of the student's lower junior semester. An overall index of at least 2.0 in courses numbered 130 or higher is required, and no course in which a grade below $\mathbf{C}$ - is obtained will be recognized as fulfilling the requirements for a minor.

Actuarial Examinations

For those intending to take the Society of Actuaries examinations, the following courses will be helpful:
For the exam in calculus and linear algebra: M athematics 151, 152 (or 141, 142, 143), 201, 231, 371.
For the exam in probability and statistics:
M athematics 241, 242, 372, 621, 633.
For the exam in operations research: $M$ athematics 247, 249, 623.
For the exam in numerical methods: $M$ athematics 624, 625 .
For the exam on the mathematics of compound interest: M athematics 116.

Departmental Honors

D epartmental honors are awarded each Spring semester. The Eva and Jacob Paulson M emorial Award is presented to a graduating senior for outstanding work in mathematics. The Thomas A. Budne M emorial Award is given for special talent and creativity in mathematics. The following awards are presented to graduating seniors for excellence in mathematics: the Samuel Jacobs M emorial Award, the Claire and Samuel Jacobs Award, the Arthur Sard M emorial Award, and the Banesh H offman M emorial Award.

To be eligible for the awards, a student must have a high index in mathematics and must have taken courses beyond the minimum requirement for a major.

COURSES

All students planning to take a course in calculus should follow the results of the mathe matics placement examination. $M$ athematics 113 and 114 do not prepare students for calculus; they are designed for nonmathematics and nonscience students who want to take a course in mathematics appreciation or in probability and statistics.

In order to register for M athematics 8, 10, $100,131,132,141,142,143,151,152,158$, or 201, a student must pass the appropriate prerequisite course with a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or better. This requirement will be enforced vigorously; it can be waived only upon approval of the department Chair.

Group II: Consult your adviser for an updated list.
Biology track: Biology 101, 102, and Chemistry 115, 116 (or equivalent).
C omputer Science track: Any two courses chosen from Computer Science 103, 301, 341, 641, 645.

Economics track: Economics 101, 102, 225, 226.
Physics track: Physics 145, 146 and two courses to be chosen from 213, 238, 311, 312, 611, 612, 615, and M athematics 345, 346.
Psychology track: Psychology 101, 107, 213, and two courses to be chosen from Psychology 311315. Students should include either $M$ athematics 242 or $M$ athematics 633 among the courses chosen from Group I.
O perations Research track: Three additional courses from Group I, to make a total of nine; the nine courses must include $M$ athematics 247 (or 248), 623, and 633. A series of courses making up a meaningful program in an area in which mathematics has significant application. This series must be approved by the student's faculty adviser.
All students must have completed Mathematics 151 and 152 or the equivalent.

The Secondary Education Option

Required: M athematics 231 or 237; 201; 509 or 626; 241 or 611; 518; 220; C omputer Science 101 and 103; Secondary Education 361 and 371. Five additional courses chosen from Lists $X$ and $Y$ below, of which at least three must be from List $X$ :
List X: M athematics 310, 317 (or 617), 333 (or 613), 503, 524, 609, 612, 618, 619, and 626 (if this course is not used to satisfy the requirement above). M athematics 310 is recommended for those who expect to teach calculus. Also especially recommended are 317 (or 617), 333 (or 613), 618, and 619.

List Y: M athematics 202, 223, 232, 242, 245, 247, 248, 320, 385, and all 600 -level courses. $M$ athematics 202 is usually required for entry into master's degree programs in mathematics. A year of college physics is recommended.

The Elementary Education Option

Required: $M$ athematics 119, 141-143 (or 151-152), 231, 220, 241, 509, 518 (or 618), and Computer Science 95 . O ne additional math course will be chosen with the advice and approval of the student's $M$ athematics department adviser. Each student must obtain a M athematics department adviser by the beginning of the junior year.

Requirements for the Minor in Mathematics

Required ( 15 credits): M athematics 201 and at least four other courses numbered 130 or higher, with the exception of $M$ athematics 371,372 , and 385 . Unless permission of the department is obtained, M athematics 119 cannot be included as part of the minor. (Elementary Education students should consult that department for their special requirements for a minor in mathematics.)

Students who have received advanced placement credit for a cal culus course cannot receive credit for M ath 110 or M ath 122.
100. Calculus and Analytic Geometry (with review of algebra and trigonometry). 5 hr . plus lab. instr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: K nowledge of intermediate algebra. M athematics 100 covers the same calculus material as M athematics 141 but at a slower pace. In addition, M athematics 100 gives a brief review of intermediate algebra and trigonometry as it is needed in calculus. N ot open to students who are taking or who have passed $M$ athematics 141 or 151 . (SQ) $\dagger \dagger$
110. Mathematical Literacy - An Introduction to College Mathematics. 3 hr ., 3 cr . This course will give students the mathematical literacy necessary for success in today's highly technological society. Students will gain hands-on experience in solving real world problems in such diverse areas as law, medicine, and politics. Applications include: analysis of election results and voting schemes, interpretation of medical data, and study of the nature of fair political representation. M athematical topics covered will include an introduction to probability and statistics through normal curves and confidence intervals; exponential and logistic growth models; and the algebraic skills necessary for all the applications covered. Extensive use will also be made of today's sophisticated graphing cal culators. Successful completion of the course satisfies the Basic Skills Requirement in $M$ athematics and prepares students for M athematics 113, 114, 116, and 119.
*113. Ideas in Mathematics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: M athematics 110 or two and one-half years of high school mathematics including intermediate algebra. A liberal arts mathematics course for nonmathematics, nonscience majors. W ill explore several areas of mathematics to give the student an appreciation of the significance of mathematics, both in terms of its applications and of its place in the history of civilization. Subject matter drawn from virtually the entire spectrum of modern mathematics, including such areas as calculus, probability, game theory, number theory, set theory, logic, non-Euclidean geometry, topology, and group theory. N ot open to students who have received credit for M athematics 201 (unless permission of the C hair is obtained). (SQ ) Fall, Spring

[^24]*114. Elementary Probability and Statistics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 110 or two and one-half years of high school mathematics including intermediate algebra. An introduction to mathematical probability and statistics for the general student. N ot open to mathematics, physics, or chemistry majors, or to students receiving credit for M athematics $241,611,621$, or 633 . (SQ ) Fall, Spring
116. Mathematics of Finance. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: M athematics 110 or knowledge of intermediate algebra. T opics include simple interest, compound interest, mortgages, bonds, depreciation, annuities, and life insurance. This course may be counted toward the LASAR Scientific M ethodology and Q uantitative Reasoning requirement. (SQ) Fall, Spring
*119. Mathematics for Elementary School Teachers. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: M athematics 110 or the equivalent. This course is designed to make prospective elementary school teachers aware of the beauty, meaning, and relevance of mathematics. Topics are taken from those areas of mathematics that are related to the elementary school curriculum, and emphasis is placed on clearing up common misunderstandings of mathematical concepts and results. (SQ) Fall, Spring
120. Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 122 or the equivalent. This course lays the groundwork for further courses in discrete mathematics and theoretical computer science. Topics include: Sets, functions, rela tions, formal logic (propositional and predicate calculus); elementary number theory; elementary combinatorics and discrete probability; introductory abstract algebra, monoids and groups. $N$ ot open to students who have received credit for $M$ athematics 220. Fall, Spring
122. Precalculus. 4 hr .; 4 cr . Prereq.: Three years of high school math. This course offers a thorough introduction to the topics required for calculus. Topics include: real and complex numbers, algebra of functions, the fundamental theorem of algebra, trigonometry, logarithms and exponential functions, conic sections, and the use of graphic calculators. Students unsure of their preparation for calculus are advised to take the $Q$ ueens College mathematics placement test.
*131. Calculus with Applications to the Social Sciences I. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: T wo and one-half years of high school mathematics including intermediate algebra. The first part of a two-semester sequence ( $M$ athematics 131 and 132) intended to introduce the fundamental ideas and techniques of the calculus to nonscience students. Special emphasis is given to applications. C redit is given for each course satisfactorily completed; a student need not take the entire sequence. Topics include functions and graphs; derivatives and differentiation techniques; the marginal concept in economics; optimization methods; compound interest; exponential and logarithmic functions. $N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 100 , 141, or 151. (SQ ) Fall, Spring

132. Calculus with Applications to the Social Sciences II. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: $M$ athematics 131. A continuation of $M$ athe matics 131. T opics include integrals and integration techniques; applications of integrals to statistics via probability densities; consumer's and producer's surplus; elementary differential equations; functions of several variables; optimization methods; Lagrange multipliers; multiple integrals. (SQ ) $\dagger \dagger$141. Calculus/ Differentiation. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: T hree years of high school mathe matics including intermediate algebra and trigonometry, or M athematics 122. The first part of a three-semester sequence ( $M$ athematics $141,142,143$ ), covering the same material as M athematics 151 and 152 . Credit is given for each course satisfactorily completed; a student need not take the entire sequence. $N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 100 or 151. (SQ ) Fall, Spring

142. Calculus/ Integration. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: M athematics 100 or 141. A continuation of $M$ athematics 141. N ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 151 . (SQ ) Fall, Spring
143. Calculus/ Infinite Series. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 142. M athematics 151 does not satisfy the prerequisite. A continua tion of $M$ athematics 142. $N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 152. (SQ) Fall, Spring
144. Calculus/ Differentiation & Integration. 4 hr .; 4 cr . Prereq.: Three years of high school mathematics including intermediate algebra and trigonometry, or M athematics 122. The first part of a two-semester sequence (M athematics 151 and 152) intended for students who want to study mathematics, physics, chemistry, or engineering. Credit is given for each course sati sfactorily completed; a student need not take the entire sequence. Students who want a less rapid introduction to calculus should take M athematics 141. Topics include sets, inequalities, straight lines, circles, functions, limits, continuity, the derivative, formulas of differentiation, implicit differentiation, velocity, acceleration, maxima and minima, R olle's theorem, the mean value theorem, points of inflection, curve sketching, antiderivatives. N ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 100 or 141. (SQ ) Fall, Spring

152. Calculus/ Integration & Infinite

Series. 4 hr .; 4 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 151. D eals with several aspects of differential and integral calculus. Among the topics studied are the definite integral, applications of the definite integral, the differentiation of logarithmic, exponential, and inverse trigonometric functions, integration, indeterminate forms, improper integrals, infinite series, and expansions of functions. Applications to problems of geometry and physics. $N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have passed M athematics 142. (SQ ) Fall, Spring
157, 158. Honors Calculus I, II. 4 hr.; 4 cr. each semester. Prereq.: Permission of Chair. An intensive course that is the first year of a two-year sequence (M athematics 157, 158, $207,208)$ that will cover elementary and advanced calculus. A rigorous treatment of calculus from a modern point of view is given. The best mathematics students are urged to take this course. Students taking this course can receive advanced placement credit for calculus courses taken in high school. N ot open, without permission of the department C hair, to students who have passed $M$ athe matics 100, 141, or 151. (SQ ) 157-Fall; 158-Spring

171. Computer Solution of Mathematical

 Problems. 2 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 143 or 152. Solution of problems arising in calculus, using BASIC or another suitable programming language. No prior computer experience or knowledge of a computer language is necessary.[^25]$N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have received credit for $M$ athematics 624 or Computer Science 361. Fall, Spring
190. Studies in Mathematics. 190.1-190.6, 1-6 hr.; 1-6 cr. Prereq.: Permission of Chair. Topic announced in advance. M ay bere peated for credit if topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
201. Calculus. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 143 or 152. A continuation of the work of $M$ athematics 143 or 152 . Thetopics include polar coordinates, vectors, solid analytic geometry, vector-valued functions, double and triple integrals, functions of several variables, partial derivatives. W herever possible, applications are made to problems of geometry and physics. $N$ ot open to students who are taking or who have passed $M$ athematics 132 (unless permission of the Chair is obtained). (SQ ) Fall, Spring
202. Advanced Calculus. 4 hr .; 4 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 201 and, as prerequisite or corequisite, M athematics 231 or 237 (or permission of Chair). Vector-valued functions, higher-order derivatives, maxima and minima of functions of several variables, integrals over paths and surfaces, vector analysis. (SQ ) Fall, Spring
207, 208. Honors Calculus III, IV. 4 lec. hr., 1 conf. hr., and independent work; 5 cr . each sem. Prereq.: M athematics 158 or $M$ athematics 201 and permission of C hair. Continuation of H onors Calculus I and II
(M athematics 157, 158), including topics of advanced calculus. (SQ) 207-Fall;
208-Spring
217. Engineering Mathematics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 201 and a first course in physics. Covers ordinary differential equations, Laplace transforms, and Fourier series. Intended for students planning to continue in engineering. Students taking this course may not receive credit for $M$ athematics 223. (SQ) Spring
220. Discrete Mathematics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: O ne semester of calculus or permission of the instructor. T opics taken from the subjects of logic and switching circuits, set theory, combinatorics, graph theory, and their applications. (SQ) Fall
223. Differential Equations with Numerical Methods I. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 201. First order linear, separable, and exact equations; second order linear equations; series solutions; existence and uniqueness the orem; numerical solutions; applications. Students receiving credit for this course may not receive credit for $M$ athematics 217. (SQ ) Fall, Spring
224. Differential Equations with Numerical Methods II. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 223, and either $M$ athematics 231 or 237. Linear systems of equations; stability of linear systems, orbits, phase portraits, periodic solutions, stability; boundary value problems; applications. (SQ) Fall
231. Linear Algebra I. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: O ne semester of calculus. An introduction to linear algebra with emphasis on techniques and applications. T opics to be covered include solutions of systems of linear equations, vector spaces, bases and dimension, linear transformations, matrix algebra, determinants, eigenvalues, and inner products. N ot open to students who are enrolled in or who have completed $M$ athematics 237. (SQ ) Fall, Spring
232. Linear Algebra II. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: $M$ athematics 231. A second course in linear al gebra. Topics include a continuation of matrices and linear transformations, canonical forms, invariants, equivalence relations, similarity of matrices, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, orthogonal transformations and rigid motions, quadratic forms, bilinear maps, symmetric matrices, reduction of a real quadratic form and applications to conic sections and quadric surfaces. N ot open except by permis sion of the C hair to students who are enrolled in or who have completed $M$ athematics 237. (SQ ) Fall
237. Honors Linear Algebra. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of Chair. An intensive course in linear algebra for superior mathematics students. N ot open to students who are enrolled in or who have completed $M$ athematics 231. (SQ ) $\dagger \dagger$
241. Introduction to Probability and Mathematical Statistics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 132 or 143 or 152. An introduction to the basic concepts and techniques of probability and statistics with an emphasis on applications. Topics to be covered include the axioms of probability, combinatorial methods, conditional probability, discrete and continuous random variables and distributions, expectations, confidence interval estimations, and tests of hypotheses using the normal, t , and chi-square distributions. Students taking this course may not receive credit for M athematics 114, except by permission of the C hair. N ot open to students who are taking or who have received credit for $M$ athematics 611. (SQ) Fall, Spring
242. Methods of Mathematical Statistics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 241. A study of those methods of mathematical statistics that are most frequently used in the natural and social sciences, as well as actuarial science. Topics include estimation testing of statistical hypotheses, nonparametric tests, analysis of variance, correlation and regression analysis, and other methods of statistical analysis. (SQ ) Fall
245. Mathematical Models. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 132 or 142 or 152, and permission of instructor. Construction, analysis, and assessment of mathematical models as they arise in the physical, biological, and social sciences. Specific topics to be announced in advance. M ay be repeated for credit with permission of the C hair. (SQ ) Spring
247. Linear Programming and Game Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 231 or 237 or the equivalent. M ethods for handling optimization problems that arise in management, engineering, physical sciences, and social sciences. T opics include convex geometry, the Simplex Algorithm, duality theory, and the V on N eumann minimax theorem of game theory. (SQ ) Fall
248. Nonlinear Programming. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 201 and either M athematics 231 or 237 . Iterative methods for solving nonlinear optimization problems; techniques for handling problems with and without constraints; termination criteria and convergence analysis. (SQ) Spring
249. Extensions of Linear Programming. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 247. T opics include goal programming, integer programming, network analysis, and dynamic programming. Additional topics may be chosen from fractional programming, quadratic programming, convex programming, separable programming, and heuristic programming. A large number of realistic applications will be given. (SQ) $\dagger \dagger$
290. Studies in Mathematics. 290.1-290.6, 1-6 hr.; 1-6 cr. Prereq.: Permission of Chair. T opic announced in advance. $M$ ay be re peated for credit if topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
310. Elementary Real Analysis. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 201. Rigorous introduction to functions of a real variable. T opics include real numbers and the completeness property; limits of sequences; elementary topological concepts; continuity and uniform continuity; sequences and series of functions, derivatives; Taylor's Theorem; the Riemann integral. (SQ ) Fall
317. Foundations of Analysis. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: M athematics 201. Language of logic and set theory; relations and functions; Peano systems; iterative processes; the natural numbers; integers and integral domains; rational numbers and fields; completeness and the real numbers; alternative characterizations of the real numbers; Archimedean order. Undergraduate students may elect $M$ athematics 617 in place of $M$ athematics 317 . Students may not take both courses. (SQ) Spring
320. Introduction to Point Set Topology. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 201. Presents the basic concepts and some of the fundamental results of point set topology. (SQ) Spring
328. Introduction to Partial Differential Equations. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 217 or 223. T opics covered include partial differential equations, Fourier series, and boundary value problems. (SQ ) Spring
333. Introduction to Algebraic Structures. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 201. Theory of groups, including cyclic and permutation groups, homomorphisms, normal and factor groups. Theory of rings, integral domains, field of quotients, maximal and prime ideals, rings of polynomials, field extensions. Students may not take both M athematics 333 and 613. (SQ) Fall
337. Honors Abstract Algebra I. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of Chair. The first part of an intensive two-semester sequence for students intending to do advanced work related to mathematics. Definitions, examples, and basic properties of groups, rings, fiedds, and vector spaces. (Credit may be received for M athematics 337 without completing M athematics 338 . C redit may not be received for both M athematics 337 and either $M$ athematics 333 or 613 . It is suggested that students needing a sower presentation of abstract algebra register for M athematics 333 or 613 instead.) (SQ ) $\dagger \dagger$
371. Actuarial Mathematics I. 1 hr .; 1 cr . Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 201 and either 231 or 237. This course is designed to prepare the student for the $G$ eneral $M$ athematics portion (Part I) of the actuarial examinations. C lass meetings are arranged so that the course is completed by the time of the $N$ ovember Actuarial Examination. Fall
372. Actuarial Mathematics II. 1 hr .; 1 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: At least two of the following courses: $M$ athematics 242,621 , and 633. This course is designed to prepare the student for the Probability and Statistics portion (Part II) of the actuarial examinations. Class meetings are arranged so that the course is completed by the time of the $M$ ay Actuarial Examination. Spring
385. Mathematical Foundations of the Secondary School Curriculum. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 201 or permission of instructor. Designed to give prospective secondary school mathematics teachers an understanding of the mathematics they will be teaching. An examination will be made of the thought underlying the secondary curriculum, from a consideration of the nature of mathematics and mathematical thought to the construction of simple mathematical models drawn from secondary school topics. Fall
390. Studies in Mathematics. 390.1-390.6, 1-6 hr.; 1-6 cr. Prereq.: Permission of C hair. Topics announced in advance. $M$ ay be re peated for credit if topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$
391, 392. Special Problems. 391.1-391.5, $1-5 \mathrm{hr} . ; 1$-5 Cr., 392.1-392.5, 1-5 hr.; 1-5 cr. each sem. Prereq.: Junior or senior standing and permission of Chair. Each student works on a minor research problem under the supervision of a member of the department. O nly students of exceptional mathematical ability and promise are admitted to the course. $\dagger \dagger$
395. Honors Seminar I. 395.3-395.6, 3-6 hr.; 3-6 cr. Prereq.: Permission of instructor. A specific area of current research interest will be studied. As the specific material covered may vary from year to year, this course may be taken for credit more than once if the subject matter changes. $\dagger \dagger$
396. Honors Seminar II. 396.3-396.6, 3-6 hr.; 3-6 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 395. Continuation of $M$ athematics $395 . \dagger \dagger$
The following graduate courses are open to qualified undergraduate students.

503. Mathematics from an Algorithmic

 Standpoint. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: O ne year of calculus. An algorithmic approach to a variety of problems in high school and college mathematics. Experience in programming is not necessary. T opics may include problems from number theory, geometry, calculus and numerical analysis, combinatorics and probability, and games and puzzles. This course aims at a better understanding of mathematics by means of concrete, constructive examples of mathematical concepts and theorems. (This course may not be credited toward the degree of $M$ aster of Arts in $M$ athematics, except with the special permission of the Chair.) Spring509. Set Theory and Logic. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: O ne year of calculus or permission of instructor. Propositional logic and truth tables. Basic intuitive ideas of set theory: cardinals, order types, and ordinals. M ay not be credited toward the $M$ aster of Arts degree in $M$ athematics.
510. College Geometry. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: M athematics 231 or 237. Advanced topics in plane geometry, transformation geometry. N ot open to candidates for the M aster of Arts degree in M athematics. Fall
511. History of Mathematics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq. or coreq.: M athematics 201. N ot open to candidates for the M aster of Arts degree in $M$ athematics. Fall
512. History of Modern Mathematics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 524 or permission of instructor. Selected topics from the history of nineteenth- and twentieth-century mathematics, e.g., topology, measure theory, paradoxes and mathematical logic, modern algebra, non-Euclidean geometries, foundations of analysis. M ay not be credited toward the $M$ aster of Arts degree in $M$ athematics.
513. Studies in Mathematics. 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of C hair. T opic will be announced in advance. $M$ ay be repeated once for credit if topic is not the same. $N$ ot open to candidates for the $M$ aster of Arts degree in $M$ athematics. $\dagger \dagger$
514. Mathematics of Games and Puzzles. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: T wo years of calculus or permission of instructor. Elements of game theory, analysis of puzzles such as weighing problems, mazes, Instant Insanity, magic squares, paradoxes, etc. M ay not be credited toward the $M$ aster of Arts degree in $M$ athe matics.
515. Discrete Mathematics for Computer

Science. 4 hr .; 3 cr . An introduction to discrete mathematics for those incoming Computer Science M aster's degree students who do not have an undergraduate background in discrete mathematics. T opics include elementary set theory, elements of abstract algebra, propositional calculus and Boolean algebra, proofs, mathematical induction, combinatorics, graphs and discrete probability theory. Students may not receive credit for both $M$ athematics 601 and either $M$ athematics 120, 220 or Computer Science 220. M athematics 601 cannot be counted toward the Bachelor's or $M$ aster's degree in $M$ athematics.
609. Introduction to Set Theory. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: M athematics 201 or permission of C hair. Axiomatic development of set theory: functions, ordinal and cardinal numbers, axiom of choice, Zorn's lemma, continuum hypothesis. Spring ability. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: A one-year course in differential and integral calculus (including improper integrals). A first course in probability at an advanced level. Topics to be covered include axioms of probability, combinatorial analysis, conditional probability, random variables, binomial, Poisson, normal, and other distributions, mathematical expectation, and an introduction to statistical methods. $N$ ot open to students who have received credit for M athematics 241 or 621 . M ay not be counted toward the $M$ aster of Arts degree in $M$ athematics. Spring612. Projective Geometry. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: M athematics 231 or 237 . Study of the projective plane. $\dagger \dagger$

611. Introduction to Mathematical Prob-

613. Algebraic Structures. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: $M$ athematics 231 or 237 . Groups, rings, polynomials, fields, G alois theory. Students may not take both M athematics 333 and 613. Spring
614. Functions of Real Variables. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C ourse in Elementary Real Analysis or Point Set Topology (equivalent of M athematics 310 or 320 ), or permission of instructor. Provides a foundation for further study in mathematical analysis. Topics include basic topology in metric spaces; continuity; uniform convergence and equicontinuity; introduction to Lebesgue theory of integration. Fall
615. Ordinary Differential Equations. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 614 or permission of Chair. Existence and uniqueness of solutions, linear systems, Liapunov stability theory, eigenvalue and boundary value problems. Spring
616. Number Systems. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: $M$ athematics 201. Axiomatic development of the integers, rational numbers, real numbers, and complex numbers. $N$ ot open to students who have received credit for $M$ athematics 317. Fall
617. Foundations of Geometry. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 143 or 152 . Historical perspective. Axiomatics: models, consistency, and independence. Rigorous development of both Euclidean geometry and non-Euclidean geometry of Bolyai and Lobachevski. Spring
618. Theory of Numbers. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: $M$ athematics 231 or 237 . The elementary the ory of integers, with applications to many numerical problems. Fall
619. Probability. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: A semester of intermediate calculus (the equivalent of $M$ athematics 201) and an introductory course in probability, or permission of Chair. Topics to be covered include binomial, Poisson, normal, and other distributions, random variables, laws of large numbers, generating functions, $M$ arkov chains, central limit theorem. Fall

623. Operations Research (Probability

Methods). 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: C ourse in probability theory (such as M athematics 241). An introduction to probabilistic methods of operations research. T opics include the general problem of decision-making under uncertainty, project scheduling, probabilistic dynamic programming, inventory models, queuing theory, simulation models, and M onte C arlo methods. The stress is on applications. Spring
624. Numerical Analysis I. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 231 or 237 , and either $M$ athematics 255 or knowledge of a programming language; coreq.: M athematics 201. $N$ umerical solutions of nonlinear equations by iteration. Interpolation and polynomial approximation. N umerical differentiation and integration. Fall
625. Numerical Analysis II. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: $M$ athematics 624 or its equivalent, including knowledge of a programming language. N umerical solution of systems of linear equations. Iterative techniques in linear alge bra. N umerical solution of systems of nonlinear equations. Orthogonal polynomials. Least square approximation. G aussian quadrature. Numerical solution of differential equations. Spring
626. Mathematics and Logic. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.or coreq.: M athematics 201 or permission of C hair. Propositional calculus, quantification theory, recursive functions, Gödel's incompleteness theorem. Spring
628. Functions of a Complex Variable. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: M athematics 202 or permission of Chair. Topics covered include analytic functions, C auchy's Integral Theorem, TayIor's Theorem and Laurent series, the calculus of residues, Riemann surfaces, singularities, meromorphic functions. Spring
630. Differential Topology. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: M athematics 202. Differentiable manifolds and properties invariant under differentiable homeomorphisms; differential structures; maps, immersions, imbeddings, diffeomorphisms; implicit function theorem; partitions of unity; manifolds with boundary; smoothing of manifolds. $\dagger \dagger$
631. Differential Geometry. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 202. The theory of curves and surfaces and an introduction to Riemannian geometry. Fall
632. Differential Forms. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: $M$ athematics 202. A study in a coordinatefree fashion of exterior differential forms; the types of integrands that appear in the advanced calculus. $\dagger \dagger$
633. Statistical Inference. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Pre req.: A semester of intermediate calculus (the equival ent of $M$ athematics 201) and either an undergraduate probability course that includes mathematical derivations or $M$ athematics 611 or 621 . Basic concepts and procedures of statistical inference. Spring
634. Theory of Graphs. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: $M$ athematics 201. An introduction to the theory of directed and undirected graphs. The Four-C olor Theorem. Application to other fields. Fall
635. Stochastic Processes. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: M athematics 611 or 621. A study of families of random variables. $\dagger \dagger$
636. Combinatorial Theory. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Pre req.: $M$ athematics 231 or 237. This course will be concerned with techniques of enumeration. Spring
650. Studies in Mathematics. 1-3 hr.; 1-3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of Chair. Topic announced in advance. $M$ ay be repeated for credit if topic is not the same. $\dagger \dagger$

Media Studies

Chair: Stuart E. Liebman
C hair, Undergraduate Studies C ommittee: H eather H endershot
C oordinator, Graduate Program in M edia
Studies: Jonathan Buchsbaum
D ept. Office: 100 G Building, 997-2950
Professor: Liebman; Associate Professors: Buchsbaum, M axwell; Assistant Professors: H endershot, Lenert, Raad; Lecturer: M acmilIan; College Laboratory Technicians: Cicali, Sun; D epartment Secretary: Pilate
M ajor Offered: M edia Studies (State Education Code 02702)

C ourses in M edia Studies provide students with a better understanding of self and society through a comprehensive overview of media institutions, forms, contents, creative processes, and social effects. They assist in preparing the student for professions that require historical, theoretical, and creative knowledge of the media, such as education, the law, government service, the ministry, advertising and public relations, social services, industrial communications, and the arts and humanities. A major in the department encourages the student to view the media, both in the U nited States and around the world, as a unified field of study, while allowing a concentration in subjects and areas of special personal interest.

Departmental Award

TheM edia Studies D epartment presents the Special Achievement in M ulticultural Communication Studies Award to a student with a grade-point average of 3.6 or above who has made outstanding contributions to the study of women and/or minorities from a media perspective.

Areas of Study

The D epartment of M edia Studies offers work in several major areas of study, including film and television studies, advertising and marketing, international communications, and the media arts. Each area is designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the substance and form of message variables in a variety of media systems, including speech, film, radio, television, narrowcast broadcasts, the Internet, and the world wide web. Students are introduced to research-oriented, rhetorical, and aesthetic approaches. Theory and research courses are complemented by basic and upper-level courses in film and television production. Students may also elect a limited number of credits in internship programs at major corporate and public institutions in the greater N ew York area. They may also create special courses of study (see below).

Major Standing

Students should file for major standing no earlier than the latter half of the second semester in residence. To become a major, the student must file an Application for M ajor Standing, available in the department office. Applications may be filed at any time during the semester. To maintain major standing after filing, the student should pursue the elected major program with approval of his or her major adviser, who will be assigned when the Application for M ajor Standing is filed. The major program must receive formal approval for graduation during the student's final semester in residence. Freshmen who intend to be M edia Studies majors are advised to select department core courses or other courses at the 100 level (see below) during the freshman year. Close attention should always be paid to appropriate prerequisites which will be enforced.

THE MAJOR

A major in M edia Studies consists of not fewer than 36 nor more than 42 credits. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this major.

Appropriate prerequisites will always be enforced. N ote: A minimum grade of $\mathbf{C}$ is required in order for a course to be counted toward the M edia Studies major.

Requirements for the Major in Media Studies

Required: M EDST 100, 101, 200, and 300W, and three courses at the 300 level, at least two of which must be designated as writing-intensive (W).
Electives: Five additional elective courses, possibly including three credits of M EDST 392 Internship.

Requirements for the Minor in Media Studies

Required: M EDST 100, 101, 200, and 300W .
Electives: Three courses of the student's choice from departmental offerings. At least two of the three must be at the 200 level or above.

Joint Programs

Media Studies and Political Science

This program is designed for students whose interests are in law, public affairs, international communications, and political reporting.

N ote: $N$ ew students are not being accepted into this joint major at this time while the two departments are revising this program. Please consult with advisers in each department concerning the status of this program.

Drama, Theatre, and Dance and Media Studies

Note: New students are not being accepted into this joint major at this time while the two departments are revising this program. Please consult with advisers in each department for the status of this program.

THE MINOR

Theminor in M edia Studies consists of 21 credits forming a coherent course of study. The minor requires careful planning, and consulta tion with departmental faculty is advisable. See the box on this page for the specific require ments for the minor.

JOURNALISM

Q ueens C ollege offers a minor in Journalism (see page 144). Students interested in postgraduate training or careers in journalism and publishing are urged to major in English, history, political science, media studies, or one of the other liberal arts disciplines, and to acquire as broadly based an education outside their major as they can. Students can acquire valuable experience while working for the campus press as an extracurricular activity, and in journalism and publishing internships sponsored by the D epartments of English and M edia Studies, as well as by the Journalism Program.

Students should consult with the Director of the Journalism Program for counseling about professional schools and careers.

FILM STUDIES

Q ueens C ollege offers an interdisciplinary major in Film Studies (see page 129), many of whose courses are offered through the M edia Studies D epartment. Students interested in post-graduate training or careers in film making, film criticism, and television studies should consider this option. Film students may consult with the head of the Film Studies Program for counseling about professional schools and careers.

COURSES

100. Media Technologies from Gutenberg to the Internet. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Broad historical survey of media technologies and their social implications. Fall, Spring
101. The Contemporary Media. 3 hr.; 3 cr. (formerly CAS 102) Survey of contemporary media institutions and their economic, social, political, and cultural implications. Fall, Spring
102. Interpersonal Communication. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Basic concepts and processes of human communication with special emphasis on the role of individual factors in group interaction. Theoretical and experiential consideration of such topics as communication models, verbal and nonverbal codes, perception, and selfconcept. Fall, Spring

104. The Role of Rhetoric in American

 Society. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Analysis of the role of rhetoric in creating and resolving public problems through various media.110. Political Communication. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A survey of the major approaches to American, comparative, and international political communication. C overs such topics as the language of politics, communication in political decision making, the rhetoric of politics, mass communication, and political behavior. Fall, Spring
111. History of the Cinema I: 1880 to 1930. 4 hr .; 3 cr . Survey of the motion picture from its inception to 1930. D evelopment of the cinema as both a distinctive medium of communication and an art form. Significant films are viewed and discussed. M AT charge, $10. Fall
112. History of the Cinema II: 1930 to the Present. $4 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. D evelopment of the cinema since 1930. M AT charge, $\$ 10$. Spring
113. History of Broadcasting. (formerly CAS 250) 3 hr .; 3 cr . The history of radio and television broadcasting from the 1920s to the present. U sing an interdisciplinary approach, the course focuses on broadcasting institutions, issues, research trends, and program format analysis. Fall, Spring
114. Public Speaking. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Application of principles of speech preparation to major types of public address; study of selected speeches to illustrate major types; presentation of speeches; policy-forming, professional, social, ceremonial.
115. Oral Communication in the Workplace. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Study of the role of communication as a variable defining, organizing, mediating, and affecting the outcomes of interactions within organization environments. Introduction to and mastery of basic oral formats and nonverbal communication techniques likely to be useful as a participant in corporate organizations. Some sections of this course will be limited to students enrolled in the Business and Liberal Arts minor.
116. Principles of Sound and Image. (formerly CAS 147) 4 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the formal conventions of media and their critical analysis, with examples drawn from television, film and advertisements. Students will be introduced to basic principles of composition, editing, and camera movement. They will apply these principles in short writing and production assignments. M AT charge, $7. Fall, Spring
117. Television Theory and Criticism. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M EDST 145. Explores key concepts in television theory and teaches students strategies of television analysis.
118. Ethnicity in American Media. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: M EDST 100 or 101. Examines ethnic and/or foreign language media in the U nited States, emphasizing issues of regulation, content, and foreign ownership. M ay also address representation of different ethnic groups in mainstream English language media.
119. Multimedia. (formerly CAS 240) 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M EDST 200. Exploration and analysis of the emerging technology of interactive computer-based multimedia as a contemporary communications tool, focusing on the nexus of computers, film, video, audio, and text. Students will design, produce, and critique their own web pages and/or presentations.
120. Introduction to Video: Studio. 4 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ED ST 200. C reative processes and techniques of studio television production, including the operation of studio and control-room equipment. Fall, Spring
121. Introduction to Video: Field. 4 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: MEDST 200. A continuation of M EDST 242, including production of television in the field. Differences in techniques and styles between studio and field video production are emphasized.
122. Screenwriting. 3 hr. plus conf.; 3 cr . Prereq.: MEDST 143 or 144, or 145, or 200, or permission of department. Principles and practice of writing for radio, television, and film writing. Fall, Spring
123. Media Performance. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ED ST 200 or permission of department. The development of the performer in radio, television, and film.
124. Freedom of Speech. 3 hr .; 3 cr . (formerly CAS 246) Prereq.: MEDST 110 or 145, or permission of department. Regulation and control of communication through legal restriction, censorship, and self-regulation.
125. Argumentation. (formerly CAS 248) 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ED ST 104 or 110, or permission of the department. Analysis of public propositions, accumulation and testing of evidence, formulation and critical evaluation of reasoning, structuring of argument, processes of attack and defense, and effective communication of argument, with an emphasisupon legal and political communication.
126. Small Group Communication. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ED ST 103. Study and illustration of small group communication.
127. Communication in Intergroup Conflict and Conflict Resolution. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: MEDST 103 or 110. Study of the theory of conflict and the theories of conflict resolution, with emphasis on communication as the significant variable in conflicts among groups.
128. New Technologies. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: MEDST 100. D etailed examination of the regulation and social impact of emerging technologies such as the Internet and new telephonic and audiovisual media.
129. Media Censorship. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: MEDST 100 or 110 or 145 , or permission of the department. O verview of film, television, radio, and arts censorship in the $U$ nited States from W orld W ar I to present.
130. Nonverbal Communication. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: M ED ST 103, or permission of the department. N on-linguistic behavior and message systems with emphasis on communication by means of spatial relationships (proxemics) and body movement (kinesics) and with attention to communication by means of touch, vocal cues, personal adornment, and objects.
131. Cultural Factors in Communication. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: M ED ST 103 and sophomore standing. An examination of cultural factors influencing messages and interpersonal behavior, such as roles, stereotypes, prejudices, verbal and nonverbal languages, use and organization of time and space, social structures.

[^26]260. Advertising and Marketing. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: MEDST 101. Study of the development, production, placement, and evaluation of advertising as a form of business communication which also reflects and influences consumer and popular culture in the $U$ nited States.

The Aaron Copland School of M usic offers a liberal arts music major and a major in performance, an additional sequence in music education, and a cultural music major; music minors in music literature or theory; and a concentration in composition. The curriculum is planned to develop the interdependent skills of performing, listening to, and understanding music, and thus to provide the thorough training so necessary for graduate study and an eventual career in the profession.

The School gives all students of the College a finer appreciation of music by broadening their experience in listening and participating. Courses in appreciation and the rudiments of music are available for the general student without previous training in music; other courses and performing ensembles are open to qualified nonmajors.

The School presents public concerts and recitals by ensembles, students, and faculty, artists-in-residence, and guest artists; lectures by faculty members or guests; and occasionally workshops by performance faculty or guest artists.

College ensembles include a symphony orchestra, wind ensemble, opera workshop, various chamber groups and ensembles (including early and contemporary music groups), and several choirs. There is in addition a C ollege community choir, the Q ueens College C horal Society. O pera productions and musicals are produced in cooperation with the $D$ epartment of $D$ rama, Theatre, and D ance. M ost of these events are free, and all are open to the public.

The Aaron Copland School occupied new quarters in 1991. The music building includes the LeF rak Concert H all (which has

Departmental Awards

The Aaron Copland School of Music awards the following annual prizes to graduating seniors: the $\mathbf{K}$ arol Rathaus Memorial Award for excellence in composition, scholarship, or performance; the C horal Society Award to a non-music major who has contributed to the musical life of the College; the Allen M ichael C ohen Memorial Award; the M ichal Joan Ress Memorial Award to an instrumental major; the M aria and Raffaele Salerno Memorial Award to a student intending to continue musical education toward a professional career; the Adele Lerner Prize in Chamber Music; and the Claire and Samuel Jacobs Award to outstanding graduating students. The following annual awards are not restricted to graduating seniors: the C laire Bartels Freshman Award given to a promising music student at the end of the freshman year; the Rathaus Family M emorial Award; the Choral Society Award in M usic Education to a student showing great promise in teaching; the M ark Kyrkostas Award for distinguished work in piano or composition; the George and Violet Zatkin Scholarship Award for excellence in opera; and the D iscimus ut Serviamus Awards for contributing to the musical life of the College. TheCopland School also awards annually the John Castellini Silver Jubilee Award to a distinguished alumnus of the music program.

THE MAJORS

Prospective music majors are advised to consult the M usic Students' H andbook, available in the M usic $O$ ffice. There are specific programs for students who intend to major in music according to one of the following major fields.

The Standard Music Major

This major is for students preparing for a career as a performer, conductor, composer, arranger, musicologist, or teacher in a conservatory, university, or other institution not requiring State certification. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for this major.

The Performance Major

The Bachelor of $M$ usic program is planned for the advanced student in instrumental or vocal performance and is comparable to conservatory training. Admission is by competitive audition in the major instrument. See the box on page 162 for the specific requirements for this major.

The Music Major with the Music Education Sequence

See the box on page 162 for the specific requirements for this major. Guitarists and pianists wishing to enter the instrumental sequence must meet special requirements and should consult the M usic Students' $\mathbf{H}$ and-book, available in the M usic O ffice.

Standards for admission to student teaching:

a) A minimum grade-point average of 2.7 in music major courses exclusive of electives; performance and ensemble courses (171-174, 271-274, 373-374, 246-249, 270, 276, 277, 377, 378).

c) Satisfactory completion of all grades of Inc. in music and music education courses by completion of Secondary Education 367.
Please note: Bachelor of M usic students may not enroll in the education sequence as undergraduates. Those wishing to obtain State teacher certification must complete their undergraduate degree and may then apply for the Advanced Certificate Program in M usic Education (see the current Graduate ## Bulletin).

At the time this Bulletin went to press, the music education faculty was revising the curriculum for the B. A. in M usic Education. Check with the department for the latest information concerning course offerings and requirements for the degree.

The Cultural Music Sequence

This sequence is for students interested in music from a cultural standpoint but who do not intend to be professional musicians or teachers. Required are M usic $246,247,248$, 249, 171, 173; 172, 174; 271, 273; and 12 additional elective credits for a total of 36 credits in music. In addition, these students are advised to take C lassics 140; Philosophy 101, 110; at least one course selected from History 218, 222; thre credits in the History of Art; and at least one course selected from Comparative Literature 101, 203, 204, 211, 212, 213, 214. An approved concentration must be on file at least three semesters before graduation. The concentration must be approved by an adviser.

THE MINOR

The M usic School offers several minors structured to fit the student's individual goals and interests. These focus on theory or literature. Interested students should take the qualifying examination. A detailed description of the minor programs and the name of the faculty adviser are available in the $M$ usic $O$ ffice.

4½ Year B.A.-M.A. Degree

Advanced students with superior grades interested in the $41 / 2$ year B.A.-M .A. combined program should consult the graduate adviser. A qualified student may apply for this program in the junior year and, if accepted, would start graduate courses at the beginning of senior year.

Undergraduate Composition Concentration

M usic 329 (C omposer's W orkshop) and M usic 330 (U ndergraduate T utorial in Composition) are the basis for the undergraduate composition concentration. These courses are designed to serve undergraduate students who have al ready demonstrated a commitment to and a skill in musical composition. Students may take M usic 329 without 330 , but may not take 330 without 329.

D uly enrolled Q ueens College music majors may be admitted to the composition concentration by permission of the School of M usic on the basis of compositions submitted for approval. A committee of faculty members who are active composers shall determine the admissibility of each applicant after examining the submitted compositions. Admissibility does not assume advanced standing in the theory sequence. Interested students may apply by submitting compositions at any time.

Requirements

1. After admission to this course sequence, all requirements of the straight or education music major in either the B.A. or the B. M us program shall apply except as specifically noted below.
2. O nce admitted to the composition concentration, students will take M usic 329 (C omposer's W orkshop) every semester.
3. In order to complete the sequence, each student will, on at least one occasion, prepare a composition for performance at a regularly scheduled student composer's concert.
4. Students in the composition concentration may take M usic 374 concurrently with M usic 373. It is recommended that they take M usic 374 with an instructor other than their composition teacher.
5. Students who complete at least one semester of M usic 330 are exempted from M usic 378 (the regular undergraduate composition course).
6. Students must receive grades of $\mathbf{B}$ or better in both M usic 329 and 330 to remain in the composition concentration.
7. Students in the undergraduate composition concentration may apply for admission to $M$ usic 729 (the first graduate course in compositional techniques) as soon as they have both completed at least two semesters of M usic 330 and achieved senior standing. Admission to M usic 729 is at the pleasure of the $O$ ffice of $G$ raduate Studies and subject to review by the graduate adviser. U pon acceptance into M usic 729, students will follow the graduate course sequence in composition.

Important Information for All Music Majors

1. Qualifying Examination: All prospective music majors will be given an examination before registering. The examination consists of short tests in rudiments of theory, dictation, sight singing, general knowledge of music, keyboard ability, playing a musical instrument (or singing), and harmony and counterpoint for advanced placement. It is intended to ascertain how much skill, if any, students may have already acquired from previous training, and to place those who qual ify in the course and section best suited to their needs. Students who intend to major in music and who are placed in a section of M usic 71 or 73 as a result of the examination are advised to elect M usic 1 concurrently.

The examination is given in M ay, August, and January during registration. C ontact the M usic O ffice for details on the place and date, and how to register.
2. Scholastic Requirements: Students enrolled in M usic 71, 74, 171, 172, 173, 174, 101, 246, 247, 248, 249, 271, 273, 274, and 373 are required to obtain a grade of $\mathbf{C}$ - or higher before proceeding to the next course in the sequence. Students enrolled in M usic 73 must receive a grade of $\mathbf{B}$ - or higher before proceeding to 173 . Each of these courses may be repeated once only, subject to exception made by the M usic School.
3. Performance Activities: All music majors are required to perform each semester in at least one large ensemble.

D epending upon their major instrument and proficiency, students will be assigned (following audition) to participate in one of the following: O rchestra, W ind Ensemble, Choir, or GleeClub. Students who audition and qualify for the V ocal Ensemble or College $M$ usicum may use it to meet this requirement, with the approval of the conductor of the choir. M embership in these groups will form a part of the student's permanent departmental record. This experience is an essential part of the music major's training and background.
4. Progress Evaluation: Freshman, sophomore, and junior conferences will be held to evaluate students' progress in performance on their major instrument. A senior conference is included in the Senior C ompre hensive Exam (see 7 below).
5. M usic majors must have an approved concentration on file with the School in order to be permitted to register for M usic 274.
6. M usic Listening Examination: A comprehensive listening examination on music literature, based on a selected list of works, is divided into four parts. These parts are to be taken in order, successively at the end of each year of study. C opies of the literature list are available in the M usic School 0 ffice. Passing of the freshman and sophomore listening examinations is prerequisite for registration in M usic 373 or any subsequent music course.
7. Senior C oncentration Examination: To be a candidate for graduation, one must receive passing grades in all parts of the Senior C oncentration Examination. This examination will include performance on the student's major instrument. In order to be eligible to take the examination, one must have completed all required music courses or be currently enrolled in the last semester of these courses. A minimum of three parts of the music listening examination must be completed before a student may take the Senior Concentration Examination.

The Content and Point of Philosophy

To study philosophy is to strive after defensible views on the basic issues of knowledge and value. Philosophy challenges one to develop consistent and reasonable positions, mindful of the work of great philosophers, on such matters as the nature and scope of human knowledge, the grounds for moral and political principles, the character of religious belief, and the methods employed by both practical and theoretical sciences. This study encourages responsible, independent thought and action; it widens one's experience by disclosing surprising alternatives to settled opinions and habitual beliefs; it champions the view that free, critical inquiry, among persons of candor and good will, is a necessary condition of a genuinely full and worthwhile life.

A major or minor in philosophy represents the finest tradition of liberal arts studies and will be of value in any vocation that prizes this tradition - for example, law, teaching, publishing, journalism, the ministry; the special sciences such as psychology, economics, history, physics, and mathematics; and such arts as language, literature, drama, and music. Students interested in these or similar fields are invited to consider a minor in philosophy, or a second major in philosophy, as a natural complement to their main specialization. From the wide variety of philosophy offerings each semester, students may select courses of particular relevance to their other work.

Types of Philosophy Courses

Philosophy 101, while not a prerequisite to the other courses, is the basic introduction to the subject. It is designed to give beginners a grasp of the various chief issues that philosophy investigates.

Philosophy 120, also at the introductory level, applies philosophical methods of investigation to problems arising from current developments in politics, medicine, urban affairs, popular culture, technology, law, and the like.

Courses 103 and 109 deal in general with methods of reasoning - that is, with the standards of valid argument and inference that apply in different areas of knowledge. Philosophy 103 is an elementary introduction to modern approaches to the subject; it stresses practical applications. Philosophy 109 is the course in modern formal logic, focusing on symbolic techniques for analyzing arguments and for building logical systems.

Courses 101 through 118 and 212 through 226 are field courses in the several divisions of philosophy. Each of them goes into a cluster of vital issues that arise in connection with a specific field of study represented elsewhere in the C ollege. Look among these for courses that closely support and amplify your other work.

C ourses 140 through 148 are historical. Each of them takes up selected writings of the major figures in an important period of philosophy, not simply with an eye to their historical interest, but as containing formidable arguments that philosophers of various persuasions still explore and debate today. These courses also locate the intellectual origins of notable artistic, scientific, and social developments. M odern times have presented very few totally novel philosophical issues; most have roots deep in the past, and in getting a fix on these, one gets one's bearings on the issues in their modern shapes.

C ourses 260 through 272 are advanced. Each of them investigates in depth either a particular system of philosophy or a group of closely related classical or contemporary problems of special significance.

C ourses 383 through 394 are seminars and tutorials that provide directed research for advanced students.

Note: D etailed course descriptions, with instructors' names, are obtainable from the Philosophy D epartment several weeks prior to each registration period.

Departmental Awards

The Philosophy D epartment annually offers the Anna K. Edelman Award to an outstanding student in the department; the $\mathbf{N}$ athan Gold Memorial Award to an outstanding graduating major who plans to attend law school; the Fanny G old Memorial Award for a student who has done distinguished work in the area of Philosophy of Religion; and the M orris K. Balsam Memorial Award to an outstanding graduating major who plans to attend graduate school.

THE MAJOR

The major in philosophy normally consists of 36 credits in philosophy, plus recommended courses in related fields. See the box on page 170 for the specific requirements for the major.

THE MINOR

The minor in philosophy consists of 18 credits. See the box on page 170 for the specific requirements for the minor.

Combined B.A.-M.A. Program

This program allows the student to finish all work for both the B.A. and M.A. degrees in four years. For information and applications, contact the department's $G$ raduate Adviser.

COURSES

101, 101W. Introduction to Philosophy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Basic problems such as knowledge, reality, meaning, value, the nature of persons and their political and cultural environment are introduced through selected readings of great philosophers. Designed for beginners in philosophy. (H3) Fall, Spring
103. The Uses of Reason. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Introduces the student to the principles of effective reasoning used in critical and constructive thought and argument. Examples are chosen from a wide variety of professional and scientific fields, ranging from journalism and literary criticism to anthropology and physics. $\dagger \dagger$
104, 104W. Introduction to Ethics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . An investigation of rival theories concerning moral goodness, rightness, happiness, freedom, and responsibility. Selected readings from classical and contemporary sources. (SS) Fall, Spring
105. Film/ Philosophy/ Politics. 3 or 4 hr.; 3 cr. Philosophical and cinematic analysis of significant films. Special stress given to ideological and mythic functions, narrative and visual styles, and the interaction of political, aesthetic, and semiological elements. V arious specific topics such as American Depression-era films; imagination and insurrection; revolutionary cinema; films of the fifties; the politics of everyday life; film aesthetics. Consult the department for current offerings. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is different. Fall, Spring
106. Ideas in Literature. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A consideration of both the relation of philosophical writings to the critical study of works of literature and the use of philosophical concepts of literature. Readings will be selected from a wide range of periods and styles. (H3) Fall, Spring
109. Modern Logic. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An introduction to logic and logical techniques. The powerful method of symbolism is extensively employed. (SQ ) Fall, Spring
111. Introduction to Aesthetics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Survey of some fundamental issues in philosophical aesthetics from the Greeks to the pre sent. Possible topics: theories of the beautiful; the standard of taste, art, and emotion; representation and form; aesthetic descriptions and judgments; art and society. (H 3) $\dagger \dagger$
116, 116W. Introduction to Philosophy of Religion. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A philosophical examina tion of basic concepts in religion such as God, religious meaning, faith, and religious experience. Readings will be selected from classical and contemporary sources. (H3) Fall, Spring

118. Introduction to Oriental Philosophy. 3

 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of major trends in the philosophical and religious traditions of India, China, and Japan, including such topics astheU panishads, V edanta, M ahayana and Theravada Buddhism, and Zen. (H3, PN ) Fall120. Contemporary Issues in Philosophical Perspective. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Philosophical analysis of issues of current importance and interest. Possible topics: M an and N ature; Philosophy and the Environmental Crisis; the $N$ ature of the Person; Law, Ethics, and M edicine; Film and Politics. If offered in multiple sections, each section may be concerned with different materials. Consult the department for current offerings. $M$ ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is not the same. Fall, Spring
121. Law, Ethics, and Medicine. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of problems currently arising at thejuncture of law, ethics, and medicine, for example: abortion, euthanasia, experimenta tion on "human subjects," mental health services in schools, and problems regarding law and psychiatry (prison psychiatry and the insanity defense, among others).
122. Philosophy and the Challenge of the Future. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Analysis of philosophical problems raised by radical change in society and the sciences. I ssues concerning such topics as personal identity, the nature of the human, and moral agency are examined with reference to recent developments in culture and technology.

[^28]123. Freedom and Responsibility. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3$ cr . An examination of issues concerning human freedom and responsibility in their political, legal, and religious dimensions; the problems of moral decision in general and in situations of crisis; attention to writings of such figures as Plato, Berkeley, Bettelheim, and Bonhoeffer. (SS)
124. Philosophy and the Holocaust. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3$ cr. An investigation of radical evil as exhibited in the H olocaust and of the philosophical issues encountered in attempts to understand or explain it. Relevance of the H olocaust to views of human nature, moral choice, and resistance.
125. Philosophy of the Environment. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A philosophical analysis of issues relating to the natural environment. Possible topics include the relationship of humankind to nature; responsibility to future generations; the nature and origin of rights; ownership and land use; intrinsic and instrumental values; and the concept of citizenship. Readings from traditional and contemporary sources in ethics and political philosophy will be combined with analysis of specific areas of environmental concern, such as population growth, preserva tion of endangered species, distribution of natural resources, pollution, and the value of wilderness.
140. History of Ancient Philosophy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A study of the major thinkers of the ancient period as well as the general philosophical trends in which their views arose. Special attention is given to such thinkers as the pre-Socratics, Plato, Aristotle, and Lucretius. (H 3, PN ) Fall
141. History of Medieval Philosophy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A study of the transmission of the classical philosophical heritage to the Latin, Islamic, and J ewish cultures during the M iddle Ages. Selected readings from Augustine, Anselm, Eriugena, Abelard, Avicenna, Averroës, M aimonides, Aquinas, Scotus, and 0 ckham. (PN ) Fall
142. History of Renaissance Philosophy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A study of the major philosophical movements in W estern Europe from 13501600. T opics to be investigated include H umanism, Renaissance Platonism and Aristotelianism, the philosophical implications of the Protestant Reformation, the new philosophies of nature, and the rise of modern science. (PN ) Spring

143. History of Modern Philosophy I:

Descartes to Hume. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An analysis of European philosophy in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Selected readings from D escartes, H obbes, Spinoza, Leibniz, Locke, Berkeley, and H ume.
144. History of Modern Philosophy II: Kant to Nietzsche. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A critical survey of nineteenth-century philosophy and its immediate background in K ant; examination of German ideal ists, their opponents and successors. Selected readings from H ege, Schopenhauer, M arx, M ill, K ierkegaard, and $N$ ietzsche. Spring
145. History of Contemporary Philosophy I: Phenomenology and Existentialism. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A study of the background, central problems, and representative figures of phenomenology, existential ism, and structuralism. Selected readings from H usserl, H eidegger, M erleau-Ponty, Sartre, and D errida. $\dagger \dagger$
146. History of Contemporary Philosophy II: The Analytic Tradition. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Logical empiricism and contemporary varieties of analytic philosophy are examined through a study of such writers as G. E. M oore, B. Russell, L. W ittgenstein, R. Carnap, G. Ryle, and P. Strawson. $\dagger \dagger$
148. History of American Philosophy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A survey of major American thinkers from colonial times to the present. Figures such as Emerson, Thoreau, Peirce, James, and D ewey will be considered.

Requirements for the Major in Philosophy

Required (36 credits): Philosophy 109, 140, 141 or 142 or 144, 143, and 383. In Philosophy 383 the student prepares a senior thesis, which will be graded by a supervisor chosen in consultation with the C hair. The entire plan of the major is subject to the approval of the department concentration adviser and should be worked out in conference with the adviser and with the advice and help of the various members of the department.

Requirements for the Minor in Philosophy

Required ( 18 credits): No more than two courses from Philosophy 101, 103, and 120 may be counted. Two courses must be taken from the history of philosophy series, Philosophy 140 through 148. Specific courses for the minor should be selected in consultation with the department's concentration adviser.
150. Philosophy and Feminism. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of feminist perspectives on topics such as: knowledge, metaphysics, aesthetics, ethics, political philosophy, and the nature and history of philosophy. Attention to the nature of gender and to the question of its role in the framing of philosophical issues, methods, and paradigms of investigation.
212. Philosophy of Knowledge. 3 hr .; 3 cr .

A consideration of philosophical problems relating to the foundation, nature, and justification of knowledge. Fall
213. Metaphysics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . An analytical and critical examination of the nature, scope, and method of metaphysics, and of the fundamental distinctions and categories employed in the study of existence and existents. $\dagger \dagger$
219. Philosophical Perspectives on the History of Science. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examina tion of selected turning points in the history of science and their philosophical significance. $\dagger \dagger$
221. Philosophy of History. 3 hr .; 3 cr . C onsideration of both speculative and critical philosophies of history with emphasis on the relation of history to the sciences, historical explanation, and the principle of historical selection. Selected readings from Vico, H egel, M arx, Collingwood, Beard, Sartre, Foucault. (SS) $\dagger \dagger$
222. Political Philosophy. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An analysis of the major political philosophers from Plato to the early twentieth century. (SS) Spring
223. Philosophy of Law. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An introduction to those basic concepts of law and jurisprudence that have been influential in the formation of legal systems. Emphasis will be given to contemporary theory and criticism. $\dagger \dagger$
224. Philosophy of Mind. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Selected problems in philosophical psychology: concepts of mind; existential psychology; the mind-body problem; the nature of imagination; belief, emotion, intention, and introspection. $\dagger$
225. Philosophy of the Natural Sciences. 3 hr.; 3 cr . An analysis of the meaning, structure, and implications of modern natural sciences, and an examination of some fundamental philosophical problems concerning scientific inquiry and scientific knowledge. $\dagger$
226. Philosophy of the Social Sciences. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Junior standing or permission of instructor. A philosophical critique of the fundamental assumptions, methodologies, and controversies in current social science. Possible topics: behaviorism and its alternatives; mainstream economics versus M arxism and quantitative sociology; functionalism and alternative conceptions in sociology and anthropology. (SS) $\dagger$
250. Plato and the Bible. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A comparative examination of philosophical themes in the Bible and in Greek philosophy, focusing upon conceptions of G od, creation, human nature, physical and moral evil, the meaning of history, and the nature of society. D oes not satisfy history of philosophy requirements for philosophy majors and minors. (PN)
251. Aristotle and Maimonides. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An inquiry into the impact of Aristotle's philosophy upon medieval Jewish thought and experience as represented by $M$ aimonides. Primary attention to the relation between religion and philosophy and to problems of knowledge, mind, ethics, and society. D oes not satisfy history of philosophy requirements for philosophy majors and minors. (PN )

252. Existentialism and Modern Jewish

 Philosophy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the philosophies of $M$ endelssohn, $H$ ermann C ohen, M artin Buber, and Franz Rosenzweig as responses to challenges presented by $K$ ant, Hegel, N ietzsche, Sartre, and Camus. Emphasis on themes of religion and ethics, the individual and the state, freedom and responsibility, alienation and the meaning of Jewish existence. D oes not satisfy history of philosophy requirements for philosophy majors and minors.260. Readings in Contemporary Ethical Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An advanced course in ethics involving an intensive study of a limited number of texts. Emphasis is given to contemporary philosophers, but a continuous effort is made to place these thinkers in the larger context of W estern philosophy. $\dagger \dagger$
261. Advanced Problems in Philosophy of Religion. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of some of the major problems in contemporary religious thought. Possible topics: the existence of God, the nature of faith; mysticism; the problem of evil; philosophical aspects of eschatology; the impact of science on religion. $\dagger \dagger$
262. Recent Continental Philosophy. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Possible topics: the philosophy of language, thehuman body, theories of consciousness, H usserl's logical studies. C onsult department for current offering and suggested prerequisites. $\dagger \dagger$
263. The Philosophy of Plato. 3 hr.; 3 cr. A critical examination of the major dialogues of Plato. Though the main emphasis will be placed on the content of the dialogues, they are examined in the light of their setting - the Athenian world of Plato's day - and their relevance to the problems of that world. (PN ) $\dagger \dagger$
264. Philosophy of Language. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. A consideration of philosophical problems relating to language. Problems concerning meaning and reference, signs and symbols, verifiability and literal and non-literal meaning are treated mainly in terms of contemporary thinkers. $\dagger \dagger$
265. Contemporary Metaphysics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Selected advanced problems from twenti-eth-century sources. Possible topics: theories of being and reality; the status of individuals; identity and reference; universals; relations; qualities; matter; space and time. $\dagger \dagger$
270, 270W. Major Philosophical Thinkers. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. An extensive study of one great philosophical author or movement. The subject of the course will vary with the instructor and year. Current information may be obtained from the department. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is different.

271. Nietzsche: Nihilism and Beyond. 3

 hr.; 3 cr . An examination of the philosophy of $N$ ietzsche with particular reference to these key themes: the critique of W estern civiliza tion, the loss of absolutes, the will to power, the role of creativity, the transvaluation of values, the encounter with "N othingness," the "new" human, the critique of traditional morality and religion.272, 272W. Problems in Philosophy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A detailed examination of a significant philosophical problem. The content of this course varies with the instructor and year. Current information may be obtained from the department. M ay be repeated for credit provided the topic is different. $\dagger \dagger$
383W. Research Paper. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Senior standing and an approved undergraduate major in philosophy. Intensive research leading to the writing of a paper on a topic approved by the department; the final examination will consist of an oral defense of the paper. Fall, Spring
393, 394. Honors Seminar. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. Gives students of advanced standing an opportunity to engage in the detailed examination of the work of a major thinker or group of thinkers. The topic of the seminar varies from semester to semester and is chosen in consideration of the student's needs and interests.

The following list is representative of the seminar: A ristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Scotus, Spinoza, Kant, H egel, the British Empiricists, the C ontinental Rationalists, the American Pragmatists, the Logical Positivists, the Existentialists. The seminar involves individual work in close cooperation with a member of the department and occasional meetings. $\dagger \dagger$

The following graduate courses are open to qualified undergraduates with permission of the department.
620. Advanced Logic. 2 hr. plus conf.; 3 cr . Prereq.: An introductory course in symbolic logic or its equivalent. The methodology and foundations of deductive systems: propositional and predicate calculi, axiomatics, theory of types, modal logics, multivalued logics, logic of relations, etc. $\dagger \dagger$
621. Logic and Language. 2 hr. plus conf.; 3 cr. Logical and philosophical questions concerning the structure and function of language. $\dagger \dagger$
651. Philosophy of Law. 2 hr . plus conf.; 3 cr . An analysis or philosophical problems relevant to legal concepts and theories. Relation of ethics to legal concepts of rights and duties. The nature of law, the logic of evidence, and procedural principles.
652. Philosophy of History. 2 hr. plus conf.; 3 cr . Selected topics in the philosophy of history. Typical questions are monistic and pluralistic, materialistic and idealistic concepts of history; historicism; problems of methods and the role of ideas, explanation, interpretation, evidence, and value judgments; analysis of such basic concepts as causation, progress, and Zeitgeist. $\dagger \dagger$
653. Philosophy of the State. 2 hr . plus conf.; 3 cr . A critical study of major philosophic theories of the State, with attention to the distinction between factual and valuational elements, and the analysis of the methods and language of political science. $\dagger \dagger$
654. Philosophy of Religion. 2 hr. plus conf.; 3 cr . A study of selected topics in the philosophy of religion: the ideas of God, immortality, good and evil, and the nature of man in some of the major philosophies of religion, the social role and context of religion. $\dagger \dagger$

THE MAJOR

The Physics B.A. degree prepares students for careers in a wide variety of technical disciplines, for graduate school in Physics or Engineering, or for a science teaching career. The Physics Program provides students with superior analytical skills, and a thorough grounding in the underpinnings of the various sciences. Courses cover the topics of mechanics, thermodynamics, electromagnetism, optics, relativity, quantum mechanics, and specialized topics in classical and modern physics. Experimental skills are developed in several laboratory courses. Electives address topics such as electronics, telecommunications, astronomy, and applied optics. Q ualified undergraduates may take graduate level courses, and may participate in internationally respected experimental and theoretical research efforts within the D epartment. The Physics B.A. degree may be obtained by taking evening courses.

The D epartment also offers a Physics minor, a major in Physics Education, and a Pre-Engineering program, as described below.

A student who has started as a nonphysics major and taken 121 and 122, or 103 and 104, is requested to see the $C$ hair before starting intermediate courses in physics.

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the major.

THE MINOR

The minor program is designed to give an understanding of both modern and classical physics to interested students. See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the minor.

B.A.-M.A. Program

Truly outstanding majors are able to participate in the B.A.-M .A. program upon recommendation of the department C hair.

Physics Education

In conjunction with the Department of Secondary Education, the D epartment of Physics offers a physics education major. The educa tion courses are specified by the Secondary Education Department and the physics requirements are similar to those for the minor, with the addition of General Astronomy 1. Please note: State certification requires a minimum of 36 total credits in science.

Departmental Awards

The D epartment of Physics offers the N arciso Garcia Memorial Scholarship, the Paul K lapper Physics Prize, the Physics Prize, and the Ferdinand J. Shore Physics Award to outstanding students graduating with honors in physics. In addition, departmental honors are awarded each Spring semester to students who have excelled in either experimental or theoretical physics. The awards are based on faculty recommendations to the Chair.

Requirements for the Major in Physics

Required: After completing Physics 145 and 146, all maj ors takePhysics 233, 234, 235, 237, 242, $311,312,360,377$ or 378 , and 625 . T wo other physics electives should be chosen from any of the following courses: 221, 225, 366, or, by special permission, $601,635,701,711,715$, and 725 . The math requirements are the cal culus sequence through $M$ ath 201.

Requirements for the Minor in Physics

Required: Physics 121, 122 (or 145, 146, or 103, 204), 207, 230 or 237, 242 or 255 or 311, and one other physics elective.

Pre-Engineering Program

The Pre-Engineering Program is organized by the Physics D epartment, which gives advice to Pre-Engineering students. For details, refer to Engineering Combined Plans/Pre-Engineering on page 39 .

COURSES

1. Conceptual Physics. 2 lec., 2 rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: 11th-year mathematics or equivalent, or $M$ athematics 6 . This course is designed for non-science majors. Topics include mechanics, heat, electricity and magnetism, and modern physics. The course emphasizes a conceptual understanding of the material rather than computational problem solving, although some computation will be required. The objective is to develop an ana lytical way of thinking. $N$ ot open to students who have received credit for Physics 103, 121, or 145. (PBGA)
2. Introduction to the Physics of Musical

Sounds. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A course for liberal arts students who have an interest in music and sound. Physical phenomena that relate to music and sound will be presented. Topics include origins and nature of sound waves, speech and hearing, musical instruments, electronic music, auditorium acoustics, recording, reproduction and transmission of sound, and selected special topics. Laboratory and demonstration devices are available for illustration of pertinent concepts. (PBGB) Fall, Spring
103. Physics for Computer Science I. 3 lec., 1 rec., 2 lab. hr; 5 cr. Coreq.: M athematics 102 or 112. Basic concepts of classical physics: N ewtonian mechanics, thermodynamics, and electromagnetic theory. (PBGA) Fall, Spring
121. General Physics I. 4 lec. and rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr . Prereq.: T rigonometry and algebra equivalent to M athematics 10. A non-cal-culus-based course primarily for majors in life sciences, pre-health professions, and liberal arts. M echanics, thermodynamics, kinetic theory, and sound. No previous knowledge of physics is required. (PBGA)
122. General Physics II. 4 lec. and rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Physics 121. Electricity and magnetism, geometrical and physical optics, and an introduction to modern physics. (PBGA)
145. College Physics I. 4 lec. and rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: M athematics 101 or 111. A calculus-based course intended for students who plan to study the physical sciences or engineering. Fundamental principles and laws of mechanics, thermodynamics, kinetic-molecular theory, and sound. (PBGA)
146. College Physics II. 4 lec. and rec., 2 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Physics 121 or 145 and either M athematics 102 or 112. Electricity, magnetism, and optics. (PBGA)
204. Physics for Computer Science II. 3 lec., I rec., 2 lab. hr. (every other week); 4 cr. Prereq.: Either Physics 103, 118, 122, or 146. Introduction to the principles and methods of quantum physics with application to atoms and solids in general and semiconductors in particular. Analysis of the characteristics of semiconductor devices in computer logic circuitry. (PBGA)
207. Introduction to Modern Physics for Engineers. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 118, 122, or 146. An introductory course in the ideas and experiments leading to the Relativity and $Q$ uantum theories and to our present models of atoms, nuclei, molecules, and the solid state. $\dagger \dagger$
221. Wave Motion. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Physics 118, 122, or 146 . Selected topics drawn from the principal areas of physics are used to introduce the fundamentals of wave motion. $\dagger \dagger$

225. An Introduction to Solid State Elec-

 tronics. 3 rec., 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Physics 118, 122, or 146. An introduction to the physical properties of thermionic and solid state electronic devices. Fall, Spring227. Physical Principles of Telecommunications. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 103 or 146. Fundamental concepts and recent trends in radio, television, telephony, and computer networks are addressed. Topics include analog and digital signal processing, information the ory and coding, coax and fiber transmission, antennas, and satellites.
228. Mechanics for Engineers. $3 \mathrm{hr} .: 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: Physics 118, 122, or 146; coreq.: M athematics 201. The fundamental principles of statics and dynamics and their application to the problems involving particles and systems of particles including rigid bodies. Spring
233, 234. Intermediate Methods of Mathematical Physics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. each sem. Prereq.: Physics 118, 122, or 146; coreq.: $M$ athematics 201. Provides the undergraduate with specific mathematical methods used in advanced elective courses in physics. 233Spring; 234-Fall
229. Classical Physics Laboratory I. 4 hr.; 2 cr. Prereq. or coreq.: Physics 103, 122, or 146. A basic course in laboratory techniques, intended to teach the basic tools of experimental methods in physics. Experiments drawn from electricity and magnetism, mechanics, heat, and optics. Required of all physics majors. Fall
230. Mechanics I. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.:

Physics 122, 146, or 118, M athematics 201; coreq.: Physics 233 or 234 . A development of N ewtonian mechanics using vector algebra. Fall
242. Thermodynamics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Physics 122, 146, or 188; coreq.: M athematics 102. The theory of heat and the thermal properties of materials. Recommended to majors in chemistry in preparation for the study of physical chemistry. Spring
255. Engineering Thermodynamics. 3 hr .; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 145 . Introductory concepts and definitions. Zeroth Law and absolute temperature. W ork, heat, First Law and applications. Second Law, C arnot Theorem, entropy, thermodynamic state variables and functions and reversibility. Power and refrigeration cycles. This course is part of the Engineering C ore Curriculum at City Col lege. Fall
265. Electrical Circuits. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 146. Circuit elements and their volt-age-current relationships; Kirchoff's laws. Elementary circuit analysis. C ontinuous signals. Differential equations and their application to circuit theory. State variable equations. First and second order systems. Introduction to M icroC ap III for circuit analysis. This course is part of the Engineering C ore Curriculum at City College. Spring

311, 312. Electromagnetism. 3 hr.; 3 cr. each sem. Prereq.: For Physics 311, Physics 118, 122, or 146 and 233; prereq. for Physics 312, Physics 234 and 311. T wo-semester course. Physics 311: Introduction to electric and magnetic fields and A. C. and D. C. circuit theory; Physics 312 covers additional A. C. theory, $M$ axwell's equations, and propagation and radiation of electromagnetic waves. 311-Fall; 312-Spring
322. Applied Optics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 221, 312, a one-semester laboratory course at the 200 level or above. The principles underlying the operation and application of optical instruments: spectrometers, telescopes, lasers, etc. $\dagger \dagger$

360. Introduction to Atomic and Nuclear

Physics. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: Physics 234 and 237; coreq.: Physics 312. An introduction to quantum and nuclear physics and the principles of special relativity. The objective is to explain the experimental basis for the transition from classical to modern physics. $\dagger$

377, 378. Modern Physics Laboratory I, II. 4 hr.; 2 cr. each sem. Prereq.: Physics 355 or permission of instructor. Experiments are drawn from atomic, nuclear, solid state physics, modern optics, and electronics. Either Physics 377 or 378 is required of physics majors. Spring
381, 382. Seminar. 381.1, 3 hr. lab.; 1 cr.; 381.2, 2 hr. lec.; 2 cr.; 381.3, 2 hr. lec., 3 hr. lab.; 3 cr ; 382.1, 3 hr . lab.; 1 cr .; 382.2, 2 hr . lec.; 2 cr.; 382.3, 2 hr. lec., 3 hr . lab.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of department. Selected topics of current interest. $\dagger \dagger$
383. Special Topics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department.
391, 392, 393. Special Problems. 391, 3 hr.; 1 cr.; 392, 6 hr.; 2 cr.; 393, 9 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Permission of department. 0 pen to a limited number of physics majors. Each student accepted works on a minor research problem under the supervision of a member of the staff. $\dagger \dagger$

The following graduate courses are open to qualified undergraduate students with permission of department.

601. Introduction to Mathematical Physics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: A course in mechanics and an approved mathematics background. Selected topics in mechanics, thermodynamics, electrostatics, magnetostatics, the electromagnetic field, and the restricted theory of relativity. The mathematical methods developed include such topics as linear and partial differential equations, the cal culus of variations, normal and curvilinear coordinates, expansion of a function as a series of orthogonal functions, vector, tensor, and matrix analysis. $\dagger \dagger$
602. Analytical Mechanics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: An undergraduate course in mechanics and an approved mathematics background. A course in particle mechanics emphasizing symmetry and conservation laws, group theory and the relation to quantum mechanics. $\dagger \dagger$
603. Fluid Dynamics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 233, 234, or M athematics 310, 223 (or 328), and Physics 122 or 146, or permission of department. A macroscopic description of the physical properties of fluids. Topics include fluid equations for inviscid compressible and incompressible flow; wave propagation; shock waves and related discontinuities; stability and turbulence; and selected topics. $\dagger \dagger$

[^29]615. Electromagnetic Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: An undergraduate course in electromagnetism and an approved mathematics background. Electrostatic and magnetostatic boundary value problems; systematic derivation of differential form of M axwell's equations in vector notation. Plane electromagnetic waves. W ave guides and cavity resonators. Spherical electromagnetic waves. H uyghens' principle. $\dagger \dagger$
625. Introduction to Quantum Mechanics. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. Prereq.: A course in modern physics and an approved mathematics background. Planck, Einstein, Compton, and the light quantum. The Bohr atom, Bohr-Sommerfeld quantum conditions, and interpretations by de Broglie waves. Solutions of problems, including the free particle, particle in box, the harmonic oscillator, and the hydrogen atom. W aves and the uncertainty principle. The Schrödinger equation and the solution of the above problems. Transmission through a potential barrier. Spin, identity of particles, exclusion principle, statistics, exchange phenomena. Fall
635. Introduction to Modern Physics I. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: A course in modern physics; coreq.: Physics 625. An introduction to molecular and solid state phenomena. M olecular structure and spectra of diatomic molecules, quantum theory of chemical bonding and dipole moments, crystal structure, lattice dynamics, free electron theory of metals, band model of metals, insulators, and semiconductors. $\dagger \dagger$
636. Introduction to Modern Physics II. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: A course in modern physics; coreq.: Physics 625 . The experimental facts and elements of the quantum theories pertaining to natural and artificial radioactivity; interaction of charged particles and gamma rays with matter, nuclear structure; emission of alpha, beta, and gamma rays; nuclear reactions and models; the nuclear force; neutron processes; muons; pions; strange particles. $\dagger \dagger$
641. Statistical Physics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: U ndergraduate courses in advanced mechanics and advanced thermodynamics.
M axwellian distribution of velocities, molecular motion and temperature; elementary theory of the transport of momentum (viscosity), energy (heat), and matter (diffusion). Entropy and probability; $M$ axwell Boltzmann statistics; equipartition of energy and classical theory of heat capacity of gases and solids; Bose-Einstein and Fermi-D irac statistics; quantum theory of paramagnetism. $\dagger \dagger$
645. Solid State Physics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: Physics 625. Crystal structure and symmetry; crystal diffraction; crystal binding; phonons and lattice vibrations; thermal properties of insulators; free electron theory of metals; energy bands; Fermi surfaces; semiconductors; selected topics in superconductivity, dielectric properties, ferro-electricity, magnetism. $\dagger \dagger$
651. Foundations of Physics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Physics 625. The course presents the fundamental physical principles and concepts in a manner intended to show the interrelatedness of the various basic courses given in the undergraduate curriculum: classical and quantum mechanics, electromagnetic theory, phenomenological and statistical thermodynamics, and the principle of special relativity. The treatment provides historical and philosophical perspective. Some of the specific topics discussed are the nature of space and time, concepts of force, mass, and inertia, action-at-a-distance and field theories, indeterminateness, the role of probability, and the unidirectional character of time, the foundations of special and general relativity, symmetry principles and conservation theorems, the dimensionless numbers and cosmological considerations. The unsettled character of all the topics discussed is emphasized. $\dagger \dagger$

Courses in Astronomy

1. General Astronomy. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Prereq.: N ot open to students who have passed Astronomy 2. Introductory course. Includes discussions of positions, motions, composition, and evolution of the planets, stars, and clouds of interstellar matter and the manner in which this information is obtained. F all, Spring
2. General Astronomy with Laboratory. 3 lec. 3 lab. hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: $N$ ot open to students who have passed Astronomy 1. Introductory course. Includes discussions of positions, motions, composition, and evolution of the planets, stars, and clouds of interstellar matter, and the manner in which this information is obtained. The laboratory includes analysis and interpretation of astronomical data and observations. (PBGA) Fall, Spring

Course in Drafting

Drafting 3. Computer Aided Drafting. 4 hr .; 2 cr . An introduction to technical drawing utilizing conventional drafting instruments and computer-aided-drawing techniques (CAD ). Basic geometric constructions, technical sketching, and analysis of shapes. Instrument and computer scale drawing in orthographic projection. Basic dimensioning and tolerencing, auxiliary views of inclined surfaces, and isometric and prospective projection drawing.

Political  Science

Chair: Patricia Rachal
Graduate Adviser: I rving Leonard M arkovitz
D ept. Office: Powdermaker 360, 997-5470
(M oving to N ew Temp Bldg Fall 1999)
Professors: Altenstetter, Gerassi, M arkovitz, O fuatey-K odjoe, Psomiades, Schneider, Z wiebach; Associate Professors: Bowman, K rasner, Liberman, Priestley, Rachal, Sun; Assistant Professors: Kimerling, Rollins; Lecturers: Agbeyegbe, M ilchman; Instructor: Flamhaft; D epartment Secretary: Braun; Professors Emeriti: Bailey, H acker, H evesi, N esbitt, Resnik
M ajors Offered: Political Science and G overnment (State Education Code 02817)

C ourses in the D epartment of Political Science are designed to give the student, whether major or nonmajor, a basic understanding of the human relationships of power and conflict and the systems and processes of the state and the government as institutions within society. The department's offerings are divided into the following categories: A) American Politics, B) C omparative Politics, C) International Politics, D ) Political Theory and M ethodology, E) Law and Politics, F) Internships.

Political science provides the background desired for graduate work; for careers in government service, education, journalism, law, or international agencies; and for staff work with research agencies, political parties, interest groups, business enterprises, trade associations, and labor organizations. Political science is also a liberal art and an appropriate major for students whose career interests are indefinite.

Departmental Awards

The Political Science D epartment annually offers Awards for Academic Excellence to outstanding students in the department as well as a service award to a student who has made an unusual contribution to the department. O ther awards include the Eugene $\mathbf{H}$ evesi
Memorial Award for enhancing the political process; the M ichael H arrington Scholarship Award; M ieczyslaw M aneli Scholarship Award; and the Pi Sigma Alpha, Kappa C hapter Award given to an outstanding student.

THE MAJOR

See the box on page 176 for the specific requirements for the major.

Specialized Concentrations Within Political Science

The International Politics Track

The department offers a special concentration in International Politics. The requirements for this concentration are 1) Political Science 103, 104, and one other 100-level course; 2) four courses from Political Science 250-252, 254, 226, 230, 246, 262, 272, 286; 3) Political Science 384 ; 4) two electives from other Political Science courses, one or both of which may be internships.

Law and Politics Track

The department offers a special concentration in Law and Politics. The requirements for this concentration are 1) Political Science 100 and two other 100-level Political Science courses; 2) four courses from Political Science 280289, 212, 213, 250, 270; 3) Political Science 382; 4) two electives from other Political Science courses, one or both of which may be internships.

The Minor

See the box on page 176 for the specific requirements for the minor.

COURSES

I. Introductory

The courses listed below are introductions to the major fields of political science and are offered each semester. M ajors should complete these courses by the end of their sophomore year.
100. American Politics and Government. 3 hr.; 3 cr . An analytical study of American national government with special attention to its structure and operation functions of the President, C ongress, the Judiciary; activities of the federal government in promoting the welfare of the people. (SS)

101. Introduction to Political Science. 3

 hr.; 3 cr . An analytical study of the basic concepts of political science including power, conflict, coercion; the state and the government. Will also include a basic introduction to methodology and research techniques. (SS)102. Current Political Controversies. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course introduces students to the basic analytical and evaluative tools of political science through an examination of particular controversies. Each section will focus on a current controversy such as life and death (abortion, the death penalty, etc.), minority rights (affirmative action, homosexual marriage, etc.), and religion and politics, and then explore the wider and more general issues it entails. (SS)
103. Comparative Politics. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. A comparative analysis of political institutions, processes, and cultures. The political systems of selected countries will be illustrative case studies of the comparative approach. (SS)
104. International Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the nature of international society (nationalism, state sovereignty, balance of power) and the sources of conflict and tension among nation states. After a consideration of the elements of power (geopolitical, economic, ideological, demographic, and technological), deals with the role of international organization and law, collective security and regionalism as "controls" on the use of power. Attention to the implications of the transitional aspects of world politics (e.g., the rise of new nations, population expansion). (SS)
105. Political Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Introduction to the nature, types, and problems of political theory. Core of readings consists of selections from classic works of political theory and philosophy. (SS)
135W. Writing Workshop. 1 hr.; 1 cr. A one-credit add-on course to a regular subject matter course on a co-requisite basis. This course works on writing that is integral to the subject matter of the main course. Co-requisite means that all students in the regular course will be in the writing workshop. The combination of a regular course and a W riting W orkshop satisfies one of the C ollege's writing intensive course requirements. $M$ ay be repeated for credit.
106. Special Topics in Political Science. 3 hr.; 3 cr . T opics to be announced.

II. Intermediate

A. American Politics

210. American State and Local Govern-

ment. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Emphasis on development of executive power, legislative process, role of political parties and interest groups, changing character of urban government.
211. Urban Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A survey of the phenomena of the modern-day metropolis with emphasis on urban needs, government organization and administration, politics; political processes, and the interrelationships between the city and the suburbs.

[^30]212. The American Presidency. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. An analytical study of the office and powers of the President as chief of state, head of its executive branch, commander-in-chief of its armed forces, director of its foreign policy, and his role as legislator, party leader, and spokesman of the nation. The concept of the presidency and the achievements of the presidents will be particularly examined.
213. The Legislative Process in America. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the structures and functions of legislative bodies with particular emphasis on the U nited States.
217. Decision-Making in the White House. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course examines presidential decision-making and how it has varied among recent presidents.
218. Political Parties and Elections. 3 hr.; 3 cr. An analysis of the place of public opinion in politics; techniques of political propaganda; functions of pressure groups; current political issues in relation to public opinion.
219. Politics of Bureaucracy. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. An analysis of the organization and functioning of public and private bureaucracies, including a general survey of the theory and practice of administration. C ase studies will compare the functioning of actual agencies with administrative theory.
220. Politics and the Media. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A study of the relationship between the media and political consciousness (the way we think and feel about politics), focusing on the news: its content, the way people perceive and use that content, and the way politically active people attempt to influence that content.
221. Public Policy in the Political Process. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Study of one or more public issues. W ill focus on both the process of deci-sion-making and evaluation of policy. $M$ ay be repeated if different fields of public policy are being covered.
222. Power in America. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the structure of power of American society and its relation to political ideas and processes.

223/ Urban Studies 223. Introduction to Public Administration. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Analysis of the theoretical basis for administration, philosophies of administration. Description of the tools of administration and the relationship of administrative organization to other institutions in modern society.224. The Public Service. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The problems of recruiting, organizing, and providing administrative leadership for the persons required to administer modern government and to plan and carry out an ever-widening range of public programs and services. Will also stress the public service as a career.

225. Women in Politics and Government.

 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course explores the role women play in the American political system. It addresses the question of how women choose to participate in politics, how they are recruited for office, how they campaign, what influence they have, and what obstacles to their full and equal participation remain. The course relies on readings and on guest lectures by women who hold elected, appointed, and civil service positions at different levels of government.
Requirements for the Major in Political Science

Required: 30 credits in political science, including three of the following courses: Political Science 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, and 105; and a seminar plus 18 elective credits in political science courses. The introductory course in each category is, on principle, a prerequisite for the intermediate courses and seminars in each category. Exemptions from this rule may be given by the adviser with the concurrence of the instructor. A minimum of 9 hours must be taken in one or in several of the following departments: Anthropology, Economics, History, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, and U rban Studies, with the permission of the department.
By the upper sophomore year, majors should have worked out a comprehensive course of study in political science with their faculty adviser before registering for more courses. Transfer students who plan to major in political science must take a minimum of 18 credits in the department regardless of the number of political science credits earned at other institutions.
A maximum of 12 internship credits can count toward the major.

Requirements for the Minor in Political Science

The minor consists of 18 credits, including two of the first five courses (introductory courses) listed under the major, and at least three upper-level courses. C ross-listed courses will not be credited toward the minor. T ransfer students must take at least 18 credits on campus. Changes in courses may be made at any time.
226. Capitalism and Democracy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . This course deals with the interaction between the political and economic institutions of capitalist democracies. T opics covered include the relationship between capitalism and democracy, and between democracy and inequality, as well as the politics of economic policy in advanced capitalist societies.
227. Revolution, Politics, and Film. 3 hr.; 3 cr . This course combines the traditional tools of political science and history with the additional perspective of film to help us understand some of the major revolutions of the 20th century. Among the revolutions studied will be the Russian, German, Cuban, Chilean, and Algerian.
228. American Politics and Film. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. This course will focus on selected American films, from the 1920s to the present, to examine the social and cultural ideas and attitudes that underlieAmerican political and economic structures. It will also examine the influence of the media on the American political world.
229. Colloquium in American Politics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Topics to be announced. No student is permitted to enroll in more than one colloquium in each semester.

B. Comparative Politics

230. Politics of Development. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Politics and government in the underdeveloped areas of Africa, Asia, L atin America, and the $M$ iddle East. Stress on the interaction of political, social, and economic forces. Attention is paid to foreign policy problems. (PN )
231. Political Culture and Political Socialization. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The effect on political systems and behavior of such phenomena as fundamental moral concerns and value systems, class structures, and folk practices; development of the individual's orientation to political action and institutions.
232. Comparative Political Economy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Effects of economic structures and practices on the political and social systems.
233. Transitions to Democracy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . D uring the past generation, many nations have shifted from authoritarian and military rule to democracy. This course will examine the reasons for this development, the ways it has been accomplished, and the prospects for the future.
234. Contemporary Western Europe. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Analysis of contemporary European political institutions and processes. Selected countries to be announced.
235. Contemporary Russia. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A survey of the political processes and governmental institutions of Russia, as well as the states of the former Soviet Union.
236. The Politics of Developing Nations. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Politics and government in the underdeveloped areas of Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the M iddle East. Stress on the interaction of political, social, and economic forces. Attention to foreign policy problems. (PN )
237. Contemporary Africa. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Primary focus on the dynamics of societies in transition in "SubSaharan" Africa from colonial dependency to independence, and from traditional tribal units to modern nations. (PN)
238. Contemporary Asia. 3 hr.; 3 cr . A survey of the political development and government institutions of the states in the Far East, chiefly China and Japan; analytical study of their historical background and foreign relations. (PN)
239. Contemporary Latin America. 3 hr .; 3 cr. A study of the political reality of Latin American countries through their constitutional organization and the actions and attitudes of power blocks within society. The role of political parties, dictatorship and caudillismo constitutional government, and democracy. (PN )
240. Contemporary Middle East. 3 hr.; 3 cr. A survey of M iddle Eastern governments, political processes, and political group behavior. (PN )
241. The Welfare State. 3 hr .; 3 cr . W elfare states in the modern world vary from "conservative" to "liberal" to "radical." This course will examine the common roots of all welfare states, the ways they vary, and the different interests their policies serve.
242. Contemporary Central America. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the social, economic, and cultural forces that shape the political processes of $C$ entral American societies, including the application of political theories of $C$ entral American and foreign writers. (PN)
243. Comparative Analysis of Revolutions.

3 hr .; 3 cr . The purpose of this course is to identify, describe, and analyze models of revoIution. The object will be to show where and why revolutions are likely, the conditions under which they have succeeded in the past, and the forces that play determinant roles.
246. Social Movements and Political Power. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course examines the relation of social movements to political parties, labor unions, and governmental and non-governmental institutions. It will compare "old" class-based movements to "new" identity-based movements, particularly those concerned with race, gender, and ethnicity. Students will deal with case studies taken from developed and less developed societies.

247. Political Leadership. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course examines the problem of leadership in political systems, the various ways it can be exercised, and its role in political development. It will pay particular attention to charismatic leadership as exercised by some of the major figures of modern history, from N apoleon through Castro, and including such diversetypes as H itler, M ao, and the Perons.
249. Colloquium in Comparative Politics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . Prereq.: Permission of instructor. Topics to be announced. No student is permitted to enroll in more than one colloquium each semester.

C. International Politics

250. International Law. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the traditional and prevailing rules of international law governing relations among states and other international persons; special emphasis on recognition, succession, international treaties, and state jurisdiction over land, water, and aerial space.
251. International Organization. 3 hr .; 3 cr . After a brief treatment of the historical background of international organization and attempts to maintain peace, attention is given to the organizational, structural, and functional aspects of the U nited $N$ ations and its related agencies. An evaluation of the contributions of these organizations to the maintenance of peace and to world economic, social, and political development is made.
252. Contemporary Issues in International Relations. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course introduces students to some of the major issues that confront the world and provides them with basic analytical tools to help them understand these issues. Each section will focus on a particular issue, such as the control of weapons, women and war, international drug traffic, and the international trading system. The course will feature guest speakers from journalism, the UN, and various diplomatic missions. Topics to be announced. Course may be repeated with the permission of instructor if the topic is different.
253. Problems in International Law and Administration. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An analytical study of selected topics in international law and administration, such as means and procedures for the settlement of international disputes, responsibility of states and other issues in diplomatic practices, administrative problems of the U nited $N$ ations and other international organs in the performance of their functions, as well as the changing conception and controversial principles of the law of war and neutrality.
254. The Politics of the International Economy. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course deals with the relationship between international politics and international economics. It pays particuIar attention to the increasing political significance of international trade, global competition, and the international division of labor. Students will examine such issues as the role of states in the world economy, the activities of inter-governmental organizations such as the IM F and the W orld Bank, and the problems of inequality and unequal development.
255. Comparative Foreign Policy. 3 hr .; 3 cr. An analysis of patterns in the orientation of various nation-states toward their world environment, and of structures and processes by which various nation-states formulate foreign policies.
256. Africa in World Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The international relations of the African countries and the development of African foreign policies. Pan-Africanism, the cold war in Africa, neutralism, regional and international agencies.
257. Western Europe in World Politics. 3 hr.; 3 cr . The role of the European states in world politics. Cohesion and conflict within the regions: the politics of European integration, Atlantic cooperation, and East-W est relations.
258. Asia in World Politics. 3 hr.; 3 cr. His torical examination of the policies of the major powers toward China, Japan, and K orea; their common interests and contradictions; conflicts between nationalism and imperialism in East Asia and adjacent areas; special emphasis on the complicated relationships between the U nited States and the governments in this region.
259. Latin America in World Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . The relations of the Latin American countries with the U nited States, the European powers, and with each other. Pan-Americanism and the participation of Latin America in international organizations. InterAmerican public international law.
260. The Middle East in World Politics. 3
hr .; 3 cr . The expansion of the European State system into the M iddle E ast and the regional adjustments. The changing patterns of regional and international politics in the M iddle East, contrasting the League of $N$ ations and the $U$ nited $N$ ations systems.
261. Russia in World Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the foreign policy of Russia; continuing conflicts with the W est; the politics of economic integration.
262. United States Foreign Policy. 3 hr.; 3 cr. Examination of the historical, material, and ideological forces that shape current American foreign policy operations, followed by an analysis of policy formulation and stress on the executive, the legislative, and public opinion. Military, economic, and intelligence policies also examined.
263. Politics of Terrorism. 3 hr .; 3 cr . A study of terrorism as practiced by governments, political parties, and small groups or individuals, including rationales, methods, justifications, and effects of terrorism by different agencies. Terrorism on an international scale will be studied in the context of global political and economic rivalries.
264. Colloquium in International Politics. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Topics to be announced.

D. Political Theory and Methodology

270. Democracy. 3 hr.; 3 cr . An examina tion of democratic theory in the light of the developments of the late twentieth century. The course will particularly address the challenges to democracy posed by factors such as the rise of great corporations and state bureaucracies, and the decline in participation by ordinary citizens.
271. The Origins of Western Political Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An investigation of the founda tions of the W estern political tradition and the formulation of political theories in a pre-nation-state social order.
272. Theories of the State. 3 hr .; 3 cr . An examination of the political problems that grew out of the conception of the nationstate, such as sovereignty, constitutionalism, democracy, political liberty, and social change.
273. American Political Thought. 3 hr.; 3 cr. D iscussion of the political concepts that have influenced the development of an American democratic tradition; concepts will be related to specific political institutions and processes. $\dagger \dagger$
274. Contemporary Political Theory. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Examination of the theoretical and methodological problems underlying twenti-eth-century political thought. U tilization of psychological findings, development of scientific procedure, problems of concept-formation. Attention is given to fundamental ideological issues in twentieth-century politics.
275. Applied Political Research. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course will provide students with the basic skills needed to carry out political science research, including the formulation of research problems, the collection of evidence, and elementary statistical analysis.
276. Feminist Political Theory. $3 \mathrm{hr} . ; 3 \mathrm{cr}$. This course introduces students to feminist perspectives on politics and political thought, and to the current debates and issues in contemporary feminism, through a study of political writing by and about women.

277. Black Political and Social Thought I:

M ajors O ffered: Psychology (State Education Code 02805)

The Psychology D epartment offers a wide variety of courses, some of which lay the foundation for a career in psychology, all of which are aimed at providing students with an understanding of behavior, both normal and abnormal.

Departmental Awards

The Psychology D epartment offers the Gregory Razran Award to the graduating student with the highest grade-point average in psychology; the R obert S. W oodworth Award to the graduating student with the second highest gradepoint average in psychology; and the Arthur Witkin Award for Excellence in Industrial-C onsumer Psychology to a graduating student who has shown special scholarship, research, and internship achievement in this area. The Raphell Sims Lakowitz Scholarship of $$ 1,000$ is offered annually to an undergraduate psychology major who has demonstrated both academic excellence and the ability to work in the clinical setting, and is intending to pursue a career in clinical psychology.

THE MAJOR

The major in psychology prepares students for employment in such settings as residential and treatment programs for handicapped individuals, and in drug rehabilitation facilities, although a master's degree is the minimal educational requirement for many professional positions. A doctorate is required for clinical, counseling, or industrial practice, and for N ew York State certification as a psychologist. See the box on page 180 for the specific requirements for the major.

For a student to major in psychology, at least half of the courses in the major, including the Advanced Experimental research course, must be taken at Q ueens College . Psychology 12 may not be credited toward the major in psychology, although it is credited toward the B.A. degree.

C ourses required for the major are typically offered every semester, but this may not be the case for elective courses.

Students majoring in psychology are urged to avail themselves of the many advisory resources provided by the department. These include:

1. Faculty advisers. All day-session majors are automatically assigned a faculty adviser. Evening-session majors may receive advisement from the evening-session coordinator.
2. Peer advisers. Peer advisers are available in the Psychology office, according to a schedule posted in the office.
3. Undergraduate H andbook and Academic Advisement Manual. The manual provides detailed materials concerning course selection, graduate school preparation, and career specialization, and is available on the department's web page.

Senior Research Thesis

The Psychology D epartment offers outstanding students the opportunity to conduct a senior research thesis. Qualified students who successfully complete an empirical study (including a formal research report) will be eligible to be awarded their degree with $D$ istinction in Empirical Research.

Students who have completed Psychology 213 and have a Psychology grade point average of 3.7 (or the strong recommendations of two Psychology Department faculty members) are eligible to apply for permission to conduct a senior research study. The department will provide a list of faculty members who may be able to serve as research advisers. The thesis will be based on empirical research under the supervision of a departmental faculty member. A research proposal must be approved by the C hair prior to undertaking the study. The final thesis must be approved by a faculty review committee, which may grant the Distinction in Empirical Research.

It is anticipated that students choosing this option will spend at least two semesters conducting the research and preparing the thesis. Credit may be earned by enrolling in Psychology 391 (or 392) for 1 to 3 credits during the first and second semesters, respectively.

THE MINOR

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the minor.

Prerequisites

English 95 or its equivalent is the minimum corequisite for all courses (see pages 34, 109). All psychology courses other than Psychology 107 require Psychology 101 as a prerequisite.

Requirements for the Major in Psychology

Required: A minimum of 35 credits in Psychology, including Psychology 101, 107, 213, and one advanced research course from among 311-320. Psychology 101 is a prerequisite for all courses in psychology, with the single exception of Psychology 107, Statistical M ethods. Psychology 107 is prerequisitefor 213, Experimental Psychology, which in turn is prerequisitefor any advanced experimental course. Thus, it is important that students who are majoring in psychology take Psychology 107 and 213 as early in their college career as is feasible. At least half of the courses in the major, including the Advanced Experimental research course, must be taken at Q ueens Col - ## lege.

Psychology majors are strongly advised to provide themselves with a diversified academic background by taking courses in a wide range of departments. In particular, they are advised to take: 1) a minimum of one semester of college-level mathematics, preferably M athematics 101 (or its equivalent); 2) a minimum of one year of natural science, of which one semester should be biology; 3) a minimum of one year of social science, of which one semester should be either sociology or anthropology; 4) a minimum of one semester of philosophy.

Requirements for the Minor in Psychology

Required: A minimum of 18 credits in psychology, not including Psychology 12. (Psychology 12 is not credited toward either the major or the minor in psychology, although it is credited toward the B.A. degree.) H alf of these courses must be taken in this department at Q ueens C ollege. In order to graduate with a minor in psychology, students must have an overall 2.0 average in psychology courses taken at Queens C ollege. Courses with P/NC grades cannot count toward the minor in psychology.

COURSES

12. Psychology of Life Management. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course distills from each area of psychology those ideas important to the control and management of one's everyday affairs. It offers critical insights into selfunderstanding, personal growth, career planning, parenting, and coping with the general problems of living. In addition to lectures, there will be a series of demonstrations, exercises, and self-administered tests aimed at illustrating issues covered in the course. ## Puerto Rican Studies

Program D irector and Undergraduate Adviser: Jesse M.Vázquez
Instructors: C intrón-G onzalez, Llorens, M oncada, Romero, Vázquez
Office: Kissena 355, 997-2830
Puerto Rican Studies offers a variety of pertinent and challenging courses in the social science spectrum. Emphasizing interdisciplinary approaches to learning, these courses focus on the Puerto Rican experience as it has developed in the U nited States as well as on the island of Puerto Rico. Special attention is paid to the historical and cultural developments that have shaped the Puerto Rican and Latino experience in the U nited States.

C ourses dealing with the psychological, political, and cultural aspects of the Puerto Rican and Latino experience broaden the perspectives of the student who plans to teach or enter the "helping" (social work, psychology, counseling, and legal) professions in New York, which has a population of over two million Puerto Ricans and other Latinos. Puerto Rican Studies is a participant in the Bilingual/M ulticultural Specialization. These courses explore ethnic identity and provide a knowledge of the Puerto Rican and Latino experience.

THE MINOR

The minor in Puerto Rican Studies consists of 24 credits. The minor concentration is composed of a required core (Group I), elective courses (G roup II), and a special studies course (Group III). See the box on page 184 for the specific requirements for the minor.

Bilingual/ Multicultural Education Specialization

Students interested in a specialization in bilingual/multicultural education should contact Professor Rafael Olivares in the D epartment of Elementary and Early Childhood Education. Because specific ethnic and cultural perspectives are an essential part of the preparation of all prospective teachers, we strongly recommend one or more of the following courses that focus on culture, community, and history of Puerto Ricans and other Latinos in the U. S.: PRST 202, PRST 203, and H istory 119. For acceptable alternative or additional course options, as well as transfer equivalencies, all students should consult with the Director of Puerto Rican Studies.

COURSES

All of the following courses are offered through Puerto Rican Studies, Interdisciplinary and Special Studies, and other academic departments. The courses designated as Special Studies 94 and 97 are currently being offered through Interdisciplinary and Special Studies. O nce approved, these courses will be offered through Puerto Rican Studies or other academic department, and will be included in the minor concentration.

PRST 202. Field Experience in a Bilingual Hispanic Setting. 2 hr ., 3 hr . fieldwork; 3 cr . Prereq.: Spanish 113 or permission of instructor. This course gives the student an opportunity to participate in an assigned and supervised field experience in a bilingual school program or social service agency serving the Latino community. The student will be required to gather information, observe, and participate in one of the many agencies that seek to serve the Puerto Rican and Latino community. The student will examine the role of language and culture in the delivery of social and educational services.
PRST 203. Puerto Rican and Hispanic Ethnic Identity. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Explores Puerto Rican and Latino identity as a source of individual self-concept and group cohesion. Focuses on assimilation, acculturation, accommodation, autonomy, and the continuation and survival of culture and community in urban American society.
PRST 204. Caribbean Religions. 3 hr .; 3 cr . This course is designed to examine the various religious expressions in Cuba, H aiti, Santo D omingo, and Puerto Rico, with a focus on a comparative anal ysis of Santeria, Espiritismo, Christianity, and Voodoo (African origins and Christian rituals).

PRST 208. The Puerto Rican and the Latin American Woman. 3 hr.; 3 cr . This course will study the roles, status, thoughts, and actions of the Latin American woman, from Pre-Columbian times to the twentieth century. It will focus on women's struggle to understand and reshape their role in a rapidly changing society, and will anal yze the traditional sex roles prescribed by society, religion, and women's image in historical and contemporary society.

PRST 220. Development of Puerto Rican

 Literature in the United States. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: English 110 and Spanish 112. A survey of the contemporary Puerto Rican literary form that emerged as a unique expression of the experience of the writers in the $U$ nited States. W e will trace this development from the writers in exile to the first- and secondgeneration N ew York Puerto Rican writers of poetry, drama, novels, and the essay.
PRST 380. Tutorial in Puerto Rican Studies.

 3 hr .; 3 cr . Prereq.: Junior/senior standing and permission of Director. The student will agree to work on a specific project under the guidance and supervision of a faculty member in Puerto Rican Studies.
Requirements for the Minor in Puerto Rican Studies

Religious Studies

D irector: Stephen Grover
Advisory Council: Bird, Goldsmith,
Lawson, Purnell, Zadoian
Office: T-3, Room 24, 997-3099
M ajors 0 ffered: Religious Studies (State Education Code 92256)

Religious Studies is an exciting part of the offerings in the humanities at the College. Its resources in faculty, library, courses, lecture series, and special events providea strong background in the area, particularly attractive to students in the humanities or social sciences.

Religious Studies' academic orientation is derived from the disciplines of history, sociology, psychology, and philosophy. These fields attempt to treat religious phenomena from a nonpartisan and scholarly standpoint. The broad scope of faculty specialization permits a comprehensive investigation of the pervasive religious concerns of the world's cultures.

Students interested in a Religious Studies major/minor should consult with the Director as soon as possible after having recognized their interest in the discipline.

THE MAJOR

The major in Religious Studies requires 36 credits. See the box on page 185 for specific requirements for the major.

Because planning a sound curriculum is an important part of the major and minor, selecting courses to meet the distribution requirements will be done in consultation with the Program D irector. Students must secure approval for a program plan, and any later substitutions must receive approval from the D irector.

Distribution Groups

The list of approved courses in each distribution group is available in the Religious Studies O ffice. Interested students may obtain the list from the D irector. Students are reminded that their program plans must be approved before they embark on the major/minor.

The four distribution groups are Comparative Religion, Religion, Literature, and the Arts, Religion and Culture,and Religion and Philosophy. This group of courses will study the relationship between religion and philosophy using individual and collective philosophical viewpoints.See appropriate department listing for scheduling information.

The Minor in Student Services and Counseling

The Student Services and Counseling M inor is designed for those students who are interested in pursuing graduate work or employment in the area of counseling, psychology, counselor education, teaching, communications, and social work. The emphasis in many of the courses is to develop communication, listening, and counseling and advisement skills in an environment that provides, in most cases, for small classes and hands-on experience.

O nly a limited number of students can be admitted to the program each semester since we must work within existing faculty resources while maintaining our commitment to small class size. Entrance is competitive and selective: students must be in good academic standing and lower sophomores to apply, and will be selected based on an application and a two-part screening process. The final decision will be made by the screening team and the Coordinator of the program.

See the box on this page for the specific requirements for the minor.

COURSES

Note: Students interested in broadening their background in the concepts presented in the following courses and in pursuing graduate studies in student personnel work are advised to take courses in related areas of psychology and the social sciences.

Screening

Admission to Student Personnel courses is by permission of the instructor. Prior to acceptance into the counseling and advisement courses, all students are required to go through a two-part screening process. Applicants are screened and selected by experienced peer advisers and by the coordinator of the Peer Advisement Program. Applications are available in the Counseling and Advisement Center on the first floor of B Building.

The $O$ ffice of W orker Education was established in cooperation with a number of New York City labor unions as part of Q ueens C ollege's effort to expand educational services to union members and the labor community. Its purpose is to provide union-sponsored, working adult students with an opportunity to:

1. gain a better understanding of the world of work, the economy, and society,
2. develop the skills and background necessary for occupational advancement and personal enrichment.

The 0 ffice of $W$ orker Education assists union members returning to school, including non-degree, matriculated, and graduate students enrolled in a variety of programs at Q ueens C ollege.

It serves students both on campus and at the Q ueens C ollege Extension Center in midM anhattan.

U ndergraduate students in the W orker Education program may choose to pursue their degree requirements through LASAR, the LEAP curriculum, or the BASS curriculum. Students pursuing their degree requirements through LASAR or LEAP may select from any major offered by the College. Students pursuing a BASS degree may select one of three areas of concentration: H uman Services, Labor Studies, or Public Policy. The BASS degree is offered at the Extension Center only.

The LEAP curriculum is available to W orker Education students who are matriculated and 25 years of age or older. Students must be union members and must be recommended for admission by the $D$ irector or his/her designee.

The LEAP curriculum provides students with a sequence of courses to meet the Col lege's general education requirements for the bachelor of arts and the bachelor of science degrees - i.e., basic skills and the Liberal Arts and Sciences A rea Requirements (LASAR). Students complete the remaining credits required for the bachelor's degree in their major and through elective offerings. The curriculum draws on the maturity and common experiences of working adults. Students meeting their degree requirements through this curriculum may also qualify for a maximum of 36 life achievement credits.

For details of admission requirements and procedures, contact the LEAP office.

Basic Skills and LASAR

Satisfactory completion of the following courses by students in LEAP will fulfill the College's general education requirements.

LASAR COURSES

The Humanities

LEAP 1. Writing and the Literature of Work. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: English 95 or results of placement examination and passing grade of CUN Y Assessment T est or equivalent as approved by the department. This course enables students to sharpen critical thinking, reading, and writing skills in the context of an exploration of work. The course will analyze representations of labor in several genres. Students will practice a variety of college writing projects: analytical writing, responses to literary works, autobiography, and methods of research.ACE 3. Studies in Literature. 3 hr . plus conf.; 6 cr. Prereq.: LEAP 1. Close reading and critical analysis of American and British fiction and poetry of various periods. This seminar combines a study of literature with continued training in clear and effective written expression. Conferences with the instructor will be scheduled.

ACE 4. Studies in Visual Arts and Music. 3 hr. plus attendance at selected concerts and museums; 6 cr . The many convergences between music and the visual arts will be studied as they reflect aesthetic concerns common to both.
LEAP 6. Work, Class, and Culture. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: LEAP 1. Students will examine how ways of thinking about work and workers have varied over time and place. Emphasis will be placed on the values, ethics, customs, and laws of a society that shape and regulate systems of production and distribution. A historical and anthropological approach will provide the basis from which to consider work, workers, and culture in the U.S. today.
LEAP 7. African-American Literary Traditions. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: LEAP 1. This course will focus on literary traditions that are distinctly American and are also influenced by international currents in culture and politics. Students will explore one or more AfricanAmerican traditions, such as the literature of slavery, women's voices, expatriate AfricanAmerican writing, or poetry. The emphasis will be thematic rather than strictly chronological, and the course will consider style, technique, and social content of major works.

Math and Science

Bio. 8. Fundamentals of Biology. 2 lec., 2 lab. hr.; 3 cr . LEAP students are required to take either Biology 8 or Chemistry 15. A survey course in biology designed for students in LEAP. The areas of cell biology, heredity, development, physiology, ecology, and evolution are covered. Emphasis will be placed on human-related topics such as health, the environment, and current developments in biology. No previous knowledge of biology or chemistry is assumed. $N$ ot open to students who have taken Biology 11. M AT charge, $10.
ACE 9. The Physical Sciences. 4 hr.; 4 cr . A course designed to give students a qual itative and quantitative view of the physical world. T opics chosen, primarily from physics (and to a lesser extent, astronomy), include: force, motion, gravitation, planetary motion, work and energy, heat, light, and electricity. D uring the study of each topic, selected numerical problems are solved. These problems, in addition to illuminating the subject matter, develop the students' skills in algebra, geometry (both plane and analytic), and trigonometry.
Psy. 101. General Psychology. 4 hr.; 4 cr. An introduction to the chief facts, principles, methods, and theories of psychology. Topics discussed include the history of psychology, sensory and perceptual processes, motivation and emotion, behavior development, learning and cognition, psychometrics, personality, psychopathology, and social behavior.

Social Sciences and Pre-Industrial/ NonWestern Civilization
ACE 15. Social Science Seminar I. 3 hr.; 6 cr. A study of the history of ideas in W estern civilization from classical antiquity to the Reformation, from the perspective of the two disciplines, history and philosophy, and related social sciences. Through an analysis of sources, both original and secondary, emphasis will be placed on political developments, philosophical trends, religious movements, and social institutions. Extensive independent reading under faculty supervision; oral and written presentations, research papers, and final examination.
ACE 16. Social Science Seminar II. 3 hr.; 6 cr. Prereq.: ACE 15. A continuation of the study of the historical development of W estern civilization from the R eformation to modern times, through an analysis of sources, both original and secondary. In addition to the perspectives of the older, well-established disciplines of history and philosophy, the course will draw upon the insights of the newer social sciences-economics, sociology, and political science.

Scientific Methodology and Quantitative Reasoning

Students must complete one course (minimum 3 credits) in college-level mathematics, computer science, data analysis, statistics, scientific methodology, or logic. Student's choice of course largely depends on the major selected. See LASAR section of this Bulletin for a list of acceptable courses.

Health and Physical Education

Students must complete a minimum of one credit in health and physical education.

Foreign Language Requirement

Students in LEAP may fulfill the C ollege's foreign language requirement either by completing three semesters of foreign language study ( 11 credits) or by completing an alternative sequence of courses (a minimum of 15 credits) that is designed to provide a) a knowledge of language and its uses, b) basic foreign language reading and speaking skills, c) the history, literature, and/or culture of other nations.

The alternative sequence in Spanish language and culture includes:

LEAP 10. Language and Society. 4 hr .; 4 cr . This course is a comprehensive survey of the study of language. Students will analyze language structures, language change, and the philosophy of language. Students will also discuss the evolution of words and their meanings in various historical contexts, the introduction of "new" words into a language to meet changing technological and cultural needs, and the interactions among languages in modern society.

O ne of the following courses:

Spanish 101. Fundamental Language Skills for Students of Spanish-Speaking Background. 3 hr .; 3 cr . Intended for those students who have a speaking knowledge of Spanish, but have little or no formal training in the language. Forms part of a two-semester sequence designed as an alternative to Spanish 111 through 203, and 204. Completion of the 101,10 , sequence qual ifies students for the Spanish 205, 206 level or for Spanish 224. Students who successfully complete 101 may not enroll in Spanish 111 or 112.
Spanish 111. Elementary Spanish I. 4 hr.; 4 Cr. Intended for students with no previous training in Spanish. D esigned to establish correct pronunciation, to teach the elements of grammar, to enable students to read, to understand spoken Spanish, to become familiar with cultural aspects of Spanish-speaking countries, and especially to establish a good basic vocabulary. Class hours include use of language laboratory.

Two of the following courses:

LEAP 40. The "Golden Age" of Spanish Culture. 4 hr.; 4 cr. Prereq.: LEAP 6, Spanish 111 or 101. T his course will explore the ascendant period in Spanish culture in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Students will discuss the development of the modern novel, from the anonymous publication of L azrillo de Tormes in the early sixteenth century to Quevedo's El Buscon, and including works by C ervantes. The course also includes an analysis of the works of V elazquez (1599-1660), court painter to Philip IV, and a discussion of Spanish culture in a world context, with a focus on the W estern H emisphere.
LEAP 43. Latin American Literature. 4 hr.; 4 cr . The central myths and recurrent themes of Latin American literature from the Pre Columbian period and chronicles of Spanish conquest to contemporary writing. An examination of $N$ ative populations, peasantry, urban life, and the changing roles of women in Latin America will be conducted mainly through classroom discussion of works read beforehand.

LEAP 46. Survey of Latin American History. 4 hr .; 4 cr . Latin American history including discussions of the Indian contribution to society and culture, the European colonial experience, struggles for independence, relations with the U nited States, and contemporary movements for social change.

LEAP students who wish to take a sequence in a language group other than Spanish should see a LEAP counselor to obtain a list of approved courses. Courses used to satisfy the language requirement (either in the Spanish group or another group) may not be used to satisfy other requirements toward LASAR.

Students who have previously studied a foreign language and students for whom English is not a native language should refer to the section of this Bulletin that identifies conditions exempting students from the Col lege's foreign language requirement.

THE BASS CURRICULUM

The BASS curriculum provides students with an interdisciplinary course of study leading to a Bachelor's of Science D egree in Applied Social Science. It is designed to prepare students for advocacy work in three areas: government, labor unions, and community organizations. Students in the program examine a wide range of social issues and focus on the application and humane use of the social sciences to solve contemporary social problems.
Students in this program must complete the following:

- twenty credits in foundation courses, including courses in writing, communications, statistics, and computers (BASS: 1111, 1112, 1113, 1211, and 1212);
- forty credits in core courses, including courses in the sciences, history, and the social sciences (BASS: 1007, 1009, 1132, 1133, 1134, 1141, 1142, 1143, 1144, 1241, and 1242);
- sixteen credits in a concentration track, to be selected from among three tracks: H) H uman Services, L) Labor Studies, P) Politics, Government, and Public Policy;
- eight credits in fieldwork, including (2) twocredit field work courses (BASS: 1281 and 1282) and a four-credit senior lab project (BASS: 1381);
- thirty-six credits in electives, including at least 4 credits in a course relevant to the student's concentration and 8 credits in the H umanities.

World Studies

D irector: Jack Z evin
C oordinating Committee: Buell, Carravetta, Kim, J., Smith, W aterbury, Zevin

Office: King H all 207, 997-5650
As the world grows increasingly interconnected, it is necessary to understand forms of human expression in a global frame of reference. TheW orld Studies program provides a sequence of four team-taught, interdisciplinary courses that are designed to satisfy that need.

Employing perspectives from the humanities and social sciences, these courses explore various and often conflicting ways of conceptualizing the world, and examine cultures and societies - ancient and modern - from Asia, Africa, the Americas, Europe, and the M iddle East. Each course involves the cooperation of a faculty member from the social sciences and one from the humanities. Sections are kept small to permit extensive interchange between students and teachers.

Although the courses form a logical progression, they may be taken in any order, or even simultaneously. Each course is designed to remain within a common framework, but the content of each section may vary somewhat depending upon the composition of the teaching team.

W orld Studies, which was developed with major grants from the Andrew W. M ellon Foundation and the N ational Endowment for the H umanities, is an innovative program that has been recognized as a national model by the Association of American C olleges. Its curriculum and syllabi are under continual review by an ongoing committee of faculty members from all divisions of the College.

THE COLLEGE recognizes its outstanding students in a variety of ways: placement on the D ean's List, induction into honorary societies, and the granting of general College honors and departmental honors, as well as College-wide awards and scholarships to graduating seniors. College-wide awards and scholarships are presented, and honors status is recognized by the College for graduating seniors, at the annual Baccalaureate Convocation.

College Committee on Honors and Awards

B Building

997-5502; fax 997-5498
e-mail: honors@ qc.edu
Hours: 9:00 am to 5:00 pm
The C ollege C ommittee on H onors and Awards of the Academic Senate selects the recipients of C ollege wide honors and awards, and recommends to the Senate criteria for graduation with honors, as well as criteria for other College-wide honors and awards. It also considers and passes upon waivers of requirements for graduation with an honors degree. The Committee works with the College administration and other appropriate individuals and agencies regarding the establishment, criteria, and award of other than College-wide honors and prizes, evaluates all proposals for new College-wide awards involving academic excellence, and works to stimulate recognition and appreciation of high academic achievement. To this end, it sponsors the H onors Recognition Reception each semester, honoring outstanding students recommended by the faculty.

College-wide Awards

Awards are granted to outstanding graduating students at Baccalaureate by the College Committee on H onors and Awards of the Academic Senate. Faculty may nominate students for the awards, and the Committee reviews records of all candidates for graduation with high grade-point averages. In making its selection, the Committee considers such factors as outstanding achievement in one or more fields of study, high gradepoint average, and breadth of courses taken, as well as evidence of originality, creativity, and promise of future contribution to society. Some of the awards have special criteria, such as admission to graduate and professional schools, and contributions to the College and community. No one may apply directly for these awards.

The College-wide awards are:
The Paul Klapper Scholarships are provided annually by the staff of Q ueens College and other friends in memory of the College's first president to encourage scholarly accomplishment, moral and intellectual integrity, and good citizenship. These awards are made to graduating $\mathrm{Se}-$ niors who plan to enter graduate work.

Office of Honors and Scholarships B Building  997-5502; fax 997-5498, e-mail: honors@ qc.edu Hours: 9:00 am to 5:00 pm

The director of the $O$ ffice of H onors and Scholarships is the C ollege's representative for major national scholarship competitions and advises students on these programs. The director and other office staff are avai lable to discuss matters of interest to prospective candidates. The Office also administers the C ollege's science awards (see above) and a number of other College scholarships; it administers the $Q$ ueens C ollege Schol ars Program, although the scholarships are awarded to entering students through the O ffice of U ndergraduateAdmissions (see page 15). In addition, the $O$ ffice of H onors and Scholarships maintains a scholarship library, which contain scholarship, fellowship, study abroad, and other information on a variety of academic opportunities sponsored by public- and privatesector sources. Students areencouraged to do research in the scholarship library during office hours. Some major national scholarships are listed below.

National Scholarships

Among the national scholarships for which students may apply are:

Ford Foundation Predoctoral Fellowships for Minorities identifies individuals of demonstrated ability and provides them with opportunities to engage in advanced study leading to the Ph. D. or Sc. D. degree and to inspire others to follow an academic career in teaching and research. A pplicants must be U. S. citizens or nationals; they also must be in one of the following groups: Alaskan $N$ atives, Black/African Americans, M exican Americans/C hicanos, N ative American Indians, N ative Pacific Islanders (Polynesian or M icronesian), or Puerto Ricans. Students who are at or near the beginning of their graduate study or who are enrolled in or planning to enroll in a re-search-based Ph. D. or Sc. D. program are eligible.

Fulbright Scholarships support one year of graduate research and/or study abroad in selected countries. Students design their own individualized project. Applicants must be U. S. citizens and hold a B. A. degree or the equivalent before the beginning date of the grant.

Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship and Excellence in Education Program is an undergraduate scholarship program created to encourage outstanding students to pursue careers in mathematics, the natural sciences, and engineering disciplines. Applicants must be in the upper quarter of their class and beU. S. citizens, resident aliens, or U. S. nationals.

British Marshall Scholarships support two years of study for a degree in a university in the U nited Kingdom. Applicants must be U. S. citizens and hold a bachelor's degree; they must also have a minimum required GPA of 3.7 (or $\mathbf{A -}$ ). The M arshall selectors are seeking candidates "of high ability and wide interests who plan to take up careers not only in higher education but in commerce and industry, the arts and professions, and public life generally."

Andrew W. Mellon Fellowships in the Humanities are awarded to promising students to begin graduate work in preparation for careers in college teaching and scholarship in the humanities. U. S. citizens, permanent residents, and C anadian citizens who are college seniors or recent graduates and who are applying to Ph.D . programs are encouraged to compete. M inority candidates are particularly encouraged to apply. The GRE general test and subject test are required.

National Science Foundation Fellowships are awarded each year to students intending to pursue research-based M. A. or Ph. D. degrees in mathematics, physical and life sciences, behavioral and social sciences, computer and information science, engineering, and/or the history and philosophy of science. All applicants must be U. S. citizens, U. S. nationals, or permanent residents. The GRE general test and subject test are required.

Rhodes Scholarships support two to three years of study at the U niversity of 0 x ford (England). Applicants must beU.S. citizens, hold a bachelor's degree, and be between 18 and 24 years of age on 0 ctober 1 of the year of application. Candidates have traditionally been selected based on their intellectual distinction, leadership ability, community involvement, and "the energy to use their talents to the full."

All of these are highly competitive scholarships. Students are encouraged to visit the O ffice of H onors and Scholarships to obtain more information on these scholarships as well as other opportunities that support graduate and undergraduate studies.

Headed for Graduate or Professional School?

H ere's some advice from CUN Y students who are ahead of you on the road. These students are not only going to graduate school; they're going there with major national scholarships- Fulbrights, M arshalls, M ellons, Ford Foundation, Na tional Science Foundation.

These CUN Y students succeeded at the national level. You can, too. Start work now!

Student award-winners say:

- Take charge. Take responsibility for your career. M ake it your top priority. C reate the opportunities you need to build a strong portfolio. Aggressively seek information on scholarships, schools, and professions.
- Distinguish yourself. Every scholarship and graduate school applicant has a high GPA and good GRE scores. You must stand out in order to succeed. Building a strong "portfolio" documenting your interests and abilities is crucial to your success. Your portfolio will include letters of recommendation and a personal statement. Sometimes it also includes a writing sample. Start building your portfolio now.
- Build your portfolio. D o independent studies. W ork as a research assistant. Find internships. Get into positions of responsibility in activities and organizations connected with your career interests and goals. Get involved.
- Build relationships. O nly people who know your work well can write the strong, detailed letters of recommendation that are absolutely necessary for your success. Independent studies, internships, and assistantships are all ways to build professional relationships. There are other ways. Find them.
- Be organized. M ake yourself aware of scholarship and school application deadlines. Gather application materials. M ake a calendar of deadlines for yourself. Get recommendation forms to professors early, and follow up with phone calls.
- Write your personal statement early. Application deadlines may be as early as O ctober. M any people should read and critique your personal statement. You may also need time to tailor the statement to more than one graduate school or scholarship program.

Your personal statement consists of two parts: a concise statement of who you are and a clear, detailed plan of the research you wish to do while in graduate school. It is a marketing document in which you show the school or foundation why you are worthy of their financial support. For major national scholarships, you may be asking for $$ 30,000$ a year. You must demonstrate that you deserve it.

Who Can Help

At Q ueens College:
O ffice of H onors and Scholarships 9975502

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

RULES GOVERNING GRADES, credits, retention standards, attendance, leaves, and conduct are among the major topics covered in this section. Since no compendium can anticipate and answer all questions, you should consult the Office of the Registrar, D ean of Students, or the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee, as appropriate, if you have questions not covered here.

The U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee is the committee of the A cademic Senate charged with deciding whether or not to grant students' appeals for waivers of the C ollege's academic policies and procedures. The USSC re quires written, documentary evidence as groundsfor an appeal. The review of appeals requires time, and not all appeals are granted. Students who have filed an appeal are therefore advised not to assume the appeal will be granted. Decisions of the USSC cannot be overturned.

Student Number

The C ollege uses your social security number as your permanent student identification number. When you apply for admission, you should include your social security number as part of your application. Students without a social security number will be assigned a 9-digit number by the College.

Placement Examinations

The College gives all newly accepted students writing, reading, and mathematics placement examinations called CUN Y Assessment T ests. The results of these examinations determine the courses a student must taketo fulfill basic skills requirements (see pages 33-35).

Advanced Placement

Eligibility for advanced placement is determined by the student's performance on the Advanced Placement T ests given by the College Entrance Examination Board. Students who have taken an Advanced Placement T est may have the results forwarded to the U ndergraduate Admissions Office.

Credit by External Examination

 Students may receive college credit for examinations conducted by the N ew York State D epartment of Education C ollege Proficiency Examination Program and by the College Entrance Examination Board - College Level Examination Program (subject-area exams only). Students should obtain approval to take such examinations from the appropriate D epartment C hair. They may receive either credit for specific courses or elective credit within the department.Information about these examination programs is available in the U ndergraduateAdmissions 0 ffice.

Transcripts

There is a fee of $$ 4$ to order a copy of your Q ueens C ollege record regardless if the request is for an official or student transcript. (Note: There is no fee for transcripts to be sent to other branches of CUNY.) W hen ordering a transcript and paying with a check or money order, go directly to the Registrar's 0 ffice, Jefferson 100, and fill in a transcript request form. If you are paying with cash or a credit card, go to a Bursar's payment window in Jefferson 200. You will be given a receipt to bring to the Registrar's $O$ ffice. Fill out the transcript form completely in Jefferson 100 and sign it. Return all copies of the request form and the Bursar's receipt to the counter in the Registrar's O ffice. Allow five to seven business days for processing. (There is no sameday service.)

If you wish to request a transcript by mail, send a written request to $Q$ ueens C ollege, 65-30 Kissena Blvd., J efferson H all 100, Flushing, NY 11367. M ake sure to include social security number, first, last, and middle names (if applicable, name used while in attendance), address and phone number, date of birth, dates of attendance, graduation date and type of degree, and recipient's mailing address. M ake sure your letter is signed. Include a check or money order payable to Q ueens C ollege and mail it back to the Registrar's $O$ ffice. Be sure to include social security number and current address on your check or money order.

Thefee covers transcript(s) for all divisions attended. If a financial hold has been placed on your record, you will be notified by mail. Requests for transcripts will not be honored until the hold has been cleared.

Courses at Other Institutions (Permit)

 A Q ueens College student wishing to take a course at another college (CUN Y or other) and transfer those credits to Queens must obtain, complete, and return to the Registrar's Office a permit to do so before taking the courses. This includes courses taken during the Summer and Intersession. Permits are authorized by the appropriate department and administered by the Registrar. Permit forms are obtained at the 0 ffice of the Registrar (J efferson 100). To qualify, you must meet the following conditions:■ be a degree (matriculated) student with a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00;
$\square$ be at least in your second semester of matriculation;

- be in attendance in the semester preceding the semester you wish to go on permit;
■ have succesfully completed at least six credits at Q ueens C ollege.
A department may refuse to authorize a permit if, in its judgment, it is inappropriate to do so.

It is the responsibility of students who study at other institutions on permit to have official transcripts of their work sent to the O ffice of the Registrar. These should be sent to the attention of the Permit O fficer, O ffice of the Registrar (Jefferson 100).

CUNY/ Paris Exchange Program

The CUN Y/Paris Exchange offers students of all disciplines the opportunity to study for either a semester or year at one of the U niversities of Paris. Requirements include either three semesters of college-level French or an equivalent linguistic proficiency. For further information and applications, stop by the office in K lapper 312 or contact Dr. $M$ axine Fisher, CUN Y/Paris Exchange Program, Q ueens C ollege, Flushing, N Y 11367-1597 (997-4608; fax 997-4636; e-mail maxine_fisher@qc.edu).

Registration

For complete details about registration dates and course schedules, see the Telephone Registration Guide and Schedule of Classes, available prior to registration at the Information Center (Kiely 101) or Registrar's O ffice (Jefferson 100). This information is also available on the College's website at www.qc.edu.

Course and Faculty Evaluation

Every three semesters students complete a course and faculty evaluation form in each class taken. Their responses are summarized and printed in the Course and Faculty Evaluation Booklet. This provides information on course requirements and students' reactions to classes and instructors.

These evaluations are the only way the C ollege can learn how students feel about their classes and instructors. M any students use this information to help them when selecting courses.

The Course and Faculty Evaluation
Booklet may be purchased at the College Bookstore and is always available at the Reserve section of the Rosenthal Library.

The Dean's List

The D ean's List is established each semester in accordance with standards set by the D ean of Students. Criteria are as follows:

Undergraduate degree students registered for $\mathbf{1 2}$ or more credits a semester. The D ean's List will be promulgated at the end of each Fall and Spring semester. (It is not promulgated for work taken during Summer Session.) T o be named to the D ean's List, a student must have an average of 3.5 in 12 credits of quality grades ( $\mathbf{A}+$ through $\mathbf{F}, \mathbf{W F}$, and WU) in that semester. G rades of Inc., Abs., P, $\mathbf{N C}, \mathbf{W}$, and $\mathbf{Z}$ will be ignored if the basic requirement of 12 credits of quality grades is met. All quality grades will be included in the computation. The credits considered will be those on the student's record of registration at the end of the third week of the semester. The determination of eligibility will be made only at the time the semester grades are posted. It will not be re-determined and awarded retroactively because of grade changes.

Undergraduate degree students registered for fewer than 12 credits in the Fall and Spring semester of the same academic year. The D ean's List will be promulgated in June on work completed in both semesters, September through June. In order to be named to the D ean's List, a student must have an average of 3.5 in a minimum of 12 credits of quality grades ( $\mathbf{A}+$ through $\mathbf{F}, \mathbf{W F}$, and $\mathbf{W U}$ ) during the academic year. G rades of Inc., Abs., $\mathbf{P}, \mathbf{N C}, \mathbf{W}$, and $\mathbf{Z}$ will be ignored if the basic requirement of 12 credits of quality grades is met. All quality grades will be included in the computation. The credits considered will be those on the student's record of registration at the end of the third week of the semester. The determination of eligibility will be made at the time Spring grades are posted. It will not be re-determined and awarded retroactively because of grade changes.

A notation will be made on the grade report sent to the student at the time of determination of eligibility and on the grade label posted on the student's permanent record. This notation will indicate whether the determination was made on the basis of full- or part-time attendance.

General College Honors

General college honors, summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude are conferred on graduating seniors who meet standards approved by the faculty. The academic averages required for honors degrees are 3.9 for summa cum laude, 3.75 for magna cum laude, and 3.5 for cum laude. $H$ onors are figured on the total scholastic average, which includes Q ueens C ollege work and work done at other institutions. To be eligible for honors, a student must have completed at least 60 credits with letter grades (A, B, C, D, F) at Q ueens College. Students who have taken work at other colleges must be eligible for graduation honors based on the Q ueens C ollege work. The combined average may lower the average or make the student ineligible, but may not raise the honor.

Departmental Honors

D epartmental honors are conferred each year on those members of the graduating class who meet standards set by each department. For more information, visit the major department office(s) with which you are affiliated.

Credits and Credit Load

Equated credits or billable credits are the number of contact hours in remedial, compensatory, and developmental courses, regardless of the number of credits given for these courses. The number of equated credits will exceed the number of degree credits in compensatory, developmental, and remedial courses. All hours of noncredit courses are considered as equated or billable credits. For details, contact the respective department or program.

Matriculated students, not on academic probation, may register for the following maximum number of equated credits as indicated:
Fall and/or Spring semester: 18 equated credits;
Summer Session I: 4 equated credits; Summer Session II: 7 equated credits.

Academic probationary students may register for a maximum of 13 equated credits per semester.

Non-degree students may register for a maximum of 11 equated credits per semester.

Additional Credits. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have a cumulative grade-point average of 3.00 or higher, and no temporary grades of ABS, INC, and PEN, can register for a maximum of 21 equated credits.

Note: Students who register for more than 18 equated credits will be charged an Accelerated Study Fee. In all cases, the 21 equated credit limits apply to equated or billable credits.

M atriculated students who have a compelling reason and do not meet these requirements may request permission to take additional equated credits in the Of fice of the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee, in B Building, at least three days prior to their scheduled registration date.

Overlapping Courses or Course Conflicts. These are courses whose meeting times are not at least five minutes apart. The College prohibits registration into courses with overlapping schedules or class meetings. Students will not be permitted to register for courses that overlap or conflict. The Registrar will adjust the course schedule and drop one of the courses. Exception: Graduating seniors may request permission, at least three days prior to their scheduled registration date, from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee to register for overlapping courses.

Classification of Students. Theminimum number of degree credits required for membership in each class is:

| Upper Freshman | 12 |
| :--- | ---: |
| Lower Sophomore | 28 |
| Upper Sophomore | 45 |
| Lower Junior | 61 |
| Upper Junior | 78 |
| Lower Senior | 94 |
| Upper Senior | 111 |

Graduation. A student must complete 120 degree credits to be eligible for graduation unless a waiver has been granted to a specific program. (See Requirements for the B.A. and B.S. Degrees, page 32. )

Attendance. By registering in a course, the student assumes the obligation to fulfill the requirements set for that course by its instructor. Although absence in and of itself shall not affect a student's grade, students are responsible for such activities as participation in class discussions, laboratory sessions, field trips, etc.; the preparation of papers and reports; and the taking of quizzes and examinations, any or all of which may constitute a component in the student's final grade for the course. In addition to observing the regulation regarding withdrawal from a course, students are expected, as a normal courtesy, to inform the instructor of prolonged absence or withdrawal. (See Course Withdrawals, page 212.)

Note: W hile attendance in class may not be required for a final grade in a specific course, students should be aware that attendance may be required to retain eligibility for financial aid.

Inactive Status. Students who do not register for a regular semester (Fall or Spring) will be considered inactive. The inactive status is not noted on the official record. Inactive students who wish to return to the College must file an U ndergraduate Reenter Application by the deadline established by the Office of U n dergraduate Admissions, Kiely H all 217 (997-5614).

Grades

Passing Grades. Passing grades assigned by faculty are A+through $\mathbf{D}$. (There is no grade of $\mathbf{D}$-.) G rades of $\mathbf{A}+$ show on the student's record but are counted as an A in the grade-point average (GPA). Passing grades, once assigned, stand as final evaluations. A passing grade may not be changed later by additional assignments, retesting, or auditing a class. $\mathbf{P}$ (Pass) is assigned in place of a passing grade when a student chooses the $\mathbf{P} / \mathbf{N C}$ grading option or when a $\mathbf{P}$ is the only legal grade that may be assigned in a course and the instructor has submitted an earned passing grade. $\mathbf{P}$ earns credit but is not calculated in the GPA. (See P/ NC Option, below.)

Failing Grades. A student who receives a failing grade (F, NC, R and/or WU) will not receive college credit for that course. The following grades ( $\mathbf{F}, \mathbf{W F}, \mathbf{W U}$ ) are calculated in the G PA as zero (0). G rades of NC or $\mathbf{R}$ are not calculated in the GPA. (See Warning, below.)
F (Failing) is assigned for work that, in the judgment of the instructor, does not deserve college credit. This grade is calculated in the G PA as zero (0) and gives no credit.

NC ( N o credit) is assigned when the instructor submits an $\mathbf{F}$ and:
a. the student has chosen the P/ NC grading option for that course, within the applicable rules and
b. the student is a first-semester student or
c. the course in question may only be graded as Pass or No Credit. (See firstsemester freshman and Pass/ No Credit, this page.)
$\mathbf{R}$ (Repeat) is assigned when the instructor submits an $\mathbf{F}$ for a student in a CESL course. A course in which an $\mathbf{R}$ is received is repeated until it is passed.
WF (W ithdrawn Failing) is assigned by the Registrar when a student receives permission from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee for an official late current withdrawal, and the instructor's evaluation of a student's course work is failing at the time of the withdrawal.

WU (W ithdrawn Failing) is assigned by the Registrar when the instructor indicates that there is no record of the student attending the course; or the student stopped attending the course before the end of the semester; or as a result of excessive absences there is no basis to give a final letter grade of $\mathbf{A}+$ to $\mathbf{F}$, and the conditions for a grade of ABS or INC do not apply. (See Temporary Grades, page 210.)

The grade WU will also be assigned by the Registrar when a student, after receiving approval for an official late course withdrawal from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee, fails to submit the instructor's evaluation. The WU cannot be replaced by an NC or $\mathbf{R}$ in those courses in which an NC or $\mathbf{R}$ would replace an $\mathbf{F}$.

Students will not be permitted to repeat an ESL course after receiving either no credit or a failing grade twice previously in that course.

Warning: Students should be aware that other colleges and universities, as well as other institutions and agencies, may evaluate grades of $\mathbf{P}$ as $\mathbf{C}$ or $\mathbf{D}$, and grades of $\mathbf{R}$ and $\mathbf{N C}$ as grades of $\mathbf{F}$. This may significantly lower a student's GPA.

Freshman Grading Policy. A first semester freshman, for the purpose of the conversion of an earned $\mathbf{F}$ to the $\mathbf{N C}$ or $\mathbf{R}$ grade, is defined as a student who is:A) A full-time student in his or her first semester at Q ueens C ollege with less than 12 credits from any institution of higher learning. The only exception is for Fall semester entrants who attend the immediately preceding Summer Session. In this case only, an NC or $\mathbf{R}$ will cover all $\mathbf{F}$ grades submitted by an instructor both for that Summer Session and the immediately following Fall semester; or

B) A part-time student during that time in which his or her first 12 credits are attempted at Q ueens C ollege, and who has less than 12 credits from any institution of higher learning.

All grades of $\mathbf{F}$ submitted by an instructor for first-semester students will be converted to NC or R. Grades of WU and WF remain on the student's record. If a grade of ABS, INC, or PEN is not resolved, they will convert to FAB, FIN or FPN, respectively, and will remain on the student's record. (See Failing Grades, above, and Resolution of Temporary Grades, page 211.)

Pass/ No Credit (P/ NC) Option. Students may select one course each semester and one course in either Summer Session I or II for grading under the P/ NC Option. (Note: Summer Session I and II are considered as one semester.) No morethan 21 credits of P/ NC may be applied toward the baccalaureate degree. Courses in which students may only earn a $\mathbf{P}$ or NC are not included in the 21 attempted P/ NC credit limit.

Exceptions to the P/ NC Option. Students may not take the following courses under the $\mathbf{P} / \mathbf{N C} 0$ ption:
ACE Seminar Courses
English 110, 120
G raduate C ourses
C ourses taken to satisfy the basic skills re quirement in mathematics.
All courses designated as W riting Intensive.
Any course in a student's major or major concentration.
In joint majors and in special ized majors within departments, the determination of courses constituting the major for purposes of the $\mathbf{P} / \mathbf{N C} \mathbf{O}$ ption will be made by the student's concentration adviser. Students who have received a $\mathbf{P}$ in a course that later becomes part of their major may appeal to the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee to have the $\mathbf{P}$ replaced by the earned grade originally assigned by the instructor.

Selecting the P/ NC Option. Students may select the $\mathbf{P} /$ NC 0 ption by using a touchtone telephone in accordance with the procedures described in the Telephone Registration Guide and Schedule of Classes. This option must be selected by the end of the eighth week of the Fall or Spring semester or by the end of the second week of Summer Session I or the equivalent of the eighth week of Summer Session II. Please consult the Summer Session Bulletin for this date.

Second-semester students may se lect the P/ NC 0 ption until the end of the fourteenth week of the Fall and Spring semesters, or until the next to last day of either Summer Session. A second-semester student, for the purpose of the $\mathbf{P} / \mathrm{NC} 0 \mathrm{p}$ tion, is defined as:
A) Full-time and matriculated students during their second semester at Q ueens C ollege who entered with fewer than 12 credits from another institution of higher learning. Summer Session I and II do not count as a semester.
B) Part-time and matriculated students who have completed more than 9 but fewer than 18 credits.
C) T ransfer degree students with more than 11 but fewer than 28 credits from any institution of higher learning during their first semester at Q ueens College. Summer Session I and II do not count as a semester.

Important: The P/ NC deadline will not be extended. Failure or missing the deadline to select the P/ NC option will not be considered grounds for an appeal.

Changing the P/ NC Selection. Students may revoke their choice of the P/ NC Option by submitting a written request at any time before the deadlines for the Fall, Spring, and Summer Sessions (see above). After the calendar deadline, the selection of the P/ NC O ption becomes final and the choice or course cannot be changed or revoked.

Instructors cannot submit a grade of $\mathbf{P}$ or NC except in courses where these grades are the only legal grade. All earned passing grades will be converted to $\mathbf{P}$; $\mathbf{F}$ grades will be converted to NC.

The NC grade is only assigned when an $\mathbf{F}$ is submitted by the instructor. If a student does not attend the course or if, as a result of excessive absences, the instructor has no basis on which to submit a final grade, a grade of WU may be assigned. The grade of WU will not be converted to an NC. O nly an earned failure is converted to an NC. WU and WF grades in courses taken under the P/ NC O ption remain on the student's record.

Temporary Grades (ABS, INC, PEN)

 The College grading policy interprets the submission of an ABS, INC, or PEN as implied obligations or contracts to assist the student in resolving the grade. Instructors who do not intend to assist students should not submit a grade of ABS, INC, or PEN.They may submit a letter grade of $\mathbf{F}$ when there is no reasonable expectation that the student can pass the course even if the missing final exam or course work is made up. The temporary grades of ABS, INC, and PEN are not calculated in the GPA.

Instructors who will not be available to receive outstanding course work should not submit an INC or PEN grade and contract. When instructors do not intend to assist in resolving INC or PEN grades, they should submit a letter grade, calculated without the missing work.

ABS (Absent from final examination) is a temporary grade that may beassigned at the discretion of theinstructor when a student meets all of the following conditions: has a reasonable chance of passing the course by completing the final examination; the final examination is the only work the student has not completed; the student has notified the instructor of the extenuating circumstances for missing the final examination; and the student is absent only from the regularly scheduled final examination.

If the instructor or department chair is not satisfied that the final examination was missed for good reason, the ABS grade may be denied. A grade for the course (passing or failing) may be calculated and submitted without the final examination. The ABS grade will not be assigned if: other work is outstanding or if the missed final examination was not "regularly scheduled" (e. g., was given in class or as a take-home examination); or a student's attendance was at issue. In these cases a WU grade will be assigned.

The submission of a grade of ABS is an implied obligation for the instructor or department to provide a make-up final examination for a student. In some cases, instructors may believe that a grade of ABS is in order, even though they will not be available to administer a makeup exam. In these cases, instructors may submit the grade of ABS if the department will be able and willing to administer a make-up exam during the next regular semester to follow.

INC (Incomplete) grade is not automatic. It is a temporary grade that may be assigned by faculty when a student has requested an INC and meets all of the following conditions: some of the course requirements other than but possibly including the final examination have not been satisfied for good and sufficient reason as determined by the instructor; and there is a reasonable expectation that a student can pass the course by submitting the outstanding work by the end of the next regular semester, Spring or Fall. (Summer Session I and II do not count as semesters in this case.) The assignment of the INC constitutes an agreement with the student that the instructor or department will receive, evaluate, and submit a grade for the missing course requirements, upon submission of the outstanding work by the student. (See Resolution of Temporary Grades, page 211.)

The INC grade is not to be assigned if: it is not requested by a student; or there is no reasonable expectation that the missing work can be completed, submitted, and graded by the end of the next regular semester, Spring or Fall (Summer Session I and II do not count as semesters); or a student would receive a failing grade in the course even if the missing work was completed, submitted, and graded. In these instances, the instructor must assign a grade based on a student's work for the semester. If there is insufficient information due to a student's attendance, the $\mathbf{W U}$ grade will be assigned.

PEN (Pending) is a temporary grade as signed by the Registrar when the instructor has failed to submit a valid grade for a student. Students who receive PEN on their semester grade report should immediately contact the instructor or department for clarification.

WA (W ithdrawal, Administrative) is as signed by the Registrar when a student is not in full compliance with the College's immunization requirements. Students re ceiving this grade should immediately contact the D ean of Students' Office, 997-5502.
$\mathbf{Z}$ (N o G rade) is assigned by the Registrar when an instructor has failed to submit grades for the entire class. Students who receivea $\mathbf{Z}$ on their semester grade report should contact theinstructor or the de partment as soon as possible.

W (W ithdrawn Passing) is a grade that can only be issued by the Registrar when students: complete the course withdrawal procedure, via the touch-tone telephone system, from the third to the end of the eighth week of the Fall or Spring semester or the first to third week of Summer Session II (there is no telephone course withdrawal for Summer Session I); or receive permission from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee for a course withdrawal and the instructor's evaluation of a student's course work is passing at the time of the withdrawal.

Resolution of Temporary Grades. The grades of ABS, INC, and PEN cannot be resolved through a second registration and/or repetition of the courses. M any students graded ABS, INC, or PEN register for the course a second time, receive a letter grade, and then request a retroactive withdrawal from the course graded ABS, INC, or PEN. Approval of such retroactive withdrawals would be unfair to students who complete their course work on time. This practice, if permitted, would give some students an unwarranted repetition of course work, to the disadvantage of students who conscientiously complete courses on time despite the risk of a low or failing grade. The temporary grades ABS, INC, and PEN can be resolved only by making up the missing work; that is, a final examination must be taken and/or the missing work must be submitted by the end of the next regular semester (Fall or Spring).

If the grade of ABS, INC, or PEN is not completed by the end of the next regular semester, the temporary grades will be converted to FAB, FIN, and FPN, respeCtively, and remain on the student's record. Students must resolve a temporary grade by the end of the next regular semester, even if they are not registered for classes at the College. Students are not permitted to audit, sit in on, or register for the course again as a condition for resolving a temporary grade. This, if permitted, would beunfair to other students by allowing some students to take the course twice for only one grade. O nce a FAB, FIN, or FPN has been assigned, students may not resolve the course by submitting missing work or taking a final make-up examination. Faculty may not accept late or outstanding work nor administer a late final makeup examination. The Registrar will reject and return all grades submitted by faculty for courses assigned FAB, FIN, or FPN. (See Temporary Grades Converted to F, below.)
A) Students are expected and required to take examinations as scheduled. To resolve ABS grades, students should obtain one Make-Up Examination Form for each ABS received, from the Registrar's O ffice, Jefferson H all 100. A $15 fee is required for the first approved final makeup exam, a $$ 5$ fee for each additional exam. The maximum charge for all final make-up exams in one semester is $25.
B) To resolve an INC grade, students must submit the missing work by the end of the next regular semester (Fall or Spring).
C) To resolve a PEN grade, students should contact the instructor or department immediately upon receiving their semester grade report.

Extensions of Temporary Grades. If students, for serious reasons, are unable to resolve an ABS, INC, or PEN grade before the end of the next regular semester (Fall or Spring), they should request permission from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee to defer the conversion of the ABS, INC, and PEN to failing grades. Students should be advised that denial of their request is possible. In the event of denial, students should be prepared to locate and notify their instructors as soon as possible to make arrangements to resolve the grade before the end of the final examination period, when these grades will be converted to $\mathbf{F}$.

Temporary Grades Converted to F. If the ABS, INC, or PEN grade is resolved on time (by the end of the next regular semester) but the Report of Change of Grade is not submitted to the Registrar before the temporary grades convert to FAB, FIN, or FPN, the Registrar may accept the grade provided that the instructor and Department C hair confirm, in writing, that the student submitted the completed work by the deadline (end of the next regular semester).

Extensions of FAB, FIN, and FPN

Grades. If, for serious reasons, students are unable to resolve a temporary grade of ABS, INC, or PEN before conversion to FAB, FIN, or FPN, they may request special permission from the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee to complete the course. Instructors who are asked by former students to resolve an ABS or INC grade that has been converted to an $\mathbf{F}$ should direct the student to the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee to file an appeal before making arrangements for a make-up exam or receipt of outstanding course work. If permission to resolve the grade is given, students may then complete the course with the instructor. If permission is denied, the grade will remain on the student's record as an $\mathbf{F}$.

Questioning Grades. The following procedure has been established when a student wishes to appeal an earned grade:

1. First discuss the grade with the instructor.
2. If dissatisfied, the student may make an appointment to discuss the grade with the D epartment Chair or Program Director.
3. If the matter is not resolved after step 2, the student may make an appointment to discuss the grade with the Divisional Dean, not the D ean of Students.
O nly after all three steps have been exhausted will the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee consider a formal appeal of an earned grade. The Committee's role in the appeal is one of mediation or recommendation. Students may obtain additional information in the Committee's office in B Building.

Repetition of Courses. Students may repeat a course either because they initially failed it or because they need to improve a passing grade to meet a departmental or major requirement. In such cases, all grades earned will be recorded on the student's official transcript, but only the most recent grade for that course will be calculated in the GPA. (See Grade Replacement Policy, below.) There are courses that may be repeated for credit if the course title (content) is different. Please consult the Undergraduate Bulletin, under the course number, to determine whether the course may be repeated. Each grade recorded in such courses will be counted in a student's GPA.

Grade-Replacement Policy. W hen students repeat a course, all previous grades will remain on their record, but only the most recent grade will be computed in the cumulative GPA. The GradeRe placement Policy applies to courses first taken in Fall 1984 and later, and first repeated in Fall 1991 and later. Note: Any grade in a course first taken before Fall 1984 and repeated after Fall 1991 will not be deleted from the cumulative GPA. Any course repeated before Fall 1991 will not cause the deletion of an earlier grade from the cumulative GPA.

No more than 16 credits may be deleted from a student's GPA under the Grade-Replacement Policy. After a student has repeated courses totalling 16 credits, any further repetition will result in the grades for both courses being averaged into the cumulative GPA.

The following information is extremely important for students who are deciding to repeat courses:
A) N ew York State prohibits the use of repeated courses that were previously passed in the determination of financial aid eligibility, unless the repeat is needed to obtain a minimum required grade. For example, if you are registered for a total of 14 credits, three credits of which represent a course that is a repeat of one passed previously, you are registered for only 11 credits for N ew York State financial aid awards.
B) The evaluation of your transcript for admission to other undergraduate and graduate programs, both within and outside CU NY, may include all courses and grades in the calculation of your cumulative GPA, including those courses and grades not cal culated into your Q ueens C ollege GPA because of the G rade-Replacement Policy.

C ourses with temporary grades ABS, INC, and PEN cannot be resolved under this policy. If students repeat courses in which they have a temporary grade, these grades will be converted to FAB, FIN and FPN and will remain on the student's record. (See Resolution of Temporary Grades, page 211.) H owever, if temporary grades convert to FAB, FIN, and FPN, these may be deleted from the cumulative G PA under the Grade-Replacement Policy.

Dropping and Withdrawing from Courses

Students should not drop or withdraw from courses except for serious reasons.

Dropping a Course. Courses may be dropped by using the touchtone telephone system, beginning with the first three weeks of the Fall and Spring semesters.

For Summer Sessions I and II, students may drop a course by the touch-tone telephone system in accordance with the procedures described in the Summer Session Bulletin. Dropping a course is a program adjustment and the course will not appear on the student's record.

Course Withdrawals: Fall and Spring Semesters. Beginning with the fourth week through the end of the eighth week of the semester, students may withdraw from a course by using the touchtone telephone system in accordance with the procedures described in the Telephone Registration Guide and Schedule of Classes. An instructor's evaluation is not required during this period and the grade of $\mathbf{W}$ will appear on the student's official record.

Beginning with the ninth week through the last day of classes of the semester, students may withdraw from courses only with the permission of the Undergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee in B Building. Such permission will be granted only for the most pressing and urgent reasons, not in the expectation of a failing or low grade. Students must provide, in writing, the serious reasons for requesting a withdrawal, and in all cases submit nonreturnable documentation. If permission is granted, the student's work in the course must be evaluated by the instructor. Students whose work is passing will have the grade of W entered on their record; students whose work is failing will have the grade of WF entered on their record.

Course Withdrawals: Summer Sessions I and II. There is no telephone course withdrawal for Summer Session I. Please consult the Summer Session Bulletin for the exact instructions and dates to withdraw from a class. Beginning with the second week of Summer Session I, students may withdraw from a course only with the approval of the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee.

Beginning with the second week and until the end of the third week of Summer Session II, students may withdraw from a course by using the touchtone telephone system in accordance with the procedures described in the Summer Session Bulletin. A grade of $\mathbf{W}$ will be entered on the student's record. Beginning with the fourth week of Summer Session II, students may withdraw from a course only with the permission of the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee.

Important: Please consult the Summer Session Bulletin for the exact dates for course withdrawal.

Unofficial Course Withdrawals. Students who stop attending a course without completing the steps necessary to drop or withdraw from it will receive a disciplinary grade of WU. (See Dropping and Withdrawing from Courses, page 212, and Failing Grades, page 209.)

Withdrawal from All Courses. Students who register and pay their bills and then drop all of their courses during the program adjustment period (from the first day of classes to the end of the third week of the semester) will have thesedropped courses removed from their record. Students who withdraw from all courses beginning with the fourth week to the end of the eighth week of the Fall or Spring semester will have the grade of $\mathbf{W}$ entered on their record for courses registered for that semester. Students in either category above are not considered inactive and do not have to apply for readmission in order to register for the next regular semester.

Leave of Absence. A leave of absence is permitted only during the Fall and Spring semesters. For Summer Sessions, a withdrawal from all courses is not a leave of absence, and follows the procedures outlined for course withdrawals. (See Course Withdrawals, page 212.)

Students who wish to request a leave of absence should contact the C ounseling and Advisement $O$ ffice (997-5420) beginning with the fourth week and until the end of the fourteenth week of the Fall or Spring semester.

There will be an exit interview with a counselor from the O ffice of the $D$ ean of Students. The grade of $\mathbf{W}$ will be entered on the student's record. Students granted a leave of absence may register for the next semester without filing a Reenter Application.

Students on academic probation may request a leave of absence in the same way. H owever, a leave of absence will result in an academic dismissal, appeal able to the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee.

There is no refund for an approved withdrawal from all classes or approved leave of absence beginning with the fourth week of the semester.

Second or Subsequent Leave of Absence. Beginning with the ninth week of a regular semester (Fall or Spring), students with a prior leave of absence who wish to withdraw from all of their courses must get the approval of the Undergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee. Students may be required to obtain the instructor's evaluation for each registered course before a second or subsequent leave of absence may be approved. If permission is granted, the grade of $\mathbf{W}$ will be entered; however, if an instructor's evaluation is failing, a grade of WF will be entered and calculated in the cumulative grade-point average as zero. The WF will not be converted to an NC or $\mathbf{R}$.

Retention Standards, Academic Probation, Academic Dismissal, and Reentry

Retention Standards. These standards are a result of policies mandated by the Board of Trustees, interpreted by the CUNY C hancellor's O ffice, and passed by the C ouncil of Presidents.

Required Grade-Point Average (GPA) or Cumulative Index

| Credits | GPA |
| :--- | ---: |
| Attempted | Required |
| $1-12$ | 1.50 |
| $13-24$ | 1.75 |
| 25 and above | 2.00 |

For the purposes of retention, the GPA is based only on grades earned at Queens College. C redits attempted are the total number of all recorded registered courses, regardless of grades earned. G rades of ABS, F, INC, NC, PEN, R, W, WA, WF, WU, and $\mathbf{Z}$ are all counted as credits attempted.

All undergraduate students will have their academic records reviewed at the end of each Fall and Spring semester. At this time, students whose cumulative GPA does not meet the above retention standards will be placed on academic probation for the following semester.

Cumulative Grade-Point Average or Index. The cumulative grade point average (or index) is calculated by computing the earned grades and credits attempted in each course in the following manner:

1. The number of credits in each course is multiplied by the numerical value of each grade earned in the course. Add these products. Their sum is the total of quality points earned. (Seethe chart on page 214.)
2. Add thetotal number of credits. This sum includes credits of courses failed (FAB, FIN, FPN, WF, WU, or F) as well as courses passed with the grades $\mathbf{A}$ through D. This sum does not include courses with the grades of $\mathbf{P}, \mathrm{NC}, \mathrm{R}, \mathrm{ABS}, \mathrm{INC}, \mathrm{PEN}$, $\mathbf{W}, \mathbf{W A}$, or $\mathbf{Z}$.
3. Divide the sum obtained in step 1 by the results obtained in step 2 . This is the cumulative GPA.

Academic Probation. Students who, at the end of a Spring or Fall semester, do not meet the retention standards will be placed on probation for the following semester. G rades earned in Summer Session and grade changes during the semester do not immediately affect probationary status, which is reassessed only at the end of the regular semester, in J anuary and in June.

Students whose cumulative GPA has risen to meet the retention standards may file a special appeal with the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards C ommittee to be removed from probation, no later than the last day of the regular semester.
All students on probation remain eligible for federal financial aid.

Rules for Students on Academic Probation

A) Students on academic probation may not register for more than 13 equated credits. Those students who register for more than 13 equated credits before they are placed on probation must reduce their equated credits to 13 by dropping courses. Failure to do so will be held against students who later appeal their academic dismissal.
B) It is strongly recommended that students on academic probation seek assistance from the C ounseling and Advisement Center in B Building; 997-5420). SEEK students must see their Academic C ounselor in D elany 231 (997-3150).
C) Students on academic probation who officially withdraw from all of their classes, or take an official leave of absence, will be placed on extended probation for their next semester of enrollment at the College.
D) At the end of each regular semester (Fall and Spring) the record of each student on probation will be reviewed and one of the following actions will be taken:

1. A student whose cumulative GPA meets the retention standards will be removed from probation.
2. A student whose cumulative GPA does not meet the retention standards but earns a semester cumulative grade-point average of 2.25 or higher and has no grades of ABS, INC, PEN, or WU will automatically be placed on extended probation.
3. At the end of the Fall semester there is no academic dismissal, so students who fail to meet the conditions in D. 1 and 2 above will be placed on continuing probation for the following Spring semester only! Students assigned continuing probation who do not register for the following Spring semester, or drop all of their courses before the end of the third week of the semester, will be academically dismissed.
4. At the end of the Spring semester, those students who do not meet the conditionsin D. 1 or 2 above will be academically dismissed.

Appeals

Students have the opportunity to appeal probation or academic dismissal from the College to the U ndergraduate Scholastic Standards Committee. The Committee reviews all appeals and makes exceptions where extraordinary and documented circumstances have made it impossible for the student to meet the retention standards.

Reentry of Academically Dismissed Students

Students academi cally dismissed will not be permitted to request reentry to the C ollege for at least one full academic year following their date of dismissal. Those wishing to reenter the C ollege after a period of one academic year must submit the U ndergraduate Reenter Application.

After receipt of the Reenter application, you will receive a Reentry Appeal Form in the mail. Complete and return it to the U ndergraduate C ommittee on Admissions and Reentry Standards, Kiely H all 206 (997-5611).

Students who have been dismissed more than once from Q ueens C ollege are not eligibleto reenter.

All Committee decisions are final. C ontact the U ndergraduate C ommittee on Admissions and Reentry Standards for further details.

Student Records

The College abides by the provisions of the Federal Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. Students have the right to be advised of what student records and information are maintained by the College, who maintains them, who has access to them and for what purposes, policies for reviewing and expunging them, procedures for granting students access and for challenging the records, cost charged for copies, and other rights and requirements under the Act. All of this information is available from the Registrar (Jefferson 100) during the hours the office is open.

Q ueens College will confirm the following information concerning present and former students: name, dates of attendance, major field of study, and degrees and awards received.

Any student or former student may require that any or all of the above information not be released, without the student's prior written consent, by completion of a form available in the R egistrar's 0 ffice. The form may be completed, withdrawn, or modified at any time the Registrar's 0 ffice is open.

A student whose request for access is denied or not responded to within 15 days of receipt may appeal in writing to Jane D enkensohn, Special Counsel to the President (Kiely 805), indicating the date of the original request for access, the particular records to which access was requested, the person to whom the request was made, and the reasons why the student believes he or she has a right of access to the record. The appeal will be decided no later than 25 school days after the receipt of the original request for access. A denial of an appeal may be further appealed to the $G$ eneral Counsel and Vice-C hancellor for Legal Affairs of the City U niversity.

Student Integrity

Students found guilty of any form of academic dishonesty, such as plagiarism or cheating on an examination, are subject to discipline, including suspension or dismissal from the C ollege.

Computer Use

The following regulations are intended for anyone who has been authorized to use a computer owned by or purchased with grant funds administered by the College. This includes students who have registered for courses requiring the use of a computer; faculty and staff who have been assigned computers or computer accounts for the purposes of research or other scholarly activities; administrative and secretarial staff who are required to use computers in fulfilling their responsibilities; anyone who uses the Q ueens College microcomputer network; and all others permitted access to a computer.

Regulations Regarding Use of Computing Facilities

Q ueens C ollege maintains several computers for academic and administrative use. The security and good working order of these tools depend on responsible care and use by those who are accorded the privilege of using them.
Proper use, in part, means:

1. O nly valid Q ueens College ID bearer or other authorized persons may use the computing facilities. U sers are required to present a valid ID upon request of computing facility personnel.
2. Q ueens C ollege computing facilities are to be used strictly for those academic or administrative purposes that are established and approved when an account is granted or use is permitted.
3. U sers are responsible for maintaining exclusive access to their accounts by ensuring that no one else is permitted the opportunity to learn their passwords. Pe riodically changing your password to protect your account is strongly urged. If your account is used improperly by someone else, you may lose the account.
4. Electronic mail or memo facilities shall not be used for transmitting any form of obscene or threatening messages, or to send multiuser-directed advertisements or announcements, or for other illegal purposes.
5. The writing of code or execution of instructions that threaten system integrity or security, cause harm to the system or users' files, or cause excessive or wasteful use of computer resources such as memory, cpu time, or output pages is strictly prohibited.
6. The computer should not be used for pranks or practical jokes or to gain unauthorized entry to other computers.
7. U se of computers for commercial gain is not permitted.
8. Theft or accessory to theft of equipment, documentation, supplies, or another person's files, programs, or output may result in criminal prosecution or other disciplinary action.
9. U sers should use and maintain the computing facilities entrusted to them with care and good sense, and must refrain from smoking, eating, and drinking when using computing facilities. U sers should be considerate of others.
10. U sers are advised that it is Q ueens C ollege policy that software that is copyrighted may not be copied, reproduced, transmitted, transcribed, stored in a retrieval system, or translated into any human or computer language, in any form or by any means, in any part without prior written permission of the copyright holder. Backup copies with a copyright notation may be kept for that purpose only.

Conduct

The C ollege's policies concerning nondiscrimination, sexual harassment and assault, security and crime prevention, and AIDS are described in detail in the booklet Your Right to Know, which is available at the Information C enter, Campus Bookstore, D ean of Students' Office, and at other locations. If you have questions, contact the D ean of Students, 997-5500.

The C ollege handles matters of student discipline through the D ean of Students and the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee. Students are required by the Board of Trustees' bylaws to meet punctually all College obligations; to use the property of the institution with care and economy; to obey the laws of the city, state, and nation; and to obey the orders of duly established College authorities. Violation of any of the provisions of this statement may result in disciplinary action.

Since the C ollege is not in a position to supervise the use by student groups of leased or purchased off-campus facilities, student organizations are responsible for their conduct and for the management of their housing.

Rules and Regulations for the Maintenance of Public Order

"Each student enrolled or in attendance in any College, School, or U nit under the control of the Board and every student organization, association, publication, club, or chapter shall obey the laws of the C ity, State, and $N$ ation, and the bylaws and resolutions of the Board and the policies, regulations, and orders of the College."

Bylaws, Board of Trustees

The attention of students, faculty, and staff is called to the Rules and Regulations for the $M$ aintenance of Public O rder below:

Adopted by the Board of Trustees, June 23, 1969, with subsequent amendments.

The tradition of the university as a sanctuary of academic freedom and center of informed discussion is an honored one, to be guarded vigilantly. The basic significance of that sanctuary lies in the protection of intellectual freedoms: the rights of professors to teach, of scholars to engage in the advancement of knowledge, of students to learn and to express their views, free from external pressures of interference. These freedoms can flourish only in an atmosphere of mutual respect, civility and trust among teachers and students, only when members of the university community are willing to accept self-restraint and reciprocity as the condition upon which they share in its intellectual autonomy.

Academic freedom and the sanctuary of the university campus extend to all who share these aims and responsibilities. They cannot be invoked by those who would subordinate intellectual freedom to political ends, or who violate the norms of conduct established to protect that freedom. Against such offenders the university has the right, and indeed the obligation, to defend itself. We accordingly announce the following rules and regulations to be in effect at each of our colleges, which are to be administered in accordance with the requirements of due process as provided in the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees.

W ith respect to enforcement of these rules and regulations we note that the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees provide that:

THE PRESIDENT. The president, with respect to his/her educational unit, shall:
"a. H ave the affirmative responsibility of conserving and enhancing the educational standards of the C ollege and schools under his/her jurisdiction;
"b. Be the adviser and executive agent to the Board and of his/her respective C ollege committee and as such shall have the immediate supervision with full discretionary power in carrying into effect the bylaws, resolutions and policies of the Board, the lawful resolutions of any of its committees and the policies, programs and lawful resolutions of the several faculties;
"c. Exercise general superintendence over the concerns, officers, employees and students of his/her educational unit."

I. RULES

1. M embers of the academic community shall not intentionally obstruct and/or forcibly prevent others from the exercise of their rights. $N$ or shall they interfere with the institution's educational process or facilities or the rights of those who wish to avail themselves of any of the institution's instructional, personal, administrative, recreational, and community services.
2. Individuals are liable for failure to comply with lawful directions issued by representatives of the U niversity/college when they are acting in their official capacities. M embers of the academic community are required to show their identification cards when requested to do so by an official of the college.
3. U nauthorized occupancy of University/college facilities or blocking access to or from such areas is prohibited. Permission from appropriate college authorities must be obtained for removal, relocation and use of University/college equipment and/or supplies.
4. Theft from or damage to University/ college premises or property, or theft of or damage to property of any person on University/college premises is prohibited.
5. M embers of the academic community or their invited guests have the right to advocate a position without having to fear abuse, physical, verbal, or otherwise, from others supporting conflicting points of view. M embers of the academic community and other persons on the college grounds shall not use language or take actions reasonably likely to provoke or encourage physical violence by demonstrators, those demonstrated against, or spectators.
6. Action may be taken against any and all persons who have no legitimate reason for their presence on any campus within the University/ college, or whose presence on any such campus obstructs and/or forcibly prevents others from the exercise of their rights or interferes with the institution's educational processes or facilities, or the rights of those who wish to avail themselves of any of the institution's instructional, personal, administrative, recreational, and community services.
7. Disorderly or indecent conduct on University/college-owned or -controlled property is prohibited.
8. No individual shall have in his possession a rifle, shotgun or firearm or knowingly have in his possession any other dangerous instrument or material that can be used to inflict bodily harm on an individual or damage upon a building or the grounds of the $U$ niversity/college without the written authorization of such educational institution. N or shall any individual have in his possession any other instrument or material which can be used and is intended to inflict bodily harm on an individual or damage upon a building or the grounds of the U niversity/college.
9. Any action or situation which recklessly or intentionally endangers mental or physical health or involves the forced consumption of liquor or drugs for the purpose of initiation or affiliation with any organization is prohibited.
10. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of illegal drugs or other controlled substances by U niversity employees in the workplace is prohibited. Employees of the U niversity must also notify the College H uman Resources Director of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace not later than five (5) days after such conviction.
11. The unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol by students or employees on U niversity/college premises or as part of any U niversity/college activities is prohibited.

II. PENALTIES

1. Any student engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall be subject to the following range of sanctions as hereafter defined in the attached Appendix: admonition, warning, censure, disciplinary probation, restitution, suspension, expulsion, ejection, and/or arrest by the civil authorities.
2. Any tenured or non-tenured faculty member, or tenured or non-tenured member of the administrative or custodial staff, engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall be subject to the following range of penalties: warning, censure, restitution, fine not exceeding those permitted by law or by the Bylaws of the City University, suspension with/without pay pending a hearing before an appropriate college authority, dismissal after a hearing, ejection, and/or arrest by the civil authorities, and, for engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive rule 10 , may, in the alternative, be required to participate satisfactorily in an appropriately licensed drug treatment or rehabilitation program.

In addition, a tenured faculty member, or tenured member of the administrative or custodial staff, engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall be entitled to be treated in accordance with applicable provisions of the Education Law or Civil Service Law.
3. Any visitor, licensee, or invitee engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall be subject to ejection and/or arrest by the civil authorities.
4. Any organization that authorizes the conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall have its permission to operate on campus rescinded.

Penalties 1-4 shall be in addition to any other penalty provided by law or the City U niversity.

APPENDIX

H. Complaint to Civil Authorities.  I. Ejection.

Resolved. That a copy of these rules and regulations be filed with the Regents of the State of N ew Y ork and with the Commissioner of Education.
Resolved. That these rules and regulations be incorporated in each college bulletin.

Academic Senate Policy on Religious Holidays

The Academic Senate recommends that students inform their professors of any religious obligations when such obligations conflict with class attendance or other College responsibilities. Faculty will accommodate students' religious obligations, to the extent possible, provided that advance notice of these obligations is given by the student. It is requested that faculty refrain from giving tests on such class days in order that no student be penalized for his or her religious observance.

The O ffices of the A cademic Senate will maintain information about religious calendars for the purposes of consultation by faculty wishing information.

Religious Observance

Education Law 224-a states:

1. No persons shall be expelled from or be refused admission as a student to an institution of higher education for the reason that they are unable, because of their religious beliefs, to attend classes or to participate in any examination, study or work requirements on a particular day or days.
2. Students in an institution of higher education who are unable, because of their religious beliefs, to attend classes on a particular day or days shall, because of such absence on the particular day or days, be excused from any examination or any study or work requirements.
3. It shall be the responsibility of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to make available to all students who are absent from school, because of their religious beliefs, an equivalent opportunity to make up any examination, study or work re quirements which they may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the institution for making available to said students such equival ent opportunity.
4. If classes, examinations, study or work requirements are held on Friday after four o'clock post meridian or on Saturday, similar or makeup classes, examinations, study or work requirements shall be made available on other days, where it is possible and practicable to do so. No special fees shall be charged to the student for these classes, examinations, study or work requirements held on other days.
5. In effectuating the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to exercise the fullest measure of good faith. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to students because of their availing themselves of the provisions of this section.
6. Students who are aggrieved by the alleged failure of any faculty or administrative officials to comply in good faith with the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to maintain an action or proceeding in the supreme court of the county in which such institution of higher education is located for the enforcement of their rights under this section.

Student Complaint Procedures

Student complaints are heard initially by the D ean of Students. A student with a complaint is generally able to get an appointment within 72 hours and often sooner. W hen the student does not want to file a formal complaint or grievance, the $D$ ean will act as an ombudsman or mediator in an effort to work out the problem and obtain a satisfactory outcome or get an answer for the student. To file a formal complaint the student fills out a complaint/problem sheet with the D ean of Students $O$ ffice, and the D ean or the appropriate College official(s) then looks into the complaint and provides the student with a response within two weeks, often sooner. The College official(s) providing a final determination will not be a person (or persons) involved in the alleged problem. Filing a complaint can never result in adverse action taken against the student for filing the complaint.

D ocumentation concerning each formal College complaint and its disposition will be kept for a period of at least six years.

C I TY UN I VERSITY O F N E W Y O R K

CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

consists of ten senior colleges, a technical college, six community colleges, a graduate school, a law school, and an affiliated medical school. It is governed by a Board of Trustees (formerly the Board of Higher Education of the City of New York), composed of 15 appointed members and the chairpersons of the U niversity Faculty Senate and the U niversity Student Senate, who serve ex officio. Five members are appointed by the mayor of N ew York City and ten by the governor of N ew York State. The governor also appoints the chairperson and vice-chairperson.

TheC hancellor is the University's chief academic and administrative officer and is responsible for executing board policies. The C hancellor is assisted by a Central $O$ ffice staff and advised by the CU N Y Council of Presidents, a U niversity Faculty Senate elected by faculty members from each campus, and a University Student Senate of student repre sentatives designated by the student governments of each college.

History

City University of N ew York traces its beginnings to 1847 and a municipal public referendum authorized by the State Legislature to determine if the people of New York City were willing to underwrite the cost of a tuitionfree institution of higher education for their children. The Fre A cademy, created as a consequence of that overwhelmingly affirmative vote, later became City Col lege of $N$ ew York. In 1870 H unter College was founded to educate women and became the first free normal school in the country. The State Legislature established a municipal college system in 1926 with the creation of a 21-member New Y ork City Board of H igher Education.

As the demand for higher education grew, other colleges were established within the city's system: Brooklyn College in 1930, Quens College in 1937, N ew York C ommunity C ollege in 1947, Staten Is and Community College in 1955, Bronx Community College in 1957, and Queensborough Community College in 1958. In 1961 the Legislature designated the municipal system as City U niversity of N ew York. Rapid expansion and re structuring followed. The Graduate School was organized in 1961 to provide a vehicle for graduate programs that could draw on the faculties of all CUN Y colleges. T en other colleges were chartered during the next decade: Borough of M anhattan Community College (1963), Kingsborough Community

C ollege (1963), John Jay C ollege of Criminal Justice(1964), Richmond College (1965), York C ollege (1966), M edgar Evers C ollege (1968), Eugenio M aria de H ostos C ommunity C ollege (1968), and Fiorello H. LaG uardia Community College (1968). Bernard M . Baruch C ollege, which had been the School of Business and Public Administration within City C ollege, became a separate senior college in 1968. Lehman College, which had been a branch of H unter C ollege in the Bronx, became an autonomous senior college the same year. In 1967 the M ount Sinai School of M edicinewas affiliated with CUN Y.

Richmond College and Staten Island Community College were joined together as a federated institution named the College of Staten Island in 1976. In 1994 M edgar Evers College was designated a senior college in the CUN Y system.

The City U niversity of N ew York School of Law at Queens College, which is dedicated to training lawyers to practice "Law in the Service of H uman N eeds," opened in 1983. It received full accreditation from the American Bar As sociation in 1992.

CITY UNIVERSITY POLI-  CIES concerning discrimination, sexual harassment, and substance abuse are discussed below. For more information on the C ollege's policies concerning nondiscrimination, sexual harassment and assault, security and crime prevention, drug, alcohol, and tobacco abuse, and AID S, please refer to the booklet Your Right to Know, which is available at the Information Center, Campus Bookstore, D ean of Students' O ffice, and at other locations around campus. If after reviewing this material you find that you have additional questions, please contact Burton Backner, D ean of Students, 997-5500.

Nondiscrimination

Queens College is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Institution. The College does not discriminate on the basis of age, sex, sexual orientation, alienage or citizenship, religion, race, color, national or ethnic origin, disability, or veteran or marital status in its student admis sions, employment, access to programs, and administration of educational policies.

Valli Cook is the College Director of Affirmative Action. Her office is in Kiely 140 (997-5554).

Christopher Rosa is the C ollege's Section 504/AD A Compliance Coordinator. H is office is in Kiely 171 (997-5870).

Jane D enkensohn, Esq., is the College C oordinator for Title IX, which prohibits sex discrimination in federally assisted education programs. Her office is in Kiely 805 (997-5725).

DISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF SEX

Q ueens C ollege complies with TitleIX of the Educa tional Amendments Act of 1972, which protects persons from discrimination on the basis of sex in the operation of its educational programs.

Procedures

College procedures provide that any member of the staff or student believing himself or herself aggrieved because of discrimination prohibited by Title IX may file a grievance. All grievances should be initiated through the Step I Informal C omplaint procedure set forth below.

Step I: Informal Complaints A student or employee claiming that the C ollege has failed to act in accordance with the provisions of Title IX may file a formal complaint, either orally or in writing, with the C ollege C oordinator for Title IX in Kiely 805. The complaint should be made within 30 working days of the date of the alleged occurrence(s), except for extenuating circumstances. U pon receipt of such complaint, the TitleIX Coordinator shall conduct an inquiry in an attempt to resolve the complaint. The Title IX Coordinator shall take necessary action to resolve the situation, including recommendations to appropriate College officials. The complainant shall be notified by the Title IX Coordinator of the disposition of the complaint when the informal stage has concluded. Any settlement, withdrawal, or disposition of a complaint at this informal stage shall not constitute a binding precedent in the settlement of similar complaints or grievances. If the complaint is re solved, no further action will betaken and all records will remain confidential.

If the complaint is not re solved within 60 working days of thefiling of the informal complaint, or is not resolved to the satisfaction of the complainant, any complainant wishing to pursue the matter to formal grievance who is eligible to do so must file a formal grievance within 10 working days following notification of the disposition of the informal complaint, or within 70 working days of the filing of the informal complaint. Employees covered by collective bargaining agreements that include gender discrimination as a ground for grievance, must utilize the grievance procedure provided in their respective agreements.

The TitleIX Coordinator is responsible for keeping a record of all complaints filed and dispositions thereof.

Step II: Formal Grievances Formal grievances shall be filed with the Title IX C oordinator in Kiely 805, on forms available in that office. The grievance must be presented in writing, setting forth the nature of the grievance, the evidence on which it is based, and the redress being sought.

The President shall appoint the members of the TitleIX review committee and shall designate a chairperson. The review committee shall be convened by the chairperson promptly upon receipt of a grievance from the TitleIX C oordinator. The review committee shall schedule a meeting with the grievant within 20 working days after the grievance is filed with the Title IX C oordinator, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, and shall investigate the complaint as appropriate. The committee shall thereafter send its recommendation(s) to the College President. The President shall consider the recommendation(s) of the review committee, and shall render a written decision on the matter, which shall be sent to the grievant. The President shall take any action deemed appropriate to redress the grievance. There shall be no further recourse within the College for appeal of the grievance.

Persons seeking further information about Title IX matters should contact the Title IX C oordinator, Jane D enkensohn, Esq., Kiely 805, 997-5725.

Sexual Harassment

The following is the text of the City U niversity of N ew York's Policy Against Sexual $H$ arassment, which became effective throughout the City University as of 0 ctober 1, 1995.

Policy Statement

It is the policy of the City University of New York to promote a cooperative work and academic environment in which there exists mutual respect for all U niversity students, faculty, and staff.

H arassment of employees or students based upon sex is inconsistent with this objective and contrary to the U niversity policy of equal employment and academic opportunity without regard to age, sex, sexual orientation, alienage or citizenship, religion, race, color, national or ethnic origin, handicap, and veteran or marital status. Sexual harassment is illegal under Federal, State, and City laws, and will not betolerated within the U niversity.

The U niversity, through its colleges, will disseminate this policy and take other steps to educate the University community about sexual harassment. The University will establish procedures to ensurethat investigations of allegations of sexual harassment are conducted in a manner that is prompt, fair, thorough, and as confidential as possible under the circumstances, and that appropriate corrective and/or disciplinary action is taken as warranted by the circumstances when sexual harassment is determined to have occurred. M embers of the U niversity community who believe themselves to be aggrieved under this policy are strongly encouraged to report the allegations of sexual harassment as promptly as possible. D elay in making a complaint of sexual harassment may make it more difficult for the college to investigate the allegations.

Prohibited Conduct

It is a violation of University policy for any member of the University community to engage in sexual harassment or to retaliate against any member of the $U$ niversity community for raising an allegation of sexual harassment, for filing a complaint alleging sexual harassment, or for participating in any proceeding to determine if sexual harassment has occurred.

Definition of Sexual

 HarassmentFor purposes of this policy, sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other oral or written communications or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic standing;
2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual; or
3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or abusive work or academic environment.

Sexual harassment can occur between individuals of different sexes or of the same sex. Although sexual harassment most often exploits a relationship between individuals of unequal power (such as between faculty/staff member and student, supervisor and employee, or tenured and untenured faculty members), it may also occur between individuals of equal power (such as between fellow students or co-workers), or in some circumstances even where it appears that the harasser has less power than the individual harassed (for example, a student sexually harassing a faculty member). A lack of intent to harass may be relevant to, but will not be determinative of, whether sexual harassment has occurred.

Examples of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment may take different forms. U sing a person's response to a request for sexual favors as a basis for an academic or employment de cision is one form of sexual harassment. Examples of this type of sexual harassment (known as quid pro quo harassment) include, but are not limited to, the following:

- requesting or demanding sexual favors in exchange for employment or academic opportunities (such as hiring, promotions, grades, or recommendations);
- submitting unfair or inaccurate job or academic evaluations or grades, or denying training, promotion, or access to any other employment or academic opportunity, because sexual advances have been rejected.

O ther types of unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature can also constitute sexual harassment, if sufficiently se vere or pervasive that the target does find, and a reasonable person would find, that an intimidating, hostile, or abusive work or academic environment has been created. Examples of this kind of sexual harassment (known as hostile environment harassment) include, but are not limited to, the following:

- sexual comments, teasing, or jokes;
- sexual slurs, demeaning epithets, derogatory statements, or other verbal abuse;
- graphic or sexually suggestive comments about an individual's attire or body;
- inquiries or discussions about sexual activities;
■ pressure to accept social invitations, to meet privately, to date, or to have sexual re lations;

■ sexually suggestive letters or other written materials;

- sexual touching, brushing up against another in a sexual manner, graphic or sexually suggestive gestures, cornering, pinching, grabbing, kissing, or fondling;
- coerced sexual intercourse or sexual assault.

Consensual Relationships

Amorous, dating, or sexual relationships that might be appropriate in other circumstances have inherent dangers when they occur between a faculty member, supervisor, or other member of the University community and any person for whom he or she has a professional responsibility. These dangers can include: that a student or employee may feel coerced into an unwanted relationship because he or she fears that refusal to enter into the relationship will adversely affect his or her education or employment; that conflicts of interest may arise when a faculty member, supervisor, or other member of the U niversity community is required to evaluate the work or make personnel or academic decisions with respect to an individual with whom he or she is having a romantic relationship; that students or employees may perceive that a fellow student or co-worker who is involved in a romantic relationship will receive an unfair advantage; and that if the relationship ends in a way that is not amicable, either or both of the parties may wish to take action to injure the other party.

Faculty members, supervisors, and other members of the U niversity community who have professional re sponsibility for other individuals, accordingly, should be aware that any romantic or sexual involvement with a student or employee for whom they have such a responsibility may raise questions as to the mutuality of the relationship and may lead to charges of sexual harassment. For the reasons stated above, such relationships are strongly discouraged.

For purposes of this section, an individual has "professional responsibility" for another individual at the University if he or she performs functions including, but not limited to, teaching, counseling, grading, advising, evaluating, hiring, supervising, or making decisions or recommendations that confer benefits such as promotions, financial aid or awards or other remuneration, or that may impact upon other academic or employment opportunities.

Academic Freedom

This policy shall not be interpreted so as to constitute interference with academic freedom.

False and Malicious Accusations

M embers of the U niversity community who make false and malicious complaints of sexual harassment, as opposed to complaints which, even if erroneous, are made in good faith, will be subject to disciplinary action.

Procedures

The U niversity shall develop procedures to implement this policy. The President of each constituent college of the University, the Deputy Chancellor at the Central $O$ ffice, and the D ean of the Law School shall have ultimate responsibility for overseeing compliancewith this policy at his or her respective unit of the U niversity. In addition, each dean, director, department chairperson, executive officer, administrator, or other person with supervisory responsibility shall be required to report any complaint of sexual harassment to an individual or individuals to be designated in the procedures. All members of the U niversity community are required to cooperate in any investigation of a sexual harassment complaint.

Enforcement

There is a range of corrective actions and penalties available to the University for violations of this policy. Students, faculty, or staff who are found, following applicable disciplinary proceedings, to have violated this Policy are subject to various penalties, including termination of employment and permanent dismissal from the University.

Sexual Harassment Panel

The President has designated the following persons to serve on the College Sexual Ha rassment Panel. Complaints of sexual harassment may be made to any member of the panel.

Dr. Elizabeth McC affrey Coordinator

Counseling and Advisement

Mr. Robert W eller

Assistant to the Provost K iely H all, Room 1111 997-5780

T wo students also serve on the panel. C ontact the D ean of Students' 0 ffice for their names.

Confidentiality

The privacy of individuals who bring complaints of sexual harassment, who are accused of sexual harassment, or who are otherwise involved in the complaint process should be respected, and information obtained in connection with thebringing, investigation, or resolution of complaints should be handled as confidentially as possible. It is not possible, however, to guarantee absolute confidentiality and no such promises should be madeby any member of the Panel or other U niversity employee who may beinvolved in the complaint process.

Making a Complaint of Sexual Harassment

Any member of the U niversity community may report allegations of sexual harassment to any member of the Panel. Employees who are covered by collective bargaining agreements may either use their contractual grievance procedures, within the time limits provided in those agreements, to report allegations of sexual harassment; or, they may report such allegations directly to a member of the Panel as provided in these Procedures. M embers of the $U$ niversity community who believe themsel ves to be aggrieved under the Policy are strongly encouraged to re port the allegations of sexual harassment as promptly as possible. Delay in making a complaint may make it more difficult for the college to investigate the allegations.

Responsibilities of Supervisors

a. Each dean, director, department chairperson, executive officer, administrator, or other person with supervisory responsibility (hereinafter "supervisor') is responsible within his or her area of jurisdiction for the implementation of the Policy and must report to the Panel C oordinator any complaint of sexual harassment made to him or her and any other incidents of sexual harassment of which he or she becomes aware or reasonably believes to exist. H aving reported such complaint or incident to the Panel C oordinator, the supervisor should keep it confidential and not disclose it further, except as necessary during the complaint process.
b. Each supervisor shall arrange for the posting, in his or her area, of the U niversity policy against sexual harassment; the names, titles, telephone numbers, and office locations of college Panel members; and any other materials provided to him or her by the Sexual $H$ arassment Education Committeefor posting.

Responsibilities of the University Community-At-Large
M embers of the University Community who become aware of allegations of sexual harassment should encourage the aggrieved individual to report the alleged sexual harassment to a member of the Panel.

Substance Abuse

The following program, in compliance with the D rugFree Schools and C ampuses
Act Amendments of 1989
(Public Law 101-226), has been adopted and implemented at Q ueens C ollege to prevent the illicit use of drugs and abuse of alcohol and tobacco by students and employees. Copies of this statement will be made available to all Q ueens College students and employees.

Smoke-Free Policy

CUNY has a no smoking policy that prohibits smoking in all buildings throughout the CUNY system.

Drug, Alcohol, and Tobacco Use

Standards of Conduct: The legislature of N ew York State and federal statutes have made the possession, sale, or purchase of certain drugs without authorization a crime. N ew York law prohibits selling or giving alcohol to any "visibly intoxicated person." The possession and consumption of alcohol is illegal under state law for those under 21 years of age

All members of the College community are expected to abide by the laws of the city, state, and federal government (Board of Trustees Bylaws, Article XV, Section 15.1).

The C ollege will not serve as a sanctuary and cannot insulate its members from the consequences of illegal acts. Q ueens C ollege will not protect students or other members of the C ollege community from prosecution under the law. All members of the College community are expected to abide by the city, state, and federal statutes that have made the possession, sale, or purchase of illegal drugs a crime. Students are expected to comply with the Rules and Regulations for the M aintenance of Public O rder, which appear on page 216.

It is illegal to sell tobacco products to any person under the age of 18 in New York State.

Sanctions - Students: Any student found in violation of the abovementioned Rules and Regulations may be subject to disciplinary action. Sanctions for violation may include admonition, warning, censure, discipline, probation, restitution, suspension, expulsion, complaint to civil authorities, and ejection. These sanctions are defined on page 217.

A student who is experiencing difficulty with alcohol or chemical dependency may be referred to the $D$ ean of Students or the C ounseling and Advisement Center by members of the instructional staff or may seek assistance directly. The D ean of Students may take disciplinary action as required or may recommend that the student meet with a counselor for appropriate referral or assistance through self-help organizations or other outside intervention agencies. Serious health risks, documented by the medical community, accompany the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs.

Sanctions - Employees: The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of illegal drugs or other controlled substances and the unauthorized use of alcohol by employees in the workplace are prohibited. Employees of the U niversity must also notify the Director of H uman Resources of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace not later than five days after such conviction.

Employees who are expe riencing difficulty with alcohol or chemical dependency will, at the request of their supervisor, be asked to meet with a counselor. The counselor, after the interview, may recommend appropriate assistance through self-help organizations or other outside intervention such as drug rehabilitation or employee assistance programs. Employees may also seek assistance on their own. Serious health risks, documented by the medical community, accompany the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs.

Employees found in viola tion of the Standards of C onduct referred to in this policy may be subject to discipline under the provisions of their U nion contract and/or applicable College and U niversity policy. The sanctions that will be imposed may include, in addition to those found in the various contracts, verified attendance and successful participation in a drug/alcohol assistance program.

Criminal Sanctions: The unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol is punished by harsh sanctions by the $U$ nited States government and by the State of $N$ ew York, which range from completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program through imprisonment.

Regarding illicit drugs, the seriousness of the offense and the penalty imposed upon conviction usually depend upon the individual drug and the amount of the drug held or sold. For example, in N ew York State the possession of four ounces of cocaine is a class A-1 felony, punishable by a minimum of 15 years and a maximum of life in prison. The sale of two ounces of cocaine will be similarly treated. The possession of more than eight ounces of marijuana is a class E felony, punishable by up to four years in prison, as is the sale of 25 grams of marijuana. It is important to be aware that, in New York, a gift of drugs, including marijuana, is treated as a sale. Federal penalties are similar to those assessed by the State.

Criminal penalties may also result from the misuse of alcoholic beverages. In New York, if you give or sell an alcoholic beverage to a person less than 21 years old, you are committing a dass B misdemeanor, punishable by up to three months in jail and a $$ 500$ fine. Any sale of any kind of alcoholic beverage without a license or permit is also a misdemeanor punishable by a fine, a jail term, or both. If you are under the age of 21 , you are prohibited from possessing alcoholic beverages with intent to consume them. Each violation is punishable by a $$ 50$ fine.

The beverages may also be seized and destroyed by internal or external authorities. You can befined up to $$ 100$ and required to perform community service if you are under 21 and present a falsified proof when attempting to purchase al coholic beverages, and you can have your driver's license suspended for up to 90 days if you use the license to try to purchase alcohol illegally.

These are only examples of the penalties that can be assessed against you. You should also know that it is the U niversity's policy to discourage violations of federal, state, and city laws. Where appropriate, the U niversity will refer persons who violate such laws for prosecution to the relevant governmental authorities and will cooperate fully with such authorities.
